INTERESTING LECTURE ON INDIA

Rev. Dr. McDougall in Central Christian Church Gave Vivid Description of India —Its Climate, Cust- oms, and Religion.

The Womens Missionary Society of the Central Christian Church was favored last evening with a very interesting and instructive lecture on India by Rev. Dr. Macdougall, the present minister of the church. Dr. Macdougall who has lived in India as a missionary for twenty years was quite at home with his subject, and by vivid description and pleasing portrayal held his audience with rapt attention. Dr. Macdougall divided his subject into four parts which he designated as the four C's—first the country, second the climate, third the customs and fourth the culture. Under the head of the first he indicated the wide variety of the topography with its vast interminable plains in the great river valleys, like the Ganges and the Indus. Then on the other hand the vastness of the huge mountain ranges such as the Himalayas in which there are over two hundred peaks over twenty thousand feet high. It is possible in places to stand on the outer ranges of this vast series and see almost half the horizon intersected with glittering snow-capped peaks. Such a wide variety of topography suggests an equally wide variety of climate—the second section of the lecture. Not only tropical vegetation and fruits are to be found but also from areas like Kashmir come temperate zone fruits such as apples, plums, cherries and peaches. An interesting fact was noted that the good old word "toddy" which is used in many parts of India in its original form in reality an Indian word, which describes a country liquor made from the sap of the date palm.

Under the third division, viz: customs, the speaker dwelt first of all with personal habits and customs that are characteristically Indian. For example, it is exceedingly bad form to the Indian to give or receive anything with the left hand. It must always be done by the right. The latter is the lucky and the former the unlucky, ill-wishing and curse-pronouncing hand. Similarly the Indian never sleeps with his head uncovered. So great is the fear of the ignorant villager of the constant proximity and depredations perpetrated by the demons that he guards his mouth against the possibility of a demon getting inside during the night. The first thing he does every morning is to

Seven Provincial Ministers To Attend Jubilee Banquet

(Special to the Guardian)
TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 15.—Seven provincial ministers of Agriculture and two deputy ministers are among the four or five hundred guests who have accepted the invitation of Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture to be present at the "jubilee banquet" of the Royal Winter Fair on Wednesday evening. The banquet, which will be an "all Canadian production" affair, will be staged in the Coliseum restaurant. The provincial representatives are Prince Edward Island, Hon. Walter Lea; Nova Scotia, Hon. J. A. Walker; New Brunswick, Hon. Lewis Smith; Quebec, J. A. Grenier, Deputy Minister; Ontario, Hon. J. S. Martin; Manitoba, Hon. Albert Prefontaine; Saskatchewan, Hon. C. A. Hamilton; Alberta, Hon. Power Question To Be Referred To The Courts

(Special to the Guardian)
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 15.—Present indications are that the government will consent to a reference to the courts of the question as to the relative jurisdiction of the Dominion and the provinces over control of waterpowers on navigable rivers generally and canalized rivers in particular.

No definite answer was given when the proposal for such an action was brought up at the conference by Premier Taschereau, who was supported by Premier Ferguson. From later information it appears that the justice department is not really averse to the proposal and inclined to seek a judicial determination of a much disputed question. If it is referred to the courts it will go to the supreme courts here first and then to the privy council.

Some change in the attitude of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec is claimed here. Previously at the position taken was that the matter was one of agency, electric power being greatly needed while the Dominion's claims were discounted. The recent suggestion to refer the question to the courts is construed in some quarters as a recession from this stand even though it indicates confidence in the outcome of the issue. The present probability is that the dispute will decide judicially and, presumably meanwhile the waterpowers in dispute will remain unharnessed.

P. A. T. A. May Shortly Disband

(Special to the Guardian)
OTTAWA, Nov. 15.—The Proprietary Articles Trade Association found to be a combine of druggists under the Combines Investigation Act may disband shortly. While Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor had no statement to make today on the case he admitted that a number of manufacturers who had had membership in the P. A. T. A. had notified him of their resignation from the association.

