An invitation for the people of King's County to visit the grounds of Government House was extended by the Lieutenant Governor, Premier W. M. Lea, addressing the gathering stated it was his intention to call together farmers of the province to discuss mutual problems. Considering the dry summer, he said, farmers of King's County had made an excellent showing, as evidenced by the excellent quality of their produce on exhibit at the fair.

Mr. Lea said he was anxious that all farmers, especially the smaller producer take advantage of the work being done by agriculture departments. He was anxious that Island farmers produce more poultry and livestock.

All farmers could afford to branch out into raising poultry. Many could produce hogs as a step into livestock farming. Hog raising he termed "a mortgage lifter." One farmer acquaintance of his had produced sixty hogs a year and they were ranging around $20. They are producing wealth for themselves and for the business men of Prince Edward Island.

It was the premier's expressed opinion that agrarians of the Island should be producing millions of dollars worth more in farm products especially in livestock. "For," he said, "I have found it true that where you have livestock farming there you also have prosperity."

Mr. Thane A. Campbell, Attorney-General, spoke briefly.

Barbados Sugar Industry In Jeopardy

(C. F. by Guardian's Special Wire) BRIDGETOWN, Barbados, Sept. 4.—Worded over the condition of the colony's great sugar industry, the Barbados Government will send a delegation to London next month to discuss possible remedies with the United Kingdom Government.

Hon. S. C. Thorne, member of the Legislative Council, and Douglas Pile, member of the House of Assembly, were named today as official delegates. R. W. R. Miller, director of agriculture, and D. G. Leacock, both of whom are ex-prime ministers in England, will act as expert advisers to the delegates.

Low prices of the last few years have forced most of the Barbados cane planters into debt to the banks, and they have been carrying on only with the hope of better times.

Recently they were discouraged by word from London that the United Kingdom Government would continue to subsidize the beet sugar industry at home.

CREDIT WHERE DUE

Sir.—The marine wharf at Montague, known as the Lambert wharf, which was in a state of disrepair for the past forty years and was an eyesore to residents of one of the most beautiful sections of the Province, has been put in first-class condition this fall by the Federal Department of Marine. The results have been a great improvement in the appearance of Montague, as well as a benefit and convenience to the public generally.

Much credit is due to the Hon. Senator J. A. MacDonnell, for having this long-delayed work attended to. The work was in charge of Mr. Russel Brehaut, Montague, who is also wharfinger, and who is deserving of every commendation, both for his workmanship and for the impressive manner in which the employment was distributed.

LIFE OF PRELATE

From 1887 till 1890 Father MacEachern was engaged in missions work in Scotland, and in August of the latter year came out to minister to the spiritual needs of Prince Edward Island.

The vigor, determination and faith with which Father MacEachern went about his work in this province, in Cape Breton and in New Brunswick were described by Dr. MacLellan, who related that a visiting bishop in 1903 confirmed 1325 people. Of these, 330 were from Tracadie, 427 from St. Andrews, 297 from Rustico, 396 from Malpeque, 75 from Charlottetown.

In 1812 Rt. Rev. Joseph Octave Plessis, coadjutor Bishop, visited the Province, impressed with the necessity of having more priests in the province, Father MacEachern in that year was largely instrumental in sending two students to Quebec for theological studies. In 1822, one, Rev. Bernard MacDonnell was ordained to the priesthood and was assigned to the parish of St. John's.

In 1819 Father MacEachern was named Bishop of Rosen, and two years later was consecrated. In 1829 he was made Bishop of the new See of Charlottetown. The dramatic story of the death of the Bishop was also referred to by the speaker.

Dr. MacLellan eulogized the qualities of character exhibited by Charlottetown's first Bishop, referring to his endurance of hardship and adversity. He referred to the persecutions which Christians had endured in all ages as an inspiration to this great and noble pioneer. It was he who founded St. Ann's College for the training of young men for the priesthood, the institution which has been succeeded by the flourishing St. Dunstan's University. He brought forth fruit. Those who followed him watered where he planted, with the result that Catholicism has advanced rapidly in the 190 years since the death of Bishop MacEachern.

Dr. MacLellan urged his hearers to learn a lesson in sacrifice from the life of the great church leader. The venerable Bishop MacEachern staggered not before any sacrifice. God had made a choice of him.

Solemn Pontifical Mass was celebrated by Bishop Morrison of Antigonish. The chaplains were Rev. K. MacPherson, St. Margaret's, and Rev. P. D. McGuigan, Vernon River. Bishop Morrison was assisted by Rev. T. P. A. MacDonnell, Souris, Assistant Priest; Rev. M. Rooney, Cardigan; Rev. Urban Gillis, Wellington, Deacons of Honour; Rev. F. Poltier, Deacon of Mass; Rev. W. V. MacDonnell, D.D., Sub-Deacon of Mass; Rev. Louis A. Dougan, Master of Ceremonies.

