EUGENIC MARRIAGE LAW EFFECTIVE IN NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 31—A new record for low percentage in law-making was established by the Nebraska legislature which has just ended its 1923 session. Of 1,056 bills introduced in both houses, only 199 were passed by the legislature, and of these Governor Charles W. Bryan vetoed four, leaving a total of 195 new laws.

Among the outstanding measures enacted is one authorizing ratification of a treaty between the states of Nebraska and Colorado, covering joint use of the waters of the South Platte river. Another measure brings outside utility corporation doing business in the state railroad commission as to issuance of stocks and bonds.

The new "eugenic marriage law" requires ten days' notice in the office of the country clerk before the applicants can wed. Under this law marriages are prohibited between persons adjudged to have hereditary epilepsy or hereditary insanity.

A resolution was passed memorializing congress to repeal the Esch-Cummings law.

The 1923 legislature was in session longer and adjourned later than any previous lawmaking body in the state. It convened January 2nd and adjourned just four months later.

PEASANTS TO REPLACE LANDLORD SYSTEM

DUBLIN, May 31—The Government bill providing for abolition of the landlord system and the substitution of a peasant proprietorship was introduced in the Dail Eireann today. The operation will require £25,000,000 to complete and will affect 70,000 tenants now paying annual rentals of nearly £1,000,000. The measure provides that, after a fixed date, all land shall be vested in land commissions. The present landlords will be paid in four and three-fourths per cent stock on a flat rate for fifteen years in purchase of their property. The tenants will pay 65 per cent of their present rent in the form of purchase annuities, the Government to bridge the difference with a ten per cent bonus.