A recent report from Montreal stated that members of the manufacturers section of the P. A. T. A. had voted almost unanimously against any attempt to continue activities in view of the adverse finding of Commissioner L. V. O'Connor. It is rumored here that wholesale and retail druggists connected with the P. A. T. A. may possibly take a similar course.

WILL HAVE THE CLOSE OF THE INTER- PROVINCIAL CONFERENCE BUSY 3 DAYS IN TORONTO

(By Our Own Correspondent)
OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The following is a summary of the closing proceedings of the inter-provincial conference which is given because it is more or less an official review of the work from the start and a more matured expression of opinion on the part of members as the result of discussion.

The statement of the Minister of Finance was as follows:

"The discussion which has taken place concerning the financial problems of the Dominion and the Provinces has been fairly complete. On the one hand there have been requests by the Provinces, or some of them at least, that the Dominion should increase the amount paid to them in subsidies. There has also been the recommendation that the Dominion should undertake certain service now undertaken by certain of the provinces. Broadly speaking I think it may be said that these services are considered to be unprofitable, in fact liabilities to the provinces and that if the Dominion were to take them over that for the moment at least the expense would involve an increase in expenditure on the Federal Treasury. From the viewpoint of the Dominion it has been submitted that the duty of the Federal authorities is maintained both at home and abroad and at the same time to reduce taxation so far as is possible in order that the industry in all its varied branches may be encouraged.

"The recommendations of the provinces are double-edged. First, there is the demand for increased expenditures by the Dominion Government, and on the other hand that we should withdraw from certain fields of taxation and revenue. Recommendations have been made that subsidies should be increased, that certain expenditures for varied means of transportation should be undertaken, that the Old Age Pension should be extended to the provinces of the Dominion Government, etc. On the other hand it has been urged that the Dominion should withdraw from the Income Tax field and other direct taxation sources, that we should reduce the Customs and Excise duties on liquors, that we should have a more liberal policy in regard to the liquor industry, but off-hand would estimate that the varied recommendations involve either in expenditure or in the drying-up of sources of revenue, 100 millions of dollars annually.

"The Dominion Government has been able to reduce taxation and to bear the heat of the various recommendations, should give the whole matter their mature consideration. It is admitted that it would be unfair to the taxpayers of Canada were it of the Dominion Government immediately to attempt to lay down to a line of action that the Dominion Government is prepared to follow towards any part of Canada. The whole question we feel, must be given a thorough scrutiny before commitment of any nature should be given, and in the light of all representations made at this Conference we will carefully consider the problem."

Henry Ford Sued For $6,000,000

(Special to the Guardian)
PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 15.—Henry Ford was sued today for $6,000,000 by 2,000 stock holders in the old Lincoln Motor Car Company, who alleged Ford failed to keep a verbal promise to buy their stock when he bought the company from the federal court receiver in 1922. The suit was filed by Henry M. Leland and his son, Wilfred C. Leland, president and vice president, of the original firm. They had been granted power of attorney by the stockholders to proceed against Ford in circuit court if he refused to meet their demands in negotiations.

D. A. MACDONALD JUDGMENT QUASHED BY SUPREME COURT

Following is the full text of the judgment of the Supreme Court, delivered by Chief Justice Mathieson yesterday, quashing the judgment of County Court Judge Stewart, who convicted D. A. MacDonald of unlawfully supplying drugs to Jessie McBeth, and sentenced him to two years imprisonment:

1. That the conviction is contrary to law.

2. That there was no evidence before the trial Court to support the conviction.

3. The erroneous admission of the evidence of Kenneth McBeth as to statements made to him by Jessie McBeth, not in the presence of the accused.

4. The erroneous admission of the contents of letters written by Jessie McBeth to the accused.

And he expresses his desire if a new trial be directed to be tried before a jury.

The application came on to be heard before this Court sitting as a Court of Appeal on the first day of November instant, A.D. 1927.

