SINN FEIN—WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT IS NOT.

There is no reason why any class of Canadians should be in the least afraid of Sinn Fein, as a political theory, in the sense in which it is explained by its most reliable exponents. Sinn Fein simply means what we mean in Canada when we say, Canada first. By this we mean our loyalty to the British Empire must first of all start with our loyalty to our own native dominion. In other words, loyalty, like charity, must begin at home. It is the very apotheosis of Feudalism or Kaiserism. Sinn Fein, in that sense, means a government of, for and by the people; it means local patriotism; local self-government as part of the empire; it means honest nationalism as against exaggerated imperialism.

If Sinn Fein is distorted to mean Irish republicanism, then it can't be accepted by any section of intelligent Canadians or Australians, because the idea of an Irish republic, as pointed out by Cardinal Logue, is something altogether too visionary. It's like attempting to build a railway to the moon. It might be, for all we know, a good thing to have a railway to the moon, but it can't be done, in the same way it might be well to set up an Irish republic to which the world could take off its hat if the world were a little bit different to the kind of world we have today. We believe that the solution of the Irish problem is along Mr. Redmond's lines of constitutional agitation; but the fact that the solution is deferred or delayed does not destroy the value of the method. At the same time we can understand that the delays and treacheries of English politicians have driven many into an opposition to Mr. Redmond whose methods of constitutional agitation, however pure they may be, are bound to be slow, but better the slow way which will end in national happiness than the short and blood-stained pathway of anarchy, such as that at which the world was horrified and scandalized during the recent Sinn Fein outbreak in Dublin when millions of dollars of property was destroyed and

THE END OF THE MEATLESS DAYS.

When we come to the end of meatless days.

Using the word Sinn Fein in its right sense, every Canadian should be a true Sinn Feiner. If we cease to be Sinn Feiners, in the right sense, it would mean that Canadians have passed from free Britons; that we have lost the right to a respect, worthy of that confederacy of nations known as the British empire.—The New Freeman

When we come to the end of meatless days.

And we sit alone with our thought of the bread so thin and the pie so small.

And those eggs that the waiter brought.

How we long for the steaks and the chops of yore.

And bowls full of sugar white.

As we come to the end of a meatless day.

With the pieces "out of sight."

When we come to the end of a meatless day.

And begin on a sleepless night, is it strange if we think of the days to come.

With plans for our appetite?

Will we shave on the prunes through the coming noons.

And cut down the codfish cakes.

Sell we choose every dish that's composed of fish?

Sure! We will for the soldiers' sakes.

When we come to the end of this beastly war.

And the guns and bombs are all still.

We will hold in all old Hindenburg.

And his boss, old Kaiser Bill.

For they're both too tough and quite too rough.

For even the place below.

So we'll hold them well ere they're shipped to.

For the pyrotechnic show.

—Henry C. Montague, in Philadel. Ledger.

FEW CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp of dandruff that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—and any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or violet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Ringworm on Child's Head

Causes Great Discomfort and Spread to Eyes and Ears—Cure Was Speedily Effected When Right Treatment was Recommended

There is no disease of the skin more obstinate than ringworm, and the mother who writes this letter does so fully realizing what it will mean to other anxious mothers to know a cure for Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"This remarkable cure was brought about two years ago, and as there has been no return of the distressing disease there can be no doubt that this cure is permanent.

Mrs. D. Stebbins, Grand Bend, Ont., writes: "I am going to tell you of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment. My little girl had some ringworm on her head which looked like pimples. They were spreading fast, and I tried home treatment, but nothing helped her. I took her to the doctor, and he opened some of the sores, which were as big as the voice of an egg. The salve he gave me to put on was very severe, and the poor child would cry for an hour or more after an application. For six weeks it continued to spread all over her head, and came down to her neck and ears. She suffered terribly. At last some kind ladies told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment, so I got a box, and the first time I put it on she was relieved of pain, and the second time the swelling was all gone. Before we had finished the first box the sores were nearly all gone. I have told all the people around here about your Ointment, and I cannot praise it too much. It is now two years since my little girl was troubled in this way and it never came back, so you can see she is completely cured. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of others who may be suffering in a similar manner."

Joseph Brenner, J. P., endorses this statement as follows: "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mrs. D. Stebbins of Grand Bend, Ont., and believe her statement with reference to Dr. Chase's Ointment to be true and correct."

WAR INTERCENSUS—St. Peter's Cathedral today 5 p. m. Children's service Wednesday 5 p. m.

PROTESTANT BIBLE.—Still a few left at $1.59. Campaign closes in a few days. 2828-2-3M31.

SKATE ON FRIDAY NIGHT.—Come to the skate in the Arena Friday night. Proceeds in aid of the poor. 2863.

K. OF C.—A special meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held this evening in the pro-cathedral at 7 o'clock. Degrees. 2865.

THE CAR FERRY.—The Car ferry left Borden yesterday morning at 11:20 after the arrival of the Charlottetown train and reached Tormentine at 12:25. It left Tormentine at 1:10 p. m. and docked at Borden at 2:25.

