Canadians Beaten By Ottawa Team

MONTREAL, Dec 25—One goal in each of the three periods was the most that Ottawa could count against Canadians at the Mount Royal Arena in Saturday night's scheduled N. H. L. fixture, but it was more than enough and at the end of the game the Senators left the ice with the count 3 to 0 in their favor.

Broadway Driest In History, Say Prohibition Men NEW YORK, Dec. 26—Prohibition officials assert that Broadway experienced the driest Christmas ever in its history, largely because of the defeat which they contend the Bahama rum fleet met at the hands of the dry navy. As proof of this fact, the West Side court, which usually boasts many drunks on Christmas Day, had no offenders before it. Police assigned to watch restaurants and saloons reported they had seen no liquor law violations along the "gay white way."

Referee Gives His Version Sir.—The criticisms of the decision given by me in the Healey-McIntyre exhibition have been of such a nature that I feel it is due to me to make an explanation on my own behalf. I would permit this matter to pass if the references made were purely differences of judgment but I do not propose to allow any veiled insinuations as to my honesty to go by. I have been associated with all branches of amateur and professional sport in this city and province, for more than twenty years, and I take pride in the fact that, whether as a participant or in any official capacity, no man can say that the part taken by me has been other than clean and above board.

St. Pats Pull Tigers Claws TORONTO, Dec. 25.—St. Patrick's remained at the top of the national hockey ladder on Saturday night by trouncing the Hamilton team by 9 to 4. For half the journey it was an interesting struggle, with Goalkeeper Forbes keeping his team in the convention but the visitors finally crumpled before the determined attack of the Stanley cup holders. The game ended in a parade. In almost every position the champions had the advantage. It is apparent that the ambitious city aggregation will have to improve if it is to be considered a contender for the title. Randall, Stuart and Cameron played on the winners' defence and each showed good form.