The Crown was represented by Duffy, K.C., and McGuigan, and the appellant by Martin, K.C., and Gaudet, K.C.

After hearing counsel the Court being of the opinion that leave to appeal should be granted proceeded to hear the appeal upon its merits. The history of the case may thus be shortly stated:

The deceased Jessie McBeth went to Hamilton to teach school about the middle of August, 1926, and taught there until late in January, 1927, when she became ill and called.

MARLBOROUGH HOUSE FOR THE PRINCE

For Some Time His Household Goods Have Been Under- going the Process of Transference From York House, St. James' Palace.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Prince of Wales is expected to go into residence at Marlborough House within a few days. For some time his household goods have been undergoing the process of transference from York House, St. James' place, the Prince being rather surprised at the number of belongings he has acquired.

There is no foundation for the report which has gained some credence that the name of Marlborough House would be changed to Cornwall House, in allusion to the Duchy of Cornwall, from which the Prince of Wales derives his principal source of income. It may seem odd that the heir-apparent is to be housed in a mansion bearing the title of a mere Duke, but Marlborough house in all its associations, name and everything else, is so indelibly associated with the palmy day of King Edward, when as Prince of Wales he led the fashionable life of Great Britain and the continent, that any interference with its title would appear almost a sacrilege. Besides the King himself lives in a palace which was once the family house of the Duke of Buckingham.

Even if these objections were overruled there is still the awkward fact that already London possesses a substantial building known as Cornwall House. It comprises the headquarters of the London telephone service. If the Prince were to call his new residence Cornwall house, he might possibly be involved in the exasperation of receiving a succession of "wrong numbers" with which so many telephone users on this side of the ocean are afflicted. His daily mail delivery, heavy as it is already, would doubtless be augmented by complaints from angry telephone subscribers.

Tuberculosis Can Be Cured

"Tuberculosis can be cured in the majority of cases if it is discovered early, but if not found out until its ravages have proceeded in the human body for some time it is hard to cure at all." was the statement of one of the workers who is now busy preparing for the tuberculosis Christmas seal sale to be conducted in this Province during the week of November 28th.

Proceeds from the sale will finance the work against the white plague in 1928. "In advanced cases of the disease, proper food, rest in the open air by day, if possible by night, clean surroundings and the help of an intelligent doctor will do wonders. Since, if tuberculosis is to be cured, it must be found out early, it is very important to understand the early symptoms that warn us of its presence. Unfortunately many doctors do not give special attention to this disease, and overlook it until too late or mistake it for other things, especially grip, a chronic cold, malaria, stomach trouble or nervous prostration. A careful doctor will always strip your chest to the skin for examination.

"No examination through the clothes is of any use at all. Further, he will study your temperature every two hours for at least a week, he will have your sputum examined in every case, and will go very carefully into the past history of your case and your surroundings. If these things are not done, it may be impossible to find out the trouble in any advanced cases. If you cannot get a doctor to examine you in this thorough way, go at once to the nearest clinic or health centre and have your case studied carefully by some one familiar with this trouble."

"If it is impossible to obtain expert advice, intelligent study of symptoms of tuberculosis may make the individual reasonably sure concerning his condition. The disease begins in many different ways. Sometimes the patient develops a slight cough, often but not always in the morning, which will not yield to treatment. Any cough that lasts more than three weeks should be regarded as suspicious. A chronic cough with spitting lasting for years, even though it has never made its owner sick, is very suspicious."

Dr. S. R. Jenkins is chairman for this Province of the Committee handling the sale of Christmas seals. The sale will open locally on the 28th. The proceeds will assist in stamping out tuberculosis.

In 1926 in Canada, 679 children under five years of age died of tuberculosis.

This date corresponds to that when, after a week's preliminary in December, Parliament last year assembled for real business. Tariff revision in the light of the extensive inquiries of the tariff advisory board and subjects arising out of the recent conference will comprise the main items of the sessional programme.