PROPERTY SALE.—The building sold Saturday by auction was not to be store property on the corner of Kent and Great George streets but the Vatcher building and yard, formerly occupied by F. J. Holman's, Ltd.

BURIAL TODAY.—The body of Miss Mary Marice Gay, who died at the Provincial Hospital, Falconwood, Saturday, leaves this morning for Leary where interment will be made.

REGULAR MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD.—The regular monthly meeting of the City school board was held last evening, with Chairman H. Smith presiding. There were also present Messrs. J. P. Gordon, C.H.B. Longworth and Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan and Messrs. Seaman, Johnson and Francis, of the City Schools. After the adopting of reports and other routine business the following visitors were appointed: West Kent School, Mr. C. H. B. Longworth; Prince Street School, Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan; Queen Square School, Mr. J. P. Gordon; Rochford Square School, Mr. Henry Smith.

THE SOLDIERS GOT THEIR LUNCH.—The usual entertainment for the soldiers which was to be given at the Y.M.C.A. this evening, must, of necessity, be cancelled, as the boys who were in barracks here have gone. The entertainment this evening was to have been furnished by the ladies of St. Paul's Church, who on learning of the intended departure of the boys prepared the refreshments, which would otherwise have been used at the entertainment, and packed them up so that each soldier was supplied with a nice lunch, which would receive due attention on the road. Such action on the part of the ladies of St. Paul's is very commendable, and much appreciated by the soldier boys, and gratefully acknowledged by the Y.M.C.A.

WALT MASON AT THE PRINCE EDWARD.—There is a movie actor named Hart, who never does things a la carte but plays western parts that capture the hearts of the audience right from the start. At the Prince Edward Theatre he was in a splendid fight, and put all to the bad a typical cad, who never knew how to fight right. The play was called "A Cold Deck" and Hart was a bad man, by heck, but an unusual part, for Hart had a heart and his badness was only a speck. It's a play for all, young and old. For Hart has a heart that's all right, he's a model man on the big western plan—and the story's delightfully told. There was also shown "The Gray Ghost" who got two millions, almost, by a chap, Eddie Polo, did a wrestling solo and routed the ghost and his host. With some rags and some bones and some hair and legs decidedly bare, a cave man admirer did then aspire to entice a mere man to her lair. It was a splendid show all agree, and thousands were there to see those who like a good show it's a good place to go—and the charge is a moderate fee.

LADIES HOCKEY MATCH tonight and 1½ hours skating. 2866.

PATRIOTIC SUPPER.—Come to the Philathea Patriotic Bean supper at Paton's Ltd., Thursday afternoon from 4.30 to 7 o'clock. 2867-3-5M21.

RESERVE THURSDAY NIGHT FOR Programme and Lecture in Springfield Hall under the auspices of Union Division in aid of Patriotic purposes. Tea served, lecture by Rev. T. Goodwill. Admission 15 cents. Ladies with baskets free. 2864M21.

BRUCE STEWART & CO. LTD.—The annual meeting of this company was held in their office last night. Mr. Bruce Stewart occupied the chair and submitted a statement of the year's business which was of a most satisfactory nature, the turnover being the largest in the history of the Company. A dividend of seven per cent. was declared. The whole of the retiring directorate was re-appointed.

THE TRAINS.—Owing to the storm starting early Sunday morning and lasting up to 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the ground drifts, which lasted until 6 o'clock last evening, no trains left on either the eastern or southern branches of the P. E. I. R. yesterday. "Clean up" freight trains were running to Borden Sunday, thus keeping the line clear. The Borden train left yesterday morning at 6 o'clock equipped with two engines plough and flanger and reached Borden at 10:35. She made a quick run on return reaching the city at 6 o'clock. The train which left Summerside at 6 a. m. for the City is stalled at New Annan, about 5 miles out of Summerside. The train which left Tignish at 5.45 a. m. yesterday is stuck at De Blois, 2 1/2 miles out.

CUT OUT WASTE MOTIONS

OTTAWA, March 2. (Special).—If Canada is in this war with all its resources of men, money and material, then all that tends to win the war must have right of way. Unnecessary luxuries must give way to necessary tasks. The production of luxuries must disappear and essentials take their place.

Canada must reconstruct its orientation, Canadians, men, women and children, must make their attitude of mind conform to the supreme need of winning the war. What may have been the proper course of action before the war now may come to be an improper course, since Canada is in this war to the finish. As with national aims and aims so with personal actions and wishes. What is right for the nation is also equally right for the individual. Production and thrift are the important national aims as they also ought to be the paramount personal desires. Whatever hampers national production and thrift is a disservice to the nation at war. Similarly whatever lessens personal production and thrift is hostile to Canada's interest.

Now how does this apply to you and me, ordinary citizens of Canada. Are we producers or merely consumers? Are we producing foodstuffs needed by our own soldiers and the Allied Nations? Are we consuming foodstuffs that should be sent overseas? Are we destroyers of nations or the makers of nations?

