Egg And Poultry Market Report

The local egg market is showing an upward trend due to the decline in receipts, reports Mr. F.M. Nash, senior poultry products inspector. No improvement in the quality and an increased demand for Grade "A" eggs in excess of supplies. Dealers over the week-end advanced paying prices for Grade A eggs from eight to ten cents per dozen and are now paying for ungraded eggs delivered: Grade A Large, 45; A Medium, 43; A Pullet, 32; Grade B, 27 - 28; Grade C, 21 - 22. Graded shipments delivered Charlottetown: A Large, 52; A Medium, 50; A Pullet, 36; Grade B, 31½; Grade C, 23. A-1 producers are receiving for the cartoned Pack "A" Large and A Medium 52. Producers should note there is a difference of seventeen to eighteen cents a dozen between the price paid for Grade "A" Large and Grade B. Grade A eggs can be secured by feeding the flock properly and caring for the eggs until marketed.

Poultry receipts have been lighter during the past week. It is believed this is due to the unsettled market and the lowering of prices on the lower grades and lighter weights of poultry. The quality of the product being received with the exception of fowl is poor; too many poorly fleshed chickens being marketed. The producer who markets light weight, unfinished undergrade poultry has every prospect for a lowered price for this type of poultry while on the other hand, the producer marketing well fleshed and fatted poultry in the heavier weights can look forward to present prices being maintained for his product. Dealers are quoting for poultry delivered Charlottetown basis rail grading: Chicken five pounds and over M.F.A., 33; M.F.B., 31; Grade B, 25. Grade C, 16. Under five pounds M.F.A., 31; M.F.B., 29; Grade B, 21; Grade C, 14. Fowl five pounds and over Grade A, 22; Grade B, 20; Grade C, 12.

CANADA MAY

breather while negotiations continue on other emergency measures.

Close to $3,000,000,000 of the $3,750,000,000 United States loan has already been spent and of that amount $220,000,000 had been spent in Canada up to the end of June last, Sir Wilfrid said.

He indicated that this source of Canada's income in the United States dollars would now be virtually ended and her dollar income from conversion of sterling would be rationed like that of all other countries.

Under the terms of the United States loan agreement Britain was required to make sterling used in current trading convertible after last July 15. That meant holders of sterling could present it in either New York or London and get dollars at the current rate of exchange.

As from today, conversion will be possible only in London where the British Treasury can control it. They will exchange dollars for sterling only on a closely-rationed basis until the situation improves.

Sir Wilfrid said he had no doubt the negotiations with Canada would be worked out satisfactorily, difficult as the situation would be.

Simultaneously, Sir Wilfrid disclosed that Britain:

1. May have to cut imports for home consumption even beyond the drastic restrictions which already have been announced.

2. Already has notified the United States of its intention to make another withdrawal from the $850,000,000 remaining of the loan. He declined to disclose the exact amount but said a reporter's speculation it would be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 had "about hit it."

3. Will have to rewrite 26 to 30 trade agreements with other countries containing clauses calling for exchange of pounds into dollars.

The rationing of Britain's remaining dollars was put into effect by suspending temporarily the dollars-for-pounds free convertibility program—one of the conditions of the big loan.

Under the convertibility program Britain, in current trade transactions with countries maintaining a sterling pound balance in London, would change those pounds into dollars upon demand. Sir Wilfrid declared this was draining deeply into Britain's own dollar resources because of the world "scramble' to obtain them for American purchases.

A United States Treasury spokesman at another press conference said a "pretty big dollar run on the Bank of England" preceded the decision. Frank Southard, chief of the Treasury's Office of International Finance, reported the Bank of England was subjected to a drain of $237,000,000 in the six working days extending through Monday.

The convertibility, or dollars for pounds, exchange plan was designed to increase the flow of trade by removing financial barriers which tended to produce restrictive agreements in areas which dealt primarily in one currency or the other.

Finley-Watkins Wedding

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon July 26th, at 2.30 when Bertha Beatrice Watkins, daughter of Mrs. Helen I. Griffith, was united in marriage with Mr. Alexander Lorne Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Finley of Charlottetown, Rev. Canon E. Malone officiating.

The altar was adorned with pink and white carnations and white snag-dragons. The organist was Miss S. Brenton. Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Allie McLeod, cousin of the bride. Acting as best man was Mr. Robert Large, while the ushers were Mr. Jack Merris and Mr. Paul Williams.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. Charles Binns, the bride looked lovely in a gown of ivory satin, with a full skirt falling into a circular train. Her floor length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a cornet of satin and tulle. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white snap-dragons.

The maid of honor wore pink nylon sheer over taffeta with matching dutch hat and mitts. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

The bride's mother wore grey crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore powder blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

A reception was held immediately after at the Charlottetown Hotel for relatives and friends.

