A new postal card added to the already full series of these souvenirs dealing with this Province is a very distinct photograph in colors of the closing of the public schools Charlottetown, showing 1200 children massed on Market Square. The card is very attractive, and is from one of Mr. Louson's photographs.

Produce is beginning to move and there is a good deal being shipped away. Last week Messrs Carvell Bros sent the schr Brilliant to Sydney with 660 bags salt and a large quantity produce; the S. S. Ghent took 1000 bags oats and considerable other produce; the schr Charming Lass is being loaded with 2000 bushels oats, etc., and the S. S. Campana sailing today for Montreal will take a large freight, among which will be included a considerable quantity of potatoes.

The death of Sergeant-Major Allan, which occurred on Saturday, removes from the public life of Charlottetown one who for many years was a prominent figure especially in military circles. He was formerly connected with the 17th regular foot regiment, and had served through the Crimean war. He came to this Province about 1867, and was for many years thereafter connected with the local volunteers as brigade sergeant major. He was twice married here and leaves a widow and one surviving son and one daughter.

A deep gloom was cast over the settlement of Union on Thursday the 3rd inst, when it became known that Reuben Gill, son of John Gill had passed away in the P. E. I. Hospital. He had been ailing for about two weeks with appendicitis, and after a consultation by his physicians they decided that the only chance of prolonging life was to have an operation performed. It appeared, however, that other complications had set in and he only survived the operation about two days. He was a favorite young man with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance and his early demise is greatly regretted. His father and mother were by his bedside when he passed away with a bright prospect of a glorious immortality. The respect in which he was held was clearly evidenced by the number of people who attended his funeral on Saturday. The services were conducted by the Rev. D MacLean assisted by the Rev Mr Dawson, of York, where the body was interred. The pall was borne by some of his class mates in West Kent School which he had been attending, and some of the young men of his own neighborhood. They were George Toombs, Vernon Bryenton, Noel Farrow, Hedley Howlett, Clarence Mellet and Russel MacLaren.—COM.

Retinoscopic Eye Examination
The cut accurately shows this method in operation. It is probably, the most reliable test known today.
By its use the expert optician accurately measures the amount and kind of error in the patient's eyes, completely removing the uncertainty of the old system, and reducing to a minimum, the possibility of prescribing the wrong lenses.
We use this System and rely on its readings, almost entirely; The results in past years have been remarkably satisfactory, and if you are in need of Glasses you cannot do better than allow us to examine your eyes.
