LOCAL BOARD OF TRADE HOLDS QUARTERLY MEETING

Mr. J. E. Sinclair, M. P. is present and explains many matters of Vital Import. —Restricted Area Proposal is Discussed.

The quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade was held in their Rooms, Market Building, last evening. There was a large attendance of members and President Gordon occupied the chair. Opening the meeting Mr. Gordon announced that Hon. J. E. Sinclair was present and extended him a hearty welcome which was endorsed by all the members present. The minutes of the previous meetings were read and confirmed. The Secretary read a number of letters received by him with reference to the proposal to have the Gaspé Trader placed on a service between New Brunswick and P. E. Island. Mr. Sinclair, on being asked for his opinion of how the matter stood said that the delegation had taken the matter up with the Minister of Trade and Commerce Mr. Ellis was there and he was very emphatic in saying that he would require $15,000 to undertake the route and the Minister did not see his way clear to offer encouragement for a subsidy of that size. Those men who were interested in schooners plying between those ports of Northern New Brunswick and the Island had filed a protest with the Minister against interference with their trade but that was not of any weight in influencing the Minister. The fact was that estimates for this year are now tabulated. Supplementary estimates will be tabled at the latter part of the Session, but it is very rarely that anything new is incorporated in them. The Minister will have the matter under consideration and if it is possible to take care of it in the Estimates it will be done but no encouragement could be held out and Mr. Ellis was pronounced in the fact that he could not consider any lower figure to start the route. He, however, stated that he had an offer of three different charters for the boat and after they were carried out he might make a few trial trips to see how the route would develop. The Minister did say that although it was too late to have any action taken in this year's estimates the matter would be before the Department and if it was required it might be taken up again next year in answer to some questions asked Mr. Sinclair stated that the Murray Transport Company was not receiving any subsidy although they had asked for one. No action was taken in this matter either.

The Secretary read a letter from the Hochelaga Shipping and Towing Company asking the Board of Trade for its opinion of the same rates for the Service between Pictou and Charlottetown as prevailed last year. This entailed considerable discussion, some of the members being of the opinion that the rates were rather high and that a reduction would mean a considerable increase in the trade. It was decided to write the Company and ask for lower rates and also to ask for a personal interview. A further communication from this Company asking for the support of the Board on the matter of having an additional coupon attached to tickets ensuring a through ticket for Prince Edward Island and Maritime ports which would be valid on the Pictou and Charlottetown service was read. This matter was endorsed by the Board on the motion of Mr. Mutch, seconded by Mr. Buntain.

Reports of Committees were then tabled. The Time table Committee reported progress in the matter of the revised timetable. The Member

Geneva Arms Conference

(Special to the Guardian)
OTTAWA, Ont., The question of Canada's representative at the Geneva Arms Conference, to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations in May, will probably be decided next week. The Dominion will undoubtedly be represented and it is not unlikely that Col. David Carnegie at present in London will be asked to act as Canada's representative.

It was decided to write Mr. Sinclair on the matter when he returns. Mr. James Paton moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Sinclair for the splendid manner in which he described the various matters to the Board and to his kindness in answering questions. He referred to a letter which he had written Mr. Sinclair with regard to our trout streams, poaching of which has become very prevalent. The motion was seconded by Mr. Mutch and was unanimously endorsed. Mr. Sinclair thanked them for their kindness and attention and assured them of his heartfelt endeavors in their behalf.

Referring to the fact stated by Mr. Paton that poaching was going on in the trout streams, Mr. Higgins stated that recently he had learned that two men had gone to a certain River and had used lights at night with the result that they obtained a broad bag full of trout. Mr. Paton also stated that he knew of cases where dynamite was used in the rivers and streams. These matters, it was felt, required attention. Mr. Cotton mentioned that a means might be devised whereby the conductors on trains to Toronto might issue landing checks for the Car ferry and thus save tourists and travellers the necessity of waiting at the Purser's office for them. On motion of Mr. Paton the meeting adjourned.

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, April 8.—The Government now ruling Hungary is not only a menace to that country but to the peace of Europe, which will be plunged into a series of wars before many years if the present Hungarian ministrations continue in power, declared Count Karolyi, former President of Hungary, to several newspapermen here this morning in the Windsor Hotel, where he and Countess Karolyi are staying prior to their departure tomorrow night for St. John, N. B., from whence they will sail for England. Prefacing his interview with a statement that he had "been waiting for three months to speak" Count Karolyi painted a gloomy picture of political conditions in Hungary, affirming the Government which had made him a "political exile" and had consistently "persecuted" him "because as he admitted he was an extremely radical" was threatening the whole of Europe not only with another war but with a series of wars which would be none the less bitter owing to their "political origin."