The couple left for a trip through the Maritimes. Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered several showers by her friends.

ALBERTON EXHIBITION

ander Hamilton, New Perth; Poultry, F. M. Nash, Ch'town; horses, Dr. F. W. Christopher, Boston, Mass., and Robert Chappel, York; cooking, Mrs. Allison MacLean and Mrs. Ernest Moore, Summerside; handicrafts, Miss Carrie Holman, Summerside.

Mr. Boswell, commenting on the Ayshires shown, said that the quality was good. W. A. Moase and Sons, Kensington had the champion male and Coughlin and Son, Montrose had the champion female.

Mr. Ira Lewis, who judged the Holsteins, was quite pleased with the exhibit and said he was surprised how much better they were than those shown last year. He is of the opinion that some of the cattle shown would top their classes at the Provincial Exhibition. Mr. Lloyd Waugh, Wilmot Valley, who won nine firsts, had the grand champion cow and Mr. Jack Clark, Alberton had the grand champion bull.

Mr. Edwin Lord of Bedeque had both grand champions in the Jerseys. Mr. Jesse Matthews, Alberton was also a large exhibitor.

Mr. F. C. Ramsay of Montrose with his fine herd of Herefords was the largest prize winner in that class. He also was a large exhibitor of horses. The exhibit of horses was up to other years and this is excellent as there are always very fine horses on exhibition at this fair.

The quantity of hogs shown was down a bit but the quality was good.

The exhibition closed last evening with a dance which was largely attended.

GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS

Following is the text of His Honour's address:

"Mr. President and Officers, Honourable Gentlemen, Reverend Gentlemen, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I appreciate the invitation and the opportunity extended to me to take part in this opening ceremony of what I have always regarded as one of the very best Annual Exhibitions held in Prince Edward Island. On former such occasions I have noted with much pleasure and satisfaction the magnificent display of all kinds of live stock, the varied assortment of agricultural products and I have particularly noted the fine exhibits of useful and fancy work as well as the bountiful display of fruits and flowers, while the culinary art has always produced a splendid assortment of attractions which make one feel like lunching on them; a tribute to the capable and painstaking efforts of the ladies of this part of the County who have always so materially aided in making this Exhibition live up to the hopes and expectations of those who attend.

"I wish to congratulate the efficient President and Officers of your Association who have worked so hard and so earnestly towards the deserved success and recognition you are receiving in your enterprise, also these faithful exhibitors who show their exhibits year after year, and who are the foundation and the basis of this competitive example. Upon them rests the success or failure of such an undertaking, and when you meet in friendly competition you are showing a keen desire to advance your own best interests by the educational benefits which such competition brings to you.

"It is a pleasure to compliment the large number of attendants who, by their presence here show a kindly interest in the exhibits and in the exhibitors. There is much to be learned on a day and an occasion such as this, and Now, In Declaring This Alberton Prince County Exhibition Formally Opened I express the ardent wish that it will be one of the greatest successes which has ever been achieved in his vicinity—a credit to your Officers—to your Exhibitors, and to all those in attendance who have the best interest and advancement of our Agricultural and Associated Industries at heart."

Insurance Executive Gives Address

"The life insurance business is always looking for men who are willing to pay attention to the little things," said Mr. D.W. Morphy, C.L.U. in an address to the Life Underwriters Association at their luncheon meeting at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday at noon. Mr. Morphy who is Superintendent of Agencies for the Empire Life Insurance Company, in a very practical address outlined the qualities necessary for a successful life insurance salesman, and urged his listeners to be particularly diligent in the planning of their daily work.

The President of the Association Mr. V.S. Ling presided and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker, moved by Mr. Walter Hyndman and seconded by Mr. C. H. Black. A pleasing incident of the meeting was the presentation of the National Quality Award to Mr. R.H. MacNeill, retired manager of the Empire Life. This award is a presentation of the Dominion Life Underwriters Association for a certain volume of "quality" business. The presentation was made by Mr. C.H. Black.

DROWNING FATALITY

the area in boats for the victim. About 3.30 the Marine and Fisheries launch "Capitol" located the body of Mr. Pickard off the Point, some little distance down river from where he disappeared.

The body was taken to the Marine Wharf where all efforts to revive the victim by artificial respiration proved unavailing. Mr. Pickard was pronounced dead by Dr. L. E. Prowse.

Dr. Ira J. Yeo, Coroner, stated that an inquest was not considered necessary.

The late Mr. Pickard was prominent in sporting circles and in the recent re-organization of the Maritime Amateur Athletic Association was appointed its secretary. He was an energetic organizer and whenever called upon rendered every assistance to the promotion of athletic contests and to the encouragement of the young in this field of sports. He was greatly interested in the new Memorial Athletic Field now under construction at Victoria Park.

