U. S. War Vets Bonus Parade

WASHINGTON, May 31. (AP) - Picked leaders of the "bonus expeditionary force" began a lobbying drive in the United States Congress today and their 600 or more roughly clad comrades entrenched to await the arrival of more former soldiers demanding immediate cash payment. Reports that 2,422 recruits for the bonus army are coming here have reached Superintendent of Police Glassford. He estimates there are now 1,500 in Washington. Only about 600, however, are concentrated in the two "camps" - abandoned buildings.

The belief that "200,000 or more" will make the march to the capital and remain here until Congress pays the bonus was expressed today by Arthur Taylor, a commander of the organized Oregon group which arrived Sunday. The police head, finding it increasingly difficult to feed the veterans, plans to ask state authorities wherever new groups are congregating to discourage the movement. The men are now being fed on 10 cents a day. If food and money is not made available either by Congress or from private sources, Glassford stands ready to evacuate the veterans within 48 hours. Meanwhile, Police Inspector Davis announced that 200 known Communists from out of town were in the city, presumably to attempt to organize the former soldiers for a mass demonstration which has been set for June 8 by the workers' service men's league.

Annual Synod Fred'ton. Diocese Church Of Eng.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 31 - (By the Canadian Press) - At a special meeting today clergy attending the 62nd annual synod of the Fredericton diocese of the Church of England in Canada unanimously decided to guarantee a contribution of $3,000 toward elimination of the Diocesan mission fund deficit of $8,304. This deficit had a prominent place in the charge read today by At. Rev. J. A. Richardson, Bishop of Fredericton.

The first business meeting of the synod was held this afternoon. Part of the time was taken up by explanation of a proposed new actuarial general synod pension fund. Reports of the standing and executive committees and board of missions were adopted. At a special synod service in Christ Church Cathedral this evening Venerable Archdeacon A. F. Bate was installed by Bishop Richardson in succession to the late Venerable Archdeacon O. S. Newham. Rt. Rev. Benjamin Brewster, Bishop of Maine, delivered the Synod sermon.

Three fundamentals in a vital religion for all time in a world of changing conditions were belief in God as a living, acting power; worship, and loyalty to the moral law of God, said Bishop Brewster. True religion provided a strong basis of hope which an apparent national weariness at the present time demanded, he declared. The new pension scheme, given final approval by the general assembly, provides for the establishment of a new organization, a pension board to assume duties of the present pension committee and beneficiary committee.

It is proposed to take over the pensioners but not the capital funds of the various dioceses. Proposed pensions would come entirely from an assessment of 7 1/2 percent, based on salaries of the clergy and paid by the church. A new guarantee would be given, placing the minimum pension for a clergyman at the age of 70 at $700 a year, varying upwards according to the length of his service. Pensions for a widow and children, with a guarantee of $400 for a widow besides a mortuary benefit of $500 at death, would be graduated according to the total salary received by the clergyman during the period of married life. Assessment for the pension fund would be the obligation of the diocese and not the parish.

Thomas Will Make Statement Re Conference

LONDON, May 31 - (Canadian Press Cable) - Usually well-informed circles tonight said J. H. Thomas, Dominions Secretary, would make a statement in the House regarding arrangements for the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference some time before the British delegation sails.

The conference today was the subject of heated questioning in the House when W. Craven-Ellis, Conservative, demanded to know if Great Britain was prepared to broach the subject of monetary reforms for the Empire. Mr. Craven-Ellis had urged appointment of a comprehensive committee of all relevant interests to formulate some scheme for monetary reform. Major Walter E. Elliott, financial secretary to the treasury, said the Chancellor of the Exchequer was keeping the question under review but was not prepared to accept Mr. Craven-Ellis' suggestion. "Do we understand the Government have no considered monetary policy for Ottawa?" Mr. Craven-Ellis asked hotly. Major Elliott protested Mr. Craven-Ellis should not make such an assumption. The Speaker then intervened.

Meanwhile the National Farmers Union sent a letter to all members of the Cabinet protesting against what it described as the inadequate representation of British agriculture at the conference. It urged appointment of a second adviser to act with Sir Douglas Newton, who was named to the conference-delegation a few days ago, "in order that the Minister of Agriculture may be fortified with views of a responsible representative of organized agricultural producers."

The letter concluded by saying the Union takes a very serious view of the situation with which the agricultural industry is faced and earnestly hopes the Cabinet will immediately reconsider the matter. Nearly a score of questions relating to the conference went unanswered in the House, when Mr. Thomas pointed out the British and Canadian Governments were still working on the agenda and that he was therefore unable to say at the moment what specific subjects would be discussed.

