—HAPPYLAND.—The picture program at Happyland last evening included several good pictures, one of which, The Diamond Miniature, a "Pathe", in two reels, was a feature. The picture describes the story of a society man who wished to join a society's club but before being admitted to membership was put to several severe tests, one of which was to steal a diamond miniature from the strong safe of a wealthy man whose daughter he wished to marry and the way in which he went about it furnished a very interesting story. The pictures "Hattie's Hat" and "She must be Ugly" furnished a comedy part of the program.

—TO RAISE VENESSEL.—An effort is being made by Messrs. Jos. Read & Co., to raise and float further inshore the wrecked schooner Sir A. Townsend which has lain at the bottom of Read's wharf since she was towed to Summerside early in the summer.

—FERRY BEDEQUE.—The ferry boat, Bedeque, running between Summerside and Hurds Pt. wharf, discontinued her trips yesterday, the lolly in the river making it too difficult to navigate up to the wharf. The Bedeque has been in this service for the past ten years under the command of Capt. Rhyndar and his son Johnston. During this time they provided an excellent ferry service. It is Capt. Rhyndar's intention to dispose of the boat and retire from active service.

From yesterday's Evening Guardian.
—PROHIBITION—the prohibition case referred to in these columns some time ago and which was tried at Kensington on Saturday, Nov. 9th, before Stibbard Wright and dismissed there being absolutely no evidence whatever against the defendant was not instituted at the suggestion of the Temperance Alliance nor the temperance people of Kensington. It is a pity that such unfriendly rivalry should cause any one to resort to these tactics as such do not further the best interests of the Temperance cause.—K.

—INSTITUTION WORK.—A very successful meeting of the Maple Leaf Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Locke, Sherbrooke, on December 9th. There were 21 members present. As usual the meeting was opened with singing. After the business was disposed of, the supervisor demonstrated the dressing, tracing, cooking and carving of Christmas, which was most thoroughly explained. The practical method of the work was made clear and many valuable suggestions were given which will, no doubt, be put into practice by these who are present. Several questions were asked by the members to which suitable answers were given in detail. All were delighted with the demonstration and took a keen interest in the discussion. It is pleasing to note the goodwill and harmony that exists among the members of this lively Institute. A sumptuous supper was served by the amiable hostess which tended greatly to the enjoyment of the afternoon. Next meeting will be held on Wednesday January 7th at 2 p. m., in Traveller's Rest Hall, subject 'Raising and Expenditure of Institute Funds.' A vote of thanks was tendered the supervisor and hostess, thus bringing a pleasant meeting to a close.
