HAD TO LEAVE THEIR WIVES IN BAGDAD.

LONDON, March 2.—Forty Europeans, all men, who were escorted from Bagdad to Mersina, a seaport of Asia Minor by the American Consul, have arrived at Alexandria. Their wives were not allowed to accompany them, but remained at Bagdad under the protection of missionaries.

The members of the party left Bagdad on December 13. Part of the journey was made on foot. The U. S. Consul advanced the money with which to purchase food along the way. A military guard was provided by the Turks for the first part of the trip, but the soldiers dropped off one by one until none were left. The inhabitants along the way treated the travellers well, except in the small villages, which generally were hostile.

CRYSTALS WIN FROM MONTAGUE

Over 180 excursionists arrived in Summerside on the Montague special last evening to see the hockey match between Montague and the second Crystals, which resulted in a victory for the Crystals by the close score of 2-1.

At half-time the score was 1-0 in favour of the Crystals. The game was fairly fast, clean and exciting and, as the score would indicate, very close.

Mr Earl Grady was referee, and Dr W. F. Taylor, Montague, judge of play. A return game will be played at Montague on Monday next. There was an hour's skating after the game on good ice, with splendid music by the Crystal Band.

GOOD RACING ON ICE YESTERDAY

The Charlottetown Driving Club held two races yesterday afternoon on their speedway. Classified race had 2 starters, Moth Miller and Cherry Ripe and the race between them was one of the best of the season. They were evenly matched, never more than a couple of feet separating them at the finish. The horses faced a heavy wind, which accounts for the slow time. The ice was also somewhat heavy. Barney Mac, the good colt owned by Mr. McNeil, of West River, which has been developed by the well-known reinsman, Mr. P. J. Conroy, won the 3-minute class in easy style and looked capable of stepping a half better than 1.10.

MUCH ADLER-KA USED IN CHARLOTTETOWN

It is reported by E. A. Foster druggist that much Adler-ka is sold in Charlottetown. People have found out that ONE SPOONFUL of this simple buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. It is perfectly safe to use and cannot gripe.

HOCKEY

At the Arena Rink last night the Georgetown hockey team were defeated, for the first time in seven years, by the "Comets" of Charlottetown by the score of 6-4.

The Georgetown team found it hard to get on to the big rink, with the result that in the first half the Charlottetown team scored four goals.

In the second half, however, the Georgetown boys scored four, but the Charlottetown boys were not to be outdone, and they added two more, and thus the game ended 6-4 in favour of the "Comets."

The line-ups were as follows:—

Table with 4 columns: Player Name, Position, Opponent Name, Opponent Position. Includes names like J. McPhee, F. Dalziel, F. Walker, F. McLean, John Yoston, J. Smith, A. Dalziel, Percy Rodd.

CHESS TOURNAMENT

The Chess belligerents faced the storm outside and entered the greater storm inside the Dalton Offices last night when they undertook to wipe off old scores and make new ones. The encounters were, as expected, fiercer and more determined than any hitherto, and some scores were wiped out and the war map was considerably changed. Champion Tanton assumed such a ferocious aspect on entering the arena that the gladiators who had formerly tilted with him positively refused a combat, and he was left to storm alone. Louson held off his victim, Mutch, for three hours and by his mastery skill in dilatory tactics brought him to the mat. Woodman had Lundie in the hollow of his hand, but by a gross oversight he allowed the latter to secure a "fool's mate" over him, and that settled the round. Ross chloroformed Worthy and operated upon him successfully. The patient unexpectedly recovered and expressed the opinion that he was not dead, which necessitated a second operation. The latter, like the first, was crowned with success, ending in the death of the patient.

The Raw Recruits were out in force and were placed in the trenches, where some very lively scraps took place, indicating that these also will cut a figure when they grow older. There was a large casualty list, but it has not been posted. The trouble will resume on Friday night.

"THE ONLY SON" EXCEPTIONAL PLAY

The production of the great heart story, "The Only Son", by Winchell Smith, author of Brewster's Millions, by the Famous Players Film is one of their most perfect accomplishments and its visualization put on all the Prince Edward Theatre yesterday, made a decided hit with the bumper houses who witnessed it. It is a superb dramatic classic with a pulsing vivid finale interpreted by one of the best casts ever seen on the screen in Charlottetown. The part of "The Only Son" is taken in a versatile manner by Thos W. Ross, who introduces a bright line of high class comedy in the play. Of the story it has been truly said that it is one that knocks at the door of every heart. It revives the old adage "It's an ill wind that blows no one some good" as the weak, Thomas Brainerd, Sr., a railroad engineer, is a dutiful and loving husband and father. Two children are born while the Brainerds live in the West in a mountainous region. The first sells an invention for a gigantic sum and goes to New York, where he becomes a financial power. He neglects his wife—devotes every moment of his time to his growing industries, simply supplies funds to his family—and his wife, on the other hand, is fascinated by an artist and consents to "sit" for a painting. Feeling her neglect keenly, Mrs. Brainerd becomes a victim to the wiles of the artist who, however, is killed by the husband of a former victim before the affair has progressed too far.

