Churches Fittingly Celebrate Easter

Easter Day was observed in the churches yesterday with special musical programs, and sermons. The churches were beautifully decorated with lilies and other Easter flowers. Following is a detailed report of each service.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

The Easter services in St. James Presbyterian Church yesterday were largely attended, the Minister Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, B.D., taking as his subject in the morning, "He Is Risen," and in the evening, "The Lord Is Risen Indeed." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Lawson, with Mrs. K. S. Rogers at the organ were never heard to better advantage than in the inspiring anthems, "Who Shall Roll Us Away the Stone," "Oh Death, Where Is Thy Sting," and "Upon The First Day of the Week," the solo, the last anthem being sweetly taken by Miss Marjory Wood. At the morning service, Mr. Arthur Bruce sang with fine effect the solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple."

CHURCH OF THE MOST HOLY REDEEMER

At 10:30 Easter morning, Solemn High Mass was celebrated. The sermon was preached by Rev. Phillip Quinn of Montreal. At the evening service, Solemn Benediction was held. Programs of special Easter music were presented by the choir.

ZION CHURCH

Special Easter services held yesterday at Zion Church were marked by large congregations both morning and evening. The Minister, Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, officiated at both services.

The happy and joyful spirit of Easteride was apparent in every part of the worship.

At the morning service Mr. Webster spoke on the subject, "Hope's Easter Song," taking his text from 1st. Epistle of St. Peter. He explained that St. Peter's Epistles were "gospels of hope" without this hope (of resurrection) "we are of all men most miserable."

At the evening service the minister's subject was, "The Risen Christ." Mr. Webster spoke of the "proofs" of Christ's Resurrection. Many people are willing to go as far as the Cross, but refuse to believe in the Resurrection of Christ. If we do not believe that He rose again, then is our faith in vain. We preach Christ crucified and Christ risen.

The music of the day was very appropriate to the spirit of Easter. The choir rendered two choruses from Stainer's "Crucifixion," Mr. Harry Craswell taking the beautiful tenor solo in "Fling Wide The Gates." The Anthem, "The Resurrection and the Life," by Shackley, was also sung in the morning, the solo parts being very acceptably sung by Mrs. (Rev.) G. C. Webster, and Messrs. M. MacKinnon and Harry Craswell.

At the evening service the choir repeated the splendid chorus from Stainer's Crucifixion, "The Appeal of the Crucified," also the favorite Easter song, "Christ Arose," by Rev. R. Lowry, Mr. Malcolm MacKinnon taking the solo part.

The Organist, Prof. Louis D. Thompson presided at the organ and played appropriate selections throughout the day, bringing the services to a close with the joyful strains of Meyerbeer's "Coronation March."

The atmosphere of Easter was further heightened by beautiful floral decorations consisting of Easter Lilies, white Daffodils and Daffodils.

ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA

At 11 o'clock Pontifical High Mass was celebrated by His Excellency, Bishop O'Sullivan. The officiators were: Monsigneur Maurice MacDonald, High Priest; Rev. Dr. Murphy and Rev. R. V. MacKensie, Assistant Deacons; Rev. John Sullivan, Deacon of Mass; Rev. J. J. Farrell, Sub Deacon; Rev. Dr. MacMahon, Master of Ceremonies. The sermon was preached by Rev. Francis McGinn. At the evening service Pontifical Benediction was celebrated. The evening sermon was also preached by Father McGinn. Music was rendered by the Corpus Christi Choir under the direction of Mr. W. J. Brown.

ST. PETERS CATHEDRAL

The Altar of St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday was covered with beautiful hangings and a blaze of light for the greatest of Christian Festivities. A larger number of Communion were made at the three morning services than have been for several years. The 11 o'clock Eucharist was fully choral, and was preceded by a Procession. The Church was filled for this service.

At Evensong, a large congregation was again present, and at the close of the service a procession took place, which was followed by a solemn Te Deum, sung before the Altar as an Act of Thanksgiving to Almighty God.

The Rev. Canon Malone officiated at all of the services and preached two splendid Easter sermons, taking for his morning text the 8th verse of the 60th Psalm, and in the evening from the words "Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more."

The special Easter music of the 11 and 7 o'clock services was of a high order, and will be repeated Sunday next.

Sunday next is Low Sunday, when the services will be at 8 and 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. At 3 o'clock a Children's service will be held in the Cathedral, when the Band of Hope Temperance Pledges will be renewed.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Holy Week was duly observed in St. Paul's Church. Daily services were held, each with its special message, leading up to the solemn hours of Good Friday and the joyful news of Easter. On Monday evening outstanding features in our Lord's life were shown through the means of lantern slides and on Friday afternoon they were portrayed in an unique way. Forty-five children each taking a certain episode, miracle, or parable, told the wonderful story from His humble Birth to His glorious Resurrection. The children all did their parts admirably. The telling of the story was interspersed with some of the old favourite hymns sung by the choir.

The Rector is to be commended on his forethought in preparing this service in an effort to tell the story simply that younger folks may better understand the message of Good Friday.

