

BIRTHS

McLURE—At Moncton, N. B., on March 14th to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan G. McLure a daughter (Constance Lou.)

McLeod—At Charlottetown on March 29, 1921, to Francis and Mrs. McLeod, a son Francis Frederick.

DEATHS

BEATON—At the Church Road Middle on March 29th, William Beaton, aged 65 years. A good man and a highly respected Elder of St. Peter's Bay Presbyterian congregation.

Farm for Sale

I offer for sale a farm of 100 acres situated in Brockton, Lot 4, 90 acres cleared balance in wood and lumber. Land in high state of cultivation, with good fencing and buildings. Land all seeded to hay with the exception of 4 acres.

CHESTER A COUGHLIN

1536 Plymouth St., Bridgewater, Mass.

Valuable City Property for Sale by Auction

I am authorized by the Executors of the Estate of the late Mrs. Youker to sell by Public Auction, her valuable double tenement, 3 story dwelling house, situated on Kent Street, Nos. 170 and 172, on Friday, April 8th, commencing at 12 o'clock noon. Inspection at any time. This property will be sold at a bargain, as the Estate is to be closed. Terms at sale.

BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer.

FOR SALE

A farm containing 100 acres of land, 80 under good cultivation and 20 under hardwood 3 miles from Souris Station, handy churches and schools.

For particulars apply to, DANIEL GEO. MOONEY, St. Catherine, Souris East, P. E. I.

FOR SALE

I offer for private sale my residence in town of Montague. Size of house 32 x 40. 8 large rooms connected with sewer. Electric lighted. Hard wood floors. Property has frontage of 110 feet on Main street, small orchard, good kitchen garden. Ice house, store house. Best location in town. For particulars, apply to Louis A. McDonald.

In Chancery

Charles H. Kinch vs. Arnold Rattenbury and others. No. C. 1365

I hereby give public notice that under and pursuant to an Order made herein by the Court of Chancery dated 4th, March, 1920, I will set up and sell by Public Auction on Tuesday 5th, April next, 1921, at 12 o'clock noon in front of the Central Garage on Kent Street in Charlottetown.

ONE CHEVROLET AUTOMOBILE REGISTERED NO 937. Dated March 30th, 1921. ANTHONY J. DOUGAN.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE

Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Pitts of Newburgh

Newburgh, N. Y.—"My trouble was a weak back and I could not walk two blocks without being tired out. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a newspaper and decided to give it a trial. Now I can do my own work and walk with ease. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house. It certainly is my best friend and I could not keep house without it. I have recommended it to many and always with success."—Mrs. EDWARD PITTS, 2 High St., Newburgh, N. Y.

It has been said that "backache is an invention of the Evil One to try women's souls," but even so, it is a trouble which sooner or later declares itself. Day after day it drags a woman down and night after night prevents restful sleep. Such a woman should follow Mrs. Pitt's advice and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It contains no narcotic or harmful drugs.

FOR SALE

Blacksmith stand and farm of 50 acres at North River corner. Both well situated being in one of the best business centres on the Island. Dwelling house, barn and two large shops, pump at door. Will sell together or separately at a bargain.

Apply LLOYD MORESIDE, North River.

Farm For Sale At Georgetown

About seventy-five acres, house and out-buildings, owned by Nathaniel MacPhee about one mile from town. With or without stock. Apply to Capt. Hugh MacPhee, Georgetown.

Farm for Sale

Farm of late Finlay McKinnon Brookfield containing 104 acres choice land, 75 acres clear in high state of cultivation, 25 acres covered with hard wood and lumber old growth, well watered good house, and out buildings. Convenient to churches, school one mile from Colville Station. Apply Finlay N. McKinnon on premises.

Farm For Sale

Farm containing 100 acres situated at Bedeque, 85 acres clear and in good state of cultivation, balance covered with hard and soft wood. Good dwelling and other buildings. Also 33 acres within a few chains from farm.

For full particulars write or phone. R. A. WRIGHT LEARD, Central Bedeque.

