Of Bush In The Kingdom of Heaven

My little girl,
You stayed so short a time with me,
Who needed you unceasingly,
For I dare not pray that God will Send
You back to me; or lend
Your sweet spirit to this earth
Which contains a solution of one
tablespoon glycerine, half this quantity ammonia solution, and
nine tablespoons of warm water.
Leave for twelve hours, then place
the stained part on a clean folded cloth and rub the stain hard with another clean cloth. Rinse afterwards with warm water.

When making a fruit tart do not put the sugar on the top, but mix it with the fruit below. Otherwise it makes the crust heavy and is more liable to boil out. Juice is apt to boil over when baking fruit pies. To prevent this, sprinkle a little flour over the top, or use pastry lid on. This also thick-ens the syrup.

If eggs are placed for 1 minute in almost boiling water they will keep fresh for 3 or 4 weeks. When you have used the white of an egg,
do not wish to use the yolk immediately, place the yolk in a cup and cover with cold water.
Cover cup and stand in a cool place
until required.

Transfer marks and copying-ink pen marks on clothing will sometimes disappear if the article is left soaking in cold water overnight. If this does not remove them soak the material for a short time in methyl-ated spirit, rub gently, and then wash in the ordinary way.

Avoid frying too many fish at the same time or they will reduce the temperature of the fat too much. It is equally essential to reheat the fat between each batch, and to place the finished fillets or small whole fish on double kitchen paper to drain.

Tea stains on blankets may be removed in the following way: Immerse the stained part in a bowl
which contains a solution of one
tablespoon glycerine, half this
quantity ammonia solution, and
nine tablespoons of warm water.
Leave for twelve hours, then place
the stained part on a clean folded
cloth and rub the stain hard with

EMBROIDERY CHAIR SET
DESIGN NO. 4029

Now-a-days living rooms are the most lived in rooms of all, and comfortable chairs are constantly in use. Not only do chair sets protect them day by day, but they add a homey, artistic atmosphere and color to the sombre upholstery of over stuffed furniture. This design is unusually graceful. The set may be worked on linen, silk or cotton.
The pattern includes transfers of the designs on the chair back and two arm rests, color combinations, a detail of embroidery and instructions for finishing.

To order this design, write your name, address and No. 4029 plainly on any piece of paper and send with 15 cents in coin or stamps to Needlework Bureau, Charlottetown Guardian.

THE COOK'S CORNER

Pear Rennet-Custard with Cinnamon Sauce

1 package vanilla rennet powder
1 pint milk
6 canned pear halves, drained
1 cup pear juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1-2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Put pears in tiny cubes, pile in six dessert glasses. Make rennetcustard according to directions on package. Pour at once over the pears. Let set until firm—about ten minutes. Then chill in refrigerator.
Cinnamon Sauce: Blend cornstarch with 1-3 of the pear juice.
Heat rest of juice to boiling, add cornstarch mixture and stir
until sauce boils and thickens. Stir
in cinnamon, butter and lemon
juice and cook one minute longer.
Chill and serve with chilled pear
rennet-custard.

ONE-CRUST APPLE PIE

4 pounds tart, juicy apples
3-4 cup sugar
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg and allspice
1-2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Cinnamon mixture and stir
until sauce boils and thickens. Stir
in cinnamon, butter and lemon
juice and cook one minute longer.
Chill and serve with chilled pear
rennet-custard.

Line a pie pan with pastry. Wash peel and core the apples, saving the trimmings for making a gaze. Slice the apples thin and dip into the mixed sugar, spices and lemon peel. Arrange in the pan, pinwheel over the top. Bake the pie in a hot oven about 15 minutes until the crust is set, then lower the heat and invert another pie pan over the apples so they will not dry out or burn and continue baking about 25 minutes or until the apples are tender.

Cool the apple parings in 1-2 cups water for 20 minutes. Strain the juice, add 1-2 cup sugar and cook to the jelly stage. Pour over the apples to form a glaze when you take the pie from the oven.

A Morning Smile

NOT OVER THE AIR

A radio announcer was dining at a small restaurant when a waiter approached him.

"Did you say pudden, sir?" he asked.

"Goodness gracious, no," said the announcer, "and I hope I never shall."

SUCH FORETHOUGHT!

A new baby girl had arrived at Brown's.

"And what do you intend to call the baby?" asked a neighbor of Mr.
Brown.

"Dinah M." was his reply.

"Good gracious!" said the neighbor, "and what does the 'M' stand for?"

"Well," replied Mr. Brown, "if she grows up like her father, meek
and mild, we shall call her Dinah
May, but if she grows up like her mother, we shall call her Dinah Mite."

Delight Your Friends—Tell Clever Fortunes

Learns at Home, Shine at Parties

Cynthia's going to keep the crowd gasping with her fascinating fortunes. Let's listen as she cleverly practices on herself.