Will Sign New Wage Contract

GLACE BAY, N. S., May 31 - (By The Canadian Press) - The seal of settlement was placed on seven months of uncertainty today when officers of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation and of United Mine Workers district 26 met to sign a new wage contract. The agreement, effective from May 31 to January 31 of next year, embodied major recommendations of the Duncean Commission - reduction of wages for dotal workers by 1 per cent, contract workers by 12 1-2 per cent, and appointment of an independent umpire to settle disputes between the union and the Corporation. Acceptance of the reductions had been ratified by a union-wide vote last Thursday. Provision of an umpire had been asked by the district executive at the Duncean Commission hearings.

As regards other conditions, the agreement is similar to that which terminated last January 31, and which was extended to March 14 when the Royal Commission brought down its findings. Today's action was the climax to a sequence of events which began when the Corporation and union failed to agree last autumn, and continued through a joint conference with the Government, a royal commission investigation, rejection of its recommendations by the first union referendum, decision of a union district convention to open negotiations again, a resultant deadlock, and final acceptance on the union's part by a majority of 3,585.

H. J. Kelley, General Manager; F. W. Gray, Assistant Manager; and J. C. Nicholson, General Superintendent, signed for the company. District President D. W. Morrison, Vice President P. G. Murise, and Secretary Treasurer W. P. Delaney, represented the U. M. W.

(Continued from Page 1) cabinet" to carry on until fall. Adolf Hitler's National Socialist (Fascist) party announced through its headquarters it would withhold support from a cabinet formed by Herr Von Papan. It was expected, however, that the Hitlerites would be given a chance to make good their claim that they could control the Reichstag if given the chance in a general election. (The present Reichstag was elected in 1930 and has more Social Democrats (Socialists) than any other group. In State elections this year, however, the Fascists wiped out Socialist control in Prussia and elsewhere. Normally general elections would not be held until 1934, but could be called at anytime by the President.)

The man chosen to succeed Dr. Heinrich Bruening as Chancellor is, like his predecessor, a Conservative Centrist (Catholic), but hails from the army group of that party. One of the reasons why the President dispensed with Dr. Bruening was because he felt the army would not be behind him in case of disorders.

Von Papan is 50 years old and has been in political life for a decade, having been elected to the Prussian Diet in 1921. As soon as he received his instructions, Von Papan began to list his choice of Ministers, but declined to give any hint of his choices. The president's selection came late in a most trying day of receiving the leaders of various parties interspersed with a few instances of disorders. The Naz's of Hitler put on demonstrations in front of the Presidential Palace while political conferences were going on inside, several times massing in front and shouting, "Hail, Hitler!" MEMORABLE SERVICES AT MT. STEWART

Dedication And Communion Service At Presbyterian Church.

Sunday, May 29th was an auspicious day in the history of Mt. Stewart Presbyterian Church, when the memorial gift of Mr. Samuel A. Coffin and family was presented and officially accepted by the session and dedicated according to the rule of acceptance and dedication of such memorial gifts, to the glory of God and in loving memory of Mrs. Samuel A. Coffin, beloved wife and mother. The gift comprises a beautiful pulpit and communion table of quartered oak. Two handsome Gothic top chairs elegantly upholstered in Japanese rip, and a pulpit Bible, morocco bound with memorial inscription, To the Glory of God and in loving memory of the dear one passed beyond. The service was in charge of the pastor Rev. Morgan E. Genge, D.D. who in a few well chosen words addressed the congregation relative to the memorial gift speaking of the work and christian character of the one in whose memory the presentation was made and the joy of the church in being able to perpetuate the memory of one so dearly loved. Truly a mother in Israel has gone to her eternal reward, and her works do follow her, but her love remains as a benediction to the church and family.

Rev. R. Hensley Stavert, M.A., B.D., had charge of the dedicatory service and in the name of the church and to the glory of God accepted from Mr. Samuel A. Coffin and family the memorial so graciously given, and with the beautiful ritualistic form of church dedication of memorials closed that part of the service. Rev. G. Carlyle Webster pastor of Zion Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown preached a masterly discourse of which the following is a synopsis: Text, Eph. 18-19: "That ye may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth and length, and depth, and height, and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge."

