DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED. By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Halls Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

WHAT SCIENCE IS DOING FOR PLANTS

Interesting Address Given by Prof. J. E. Faull in Toronto—Wheat Rust is Overcome

TORONTO, July 28.—That the time has come for the introduction into Canada of scientific methods of plant in stock purification was the message that Professor J. E. Faull gave to a large audience which assembled in the Physics Building at the University of Toronto to hear his lecture on "Evolution and its Practical Aspects." "In Sweden," said the speaker, "Professor Nilsson has succeeded in less than a decade in raising that country's crop production almost thirty per cent. In England, at Cambridge University, another scientist working along the same lines set out to reduce the percentage of gluten in British wheat, the substance which makes it soft, difficult to mill and bake with, and distinctly inferior to Manitoba Hard. Taking some Manitoba wheat, the professor crossed it with fine specimens of the English variety, and as a result obtained a blend which was hard and milled well, and at the same time grew plentifully in English soil. "This wheat," continued the lecturer, "will probably revolutionize the wheat production of Great Britain."

"Canadian wheat is subject to the disease known as 'rust.' When the Cambridge scientist had conquered the refractory English wheat he turned his attention to Canadian, and after careful breeding succeeded in eliminating the disease, making a discovery which means thousands of dollars annually to the western farmer. There has always been a rust-proof variety, but it was poor in quality and difficult to mill. This strain was blended with the ordinary hard-milling wheat, and the cross product embodied the best properties of the two varieties. "In Ontario," said Professor Faull, "there is hardly a plant or animal perfectly pure. Take any field of Early Fife that you like, and there will probably be twenty varieties growing instead of one." A Dutch scientist, experimenting with the evening primrose, crossed a white and a dark red plant. The hybrid was almost white and in no way exceptional. Instead of casting it away, however, it was allowed to propagate, and in the third generation no less than twenty strains resulted, differing in color, and varying in form and leaf shape. These, however, bred back when allowed, to the original plants. It was found, though, that pure plants will throw off "spots" at the rate of about one in two hundred and that these would breed true, retaining their peculiarities. It was then shown to the audience that plant life was most certainly influenced by environment, for a plant placed in any particular atmosphere developed characteristics which altered it entirely. The work of scientists engaged on the subject during the past decade has shown that every plant is composed of certain "character units," which can be separated or combined at the wish of the grower. Looking for a moment at the human race, Professor Faull showed that physical abnormalities, such as color and night blindness, short fingers, and certain forms of imbecility and insanity had been proved hereditary, while criminology shows that criminal traits were handed down undisturbed from father to son, and that in certain states, steps were being taken to eliminate such tendencies.

"The black bass is a peculiar fish. Some days it will bite on minnows, other days on frogs, other days on flies, and sometimes they don't bite at all. One day down at Lakeview some fellows were fishing with minnows but they fished all day and there was nothing doing. "I got hold of a piece of salt pork and some red yarn. It was about three inches long, and I wrapped the pork with the red yarn and used a casting rod. I got seven bass in an hour with that. I jollied them a bit. Those bass average better than three pounds each. "Another day I was coming home in the evening along the north road. I had a pretty good string of fish, and I met some fellows that had not even had a bite. I jollied them a bit. Then I cut off about two inches of my white necktie, borrowed a pole and line and put the piece of neckties on the hook.

"I made a careful cast and just started to skin the line with a bass weighing four pounds struck and made things hum. I pulled in my fish, told the boys that was how I caught them, and went home. Those fellows watched me going down the road as far as they could see. "In the fall the best bait for bass I know is to use the tail of a buck deer. When you cast I judge those bass must think that the deer tail is a butterfly. They certainly go after it hard. I have caught many bass in this way."

DASTARDLY WORK INJURES TWO MEN MONCTON, July 28.—Torpedoes placed on the I. C. R. track near the new shops this morning were the cause of serious injury to two men who were employed on a shunter. How the explosives got on the rails is a mystery, but a passing train set them off with the result that flying bits of tin lodged in the legs of James Fogarty and Chas. Connell. Both men were painfully injured, the former having an artery cut in one of his legs. Every effort is being made by the authorities to ascertain who the party or parties are who placed the torpedoes on the track but tonight there was no clue as to how they came there.