"The Three of Spades—that means a journey! And a happy surprise, perhaps a raise in salary, for the Four of Diamonds. The Eight of Clubs foretells a dark-haired suitor—the Seven of Hearts,
success in love!"

Sure to make a hit at parties are "birthday fortunes." Cynthia learns John was born on May 12, 1914.
She counts 1 for each of the letters in "May," adds the figures in the date, 1, 2, 1, 9, 1, 4. Total is 21—and from this Cynthia subtracts the number of letters in the name John. Answer, 17. John draws 17 cards, plus his name card (a King of Clubs because John's brown-eyed, brown-haired) and the fortune begins.

Fortune thrills in the dominoes.
Too! Turn up the six-three—you're going to get a gift. The four-two?
A party's in the offing.

Entertain your friends, be popular at parties with the fascinating fortunes in our 32-page booklet.
Tells how to read cards, tea leaves,

The Breakfast Hour is the Most Important in Any Household — Wives Can Do More to Hold a Husband's Love Than at Any Other Time of the Day

Why is it that wives so seldom realize that breakfast is more than a meal? In reality it is the issue which determines the success or failure of their marriages, of it is the psychological moment in which they bind their husbands to them with hope of steel or else lose them.

Yet most women regard breakfast as a chore instead of an opportunity. The very wives who doll themselves up for dinner and dress their tables up with flowers and try to appear glamorous in their husbands' eyes will slip down any sort of half-cooked food on their breakfast tables and not even take the trouble to wash the cold cream off of their faces.

Worse still, they flavor the meal with temper and complaints and reproaches. If they have any bad news to spill, such as Mother is coming for a visit, or that the butcher is clamoring for his money, or that the doctor says little Johnny must have his adenoids out, or the twins have to have new shoes, they take that time to do it when their husbands are in the kitchen and see the results are the family spats that wreck homes and swell the divorce statistics.

There are many reasons why a wife should put her best foot foremost at breakfast. One that if she piles her husband with good food and makes breakfast a pleasant, cheerful function she increases his efficiency and preserves his health. Many a man breaks down at 40 because he has had to start his work on a shaky, nervous coffee, burned toast and a fight with his wife. Many a man is turned into a grouchy whom nobody can get along with by a breakfast of soggy cakes and a hot argument. Feed the brute is good advice at all times and in all seasons for wives, but it is never so important as at breakfast.

Another reason why wives should be at their best at breakfast is because the picture that a man has of the little woman across the breakfast table is the one that carries with him all day in his mind. It is either close-up of a woman who is clean and spick and span and jolly and good-natured or a sloven in curling pins and a soiled negligee and a temper. No wife can afford to forget that her husband goes from her to work with business girls who are trim and tidy and groomed to their toe nails.

And, finally, a wife should bear in mind that the breakfast table is the most dangerous of all places at which to stage a quarrel. It gives a husband all day in which to mull over the mean things his wife has said to him and to get madder and madder over her unjust accusations and unreasonable attitude. It makes him vulnerable to any woman who offers him the balm of her sympathy. It is the breakfast table row that opens the door for the "other woman."

Many men are the victims of wives who think that breakfast is the open season for making themselves disagreeable. One of them writes: "My wife is so resentful of having to arise in the morning and prepare breakfast for me that she can't get up on a morning without a row in Hades is a peaceful and tranquil affair compared to ours. I am fed up with having my bacon and eggs served with complaints against me, slaps for the children and self-pity for herself. Inasmuch as it is not reasonable to drown a brewer, and being a gentleman, I cannot reconcile myself to the use of a club, I do not know what to do. I am going to pieces physically, mentally and financially, as every day it saps my vitality to shut out the morning-mares."

Alas, I am afraid that there is nothing that will change a breakfast-table scrapper into a dove. Every one who does some part of the work that she is wrecking her home and ruining the lives of you and her children by her indulgence in her temper. But I certainly urge all young men contemplating matrimony to investigate the attitude that their sweeties take on the breakfast table before they marry them.

Dear Dorothy Dix— I have a good, faithful wife, but am afraid our marriage is going to have some part of the work that she is wrecking her home and ruining the lives of you and her children by her indulgence in her temper. But I certainly urge all young men contemplating matrimony to investigate the attitude that their sweeties take on the breakfast table before they marry them.

When a woman is a tightwad she gets a tighter grip on a dollar than any man ever does, and it is virtually impossible to make her loosen up. She will think a dollar, but she can't think of anything. Can you suggest anything that will make her more companionable?

AN UNHAPPY HUSBAND.

Answer: When a woman is a tightwad she gets a tighter grip on a dollar than any man ever does, and it is virtually impossible to make her loosen up. She will think a dollar, but she can't think of anything. Can you suggest anything that will make her more companionable?

Now, of course, thrift is a great virtue in a wife, but it turns into a vice when she is so tight that she does not spend a part of what she makes on the pleasures and indulgences that make life pleasant and gay. We pass this way but once, and all we ever have is what we get out of today.