FARM FOR SALE

I will sell by private sale my farm containing 140 acres, situated at Glencoe, Vernon River. Terms reasonable. Apply, AUSTIN MCGILVARY.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

BY JANE PHILIPS

WE ARE CHILDREN AT TIMES

Juanita was on the porch. I knew by her change of expression when she saw me that I was unwelcome. But she quickly recovered herself and greeted me as usual. "Well, Mr. Writer-man, feeling better?" she asked, calling Dick by the name she had given him when we first knew her. Then turning to me: "Wasn't he a dear to telephone me when he finished the story?" He knew I was waiting to hear.

"Dick is always thoughtful of his friends," I replied, indignant that she had the nerve to mention the telephone message. "My name will be Dennis with him if this story is accepted," she said with a laugh as she rang for tea which was served on the porch. "He will think he doesn't need me, that he can go it alone."

"And you think he cannot?" I could not help question. "No—I think he can. But he needs sympathy, encouragement, don't you write-man? You are like a good many men—nothing but a boy after all." She seemed to forget I was there, listening. As she talked she gave him an intriguing look, so, melting, I thought of what those men had said, of what Mrs. Baker had told me, and clenched my hands in my lap to refrain from saying things I would regret simply because it would give Dick a chance to defend her—something I was determined never to allow. He should not champion her because of anything I said or did. She simply replied:

"We are all children at times, I imagine." Mary just then brought tea and cakes and Dick changed the conversation by complimenting Juanita upon their excellence. "I made them myself purposely for you because you are fond of them," she murmured.

So she even flattered him by cooking the things he liked. What else did she do that I had not suspected to strengthen her hold over him? "I don't wonder you like them, Dick they are delicious," I said. "You must give me the recipe, Juanita."

"Oh, I couldn't give it to anyone. That is my special treat for the Writer-man." I said no more but looked at Juanita as if I never had known her before. What was she doing? What did this softness, this languishing manner mean? It was not quite like anything I had seen in her before. Had she feared to fall in weaning Dick entirely from me, and now had adopted this clinging vine attitude hoping to work on his man-nature in that way?

We remained about an hour—an hour of distress to me, of no particular pleasure to either Dick or Juanita. I was sure it was Dick who proposed going. Nothing loath, I rose at once and Juanita made no objection.

When we reached home I found a letter from Junior. Suddenly I decided to make him a visit of a day or two.

"Will you go with me, Dick?" I asked. "Junior would be delighted. He said when he was not quite like his father was an author."

"No, I can't," Dick replied. "I'm sorry you won't go with me." I replied, already regretting I had said I would go.

"I am tired, too nervous. When I get rested perhaps I'll run down for a day. But stay as long as you can, Nan. It will do good." "And give you perfect freedom spend all the time with Juanita," I said to myself, my heart full of bitterness. But I would go. It would do me good. The constant striving to hide feelings, to pretend I noticed nothing in Dick's attentions to Juanita was becoming almost unbearable. I would relax for a bit. Perhaps when I returned it would not be quite so hard.

And I would be with Junior. Whenever I became discouraged, when I felt my cross was greater than I could bear, I would think of him and carry on because of him, his future. If I could help it that future should not be blighted by scandal.

How delighted he was to see me! It almost made me forget the indifference way Dick had made me goodbye. And he looked so well, was so full of boyish enthusiasms and ideas. His teacher, told he was very bright in his studies, that his work in school was exceptionally good. I WAS comforted, and for two or three days almost happy.

Post Office Act To Be Revised

OTTAWA, Mar. 30—The Senate resumed today after the Easter recess. Postmaster General Blondin introduced a bill to amend the Post Office act designed to establish a system providing for insurance against loss of mail matter and fix insurance fees also to provide that letters addressed to any place in Canada on which postage has not been prepared and charged with double amount of postage thereon not so prepaid, which amount shall be collected on delivery.

Notice to the Farmers Of P. E. Island

I have been using Dr. W. G. Church's condition powder for horses for the last few years with remarkable results, and would recommend it to any of you who have horses that you want to put into condition quickly for a hard spring work or are getting ready for sale. It costs you one dollar a package but get many dollars in return for the one you spend in this way.

GEORGE MCFARLIN, BEDEQUE P. E.

J. A. McDONALD.

Large Auction Sale at Alexandra of Choice Farm, Stock and Implements

I am authorized by H. A. Robertson and Judson Bros., to sell at public auction on the premises of Judson Bros., on the Wood home-stead.

