THOROUGHLY ENJOYED OUTING.—The representatives of the Yarmouth Fire Department take pleasure in thanking the Citizens and Firemen of Charlottetown for the courtesy and kindness shown them during their sojourn in the City during Old Home Week.

FINE BANDS.—The magnificent Truro Band of twenty-three pieces and the Moncton Band of twenty-three pieces came in for a great deal of well merited praise as they played a forty-minute program at the different turnouts during their visit here.

A PLEASED VISITOR.—Among the visitors is Mr. J. K. Fraser, president of the Truro Band. Besides being an enthusiastic musician Mr. Fraser is a public spirited citizen who for many years was a city councillor. He is delighted with Charlottetown and greatly impressed by the thoroughness and enthusiasm with which the citizens have entered into the spirit of Old Home Week.

AVONLEA PICNIC at Experimental Farm.—A most pleasant and profitable outing was enjoyed by the members of Avonlea Institute, Cavendish and North Rustico, who on Tuesday, July 14, with their families, held a picnic at the Experimental Farm. The party arrived shortly before noon and were warmly welcomed by Mr. Clark. After enjoying a bountiful dinner served in the beautiful shady grove, they were shown all over the Farm by Mr. Clark and his staff, and were especially delighted with the beautiful display of flowers and plants, and were much interested in the poultry and different field crops. After refreshments were again served, the members returned to their homes feeling that they had spent a holiday which would not soon be forgotten.

IN MEMORIAM

ANGUS A. McINNIS

There passed peacefully away at his home in Glenora, Angus A. McInnis, aged 69 years. Deceased had been ailing for some time but until a month previous to his death hopes had been entertained for his recovery. God willed otherwise, and on July 7th, he calmly breathed his last. He was visited many times during his illness by his beloved pastor, Rev. R. J. McDonald, who also administered the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church.

There are left to mourn besides his sorrowing widow (who was formerly Miss Lucy McLellan) three sons, Laurence, Sours, Ernest and Willie at home, and two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Lannan, Montague, and Agnes, Boston, Mass., who had been called home on account of her father's illness.

The funeral, which was a large one, took place to St. Columba's church, on Thursday, the services being performed by Rev. Father Clinton. In all-bearers were: John D. Campbell, Red Point; Eugene Fay, East Baltic; Rodk. McPhee, Jos. McPhee; Peter Mossey and John Dunphy, Glenora-road. May his soul rest in peace.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 14.—The Marion L., one of five alleged liquor crafts, which was seized in Buffalo harbor Sunday morning with a cargo of ale and whiskey, valued at between $30,000 and $50,000, was sold at auction by the Government recently after capture as a liquor smuggler. Federal authorities said today that the vessel is now owned by the same man who operated her when she was first captured.

Warrants for the arrest of the owner of the vessel and for the owner and driver of an automobile truck seized by the smugglers at work unloading liquor from the vessel.

The other four Port Colborne boats escaped into Canadian waters when pursued by the customs revenue cutter off the coast back when they attempted to land here by State Troopers and customs men.

THE BEDEQUE CENTENNIAL

On Sabbath morning, July 5th a large congregation assembled at North Bedeque Church to commemorate a century of instructive worship and service in the Bedeque congregation. The church was thrown open and chairs placed in the aisles. The choir consisted of over forty of the finest talents of the congregation and neighborhood. A famous choral club of last winter, Rev. John Macintosh, D. D. Moderator of Synod, gave a splendid address a partial account of which follows:—

Dr. Macintosh began by bringing the hearty greetings of the Synod to the congregation of Bedeque. He said you have attained to 100 years of service in the church and your eye is not dimmed nor your heart chilled. He noted particularly the splendid work of the W. M. S. in the last quarter of the century, and congratulated them on their splendid record. He noted the beginning of a new century the church was entering into a larger fellowship under a new name, a richer heritage and only in touch with John Knox, John Wesley and John Owen as well.

Dr. Macintosh wished particularly to point out the things we must have in order to succeed as a church in these days. He said we must have a social study and research. Well wishes go from a host of friends.

BEDFORD AND VICINITY.—Miss Estella Morris is visiting her aunt Mrs. James Curran, Covehead. Mr. Reginald McDonald is visiting relations here. Mrs. A. McIsaac will be glad to hear of her improved health. Mrs. W. Dolan and her daughter Miss Marie of Boston are visiting friends here. North Rustico in this vicinity look especially good, particularly the hay crop which is about to be commenced. Misses Margaret Doyle and Lena Hogan have returned to their respective homes after spending a successful year in their schools here. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowe gave to their many friends a lawn party on the evening of July 8th, where games of all kinds were indulged in. Mr. Lawrence Smith furnished music to the pleasure of all present. The League of the Cross held a successful picnic here on July 8th, and realized a nice sum. The inhabitants join with me and wish the league every success and welcome them back to this the best of all places for picnics again. Mr. H. W. Ellis attends to the wants of the people in the line of fresh meats and energetic butcher. (Patriot please Copy.)

being done for the Taxic Boys and G. I. girls, along the life of the fourfold development of life. There are many advantages today that people don't have in the days of old. The good old days we hear some people sigh for are no better than the good old days we hear in the future. Bedeque congregation had contributed to the splendid young peoples program that is being carried on at Centreville for the last century. The work is being done forward and we rejoice that at the end of a century of splendid service for young and old that Bedeque congregation is still going forward having joined its forces with the United Church of Canada. Mr. Macintosh was minister of Bedeque from 1916 to 1910 and was heard with great satisfaction and appreciation by the good people of Bedeque at the centennial.