Mr. Pickard was born in Charlottetown and received his education at West Kent School. He attended business college and then opened a bicycle shop. He built the business into the leading sports shop in the Province.

He was a member of Charlottetown's volunteer Fire Department and rose to captain in the Hose Company and to the post of Deputy Chief.

He leaves to mourn besides his widow, his mother, Mrs. Russell Pickard and two brothers, Milton and Foster.

AUSTRALIA HOPES

mand for woollen clothes that will continue to outstrip American domestic production of wool.

3. Opening of sales outlets to millions of Asiatics who have never used wool, combined with bigger sales to wool-starved Europe.

Americans bid top prices in the sales last year, taking 1,024,270 bales, one-third of Australia's clip and 10 times the quantity that went to the United States before the war. Their enthusiastic bidding was the biggest reason for the record average price of 21.486. Australian pence (about 33 cents) a pound for greasy wool, and 41.484 pence (56 cents) a pound for scoured. The United States took twice as much wool as Britain.

The Australian on the sheep station believes the demand for woollen clothes is increasing swiftly in the United States. Before the war Americans used four pounds of wool a person a year compared with nine in Britain and 8 1-2 in Australia.

When the American and European demand for wool has been filled, Australia hopes millions of Asiatics, to whom wool is virtually unknown, will have developed the desire and the resources to buy wool.

Men closely associated with the industry will not admit they are unduly concerned about the development of a low-priced substitute for the fleece. They believe, however, that wool and synthetic mixtures may be used together extensively on a commercial basis; but they argue many people would then be wearing woollen mixtures instead of pure synthetics or cottons.

Australian Government scientists are carrying out research into the manufacture of featherweight woollens. Making of fine "lighter than silk" woollen cloth has been reported here as being put on a commercial basis in Britain.

Australia's sheep population today is around 96,000,000, down 25,000,000 from the peak of 1942 because of drought and heavy killing for food. Close to 80,000,000 sheep are merinos, which produce one-fourth of the world's wool.

Rev. A. L. Sinnott Celebrates Silver Jubilee At Rollo Bay

The Silver Jubilee of the Rev. A. L. Sinnott, P.P., St. Alexis Church, Rollo Bay, was held at Rollo Bay East on Sunday evening, Aug. 10th. Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by the jubilarian, assisted by Rev. Pius Murnaghan, curate, St. Mary's Church, Souris, as deacon, and Rev. Owen Sharkey, Eccl., St. Augustine Seminary, Ontario, as sub-deacon. Also present in the Sanctuary on this occasion were two Monsignors and twenty priests.

Immediately after Benediction an eloquent and forceful sermon was delivered by the Rev. R. F. MacDonald, P.P., Indian River, in which he congratuated the jubilarian, his classmate and friend during his college and seminary days. He also spoke on the dignity and power of the priesthood.

A very nice address was then read and a presentation given to Fr. Sinnott by his parishioners. Address will follow. The children of the parish also read an address and presented him with a spiritual bouquet which was highly appreciated by him, and finally the clergy in the person of Monsignor MacAulay addressed the jubilarian and parishioners and Monsigner Murphy presented him with a purse.

Fr. Sinnott replied with words that expressed his gratitude to the people of Rollo Bay parish and the priests of the diocese who came in such a large number to congratulate and wish him well.

Fr. Sinnott also had the rare privilege of having Cardinal McGuigan call on him and extend to him best wishes.

Father Sinnott was ordained in Morell by Archbishop Sinnott of Winnipeg 25 years ago, from whom he received a letter congratulating him and wishing him many more years of fruitful labor in the Holy Priesthood.

Another feature of the evening's celebration was a sumptuous supper served in the parish hall to the clergy and some of Fr. Sinnott's friends, by some of the ladies of the parish.

Following is the address.

To Reverend A. L. Sinnott,
St. Alexis, Rollo Bay:

Rev. Dear Father:—We are assembled today on this rare occasion to do honor to you by participating in this, your first jubilee or twenty-fifth anniversary of your elevation to the Divine Priesthood.

This holding of a jubilee was a custom among the Hebrews of ancient times every fifty years in atonement for their evil deeds and also as a celebration for their deliverance therefrom.

Later on the Catholic Church adopted this custom by holding a jubilee every twenty-five years that a priest labored in His Master's Vineyard, and endowed it with unusual privileges. It is in accordance with this custom you are today celebrating your jubilee.

As we glance back over this period of your priesthood, we find that after your ordination you spent some time attached to the Basilica of St. Dunstan's, a period as curate in Summerside, and also a very short time at St. Peter's Bay; finally you were transferred to Rollo Bay as curate with Rev. Dr. Walker, but in a short time the Rev. Dr. had to retire owing to ill health and you were appointed to the pastorate in his place, where you have labored ever since.