Mayors Meet At North Bay

(C. F. by Guardian's Special Wire) NORTH BAY, Ont., Sept. 4.—Entry of Canadian mayors into the Dominion election campaign was advocated today by Mayor H. Ferland of Verdun, Que., at the 35th annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities.

Annual C.W.L. Convention SEEMS LOAN OF MILLION FOR ETHIOPIA

(Continued from Page 1) however is likely to be no more than an area of 170 square miles held by Britain himself, for a period of 50 years.

News of the reported Chertok concession was heard after the huge Rickett negotiation. The Ethiopian legation in London confirmed that Chertok had been offered territory as a concession for a million dollar loan and said the money was not put up and therefore the agreement was not made. Chertok in New York contends he is ready to sail for London and put up the money before the offer expires, Oct. 17.

The Martin territory is in Wallaga Province, richest platinum and gold bearing area in Ethiopia. It is understood here Martin intends to hand over the monopoly to Emperor Haile Selassie to help finance the probable war with Italy.

Other similar concessions are held by several foreigners, including a French syndicate. The ladies of Georgetown Sub-division will be hostesses at a Banquet to be given on Wednesday evening, September 11th at "The Highlands." This will be supplemented by addresses and musical numbers.

Of additional interest, is the announcement that the National President, Mrs. J. Coffey, of Montreal will be present at the Convention. All business sessions will be held in St. James Hall. Plan now to come to Georgetown, where a cordial welcome will be given you. Remember the dates, September 10-11-12th.

Admiralty Court History Is Related

(C. F. by Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—(C.F.)—History of the Silver Oar, symbolic of the jurisdiction of the high court of admiralty was related by Sir Boyd Merriman before a distinguished gathering of the Canadian Club today. Sir Boyd is president of the probate, divorce and admiralty division of the high court of England. He attended the recent annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association in Winnipeg. Premier R. B. Bennett, Sir Robert Borden, and the judges in Ottawa were present at today's luncheon.

Perhaps first used in 1863, the oar had ever since been the emblem of the Admiralty Court jurisdiction. Sir Boyd said. Down through the centuries this court had enforced the laws and customs of the sea. These customs had not been civil laws or statutes. The international conventions regulating ocean traffic of today were the lineal descendants of the customs which went back deep into antiquity.

Great Britain had led the way in promoting the universality of the regulations governing ships at sea. The old six-foot silver oar with its "foulancher" was therefore not only the emblem of the admiralty court, it was the emblem of British seamanship the world over.

Prairie Wheat Yield Low

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today reported Canada's prairie wheat yield low and of poor quality with rust damage worse than had been expected and frost damage serious. Issuing the last of its 15 weekly telegraphic reports for prairie crops, the Bureau said harvesting had gone forward without extensive delay, despite rain and cloudy weather in some sections.

Cutting it said, is practically completed in Southern Manitoba and threshing is general while considerable harvesting remains to be done in the north. Eighty per cent of Saskatchewan's wheat has been cut but Alberta's grain has been maturing slowly due to cool, cloudy weather.

Tuna Fishing Exciting Sport

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 4.—Some large tuna have been taken in the waters off Liverpool, N.S., within the past week, according to the fish and game department of the Canadian National Railways. C. R. Haines of Washington, D.C. with Mrs. Haines, landed a 725 pound tuna, the largest ever taken in the Gulf. The big fish was hooked at 8 o'clock in the morning and was finally gaffed at 5.15 p. m. the same day thirty-five miles off shore. During the battle the swivel of the tangle porray chair in the skiff from which Mr. Haines was fishing broke, as did also his fishing harness. Captain William Penny of Liverpool acted as guide. Others who were successful in landing tuna were Captain Tom Gifford, famous fishing captain of Miami, Florida, who hooked a 711 pound tuna and landed him after a battle of two hours.

Captain Kerman P. Gray of West Palm Beach, Florida, caught a 535 pound tuna which he succeeded in landing after a fight which lasted thirteen hours. Capt. Gray commented upon his fishing stroke as "the most thrilling fight I ever had." R. Schenk of East Orange, N.J., hooked a tuna and played it for three hours and forty minutes but just as he had his fish in landing position the rod broke. He was unable to remain any longer but stated "I'm coming back next year and get one of these fish." Several others hooked tuna but were unsuccessful in making a landing.

(C. F. by Guardian's Special Wire) QUEBEC, Sept. 4.—(C.F.)—The fisher folk of Labrador are in need of provisions to carry them through the winter months. Bishop Philip Carrington of the Anglican Diocese of Quebec, stated today following his return from an observation visit into that section of his vast spread diocese.

Bishop Carrington said the cod catch, the principal means of livelihood of the fishermen and their families along the bleak coast has been an almost complete failure this season and there will be a serious lack of food.

The Bishop added the fishermen lot could be greatly aided in other ways. He found in many places the need of wharfing or repairs of existing wharves. He urged this work be undertaken to provide work for the men.

Bishop Carrington suggested a scientific study be made of the causes of cod shortage with a view, if possible, to their removal.