At the 11 o'clock service on Good Friday the Rector preached a very helpful sermon from the text "The veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom," taken from St. Matthew's Gospel. He said if we found St. Matthew alone telling of this incident we might think it contained a message for the Jews only. But as other Gospel writers mention it, it would seem to be a message for all nations and it stands for a great truth. Knowing that the veil of the Temple shut off the Holy of Holies we can imagine with what horror the high priests and devout Jews received the news of the rending of the veil and they would no doubt blame the earthquake for it. What does the rending of the veil signify. God had chosen to reveal Himself to His people. There was to be an end to symbolic sacrifice. The sacrifice of the Lamb of God was sufficient and always will be sufficient. Hitherto they had approached God through a mediator, now every man can himself come close to the throne of grace. There had been mystery and uncertainty as to the life hereafter, now the veil is lifted and all can look forward with that certainty and assurance that is the note of the Christian Faith, to life eternal, when bitterness and sorrow shall be done away.

The Chancel of the Church was beautifully decorated with lilies, tulips and daffodils for Easter Day. The lilies were sent from Bermuda by Miss Norah Longworth. The music throughout the day was appropriate to the joyful season Miss Lilian Earl presided at the organ for all the services, and the choir did splendid work in the rendering of three anthems.

Taking as his text "But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ," the Rector preached a splendid sermon. St. Paul writing to the Corinthians had been trying to clear up for them a little of the mystery of death, ending with the glorious verse quoted. This Easter morn we celebrate Christ's victory over the grave. He was the Victorious Saviour. Prior to Easter He was a defeated man. Twice we read of Him being in tears. At Lazarus' death He wept in sympathy with

His friends and also in sorrow that those who were so close to Him could not understand all He was trying to teach them. Again as He gazed over the city of Jerusalem and thought how He had tried with all human might to show the people a better way and had apparently failed, we find Him weeping. Through all the agonies of the Cross He was thinking of others. But the world was not interested in Him. But out of the depth of defeat Jesus came to victory. As He showed Himself after the Resurrection and the Apostles became sure that He was alive they were as men revived. Out of His very defeat came His triumph. Down through the ages there have been defeated men. It is not necessary always to fail. Out of failure humanity can succeed. Refuse to be defeated and we shall win through. May the Easter message of Christ's victory, help us to triumph over defeat.

In the afternoon there was a children's service in Church instead of the ordinary Sunday School. Some of the older boys took charge of the service, leading the prayers and reading the Scripture lessons. The Lenten mission boxes and envelopes were returned at this service.

In the evening the Rector preached from the text "Neither is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved," words spoken by Simon Peter after he had been arrested for teaching the Gospel. He and his companion were on trial before the same council that had condemned Jesus. The council regarding them as ignorant and just common fisher folk. Nevertheless they were amazed at their power, saying they had been with Jesus. Contact with Jesus and the gift of the Holy Ghost had given these men such power. Good Friday with the Crucifixion and seeming failure of the Master was a bitter blow to the disciples. Easter with its message that Christ had power over death made them realize that through Him only can we be saved. Our missionaries today are taking this same message to those who have not yet heard it. What are we doing. As we honest, true witnesses of that Name. The gift of His Spirit poured into our hearts will transform us. He is ready to give abundantly to those who ask. May we be true witnesses to that Name and help to make Him the world's Saviour.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

"Easter is more than a day in the calendar. It is the announcement of man's undying faith in life, and in life eternal. It is not an argument. It is proclaimed—Now is Christ risen from the dead!" To a large congregation yesterday morning the Rev. A. C. Vincent spoke on the Resurrection, taking as his text John, 14, 19: "Because I live, ye shall live also." It is near the end of the Master's earthly mission. In this deep and tender conversation with his disciples, realizing their sense of bitter loss, their loneliness, he assures them of the coming of a Comforter and gives them the message, "ye shall live also."

Through the long history of the race, death has been the universal tyrant, strayed not from his purpose by sacrifice nor tears. In all ages men have asked with Job "If a man die shall he live again?" If he live, how shall he live? To this question Christ offers the only answer. Dying as men die, buried as other men, he triumphs over death and sits at the right hand of God, leaving to men the assurance of victory, he "hath to morals given life forevermore." We may believe in a living Christ who has shown us the life abundant.

The evening service followed further the Easter message. Dr. Vincent's sermon "On the mountain" dealt tenderly and eloquently with his appearance and the trust to his followers of the great commission.

Deeply worshipful and impressive was the joyous music of the services both morning and evening. A full choir rendered at the morning service Berridge's "Easter Morn," and Turner's "O death, where is thy sting?" At the evening service was sung Turner's "Christ is risen." Mrs. H. S. Henderson's expressive soprano was heard finely in Topliff's "Consider the Lilies," Mr. V. L. Dingwell's rich baritone gave fine interpretation of Granier's "Hosanna."

At the close of the morning service the ordinance of Christian Baptism was administered to three candidates. The Communion of the Lord's Supper, the largest in the history of the church, was observed at the evening service after the admission officially to Church membership of thirty-three received by baptism of Church letter.

The notably beautiful floral decorations of the day were contributed in part by the Boyver family in memory of the late Mrs. Catherine Boyver, Mrs. H. C. Brown in memory of her father and mother, the members of the Wellner family now resident in Vancouver in memory of the late Charlotte L. Wellner.

endeavor to prevent too sudden a rise in the value of the pound sterling—considered bad from the point of view of trade and general financial stability—the British authorities have been purchasing dollars and francs and other currencies in large quantities. Thus the Government should be in a position to retire the remaining portion of the United States credit. At the same time it is suggested that Great Britain will ask that the credit not be formally cancelled until the date of expiration next August, so that in case of sudden withdrawals of short term money from London, the authorities still would have a valuable weapon for the support of the pound sterling.
