BLERIOT TELLS OF HIS FLYING TRIP

DOVER, July 27.—Bleriot, who speaks little English, described his remarkable flight from Calais to Dover very modestly.

"I arose at 3 o'clock," he said, "and went to the aeroplane shed. Finding everything in order on the trial spin, decided to make the flight. The French torpedo boat destroyer which was in attendance, was signalled and it put out about four miles. Then I rose in the air and pointed directly to Dover. After ten minutes I was out of sight of land and had left the warship well behind. For a few minutes I could not see either coast nor any boat. I tried to keep an average height of 250 feet. I might easily have gone higher, but it would have served no purpose. This was about the right height, I thought to clear the Dover cliffs, safely."

The machine dipped toward the water several times. I put on more petrol once. I estimated that the petrol was going from 1,200 to 1,400 revolutions a minute. The first objects I saw were ships of the English coast; then I observed Deal and I discovered that the wind, which was southwest, was carrying me thither. I veered to the southward to Dover Castle and then saw friends flourishing a flag in a valley suitable for landing. I made two circles while testing the speed and then dived down but I came in contact with the ground sooner than I expected. Both the machine and myself were badly shaken.

"A few persons quickly assembled and I was helped out, as my injured foot was painful. I am exceedingly glad to be here."

M. Bleriot's friends took him quickly in an automobile to the old Lord Warden Hotel by the pier, from which mail boats depart. In the meantime his wife arrived on the destroyer. She embraced him weeping, but they were soon sitting at breakfast, the centre of a proud gathering of French people. The mayor and other Dover officials called early and welcomed M. Bleriot in the name of the city and nation at the pioneer of international flight.

The townspeople of Dover, who for three weeks have been on the alert for the signal announcing that one of the flying machine men had started, were caught napping. A gale was blowing last night and the weather forecasts promised a strong wind and squalls in the morning. Hence the operators of the sirens on the steamers, which it had been arranged should be blown when the flyer started, were absent from their posts. Only a few persons received the wireless warning of Bleriot's ascent.

SUFFRAGETTES BITE AND KICK WARDENS

LONDON, July 26.—Since the suffragettes sent to Holloway jail for breaking windows in a raid on parliament were ordered kept closely confined in cells they have defied all prison rules. Their latest mischievous conduct, has been to kick and bite the women wardens.

MOBILE, Ala., July 26.—The police commissioners to-day established a curfew law for negroes. Commencing tonight all negroes must be at home or in bed at 10 p. m. Any of them caught wandering at large after that hour will be locked up.

This action is due to the unusual number of robberies in which negroes have been concerned.

Distress in the Stomach

Hundreds of Thousands of Bottles of Nerviline Used Every Year for Curing Cramps, Diarrhoea, and Stomach Disorders.

Deadly cramps—the symptoms are not to be mistaken. Suddenly and without warning the patient experiences such agony in the stomach as to contract the countenance and cause him to cry aloud for help.

Then it is that the wonderful power of Nerviline can make itself felt — it cures so quickly, you would think it was made to cure cramps, and cramps only.

"Last summer I was stricken with a frightful attack of cramps. I feared the pain in my stomach would kill me. My eyes bulged out and the veins in my forehead stood out like whipcords. My cries attracted a neighbor, who came to my assistance, and in a moment or two handed me half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in some sweetened water.

"It seemed as if an angel had charmed away the pain. In ten seconds I was well. Nerviline has a wonderful name in this locality, and is considered best for cramps, diarrhoea, flatulence, stomach and bowel disorders. I urge all my friends to use Nerviline."

"MANLEY M. LEGARDE, Williamsburg."

No home is safe or can afford to miss the manifold advantages of having Nerviline on hand in case of accident or emergent sickness. 25c. per bottle, five for $1. All dealers, or The Catarrhzone Company, Kingston, Ont.

THIS LEON LING JAPANESE.

LONDON, July 26.—The man whom an American visitor saw outside a jeweller's store here on July 15 and identified as Leon Ling, the Chinaman suspected of the murder of Elsie Sigel, in New York, has been traced by Scotland Yard Detective, and found to be a Japanese associated with an Anglo-Japanese financial firm. The detective made a thorough search of London and the provincial towns, and from the description furnished by the American located the Japanese, who was soon able to satisfy the police that he was not even a Chinese. The Scotland officials are satisfied that Leon Ling is now in England.
