TOURISTS and persons bent on pleasure, should not forget that the Jacques Cartier runs a special excursion every Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Orwell and return for but 25 cents, and every Saturday afternoon to Crapaud and return for but 40 cents. These are delightful outings, as they give passengers so much pure sea air.

The Sydney Recorder of Aug. 23rd says: The S. S. Florida arrived in port at 6.30 this morning. The officers and passengers report a very pleasant trip. The only incidents out of the usual was the sighting of a large school of whales some distance from Boston. The passenger list, though not quite as large as on some previous trips, contained fifty, all of whom were delighted with the trip and appeared loath to leave the popular steamer. The large shipments of fruit and vegetables still continue and the freight for Sydney is larger than any previous trip.

The illustrated descriptive article on P. E. Island to appear in a forthcoming issue of the Canadian Trade Review is progressing most favorably. So its representative, Mr. Kirkwood reports. Prominent and capable individuals are preparing the matter on a variety of subjects. Such as Trade and Commerce, Shipping and Transportation Industries, attractions as a Summer resort, Education, Legislation, military organization, social, moral, religious and Benevolent Institutions, Music and Art, Sports and Pastimes, History, etc., etc. It will be seen from the foregoing list that our Province is likely to be set forth in its best aspects, and quite thoroughly dealt with. The municipalities of Charlottetown and Summerside, Souris, Georgetown, and Montague will be subjects for separate articles. This City and Summerside have promised to provide illustrations and many of our merchants are having views of their stores. Taking it all in all the P. E. Island edition of the Trade Review will be one worth having.

Testing Canned Meats.

From Weekly Telegraph.
Among the most in comprehensible proceedings to be observed within the vast area of Woolwich Reserve Depot, are the doings of a small party of officials, one of whom appears to do nothing all day long but sit at a table and tap on tin canisters with a couple of bits of stick, something after the manner of a child beating on the upturned end of his drum. The tins are passed before him about as fast as he can tap them, and absolutely nothing seems to come of the game. To the unenlightened onlooker it is quite unintelligible. The tins contain meat, and before they are passed into store it is, of course, important to examine the condition of what is inclosed, and this, in fact, is the way it is done.

The trained ear of the expert examiner can tell whether the meat is in a wholesome or putrid condition by the sound emitted when rapped with the stick, just as the examiner of a railway carriage wheels is supposed to be able to tell whether the wheel he taps with his hammer is cracked or not. The rapidity with which the business is gone through, and the seeming inattention of the performer with the sticks and his total indifference to all sorts of noises about him, render the procedure a very curious one to watch. The test is said to be practically infallible.

North Tryon Driving Park.

SIR.—In the issue of GUARDIAN of the 9th inst., there appeared a letter under the nom de plume of X making a dashingly onslaught not only upon myself upon the patrons of my track. I have no desire to enter into a controversy other than to show the general public the untruthfulness and injustice of the production penned by X. Mr. Editor, re my track, let me say since its completion I have always thrown it open gratuitously to the general public for the development of the equine. Mr. W. Lea placed his horse Brilliant in my charge one year ago, and after two weeks handling, that same horse could go sufficiently fast to realize his owner $125. Mr. J. P. Irving, his present owner, taking advantage of that privilege accorded all during this season has developed Brilliant to such proportions as to have refused the handsome sum of $500, and many others have alike profited. I merely make reference to the above that the people may decide as to the general proficiency and intelligence of the fitters and trainers employed and that all may realize that the track is still at North Tryon and not moved hence to the South Sea Islands. The writer X claims for a long time that lovers of the track have realized the impossibility of attending the North Tryon Driving Park without losing their influence and respectability. Mr. Editor, may I ask did X attend the races on the 23rd July, for that purpose? If so it is quite evident that the desire of his heart was realized. Or was it to gain such information as to enable him to pen such a production as would cause Goldsmith to blush with shame at the result of the nocturnal cogitation. Or was he prompted by the flames of heroism or by a desire of worldly advertising as a reformer, to brand me as a soul destroying and vicious man? Or, has he confiscated gleanings from the mouth of the gossips, of which we have some even in our midst, for one individual in the neighbourhood has let his tongue run to such an extent as to convince me that there must be at work in his head the wheels of a threshing machine of which he is a third rate builder. The nature of an animal usually asserts itself. Hence we have nothing and could expect nothing but billingsgate. Now Sir, my Park and its many events will stand the light of day and the inspection of decency. I have always offered good purses and flatter myself on procuring the best of horses to contest the different classes, the winners of which were paid one hundred cents to the dollar in every instance. In former years I strictly confined my refreshment saloon to temperate drinks but my place like other gatherings was infested with those walking bar-rooms who sold to patrons, not on my premises, but on the highway. However since Quebec Beer has become popular and has been handled with impunity at church gatherings, I fell in line and followed my guide and feared no danger for I sold nothing stronger. Now Sir, re fighting, etc. alterations will be even in well governed churches much more in public gatherings. For instance, take Hampton tea, where Quebec beer was sold with a Rev gentleman, so I am informed, as one of its committee. I ask is that gentleman to be branded as a liquor dealer or be held responsible for the quantity of liquor sold in the bushes and on the highway and for the drinking, debauchery and fighting of which there was too much I say emphatically, No.

Now Sir I make the assertion that North Tryon Driving Park is conducted equally respectable and equally as good in every respect as any driving Park on Prince Edward Island; and it is a matter of surprise to many who have spoken to me that a paper with any sense of justice should allow such a cowardly attack as that made by X to disgrace its columns. Let a cloud overshadow the tumbling waves and they took angry. Let the sun play upon those waves and they sparkle and dance with merriment. So I leave the shadow of the cynic's letter to verify the old adage, that "fools rush in where angels fear to tread." And I leave the above explanation with a just public to determine and will abide by their treatment.

UNUSED TO THE CLIMATE.

A Frenchman Finds Canadian Weather Had a Bad Effect on His Health.

ST. EUSTACHE, Que., August 20.—August Dubois landed here from France, a perfect stranger to the weather conditions prevailing in this country. The tool also differed from that to which he had been accustomed, and his heart being weak, the change had a serious effect upon it. He went to a medical man who did him no good. He went to others with a similar result in each case. "I had to go to Montreal," he says "to work for the Grand Trunk, and in that city met a man who was suffering the same thing as myself, but had started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. He told me they were doing him good. He was kind enough to give me a few of them, I took them. I felt myself much better. I procured a box and in fifteen days felt like a different man."
