INVESTITURE

Murphy was made public in December and the official announcement from Rome was read last night by Rev. P. D. McMahon, D. D.

Bishop O'Sullivan spoke of the great honor which had been conferred on Monsignor Murphy when he was elevated to the position of Domestic Prelate. He referred to the wonderful work accomplished during his many years service as rector of St. Dunstan's University, where he had shown untiring zeal for the welfare of the student body and the institution. He received a personal honor from the Holy Father and one which only the Pope has the power to take from him. His Excellency said that since Murphy will be allowed to wear purple as a mark of distinction.

His Excellency then invested Msgr. Murphy and blessed his garments. Rev. Louis A. Dougan acted as Master of Ceremonies, and was assisted by Mr. Frank Butler. The sermon for the occasion was preached by the Rev. Archibald MacDonald, C. S. S. R., rector of the Holy Redeemer Parish. He paid tribute to Msgr. Murphy as a man worthy of being recommended for the dignified position of Domestic Prelate of His Holiness. "It is a signal honor being visited on one who is loved by all," he said. He spoke of the ritual of the church as the outward functions connected with the divine work. At the conclusion of the investiture ceremony, Benediction was sung by Msgr. Murphy assisted by Rev. Wilfred Keefe as deacon and Rev. George McCormack as sub-deacon. Other priests in the sanctuary were: Reverends Archie MacDonald, C. S. S. R., Fr. Robert Kenna, C. S. S. R., Francis McQuaid, R. V., MacKenzie, John A. Sullivan, Walter MacGuigan, Dr. R. Ellsworth, Dr. Gavin Monaghan, Wilfred McCardie, Oswald Murphy.

Sisters from Notre Dame and Mount St. Mary's attended the ceremony and the students of St. Dunstan's University attended in a body to witness the investiture of their rector. Msgr. Murphy was born at Hope River, July 16th, 1888. He received his early education at the country school in his native district. Later he attended St. Dunstan's University and graduated with his Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1910. He was a member of the Prince of Wales College, teaching staff for 6 years. In 1919 he entered St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto, to study theology and was ordained to the priesthood Dec. 21st, 1919. Following graduation he became a member of the faculty at St. Dunstan's University and was the Rector of the institution in 1926.

interrupters at Manchester—apparently followers of Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the British Union of Fascists, who were warring Winston Churchill without much effect last Saturday. Six men were ejected from today's meeting, fifth in a series by members of the War Cabinet. Another asked from the floor "what about South Africa?" Mr. Stanley replied: "By the free voice of a free people they decided to enter the war at the side of Great Britain." The War Minister mentioned by name, General J. B. M. Hertzog, former prime minister of South Africa who met defeat at the hands of General Jan Smuts when he attempted to keep South Africa neutral at the start of the war.

TWO FLUE FIRES — The City was visited by two flue fires last night when flames were called to a house on the corner of Prince and Dorchester Street about 7:55 p. m., and again to a house No. 198 Euston Street about 10:45 p. m. Both were flue fires and there was no damage.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY — The funeral of Mrs. Charlotte Henry was held yesterday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the McLean Funeral Home where service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Nice, who also officiated at the grave. The funeral was largely attended. Members of the Ladies Orange Lodge conducted the service of their order. The pallbearers were, Messrs. Frank Stewart, Herbert Platts, Harry Williams, Milton Stewart, William Smith, W. H. Stevenson. Interment Peoples Cemetery.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT — William Collier, Charlottetown, is in the Prince Edward Island Hospital with injuries received Saturday night when he was struck by a car on Euston Street. Hospital authorities said his condition was only fair. Extent of his injuries had not been fully determined. It was learned. They were not believed serious at first but the condition of the injured man appeared worst last night twenty hours after he was injured. No bones were broken. The accident occurred during poor visibility because of fog. The City Police said Roland Constable was driving the car for a local taxi stand when the accident occurred. It was believed the injured man was crossing the street at the time.

OPEN TO TRAFFIC — Paved highways in the Province were open for motor traffic last night after being closed for 24 hours because of drifts piled into cuttings by wind Saturday night. Plows went into action shortly after daybreak yesterday and cleared the roads a few hours after dark. A one-inch snow fall was recorded Saturday night at the weather station at the Charlottetown Municipal Station. A 20-mile-per-hour wind blew the snow, together with several inches of light snow from previous storms, drifting and blowing in gusts of three degrees above zero. Yesterday wind velocity dropped and drifting stopped while the temperature went to even below zero last night it was colder again with clear skies.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE TO BE RE-PLANKED — Replanking of Hillsboro Bridge would begin on Feb. 12. L. B. MacMillan, deputy minister of public works and highways for the province, said last night. The work would be rushed and was expected to be completed in two weeks. The minister said the bridge is in poor condition and horse drawn traffic which ordinarily use the bridge would be deplorable if it were not replaced. The bridge is divided between the Provincial Government and the Canadian National Railways, whose trains on the Murray Harbor line use the bridge.