Communion Service After the sermon the Communion service was taken by Rev. R. Moorehead Legate, B. D., pastor of St. James Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown, Moderator of Mt. Stewart session, who with tender words and spiritual unction set forth the true meaning of the greater memorial of the love of Jesus in His broken body and shed blood. Many hearts beat with deep emotion and religious fervor, and tears unbidden came from many eyes. The psalms and hymns were well rendered by the choir who seemed to catch the inspiration of the hour. The soloist was Mrs. William Garick of Montague Presbyterian Church, whose beautiful voice and tenderness of rendition reached the depths of many souls. Miss Marion McKenzie the organist, had charge of the choir and music, assisted by Mrs. John McFarlane of Marsfield Presbyterian Church, who accompanied the soloist. The church was decorated with beautiful flowers and a floral tribute from the family, a basket of roses and carnations, occupied the centre of the platform. The church was filled to its utmost capacity and all creeds represented. Nine new members were added to the church upon confession of faith, and with the Apostolic Benediction by Rev. R. Moorehead Legate, B. D., closed a service long to be remembered by Mt. Stewart Presbyterian Church.

(Patriot please copy) Strange, is it not? We could have understood this affection, devotion and surrender had Paul been one of the Masters disciples, but when we remember that He had never seen Christ in the flesh and further, that the whole tenor of his early life, education and traditions were antagonistic and opposed to Jesus, we are amazed. How can we account for this great change? Something tremendous has taken place in his life, and what happened to Paul, has in a degree, happened to every true believer. Witness the changed lives of men and women today; witness the new and better conditions under which men live; witness the works of healing, of education and of philanthropy. And surely it was this same love of Christ and for Christ, evidenced in the heart of Mr. Samuel Coffin and family that promoted their gifts to Mt. Stewart Presbyterian Church on this sacred occasion, for the glory of God and in memory of their dear one who has gone to be with Him.

Strange, is it not? Yes, and yet not so strange. Whatever happened to Paul, of this he was sure - that he stood in the presence of a living, loving Saviour, who revealed to him his own need of a Saviour as well as that greater revelation of the love, pity and compassion of God for his soul. Thus in the presence of Christ Paul was brought into a new and larger world, and the result was devotion, zeal, love and sacrifice for his new found Master. He loved Christ because he had first loved Him.

This is a love that passes understanding and yet, it is possible for us to know something of that love and Paul speaks of it here in its four dimensions. Let us view these, and first he thinks of its breadth - the breadth of Christ's love. By this, I think, he means that there is no limit to the love of Christ. It is that power that created all things, it is that power which is not willing that any should be lost, but that all might come to repentance. No man can say he is an outcast or excluded. God's love in Christ is extended to all - rich and poor, prince and peasant, learned and unlearned. Go everyone that thirsteth and he that hath no money. Let him that is thirsty come, and whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely. In the second place he speaks of the length of Christ's love. It is a love that is eternal in its devotion. It cannot wane, it never grows weary and it does not change. A mother may lose her love for her children but not so with God. It is as long as eternity. Then too, he speaks of its depth and by this we are to understand its downward reach. Christ's willingness to sacrifice and endure in order to bless others. How deep is the love of Christ? Just as deep as your sorrows and mine. There is no sorrow too deep for His loving care. How deep is the love of Christ? Just as deep as man's sin and God knows how deep that is. There is no case so low that He cannot help, no soul disease that He cannot cure. And finally he refers to its height. And that takes us to the very gate of heaven, the throne of God. The love of God in Christ never shone more brightly than from Calvary's Brow where for you and me He was nailed to the Cross. Surely it was infinite love and that alone, that could say "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." As we again remember at His table His dying love may be able more fully to comprehend the breadth and length, and depth and height and to know the love of Christ which does pass knowledge.

GERMAN SHEPHERD DOGS SHOW ALMOST HUMAN INTELLIGENCE. Nearly a hundred German shepherd dogs, trained by their owners, are being prepared for the field trials of the German Shepherd Dog Club of Canada, to be held in September under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Kennel Club. On the grounds of Upper Canada College, Toronto, the obedience and intelligence of the dogs was demonstrated at the semi-monthly training exercises in preparation for the Dominion trials. They did everything from barking their ages and working out addition and subtraction problems to marching in military formation marking time, wheeling and doubling merely at the direction of Secretary A. C. Coffy and without leashes. The stately Wolfe von Stelein, owned by C. W. Radford, sat up and showed the children how to balance a rubber ball on his nose, as shown in (3) above. R. Thornton's Silver, seen in (1) ran after a pigeon and brought it back to its owner unharmed. Edward Archibald's Blign, which holds international ribbons for senior training performance, took the basket (2) to the other end of the field and returned to her master. "Take this ball and put it in the basket and bring me the keys back," said Mr. Archibald. And the dog followed his instructions without a "break."