It is also a virtue for a woman to be a good housekeeper, but that, too, can be overdone. Many women are so neat and orderly that they keep their houses so clean and scrubbed that they are not homes that a family can enjoy. They are more like a hospital or a boarding house. And many a woman toils so hard at her housework that she makes herself a nervous, irritable wreck who is no pleasure to her husband or children.

If you will notice, the best-loved wives and mothers are the easy-going women whose houses are not too immaculate to be lived in and who do well to drop what they are doing to have fun with their husbands and children.

Many a model housekeeper sweeps her family out of the door along with the trash.

Dear Miss Dix—O niece of mine is going to be married to a fine young man. Her parents object to her marrying him, but she has not told him the true reason. Her father and mother disapprove. There has been insanity in our family and her mother does not wish her to marry. My niece says she will let the young man find it out after she marries, but don't you think he should be told before?

AUNT.

Answer: I certainly do. It is most dishonorable not to tell him before the marriage.

YOUR INDIVIDUAL HOROSCOPE

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section your birthday comes in, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

(Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate Inc.)

For Monday, June 5, 1939

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)
—New interests and pleasant happenings close at hand. Help yourself to happiness, try to bring others along that joyous road with you. Say a kind word when it is least expected and reap yourself a big character.

APRIL 21 to MAY 20 (Taurus)
—No harm to listen to both sides of the story even though you may feel sure about the answer or cause; you'll always learn more than you know by listening. However, cut short gossiping and rumormongering, for they do greater harm than you realize. Get your natural magnetism and hold it to strictly aboveboard tactics, you'll win.

MAY 21 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)
—Seek favors of those in high positions and don't hesitate to "blow your own horn" occasionally. That is, when it will speak the truth and assist both you and those depending upon you. There is such a thing as false modesty, you know.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)
—Both heart and money matters share this fine day's magnificent vibrations. Get started EARLY at whatever you hope to put over successfully. Associate with keen, ambitious though thoroughly honest people.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)
—Do double duty if you would "put over" this excellent period. Think clearly, and concisely, also talk and act and make no fuss over unessential details. Make this an economy day; that is, economical in energy as well as in money.

AUGUST 23 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)
—Several opportunities here to advance in business and purely practical matters. Take care of persons interests then general affairs. Be a good shopper; compare with forethought.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)
—Make the most of conditions. Grasp that new offer to increase your prestige or raise your income, if that offer is substantial and thoroughly investigated.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)
—You can gain unexpected profit through employees, good friends and the opposite sex. With your natural magnetism and charm and holding to strictly aboveboard tactics, you'll win.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)
—Indications for you are much the same as for natives of Scorpio. Head advice of sound heads. Improve mentally and keep it physically. Be strict with your natural habits.

DECEMBER 23 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn)
—Expenses heavy? If so, use your good head, conserve, bargain, but DON'T worry. Exceptional success due through past efforts. You can bring it about sooner through cooperation, cheeriness and courage.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 20 (Aquarius)
—Be mindful in home affairs of the little things that make for contentment. Anxiety should be outlawed. Get busy advancing your particular interests.

FEBRUARY 21 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)
—Team up with live-wire people.

FEW DAYS LATER

OH MOTHER... I DO LIKE HIM! BUT AS WE WERE DANCING THE OTHER NIGHT... I NOTICED HE HAD 'B.O.'

SOON AFTER

"B.O." always makes a bad impression... play safe!

EVERYBODY knows that "B.O." is a grave fault—always makes a bad impression. What many people do not seem to know is that it is easy to offend without even realizing it.

That is why careful people absolutely refuse to take chances. They know that "B.O." can come between them and the one they love—that it can be a barrier between themselves and success.

Millions play safe—assure themselves personal freshness—the Lifebuoy way. Lifebuoy in the daily bath stops "B.O." This famous soap contains an exclusive ingredient not found in any other popular toilet soap. Try it! Millions say Lifebuoy is grand for the complexion, too.

Q. How can I whiten yellowed handkerchiefs?
A. Soak them overnight in a solution of pipeclay and warm water. Then wash and boil.

Painting the House

Tests have shown that two coats of paint applied every four years to the frame house will give better service than one coat applied every two years.

Storing Eggs

Store your eggs with the small ends down, and they will keep much better.

TIMELY TIPS

FOR THE HOME SEWER

She will love the cunning little bunnies on the pockets and you will love to make them. They are amusing work for fingers that do not like to be idle, and this little dress has other charms too. Your little girl will be so proud that she can slip into it herself without help from mother once she learns to master buttons. Then too, she will have complete freedom for romping and playing, as this frock is well cut. Sturdy cotton prints, solid color pique are both practical and smart for your young daughter-dummy pocket dress. A white collar frames a child's face becomingly and fair size buttons make learning to dress herself easier.

Style No. 2792 is designed for sizes 2, 4, 6, and 8 years. Size 4 requires 2 yards of 36-inch material and 1-4 yard of 36-inch contrasting fabric for collar, cuffs and pockets.
