NEW DINING CAR SERVICE, BETWEEN ST. JOHN AND McADAM

With Canadian Pacific general change of time, November 28th, the St. John-Boston Train will leave at 6.00 p. m. local time, daily, except Sunday.

This is the only train operating between St. John and Boston carrying passengers from points in the Maritime Provinces to the New England States.

Passengers from East of St. John particularly, as well as from Nova Scotia via Digby, will be pleased to know that in future a regular Dining Car will be attached to this train and will serve dinner en route to McAdam Junction. On account of earlier departure than service last winter, this will enable patrons of the All Rail Line to procure meal on this trip after departure from St. John.

TOO GOOD A DINNER

Chapter 28

"I'd like to go to a show or something tonight," I said when we had finished dinner. I was still so excitedly happy, felt so free compared to the way I had felt for so long, that I just couldn't sit quietly at home.

"But, Nan, I hate to refuse to go out—but after such a good dinner, don't you think we should economize?" he said lightly, yet I knew he meant it.

"We'll go to a cheap movie. I just can't stay in!" and before he could object further I had called Mrs. Dooly on the telephone, and she had promised to come and stay with Junior so we could go to the second show.

I had put the receipted bills in the bureau drawer under the paper, and when I went for my gloves, I couldn't resist just touching them. I had hated them so, and now they were paid!

After we got home Dick astonished me by saying,

"Nan, I must have some clothes this month. This cheap suit hasn't kept its shape, and I overheard one of the men in the office commenting on my looks. I can't afford that."

"That was the reason you thought the dinner too extravagant," I replied.

"It was awfully good—but it was extravagant for us."

"How I hate that word! Extravagant! Economy! They should both be stricken from the dictionary."

"Hear, hear! My, what a little firebrand you are at times, Nan."

"Well, what about your clothes? Why don't you go to a good tailor and have some made? You need shoes, too, and your shirts are wearing out. I wish you would wear silk shirts like Mr. Stowell, they are so smart."

"I would like to, Nan. But if I indulged myself, where in the world would you and Junior come in?"

"Are you going to be sensible and get what you need?" I asked.

"Yes, I did order some clothes today. I hated to ask for credit, but I had to."

"Thank goodness you are becoming sensible at last!" I really was thankful, glad that he had run in debt. If he ever knew about my charging the things on Clara's account he couldn't find fault with me because he was practically doing the same thing. So I urged him further, "Get some shoes, I need a pair, and we will have them both mended. Then a little later we will save and pay for them. But we can't go on looking like tramps, just because people who are profiteering and making millions, make it cost all you can earn for food and rent."

"I guess you are right, Nan. Anyway, I must have some clothes and it seems the only way to get them," he sighed heavily. I remembered what Clara had said, and repeated it.

"Don't look as if you were committing a crime! Pay when you can, and let the other fellow walk the floor."

"All right, Nan! I guess I'll have to."

Continual drooping will wear away a stone. So continued urging to wrongdoing by a loved one often is the beginning of a ruined career.

Saturday came and I worked hard all day to get up my supper for the evening, and put the place in order. I had made chicken salad, with a wonderful mayonnaise made after mother's recipe, for which she was famous. I had cheese straws, tiny Parker House rolls, some preserved peaches—I had also used mother's recipe for those delicious chocolate cake, and coffee.

We had a very pleasant evening, and we must learn to play a better. Both Dick and Mr. Stowell declared a more conventional game if we expected to play with them often. Mildred—she had insisted I call her that—hugged me under the table. We had made all arrangements and were to commence our bridge lessons on Monday.

Mr. Stowell, as well as Mildred,

BRAKES CHATTER ON REVERSE

F. M. writes:—When my car is moving backwards and the brakes are put on, there is a loud noise. What is the cause of this? There is also a noise, which sounds near the clutch, when the car goes over a small bump. What are these caused by?

Answer:—Probably the brake bands chatter badly, when on reverse, which is very likely due to the bands not being adjusted equally distant from the drums at all parts of the circumference or to parts of the circumference or to the band material being glazed over. Unless there is something inherently wrong with the designs of these brakes, readjustment of the bands and other parts, in accordance with directions, and the thorough cleaning of the band material with kerosene and a stiff brush, will remove this trouble.

The noise made by passing over a bump may be caused by so many things that it is hardly possible to enumerate them fully. The sounds may seem to originate near the clutch, but it may have nothing to do with this part. You better be sure that the ends of the steering drag link are not loose and that there is no side play in the front spring pins. Also that the universal joint is not worn or dry and that the pedals do not strike the foot-boards. Running the car with the floorboards removed may help you to locate the difficulty.

complimented me highly on my supper.

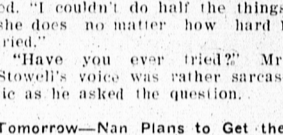

"I don't know when anything ever tasted so good," he declared as he took his fourth roll, apologizing as he did so.

"Nan is a famous little cook and housekeeper," Dick said proudly.

"Indeed she is!" Mildred seconded. "I couldn't do half the things she does no matter how hard I tried."

"Have you ever tried?" Mr. Stowell's voice was rather sarcastic as he asked the question.

J. P. B. writes:—My car has been running finely, when suddenly it lost nearly all its power, choked, spit back into the carburetor and stopped. It will start easily, run well for about one minute, backfire through the intake once or twice and stop. It can be kept running by priming, but cannot be throttled down. Where should I look for the trouble?

Answer:—The fact that the engine can be kept running on the primer, would seem to eliminate fuel-trouble, and the most natural theory regarding the backfiring and stopping, after running a very short time, is that the gasoline supply fails. Just the instant that it stops in this manner the next time, try opening the carburetor drain-cock. If very little gasoline runs out and then stops running freely, you can assume that your feed-pipe is stepped up or there is something wrong with the carburetor float.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes,—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism,—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons,—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body. Think of this. It explains the cause of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for other things? A 50c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) contains enough to last five days,—must help you, give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost nothing.

And Nature's Remedy is not for the relief of rheumatism. It proves digestion, tones the liver, proves kidney and bowel action, whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the other medicines and doctors, now make a real test. You'll get relief this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

A Cross-Arm Brace--- And Your Telephone!

"WELL," you may say, "What is a cross-arm brace?" "What has it to do with me? What do I care if—"

A cross-arm brace is an uninteresting-looking piece of iron. One end is fastened to the telephone pole, the other end to the cross-arm to hold it securely at right angles to the pole.

At least two are used on every pole, and they have increased in price 249 p. c. since 1913.

A small item. But only one of scores of the vital parts of a telephone system the costs of which have advanced in a like manner.

Here are a few other items:

Batteries	121 p. c.
Pole line brackets	275 p. c.
Insulators	359 p. c.
Poles	136 p. c.
Transmitters	257 p. c.
Top Pins	204 p. c.
Cross-arms	151 p. c.
Ground Line	247 p. c.
Galvd Iron Wire	400 p. c.

This is but another reason why telephone rates must be increased.