ON THURSDAY, APRIL 7TH, 1921

Commencing at 1 o'clock p. m. their splendid farm of 65 acres of choice land all clear with splendid dwelling house and barns having all water connections throughout. Also a splendid orchard bearing the best of fruit and a never failing stream of water flowing through the rear of farm. All together making this a very desirable property. Terms for farm at sale. Also on the same day I will sell all their valuable stock and crop:

6 horses, 14 milch cows, most all to freshen soon; 11 young cattle, 7 brood sows and all implements.

As Mr. Robertson has purchased the valuable property of Mr. R. K. McKenzie, Flat River, everything will be sold as advertised.

Usual terms at sale.

BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer.

HER CASE SEEMED HOPELESS

But "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Health and Strength

29 St. Rose St., MONTREAL.

"I am writing you to tell you that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. This medicine relieved me when I had given up hope of ever being well.

I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia—had suffered for years; and nothing I took did me any good.

I read about "Fruit-a-tives" and tried them. After taking a few boxes, of this wonderful medicine made from fruit juices, I am now entirely well!"

Madame ROSINA FOISIZ. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or send postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ght of what those men had said, of what Mrs. Baker had told me, and clenched my hands in my lap to refrain from saying things I would regret simply because it would give Dick a chance to defend her—something I was determined never to allow. He should not champion her because of anything I said or did. She simply replied:

"We are all children at times, I imagine." Mary just then brought tea and cakes and Dick changed the conversation by complimenting Juanita upon their excellence. "I made them myself purposely for you because you are fond of them," she murmured.

So she even flattered him by cooking the things he liked. What else did she do that I had not suspected to strengthen her hold over him? "I don't wonder you like them, Dick they are delicious," I said. "You must give me the recipe, Juanita."

"Oh, I couldn't give it to anyone. That is my special treat for the Writer-man." I said no more but looked at Juanita as if I never had known her before. What was she doing? What did this softness, this languishing manner mean? It was not quite like anything I had seen in her before. Had she feared to fall in weaning Dick entirely from me, and now had adopted this clinging vine attitude hoping to work on his man-nature in that way?

We remained about an hour—an hour of distress to me, of no particular pleasure to either Dick or Juanita. I was sure it was Dick who proposed going. Nothing loath, I rose at once and Juanita made no objection.

When we reached home I found a letter from Junior. Suddenly I decided to make him a visit of a day or two.

"Will you go with me, Dick?" I asked. "Junior would be delighted. He said when he was not quite like his father was an author."

"No, I can't," Dick replied. "I'm sorry you won't go with me." I replied, already regretting I had said I would go.