ST. JAMES CHURCH
The Rev. Dr. R. Moorhead Legate preached at both services in St. James yesterday. Choosing as his text for the morning 2nd Corinthians 1:11, he said that the word of Jesus was not all contained in the four Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, but was made manifest in the flesh of those who followed after and so believed in Him as the Son of God. Their teaching and writings revealed much of the new dispensation which had been rendered the anthem "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own"—Mendelssohn.

The evening Dr. Legate spoke of the need for controlling our thoughts. Many people, who were perfectly systematic in their business and in all other respects, were unable to order their thoughts. The mind works unceasingly and may be encouraged to "think up" things to high levels. It is determined in this direction. "If Ye Love Me"—Simper was the evening anthem by the choir.

Hitler's Apologist
"I see that the other day Herr Hitler had an apologist in the shape of General Hertzog. In a recent speech he put the blame for all our troubles upon the Treaty of Versailles."

Remarking that the treaty was not perfect, Mr. Stanley went on: "Do you think that a victorious Germany would give a defeated Great Britain a Treaty of Versailles? Short of our Empire, our fleet, our trade, we should be a small over-crowded island, its recovery impossible, even its survival in doubt." It was not only physical and material security which Germany under Hitler threatened to destroy, but the Nazis challenge every standard of values that for generations had been set in this country. "Our virtues are his (Hitler's) vices and our vices are his most prized virtues. What we term progress to him is decadence. tolerance, justice, truth, those individual liberties won so hard, and so dearly-prized, to him are objects of contempt. His ideas challenge ours, his standards are set against ours. He is the enemy of our civilization."

Mr. Stanley said: "The world cannot survive half slave and half free, and we are determined that it should be free." "War is not like a football match," Mr. Stanley said. "You cannot break off at half-time."

Fierce Battles

Estimates in London said 73,027 tons were sunk in that period, divided thus: neutrals, 16 ships, displacing 46,475 tons; British, seven ships aggregating 18,236 tons; France, three ships, 8,316 tons in all. The crew of eight from the 400-ton British ship Harley arrived at an East coast port after being rescued by a fishing boat which was guided to the scene by a Royal Air Force plane.

Lifesaving craft reached the Harley after the crew had gone and stood by all night, putting men aboard to take charge. The Harley, and the 223-ton trawler, Rose of England, which also was attacked, subsequently reached port and were reported to have suffered little damage.

The Swedish ship Mertenan, 4,531 tons, also arrived in port and reported she had been machine-gunned and bombed off the East coast Saturday. One bomb hit her, but no one was injured and the crew stood by in lifeboats until the bombers had left.

Captain Edward Wiley said a German plane machine-gunned the Harley's forecastle, dropped a bomb ahead of her and then returned to drop additional bombs. The crew was five hours before being rescued.

Survivors said "the bomber was pretty decent" to give them time to take to a lifeboat. Six or seven members of the Belgian steamship Charlotte were missing following an attempt to reach land on a raft during the night. Four made land, but hope of finding the others when the raft and one body were washed ashore.

Fifteen survivors from the 3,277-ton British ship Kildate which sank after a bomb crashed into the engine room, were landed at an East coast port. They reported that six crew members were killed in the bomb attack.

The Norwegian ship Tempo, 629 tons, was sunk after a machine gun attack which killed at least four of her 14 crew members. Other ships were attacked but not "red" to make port. The 423-ton British collier Yewdale was machine-gunned a mile off the coast by two planes.

The 3,431-ton Corland reached port Saturday morning through an aircraft attack. An unidentified Swedish ship tried fruitlessly to enter a British harbor Saturday following repeated German attacks.

The 7,050-ton Greek ship Neoklaou Zograta reached port today with one of crew suffering from an injury received yesterday during a raid by a Nazi bomber. Crewmen said the planes rained out from the coast to drive off the attacker.

The Yewdale was found to have suffered little damage when she was brought to harbor but her captain was killed by machine gun fire and three crewmen were injured.

The 1,389-ton Norwegian vessel Jernfield ran aground during the night on the Northumberland coast. Her crew reached shore in lifeboats. The 3,178-ton British vessel Barometer ran aground on the North coast of the province. The ship had been the target of a German bomb and machine gun attack Jan. 24 but escaped.

recovered fully and will be active in the campaign. However it is expected that Mr. Coldwell, member for Rosetown-Biggar and chairman of the C. C. F. National Committee, will carry a large share of the leadership burden. Mr. Jernfield ran aground during the night on the Northumberland coast. Her crew reached shore in lifeboats. The 3,178-ton British vessel Barometer ran aground on the North coast of the province. The ship had been the target of a German bomb and machine gun attack Jan. 24 but escaped.