Brainerd, learning of his wife's affair with the artist, orders her from the house. Thomas, heretofore a worthless spendthrift, sides with and accompanies his mother. They go to Denver, Colorado, where "The Only Son" meets a patent inventor, Tom sells all his belongings to finance the invention and they join interests. They open a factory with great success, with Mrs. Brainerd's former companion, with whom Tom is in love, as stenographer. The senior Brainerd sends his agent to buy the plant at any price, not knowing that his son is a partner in the concern. After doubling his first offer Smith, the agent, telegraphs his employer that the partners refuse to sell. He receives word that if he can't buy to put the firm out of business. This he sets about to do. First he has explosives placed in the factory, which are the cause of the plant being closed for a week. Smith here sees an opportunity to cause a strike and he tells the miners to demand full pay for the lost time. This is denied them and a lively strike ensues. The way Tom with his brawny partner, Thomson, and helps quell the strike is an exciting and excellent scene. Smith writes Brainerd son, to this effect: "Come down and finish your dirty work yourself; I'm in the hospital." He does come to Denver, but the son turns down the offer the father had prepared for a stranger. When the father sees he cannot gain control of the plant he advises his son to go with him to New York and finance it for himself. But Tom refuses to leave his mother.

The father and mother are reunited, and the play ends with them both in each others arms, with "The Only Son" and the stenographer, to whom he has become engaged, delighted on-lookers.

The greatest attention has been paid to the settings of the play, and the railroad scenes in the mountains and the thrilling strike scenes are excellent. It is doubtless one of the best photo-plays seen here for some time, and when it is shown again to-day all who enjoy "a good thing" should see it.

The rest of the show was also of a high standard.

After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

IMMENSE CROWD SEE "FOR KING AND COUNTRY"

An excellent three-reel patriotic feature, "For King and Country," was no doubt the attraction which drew such an immense crowd to the People's Theatre last night. It was out of the ordinary, there being no long-drawn, tiresome battles, etc.; instead, it was more of the kind which is apt to assist in spreading a wave of patriotism throughout the country at the present time, and encourage many to enlist in the service of King and country. This remarkable feature is produced by an English firm, and is certainly worthy of every commendation. The prominent character, in fact the one on which the story hinges, is "The Lonely Man" who by his force of character and personality turns the fashionable loafer into an enthusiastic soldier, and incidentally the boarding mistress into joining the Red Cross nurses. The scenes at the front are realistic and depict in glowing colours the courage of the British soldier and the contemptible acts of the German. The charge by the wounded soldiers when their hospital was blown to pieces brought forth cheers from the large audience. This is a feature which should be seen by everyone who has friends going, or already at the front, and it will be shown for the last time to-night. Another enjoyable picture was a two-reel "Captain Junior." A Vitagraph film, "Fraid Cat," featured "Sonny Jim" and was a pretty story. Sonny Jim and the Vitagraph dog, "Sheep," were much admired. Patrons of the People's Theatre should watch the advts. in the papers for attractions that will soon arrive. Announcement was made last night that their first serial, "Dolly of the Dailies," would be shown on Monday night.

The Joy of Good Health Is Now Experienced

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Sleeplessness Are Now a Thing of the Past.

This is a cheerful letter from Mrs. Peacock, and it should bring joy to the heart of many a reader of this paper. Dizzy spells and sleeplessness are symptoms of exhausted nerves, and are the bug-bear of many women, who do not know just what treatment to use. You can read Mrs. Peacock's letter and take courage, for she has proven that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a complete cure for these troubles. So pleased was she with the results obtained that she wants other women to know about this food cure. Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 23 Hiawatha street, St. Thomas, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states—"I was quite run down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well, and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my health generally, so that to-day I feel that I am quite well again." In a more recent letter Mrs. Peacock writes—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good, and I would be pleased to tell everybody so." In nearly every issue of this paper you will find letters about Dr. Chase's medicines. If this one does not describe your case watch for others or write to us. FORGOT THE NAME OF BRIDE TO BE.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—When Frank G. Tillman went to the courthouse to get a marriage license he forgot the surname of his intended bride, confusing it with that of another girl. As a consequence he faced Father O'Hara in St. Mary's Cathedral with a license to marry Miss Sarah Chabooa, though Miss Sarah C. Stearns stood beside him. The mistake did not muffle the wedding bells, however, for Father O'Hara inserted the name of the bride on the license. Deputy County Clerk Hennessy had discovered the mistake and called it to the attention of Deputy County Clerk Souls, who had acted as witness for Tillman when the license was issued.

JUST A SHOWER.

The patriotic Scotchman had induced two Lancashire friends to go to Argyllshire for a holiday. On their return he met them. "Well, how did you enjoy yourselves? Was the weather good?" "There was just a shower on our first day," replied one of them. "Didn't I tell you that it was all lies about the Highlands being wet?" "That shower hadn't ended when we came home," was the severe retort.—Weekly Scotsman.