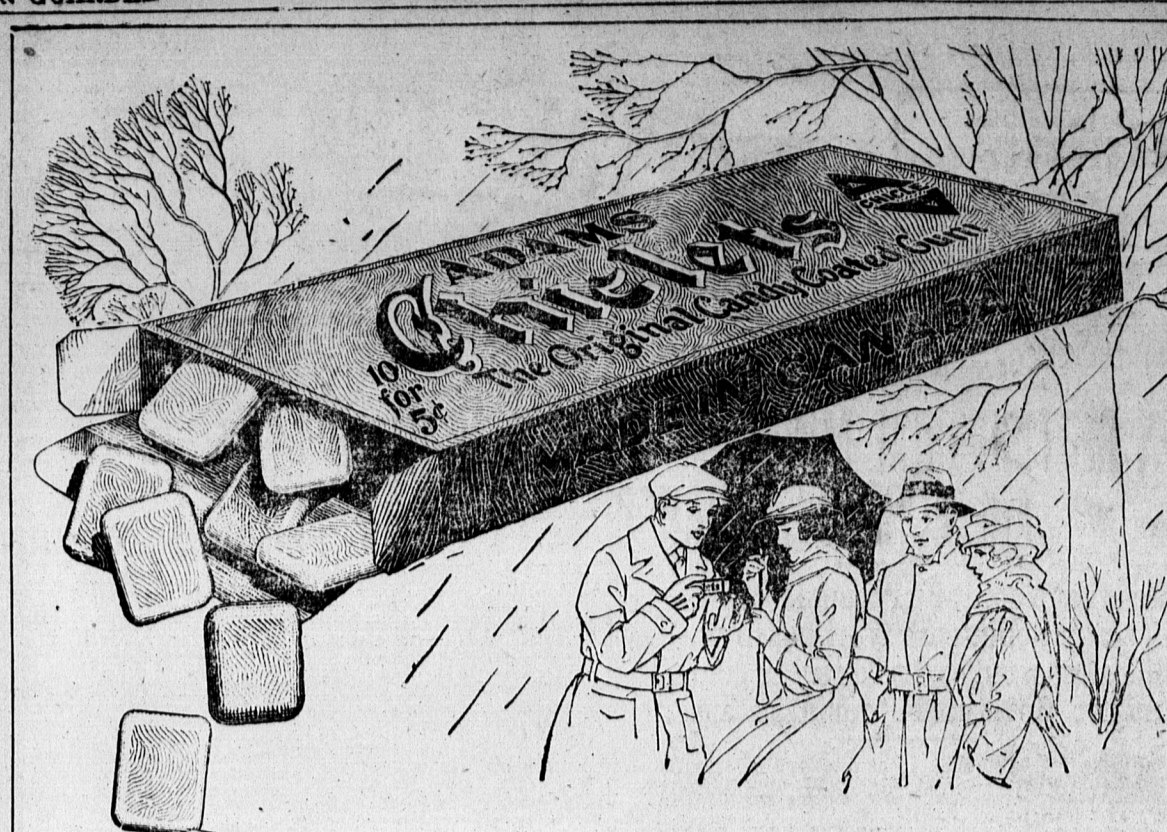

"I am tired, too nervous. When I get rested perhaps I'll run down for a day. But stay as long as you can, Nan. It will do good."

"And give you perfect freedom spend all the time with Juanita," I said to myself, my heart full of bitterness. But I would go. It would do me good. The constant striving to hide feelings, to pretend I noticed nothing in Dick's attentions to Juanita was becoming almost unbearable. I would relax for a bit. Perhaps when I returned it would not be quite so hard.

And I would be with Junior. Whenever I became discouraged, when I felt my cross was greater than I could bear, I would think of him and carry on because of him, his future. If I could help it that future should not be blighted by scandal.

How delighted he was to see me! It almost made me forget the indifference way Dick had made me goodbye. And he looked so well, was so full of boyish enthusiasms and ideas. His teacher, told he was very bright in his studies, that his work in school was exceptionally good. I WAS comforted, and for two or three days almost happy.

Have You Tried Spearmint Chiclets?

All the delights and benefits of Adams Chiclets—the "Really Delightful," crisp, white candy-coating; the dainty shape; the handy cardboard packet; the benefit to teeth, digestion and nerves—AND —a wonderful new Spearmint flavor

You'll find the same super-enjoyment in any Chiclet flavor—the new Spearmint, the tingling Peppermint, or the luscious Tutti-Frutti.

Buy them at any store—ten Chiclets for 5c. Be sure you get Adams Chiclets—the original candy-coated gum in the cardboard packet.

—an Adams product, particularly prepared note expresses the hope that articles 12 and 17 of the peace pact will be applied according to the preceding note of March 10th. The new note dated March 22nd is signed by Foreign Secretary Sigmund cape. GENEVA, Mar. 30—The League of Nations received a second protest from Germany calling attention to the continued occupation by the Allied troops in Germany. The

Post Office Act To Be Revised

OTTAWA, Mar. 30—The Senate resumed today after the Easter recess. Postmaster General Blondin introduced a bill to amend the Post Office act designed to establish a system providing for insurance against loss of mail matter and fix insurance fees also to provide that letters addressed to any place in Canada on which postage has not been prepared and charged with double amount of postage thereon not so prepaid, which amount shall be collected on delivery.

Hold-Up Men Kill and Injure

MONTREAL, April 2—Nicola Stripea was shot in breast by hold-up men in his room 315 A Cadieux St. last evening and died instantly and Jacob Lublinsky, six years old was shot in the groin and is lying in a critical condition in the General Hospital, by one of the assassins making his escape. Stripea was having supper with his brother and friend when the two men entered his room explaining they had heard he was leaving for Europe and demanded his money. His brother called for help and the men started to run. Stripea held the door and it was then that one Advertisement for Macdonald's Prince of Wales Chewing Tobacco, featuring a pack of tobacco and the slogan 'The Tobacco with a heart'.

Advertisement for MacNutt & White Farm Lighting Plants, describing the benefits of their lighting system and providing contact information.