In the face of big profit-taking sales, broad new speculative buying carried wheat upwards at times for overnight gains of 2 cents a bushel. Demand was stimulated by continued reports of crop damage to wheat both north and south of the Canadian border and by rumors that a prominent operator was taking an active part in the purchase side of the market.

Wheat closed strong, 3/4-1 1/4 above Friday's finish. September new 85 3/4, corn 3 1/2 up, oats 1/4 off to 1/2 up, and provisions 5 to 15 cents advanced.

"AN EYE TO THE FUTURE - AN EAR TO THE GROUND"

—this describes General Motors' policy, a policy by which the public is given what it wants in better cars year after year, and yet is safely protected against ill-timed or dubious experiments

When G.M. does it you know it's going to click..

YOU'VE probably heard people express their trust in General Motors in just such words as those. But what they're saying right now is even more emphatic: "Look at No-Draft Ventilation. Look at Knee-Action Wheels. Look at the way General Motors developed the idea of streamlining and did it in styles that say beauty as well as speed.

That's sure calling the turns—and General Motors called all three." The real admirers of General Motors will point to what's back of all this. They'll tell you that General Motors built the first Proving Ground—in order to experiment at its own expense, not the public's. Then they'll point to the "Proving Ground of Public Opinion"—more than a hundred thousand questionnaire booklets sent out each year, to check General Motors' vast engineering knowledge against what people want in their new cars.

And there you begin to see why people have such confidence in anything that General Motors builds. We might find it easier, and more dramatic, to trust to "hunch"—rather than put our designs to this constant testing and checking. But we believe the public wants its motor cars, as we want our business, built on a sounder foundation.