P.W.C. Hall Filled to Capacity Yesterday Forenoon and Evening in Second Days Proceedings

Yesterday forenoon the Assembly Hall of P. W. College was filled to capacity with teachers eager to participate in the second days proceedings of the P. E. I. Teachers' Federation. After the minutes of the former meeting were read Mr. Morrissey of Queen Square who with Miss Ramsay of Summerside was a delegate to the C. T. En route the two hundred teachers from Eastern Canada were royally entertained. Miss Agnes Ramsay of the Summerside High School reported the meeting which was the fifth annual C. T. F. Convention. TIME TO PUT TH' RABBITS IN TH' CHICKEN COOP

Principal East Royalty School, Mr. President and Fellow Teachers: I have been asked to prepare a paper on discipline and in as going to a form as possible, I am content to state my points of view as regards disciplining a school. To begin with the greatest problem a teacher confronts the young teacher of today is the art of managing a school and keeping it under control. No matter how clever a teacher may be, nor how brilliant his college career may have been if he fails as a disciplinarian, in the end the teaching profession to him will be an absolute failure. A teacher at all times should demand strict obedience from his pupils. In making rules relative to school discipline, he should give them his deepest consideration, and be prepared to enforce them no matter what the consequence may be to himself, for every time a teacher retreats a rule or an order which he has laid down he certainly weakens his own authority. Again, as a form of discipline some teachers resort to sarcasm and making the pupil the subject of ridicule in order to humiliate him in the eyes of the others. This is very dangerous ground for a teacher, for two reasons. Pupils are of two classes those of a sensitive nature and those of a bolder and bolder nature. On the former a sarcastic scolding may have the effect to hurt the feelings beyond conception, and weaken his self-respect for years, whereas on the latter it falls harmless, and gives no impression whatever. Then again there is the immediate danger of a teacher addicted to such a strain of mind of becoming personal in his remarks and if he does he soon finds himself in endless trouble with the parents of those children. Never call a child a dunce, a blockhead or any other such names which have a tendency to lower his intellectual standing in the class room. Now I wish to ask a question. In the mind of every teacher, what is the real safeguard that constitutes to make good and happy discipline in a school. I think the answer is quite evident, that is keep the pupil's time filled with work, keep him busy. Have your time table so

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

In the Legislature yesterday forenoon, Mr. Saunders asked the Minister of Public Works "What work was done on the Abolition Bridge at Tryon? Who was the contractor, if any? Was the work done by tender or by day's work? If by contract, how much? If by day's work, the name of the person in charge? The names of all the employees on said work and how much was paid per day to each? Names of persons supplying timber and the quantity of timber supplied. Was it supplied by contract? If so, how much? Was any surplus timber sold? If so, for what price? And what quantity sold, and who was the purchaser?" Hon. Mr. McDonald replied that a statement was being prepared. Mr. Saunders also asked the Minister of Public Works: "Has any claim been made by Wesley Palmer or any other person of Freeland, Lot 11, for loss sustained by him, in having his property greatly injured by cutting away a large portion of his property in front of his garage in connection with the Highway Improvement Act; if so, is it the intention of the Government to make any compensation to Mr. Palmer; and if so, to what extent?" Hon. Mr. McDonald replied that the Engineer had reported that no damage was done to the property referred to, and therefore the claim for damage could not be entertained. Mr. Saunders asked also: Did Mr. F. J. Shea of Waterford, Lot 1,

POSTAL FUNDS WERE HIDDEN IN THE STOVE

Extraordinary Conditions are Shown in Inspection in Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 8.—A tragedy of errors is the only name for the story related by Sir John Crossie, Minister of Finance and Customs in the House of Assembly in connection with the conditions found existing in the postal service. Following the election of the present Government, an investigation was held as a result of which several officials were suspended. In eighty offices inspected, a shortage was found of about $28,000, and the out-going administration; it was reported, had left about $88,000 worth of bills in the Postal Telegraphs to be paid. The Minister vividly described two offices which he had personally inspected, he found that a clerk in the Humber area had handed as much as $265,000 in eight months, his only assistant being a boy. His daily issue of money orders was sometimes for an amount of $15,000, and frequently he had on hand $8,000 or $10,000 in cash. He had asked headquarters again and again for a safe, but his request was refused, and in order to guard the cash the distracted official concealed it in a disused stove, in a biscuit box under a heap of rubbish, in holes in the walls and floor, and some of it he buried in the ground. This man was receiving a salary of $75 a month. His shortage was $7,000. The Minister expressed the belief that he was the most honest man in the service. In another case in the same area, a postal clerk who never had been officially appointed handled under similar conditions $372,000 in about two years, and although his shortage appeared to be about $10,000, there was nothing to indicate that it was due to dishonesty. To this official, headquarters eventually gave a safe of which everyone in the office had a key. Until that safe arrived the best repository for the cash was a corner of the office where the money lay hidden under an accumulation of rubbish and mail bags. He, too, will probably receive a clean bill of health. In fact the Minister himself declared that these officials deserved a "Victoria Cross."