In the administration of the affairs of the parish you have made a great success, your first undertaking was the building of the present church which in itself is a monument to your prudence and zeal; next with the splendid cooperation of the residents there, together with some voluntary aid from outside, you built a small church at New Zealand which is now recognized as a real gift from God to those people far removed from St. Alexis; you next remodelled the parochial house, repaired the outbuildings, built a grotto in the cemetery as a monument to the dear departed Rev. Dr. Walker; transformed the cemetery from what appeared a neglected spot to be one of the most beautiful cemeteries in the diocese, and painted the church and out buildings.

Whilst doing all this material work, you have never neglected the spiritual affairs of your flock. Your very eloquent sermons, your Lenten devotions, your great zeal for the frequent reception of the Sacraments by the parishioners, your kind and loving attention to the children in the teaching of Christian Doctrine, and above all, your great charity to the needy, can never be forgotten.

After enumerating all these good deeds we are prompted to say as did Wordsworth of John Milton:

'Thy soul was like a star and dwelt apart,
Thou hadst a voice whose sound was like the sea—
Pure as the naked heavens, majestic, free,
So didst thou travel on life's common way,
In cheerful godliness; and yet thy heart
The lowliest duties on herself did lay."

Now dear Father, in conclusion we thank God for having preserved you to us thus far and we offer up a fervent prayer that you may be long spared to us that we may celebrate again another jubilee with you.

With our prayers we ask you to accept this jubilee gift, asking of you in return, your prayers.

Signed on behalf of the parish.
A. F. PETERS,
PETER CONNOLLY.

Dr. J. A. McMillan Chief Speaker At Hospital Conference

CAMPBELLTON, Aug. 20—The 25th anniversary of the Maritime Conference of the Catholic Hospital Association is being marked at the Hotel Dieu here. The sessions will come to a close today with a program of entertainment and will be followed by meetings of the executive.

The convention opened with solemn high mass celebrated by Msgr. Joseph Trudel, representing Bishop C. A. LeBlanc of Bathurst, who was ill. The address was delivered by Rev. J. B. Nearing, spiritual director of the association. Sessions were formally opened at the hospital, with addresses of welcome from Msgr. Trudell, Very Rev. J. A. Poirier, Rev. R. M. Hickey and Mayor L. E. Renault, on behalf of the town. Greetings were also read from the Catholic Hospital Association, Catholic Hospital Council of Canada and various provincial Catholic conferences, most of which had representatives at the Maritime group meeting. A welcome on behalf of the Hotel Dieu of Campbellton was voiced by the hospital chaplain, Rev. C. D'Amour.

Among the noted hospital administrators, doctors and clergy in attendance were Rev. H. J. Bertrand, S.J., president of the Catholic Hospital Council of Canada; Rev. J. B. Nearing, association chaplain; Msgr McGillivray, Sydney, N.S.; Rev. V. Germain, noted author and speaker; Father Sansom, S.J., Brooklyn, N. Y., internationally known psychiatrist, Mother Jeanne De Chantal, Sillery; Mother Ste. Marie, administrator of St. Michael's Hospital, Que.; Sister Gerard Majella, Quebec; Sister St. Mary Madeline, Levis.

Dr. J. A. Clark, Charlottetown, president of the Maritime Hospital Association extended greetings to the convention.

Dr. Joseph A. MacMillan, of Charlottetown principal speaker at the opening sessions, addressed the convention on the "Future of Hospitals." He declared that many changes had taken place in hospital set-up and administration and said that "we must all take part in the changes." Hospital accommodations today were often inadequate, he said, giving three reasons:

1. The public is now more hospital conscious than ever before.
2. Hospital care is the cheapest possible when sick.
3. All scientific improvements are now available in hospitals.

Delivering Series Of Lectures Here

Mr. Ross Woodman, lecturer in English literature at the University of Manitoba is spending a few days in the city of Charlottetown where he is delivering lectures on the Baha'i world faith.

Mr. Woodman is a native of Nova Scotia, received his degree in Arts at the University of British Columbia and is now continuing in graduate studies at the University of Manitoba where he is also a member of the faculty.

Throughout the war, while serving as an air gunner in the R. C. A. F. and the period that followed the end of hostilities, Mr. Woodman has been a keen student of international affairs. He has dedicated much time and energy to seek out a universal basis for world order and world peace.

In an interview, Mr. Woodman stated: "The reality of our time is the reality of world oneness. Unless we, as individuals and as members of society, can make the adjustment to the new world environment, we cannot possibly survive in an atomic age. World peace demands some drastic changes in our thinking. Anything short of world consciousness and world citizenship will not suffice. All else has been rendered obsolete. The majority of people today are ghosts wandering in a dead world."

Mr. Woodman speaks at the Charlottetown Hotel this evening.