Mr. Herridge issued a brief statement last week indicating he would work to defeat the Government. He is expected home from a business trip tomorrow and according to reports from Alberta, will resign almost immediately. Justice Minister Lapointe is expected to campaign at the side of Mr. Mackenzie King. Postmaster General Power and Works Minister Gardiner are in Saskatchewan.

The Cabinet Minister from Alberta, Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, Minister without portfolio, will have a heavy task since he is the only Alberta member from that Province in the 1935 elections. Pensions Minister Mackenzie, who was Defence Minister from October, 1935, to September last, will lead the fight in British Columbia and offer himself in his old riding, Vancouver-Centre.

The Prime Minister is expected to carry the fight personally to his former opponent Premier Hepburn of Ontario. The Minister, it is believed, will speak in Toronto and possibly one or two other points. He will be supported by his Ontario colleagues, Trade Minister Euler, Labor Minister McLarty, Defence Minister Rogers, and Transport Minister Howe.

Mr. Howe has been asked to speak at a Liberal convention in Pembroke next Saturday but it is not yet known whether he will be able to go. His own convention at Port Arthur is ready has been held. Conservative Leader Manion will have as his chief lieutenant on the business front, M. A. Mac-

PASTORAL LETTER READ IN CHURCHES

Timely Lenten Message Heard From Bishop J. A. O'Sullivan.

A timely Lenten message in the form of a pastoral letter from His Excellency J. A. O'Sullivan, Bishop of Charlottetown, was read at all masses in the Catholic Churches throughout the diocese yesterday.

The letter was directed towards the necessity for the strict observance of Lent. In this connection he said, "If any spur other than the promptings of conscience, the teachings of our faith, and the positive law of the church, was needed to observe this Lent with more than usual fervor we should find it in the terrible calamity of war in which our country is now engaged. If humble prayer and repentance were ever necessary they surely are being needed by Christian people at the present time." He quoted from the encyclical of the late Pope Pius 11th (Caritate Christi Compulsus) with reference to the need for prayer and penance in time of great calamity and said, "Historical records of all Christian nations attest to the truth of these words. Nevertheless, in spite of the fact that the frightful holocaust of human life, the sorrows and sufferings of the Great War are still fresh in our memories, in spite of the fact that once again our young men have donned the soldier's uniform and are preparing to face a must as and mighty foe; in spite of the fact that our statesmen are loudly proclaiming that the brunt of the war is still ahead of us; in spite of the fact that our statesmen are so full of confidence in the future which one day still must be faced in the stern reality of taxation that will press heavily on our burdened shoulders, we have failed so far to see any great signs of our people flocking to God's church as supplicants of Divine mercy and clemency; nor have we seen any sense of great grief that our people are becoming more serious minded and self-denying."

"It is time for us to arouse our slumbering consciences, and shake off the apathy or self-consciousness which we have until the casualty lists bring home to us the horrible sequences of war before we bend our knees before the Most High God? Must we wait until the cries of lamentation and great mourning in the land before realizing what an appalling war really is? "Rachel bewailing her children and not to be comforted because they are not? Indeed, is our patriotism so enfeebled, is our faith so selfish and reckless, that we must beseech ourselves to action and to prayer only when our personal safety and interests are threatened? Surely that is not the Christian's outlook on life as taught us by the Catholic Church."

person, former Attorney-General of Saskatchewan and runner up in the voting at the National Conservation convention which chose Dr. Manion as leader in 1938. Mr. Macpherson is expected to speak in the west and in Nova Scotia, and in other Provinces.

One-time Air Fighter Goes Back To War

ARNPRIOR, Ont., Feb. 4.—(CP)—Captain Clyde Arnprior, who as a young air officer from Arnprior, fell on the western front under the command of Baron Richthofen, has gone back to war. At present the Captain is serving in an army field workshop of the Canadian Ordnance Corps. As a lieutenant in the summer of 1917 he was serving as gunner and observer in the Royal Air Force when he was forced down back of the German lines by a hail of machine gun fire, terribly wounded in the head. Later the Canadian airman was taken to a German hospital and, while his family mourned him as dead, Malloch received a visit from the man who had brought him down. It was Richthofen, credited with the destruction of about 80 allied planes and soon to go down himself under the guns of another Canadian.

GOSSIP DESIGN TEA TOWELS DESIGN NO. 615 Our designer deserves a medal! We took her a sheaf of your requests for "tea towel designs with old-fashioned ladies." She merely nodded at us. When we saw her again she presented us with these adorable and mischievous chatters. We could hardly believe our eyes! They look almost human—(Note the "Pekes" having their little say!)

Each design is mostly outline stitching. The pattern includes transfers for five towels, material requirements and color guides and keys and diagrams of the stitches used. To order this design, write your name and address on a piece of paper and send with 15 cents in coin or stamps to Needlework Department, Charlottetown Guardian, Needlework Department, Design No. 615
