—WANTED Not later than September 1st, competent milliner to assume full charge. Parties applying state experience. Personal interview desired. Apply to undersigned. Kennedy Bros., Kensington. 2400-8-21-61.

—PURCHASE YACHT.—Mr. J. Le Roy Holman has purchased from a western party for a nice figure the yacht Helen. This is adding to the fleet of yachts in the harbor which is once again assuming proportion approaching respectability.

—LOBSTER FISHERMEN report that first overhauls gave very light returns. The few lobsters taken however were of a good size and the fishermen hope that catches will increase gradually.

—A NOVELTY DANCE was held on Tuesday evening in the Britannia Recreation Club rooms and was well attended. The Britannia Orchestra rendered some wonderful music for the occasion.

—AN AMERICAN three mast schooner passing down the strait suffered considerable damage off the harbor. There was no loss of life or personal injury. A tug took the injured vessel in tow to the slip at Pictou.

—COVE HEAD RIFLE CLUB SCORES.—The 3rd stage for the Dominion of Canada Prize was shot on the Cove Head Range on Saturday, Aug. 18th, and some very creditable scores were made although the conditions were difficult with the very hard light and a strong, shifty head wind. The thanks of the Club are due Mrs. Herb. VanDerstine who kindly donated a silver fish fork for the high score of the day. It was won by Mr. Wylie Allan with the splendid score of 86. Following are the scores. Possible 100: Wylie Allan, 86; B. Maye, 80; W. McMillan, 80; F. Auld, 74; J. A. Auld, 73; Ira Carr, 72; Col. J. R. Allan, 71; C. Maye, 70; L. Bell, 70; Wm. Season, 70; John McMillan, 61; F. Bell, 53; Alex. Seaman, 54; Vernon Proud, 52; Joe Berrigan, 50; L. McMillan, 50; H. VanDerstine, 49; L. McKinnon, 41; C. Shaw, 39; Everett Shaw, 35; L. Stewart, 19; M. Bearstot, 18; P. Rodd, 18. The next shoot will be held on Saturday, Aug. 25.

—ENJOYABLE EVENING.—A very enjoyable evening was spent on August the second when a large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blanchard of Clyde Mills to bid farewell to their two sons on the eve of their departure for the golden west also to their daughter Miss Maud who is taking a trip to Boston during her holidays to visit her friends and relatives. The evening was beautifully enjoyable by all the main features of the evening was dancing and singing. The music was furnished by J. H. McDonald accompanied by Miss Florence Dorrion who deserves much credit for being such a musician on the organ. The program was called to order about ten o'clock and the ball master Mr. Joseph Blanchard addressed the visitors in a very warm manner after which was followed by an address to the boys accompanied by a well filled purse. An address was also read to Miss Maud and also presented with a costly present it being a vanity case of pure gold. After a short discourse, lunch was served and Mrs. Blanchard in her usual style presented the visitors with a table of dainty but delicious food to which everybody did ample justice. Much credit is due to Pauline Pineau who waited on the table assisted by Miss Gauthier. After the lunch the ball master delivered a stump speech and dealt heavily upon the subject which is so much talked about today among our Island farmers, that is order and system; after which dancing was resumed. Mr. J. H. McDonald and Miss Florence Dorrion stepped in to music furnished by Pauline Pineau which was followed by a solo rendered by E. and H. Stevenson which delighted the audience. Mr. Cornelius Blanchard also sang. The evening was brought to a close by all extending their sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard for the pleasant evening.

SAYS LIBRARIES GAIN FAVOR AS HOME TRAINING SCHOOLS

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—American people are using their libraries as home universities for self-education instead of for amusement according to Carl H. Milan secretary of the American Library association, who points to the employment of education advisers in the largest cities as proof of his assertion.

"People are intent these days on gathering useful information," said Mr. Milan. "At Detroit, Milwaukee and Cleveland the demand for instructive and informational books has become so great that superintendents of adult education have been appointed to care for the ambitious."

"What makes adult Americans so eager for technical information? The same thing that fills our universities and colleges to overflowing. The libraries are meeting the increased demand by drawing up reading courses in various fields for the use of beginners—business and science politics and journalism."

"One woman in Cleveland nearly 70 years old uses the library to learn how to do needlework which she sells for a living. A man in the same city lost his job and studied in the library until he knew enough to apply for another. He got it and held it. A laboring man became chief in his department of a factory by study at night."

"Some people too read just for general information. But naturally the greatest interest of library patrons is to equip themselves for technical work."

TURKS HONOR WOMAN WHO FOUGHT IN ARMY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 23.—Turkey's only woman officer has resigned her commission in the army and was received in retirement at a public audience by the Caliph. The woman is Lieutenant Kara-Fatma Hanem, about 45 years old and the widow of a Turkish Major. Together with 15 female relatives she joined the army at the beginning of the Great War.

This small band of women was assigned to the Caucasian front but it was not until after the armistice that they saw much action. Then they took part in the fighting against the Armenians and after that were sent to Anatolia against the Greeks. There they fought a body 700 men and were present at the battle of In-Erum, in which a number of them lost their lives.

Lieutenant Kara-Fatma was wounded and taken to a hospital. After her recovery she returned to active service and was taken prisoner by the Greeks. She escaped to take part in the battle of Broussa, when she was accompanied by her 13 year old daughter.

This female warrior now declares that her task is over and her request for discharge was allowed by the authorities who however have granted her an honorary commission as captain.

Men of Riper Years Make Good Students

MONTEAGLE, Tenn., Aug. 23.—In the heart of the Tennessee mountains there is a school—the Du Bose Memorial School—where the students argue over the Platonic psychology while they sew buttons on their overalls; where a man chants Latin verbs to the swish of his broom, and the engineer at the sawmill talks classic Greek with his fellow workers.

One in the truck garden cabbages are cultivated amid discussions of second century heresies and fundamentalism versus modernism is thrashed out over the milking of the cows. In one day these students buried the baby of a broken hearted mother, having first made the coffin wane Greek exercise, mended a wagon, and wound up by playing a winning game of baseball.

The school is a unique institution where men, long since past school age, but wishing to fit themselves for clerical orders, are trained for the ministry. They are poor men who come to this school, which is named after an Episcopal divine. There are two ex-sailors among them, one or two with army experience, some clerks, mechanics and farmers.

The school is co-operative. There are no tuition fees, and every one of the students works at some occupation about the farm and industrial plant for his keep and training.

Rev. W. S. Climborne, Archdeacon of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee, is the director of the work, immediately supervised by Rev. M. P. Logan, D.D., the warden.

Some of the men are married. The women sew, sweep, cook, mend and tend chickens, nurse any sick and are always busy. And all agree.

There are no hard and fast rules except that of cooperation. Perhaps never was a more unaccustomed adventure more self-sacrificingly translated into fact. Already men have gone out from the school and, in small spheres, become powers.

Heart That Fired Clots of Blood

(By Dominion News Service) LONDON, Aug. 23.—A miner whose heart, a doctor said, had fired clots of blood into various parts of his body, was the subject of a coroner's inquiry at St. Helens.

According to the evidence the man when working in a pit in July, complained of pains in his stomach.

He collapsed and was taken to hospital. There he complained of pains in his leg; the limb was amputated and the man died half an hour later.

Doctor Unsworth, who made the post mortem said the man's heart was firing off clots of blood "like projectiles," and these had obstructed the arteries.

One had entered the spleen and had possibly occasioned the pain felt in the stomach, and another, blocking the main artery of the leg had necessitated the amputation of that limb.

Death was due added the doctor