As to thrift, are we saving our money to aid in winning the war, or are we spending it on ourselves as freely as we did before the war began? Has the war made us less extravagant? Are we doing for ourselves those things that in pre-war days we paid others to do for us? How about our shoe-shines. Do we still carry gifts to the Greeks while they polish our leather? Is shoe-shining now a necessary occupation during the war? What does it produce?

Then consider the number of barber shops full of grown Canadians keep busy? Is a barber shop a national necessity in war time? Most successful men before they reached success were able to handle their own razors. Would it be a social crime for all men to shave themselves. Britishers make it a point of pride to shave themselves. Many people consider it a sanitary and gentlemanly thing to do.

It is a trivial thing, this matter of shaving, but it costs the man about town 25 cents a day, which is $90.00 a year, to get dolled up. Ninety dollars is the interest at 6 per cent on $150. There is no doubt about it the thrifty man shaves himself. So long as it is the custom to go to the barber shop, the barber may be said to be in a necessary occupation, though he may long to go to the front. He naturally asks what his customers would do if he were to put on a uniform? Are you keeping some barber from going to the front or engaging in some productive occupation that will help to win the war?

Then there is the pool room where youth spends hours daily in becoming a rather indifferent handler of a cue. Pool rooms mean men to run them, is a pool room a productive concern from the standpoint of winning the war? Is playing pool and billiard-marking work of national account?

PERSONALS

Mrs. B. A. Strang, formerly of this city and now residing at Port Borden, P. E. I., is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Holley in Sydney, C. B.

Mrs. J. J. Davies Jr., and Nursing Sister Ruth Huggan, left yesterday morning for Winnipeg. Many where they will visit friends.

FASHION NOTES.

Dotted Swiss is one of the old materials that is in favor.

Foulards with light grounds and dark figures are fashionable.

Charming warm dressing gowns are made of colored velvets.

Satin striped habutai will be used for new coatless blouse suits.

Satin waists have crepe fichus and vests of some relieving color.

Satin striped taffeta skirts have their stripes running horizontally.

Aprons are in greater favor than before knitting became so general.

Petticoats are not mentioned in the list of fashionable under-things.

Mantles made of old cashmere shawls have collars and cuffs of black fox.

Gingham dresses are worn by the fashionable women who have gone south.

Striped gingham and smocking make an ideal morning dress for the wee tot.

Gold tulle makes an attractive veil if worn with just the proper costume.

Narrow bands of checked material will trim a plain colored frock effectively.

Flower novelties are made of Scottish plaids.

LATE SUPPERS.

"You'll have to cut out those late suppers, under the economy regulations."

"On the contrary, when I want an extra heavy meal, I'll have to get up and cook it in the middle of the night when nobody will see me."

RHEUMATISM?

RUB ZAM-BUK WELL IN!

The unusual penetrating power of Zam-Buk enables it to reach the seat of the trouble, ending the pain, removing the stiffness and reducing the swelling. At the same time Zam-Buk strengthens the tissues, making them better able to resist cold and dampness.

Miss Agnes Hall of Ranclagh, Ont., writes: "I had rheumatism in my hands so badly that at times I was unable to use them. They were badly swollen and ached terribly. A friend recommended Zam-Buk and I began rubbing it in regularly at nights. The pain was soon relieved, and perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

At the front, too, the men say there is nothing like Zam-Buk for rheumatism. Corp. J. C. Fremlin of the 10th Field Ambulance writes: "Zam-Buk is simply great for rheumatism. I wish we could get more of it."

ZAM-BUK CURES ECZEMA

For eczema Zam-Buk has no equal, as Mr. A. Josey of Spry Harbor, N.S., has proved. He writes: "For three years I suffered with eczema on my hands and the irritation was so bad that I could not sleep at nights. I tried many so-called 'cures' but got no better until I used Zam-Buk. This wonderful remedy has entirely rid me of the disease."

Zam-Buk is also the best remedy for old sores, blood-poisoning and piles, and as a first-aid for cuts, burns and scalds it is invaluable. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 1c. stamp (for postage) on one free trial box.

Zam-Buk

If so, must it be done by stalwart men who if they were allowed to by their fellow customers, would engage in productive occupations that would help to win the war? Many a man now tied to his pool room by habit and comradeship of his customers, would prefer to work on a farm and produce something for the boys at the front. How long are his customers going to prevent him from doing what he knows is his duty?

Canadians must put themselves under more rigid discipline of their own free will and accord, if the back of this country is to be put into successful efforts to win the war. We must count the cost of all we do in terms of war effort. We should get the habit of refraining from doing those things that are extravagant, and we should pat ourselves on the back whenever we save ourselves and thus save 25 cents to be devoted to carrying on the war.

Even shining your own shoes may be counted to you for righteousness in the larger view of the nation's war aims.

And above all, we should keep in mind the fact that we may, by maintaining careless habits of having things done for us, be putting obstacles in the way of many men, who would rather work on the farm than be servitors to the spendthrift way of a thoughtless age. More than ever in war times, we are our neighbor's keeper and it behooves us not to put a stumbling-block in the way of his serving his country in some productive occupation.

Be a producer, not a mere consumer, and encourage your fellow man.
