

Hair Help

So many persons have weak hair, lifeless hair, hair that falls out, splits at the ends, keeps rough and uneven. Such hair needs help. The roots need feeding with a good hair-food—Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair becomes stronger, grows faster, stops falling out, keeps soft and smooth. Just feed your hair and you will be satisfied with it.

Mrs EUPHEMIA STEWART and family desire to express their sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown them during their recent bereavement, and also for the numerous and beautiful floral tributes.

FRAN Ronald P. Gleason, of the Manual Arts High School, Scranton, Pa., and Mrs. Gleason, Hon. Mason S. Stone, Superintendent of Education for the State of Vermont, Montpelier, Vt., and Mrs. Stone, arrived at the Hotel Victoria yesterday en route to Newfoundland on a fishing trip.

Rev A F BROWN, D.D., formerly of North River, now pastor of the Harvey, N.B., Baptist Church, preached in the United Baptist church, Moncton, last Sunday, at both services. In the evening the preacher was listened to by a large congregation and the sermon was an eloquent and thoughtful discourse.

Those who want work of any kind or are looking for help of any kind should send their names and addresses with all particulars or call at The Guardian Employment Bureau, New Prowse Block, Charlottetown. Telephone 132a. Those who do not desire to advertise will please send 25 cents with their request, which amount will be returned to them on application if they do not get what they want.

Last night's arrivals in the City included J G Dobyns, St. Louis, Mo; Dr J G Wilson, Perth Amboy, N.J., and his niece, Gertrude Brittain, Montreal, N.J.; J J Taylor, Montclair, N.J.; W A Sinclair, Montreal; R B and Mrs Jones and family, Montreal; H C Robbins and wife, Boston; Mrs R G Brooks and son, Chicago; Miss Bishie, Poughkeepsie; Miss Carmichael, Albany; J Edward, Moncton.

If the Hamilton people take the Rev W H Sedgewick, Charlottetown, says The Presbyterian Review, they will take one of the brightest young men—a man who has inherited the genius for genuine oratory which marked his justly renowned grandfather, the Rev Dr Robert Sedgewick. Dr Sedgewick had far more than genius for oratory; he had the sacred passion for souls. Commendable words and sentences thrilled and vibrated with life when he uttered them. Dr Robert Sedgewick in the fitness of his power has no successor in Canada. But W H Sedgewick is in the true line.

The reputation which had preceded Roselle Knott to Charlottetown has been subjected to analysis during her appearances here this summer—and it can be said with all candor that our theatre goers have been given the opportunity to see and hear an actress whose right to a place in the leading rank none will dispute. Her graceful talent was delightfully exhibited last night. While that intangible element—call it magnetism or the influence of genius or what one will—was felt by all who followed her in her charming delineation of the role of Cousin Kate in the successful English comedy of Charley's Aunt. The performance was one of mark in the annals of the Opera House here, and the pleasure given the audience will be long remembered. Excellent is the support of Ernest Hastings and the other members of the company. The appearance last night was a concession to those who on the former night were unable to obtain seats. Though the audience was not large, its gratitude and admiration for the actress was without bounds and certain ovals were eagerly asked and genially responded to. When Roselle Knott comes again to Charlottetown her welcome, it is safe to say will be cordial.

The funeral of the late John K McGregor took place Tuesday afternoon to Cross Roads Cemetery, Lot 48, and was largely attended. The service was conducted by the Rev Mr Colpitts, and the pall bearers were Parker Moore, Edward Saunders, George Moran, Walter Brown, Frank Riggs and Picton Brown. Mr McGregor was a very popular young man in this city, previous to his departure for Boston some years ago. He was a great favorite with all who knew him, and this fact was shown by the numerous and extremely beautiful floral tributes. The deceased leaves to mourn a mother and two sisters, all of whom will have sincere sympathy in their sad loss.
