MR. PUGSEY GIVES IMPRESSIVE ADDRESS — Tuesday night was charter night for the Kensington Junior Chamber of Commerce, the first unit of the organization to be formed in Prince Edward Island. The presentation of the charter was made by the National President Mr. Philip Pugsley of Montreal to the local president, Mr. Theo Ling at a banquet meeting held at Landmark Restaurant. A hundred per cent turn out of the members who were accompanied by their wives witnessed the ceremony and listened to the very impressive address of the National President. Mr. Pugsley outlined the aims and aspirations of the Junior Chamber of Commerce which he said is a movement of young men in the community who have no axe to grind, who are politically non-partisan and who dedicate their efforts to the improvement of the community in which they live. Each unit he said decides for itself what particular service the town and surrounding district needs most and then proceeds to promote it. You are marching shoulder to shoulder with a quarter of a million men so dedicated in 40 countries of the world and all young men are welcomed to its ranks regardless of creed or political beliefs just so long as they are willing to serve in the best interest of their community. In accepting the Charter President Ling said he felt very proud that the charter was received from the hands of the National President. It was something that would live with them for a long time to come and would serve as a driving force in the Kensington unit in their future activities. He hoped that they would be successful in accomplishing something that would make the entire organization proud that Kensington was one of its units. President Ling called upon His Worship Mayor W. F. Taylor who extended a civic welcome and heartily complimented the young men in Kensington on the formation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. It was he felt an organization that would be beneficial and really worth while. Other speakers were Hon. C. C. Baker, Earl Nicholson Charlottetown, acting in absence of the Charlottetown President, Mr. L. G. DesBrisay, President of the Moncton Junior Chamber who brought greetings from the unit and outlined the various activities engaged in, in the hub city, such as conservation of American dollars clean up and beautification work, get out and vote campaigns, traffic safety and public speaking. Mr. George Henderson, National Chairman, Extension Department of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Montreal, who organized the Kensington Unit in February complimented the local body on the progress it had made so far and looked forward to a bright and active future for Kensington Chamber.—S.

Brig. Price Is Speaker At Kensington — Brigadier John H. Price, Progressive Conservative nominee for Prince, addressed a large and enthusiastic audience in King George Hall, Kensington, on Wednesday evening. The chairman, Mr. Thomas Wigmore called upon Mr. Heath Strong to introduce Brig. Price and in his opening remarks Mr. Strong said he had been associated with the chairman for four years in the local house. A showing of the film "Fortress of Freedom" depicted scenes at the national convention and the election of Mr. George Drew as party leader. Before introducing Brig. Price, Mr. Strong gave a brief but concise outline of Mr. Drew's life. Brig. Price said that the party was particularly fortunate in having George Drew as leader, as he knew of no one more qualified to fill the position. "He is a man I admire and respect from the bottom of my heart," he stated. Brig. Price continued, "the policy of our party is no idle document of words because Mr. Drew's career is one of pledges given and carried out." Referring to the veteran many men whom I feel did not get justice, that's why I am here. Any veteran who feels he has had an unjust deal will always find a friend in me and an advocate of his case. The price of freedom is eternal vigilance. You have no idea the extent to which the human being can be degraded. I've seen it happen and it's only over my dead body that it will happen here. The speaker referred to the various planks in his party's platform such as old age pensions, family allowances, agriculture. Other speakers included Summerside's Mayor J. F. Arnett, Mrs. Basil Kelly, president Summerside Women's Conservative Association, Mrs. James Creighton, Walter McKenzie, and Mrs. Price.

Arnett, Mrs. Basil Kelly, president Summerside Women's Conservative Association, Mrs. James Creighton, Walter McKenzie, and Mrs. Price.

Brigadier John H. Price, Progressive Conservative nominee for Prince, addressed a large and enthusiastic audience in King George Hall, Kensington, on Wednesday evening. The chairman, Mr. Thomas Wigmore called upon Mr. Heath Strong to introduce Brig. Price and in his opening remarks Mr. Strong said he had been associated with the chairman for four years in the local house. A showing of the film "Fortress of Freedom" depicted scenes at the national convention and the election of Mr. George Drew as party leader. Before introducing Brig. Price, Mr. Strong gave a brief but concise outline of Mr. Drew's life. Brig. Price said that the party was particularly fortunate in having George Drew as leader, as he knew of no one more qualified to fill the position. "He is a man I admire and respect from the bottom of my heart," he stated. Brig. Price continued, "the policy of our party is no idle document of words because Mr. Drew's career is one of pledges given and carried out." Referring to the veteran many men whom I feel did not get justice, that's why I am here. Any veteran who feels he has had an unjust deal will always find a friend in me and an advocate of his case. The price of freedom is eternal vigilance. You have no idea the extent to which the human being can be degraded. I've seen it happen and it's only over my dead body that it will happen here. The speaker referred to the various planks in his party's platform such as old age pensions, family allowances, agriculture. Other speakers included Summerside's Mayor J. F. Arnett, Mrs. Basil Kelly, president Summerside Women's Conservative Association, Mrs. James Creighton, Walter McKenzie, and Mrs. Price.