The music of the evening services was excellent. Mr. Bowness of Summerside and Mrs. Jas. Stewart of North Bedeque sang a duet Mr. Brewer Auld and Miss Sophie Henderson were also heard with pleasure. M. W. N. Jenkins sang a beautiful solo.

On Monday night, Mrs. Nell McLeod delivered a very interesting address on early days in P. E. I. She described the early voyages of Jacques Cartier to the Island. She described the early conditions of the settlers from Scotland and the Loyalists who settled at Bedeque in 1784. These people came here penniless, not like the French who were sent away from Grand Pre, who were permitted to take much wealth with them. She described the early church work by Rev. James McGregor and others and told the interesting story of their early first marriage at Halifax, N. S., after having been refused by the father of the woman he desired to marry in Scotland. Mrs. McLeod was destined to with deep interest and it is safe to say that no one on the Island is better informed in the history of this country than she is, and few can tell that history as well as can this talented writer and historian of Summerside.

Rev. J. A. Cairns, M. A. of Saskatoon gave a splendid address. He knew the history of the congregation more than 60 years ago, and related many interesting experiences in the life of Dr. Baxter. He noted too that Bedeque had a splendid missionary record and that the fine interest manifested today is due in part to the prayer of Bedeque for other churches and for volunteers to man the opening fields. Dr. Patterson was interested in missions when the missionary work began under Dr. Geddie in 1846, and when that great missionary was sent by the Maritime Church to the South Seas. Mr. Cairns referred to the fact that we too are pioneers. Today in Saskatchewan there are 1333 school sections where there is no school. There are 6000 school sections in that great new Province. Conditions there were difficult at first, mud houses, small rooms, two roomed houses, but missionary spirit of Bedeque must continue until all of Canada is won for Christ.

The picnic on Tuesday was quite successful notwithstanding the showers of rain. The tables were protected by a large canvas and there was an abundance of the finest provisions to tempt the appetites of young and old. The women of the congregation deserve much praise. They did not spare themselves in any way but worked and gave with a liberality characteristic of their first minister who is reported by historians to have given to the church and in his later years 15 of all that he earned.

The speakers at the picnic were: Rev. John Macintosh, D. D., who brought the greetings of Synod; Rev. E. Lockhart, who spoke for the Presbytery and for J. H. Myers, Minister of Agriculture who brought the greetings from the Department of Agriculture and public life. Rev. P. A. Fitzpatrick gave a hearty speech showing the friendly attitude of the neighbouring congregation and Rev. W. W. Robert, M. H. Macintosh and Rev. J. A. Cairns also gave a good address. Mr. H. Macintosh and Rev. J. A. Cairns also spoke their kindest words for Bedeque congregation.

The history of the congregation was read by the Pastor. In this history reference was made to the early pioneer days when the country was first settled 1770 to 1784 when Scotch settlers came to Bedeque. Dr. McGregor first visited the Island. Dr. Keir came out in 1808, and preached at Bedeque and Richmond Bay. In 1825 Bedeque became a separate charge and called Rev. R. S. Patterson of Pictou, a son of Pictou which was founded in 1820 under the care of Dr. Hogue to exert an influence for good in the future as it has in the century that is now past. Amen.

On Sunday evening, July 5th Rev. M. H. Macintosh, M. A. of Annapolis Royal delivered a most appreciated message based on the text, Ezra 3:9. Then stood Joshua with his sons and his brethren Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, together, to set forward the workmen in the house of God, the work of the brethren the Levites. Mr. Macintosh described the early pioneers who came out from Scotland, England and Ireland and from the United States to make homes for themselves on the condition of the country without roads, or railroads. All honour is due to those early settlers who cleared the land, made the roads and planted the school and the church in every part of the land. Nor did they neglect religion in the home. The early ministers were men of intelligence and piety, and men like Dr. Patterson the first settled minister at son the first school along with his pastoral duties, and took a deep interest in the education of the young. Our methods of dealing with the young have changed during the century. The Sunday School has now become a great institution. Once it was a great institution. The teacher was superintendent, secretary, treasurer and operative, and the burden carried by many people and a fine work is called in 1911, and remained four years, and was succeeded by Rev. W. A. McQuarrie who is now settled at Rexton, N. B. The present minister, Rev. D. K. Ross, was inducted at North Bedeque, Sept. 27, 1921 and was born in Pictou Co., N. S. Mr. Patterson the first minister. Ten ministers in 100 years, and one of those Dr. Patterson on 56 years on duty. The last 44 years of Bedeque's history saw nine men inducted in rapid succession. There are many changes in 100 years. The old churches are removed, so are all the old people, not one living today who saw the first days of Dr. Patterson. We have passed through a great and eventful period of history. The Victorian era was a time of great advances in science and mechanical arts, railroads, steamships, telephones, radio and autos have all come with many other things to herald the advent of the new era, and best of all the United Church of Canada, with its wider vision and greater co-operation in the work of the church at home and abroad.
