Death Last Night of Vincent (Lefty) McQuaid

Vincent "Lefty" McQuaid, 43, well known former Charlottetown athlete, died last night at his home, 207 Sydney Street. He suffered a heart attack and died suddenly.

Lefty was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter McQuaid. Five sisters and four brothers survive.

He was educated at Queen Square School and St. Dunstan's University. For a time he conducted a grocery store and for the past several years had been in the insurance business, representing the North American Life.

Although Mr. McQuaid participated in various branches of sport, it was in baseball that he shined. He was outstanding as a pitcher, and this spring had undertaken to instruct a group of youngsters in the finer points of baseball. His sudden passing will come as a great shock not only to his immediate family, but to a very wide circle of friends.

He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Rev. Sister St. Elizabeth of the Visitation, St. Joseph's Convent; Rev. Patrick McQuaid, Vancouver Island; Mrs. F.E. Murphy, Emerald Junction; Agnes McQuaid, and Peter McQuaid, both of Charlottetown; John McQuaid, Vernon River; Mrs. Roland Ooady, St. Avars; Philip McQuaid, also of Charlottetown; and Rev. Sister St. Patrick of the Visitation St. Joseph's Convent.

Funeral arrangements were not completed last night.

Can See Results From Drive To Control Cancer, Campaign Workers Told

"Our duty and responsibility is to save lives through education, and I can see results of the education in this Province to control cancer," declared Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E., President of the Canadian Cancer Society, last night. He was speaking at a dinner meeting to open the 1949 Cancer Campaign attended by the workers of the "Special Names" division and made a number of his characteristically splendid addresses.

Stating that he was one of the founders and first National Directors of the Canadian Cancer Society, Dr. MacMillan traced the history and work of the organization since its inception in Toronto in 1937 to the present day.

He said cancer was a far more serious problem than the public realizes but we have made considerable progress in this Province. Cancer clinics are now functioning at both hospitals in Charlottetown and in the Prince County Hospital. Dr. Hooper is away taking a two-year course to enable him to become Director of Cancer Control for the Province. Diagnosis is free when the patient is referred by the family doctor.

More people are now going to the doctor to be examined than ever before due to the educational program of the Canadian Cancer Society—"and we see many people who have not got cancer. However we are still seeing cases that did not come early enough and this means we must increase our efforts to educate our people. Few months is the difference between life and death. Through our advertising we are getting more people to the doctors to see about cancer and money can't be spent in a better way. We are fighting a disease that is still increasing despite all that has been done," concluded Dr. MacMillan.

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E., Pres. Canadian Cancer Society.

"GIVE TO CONQUER CANCER"

"I give you four words, fellow workers, 'Give To Conquer Cancer' as these are to be our campaign slogan, and are words that may mean so much to so many," declared Major T. B. Rogers, Provincial chairman of the Cancer Campaign, in opening an excellent address last night.

"It has been said many times that 'It takes money to make money'. In explanation, may I remark that the Department of Health has generously provided for examination and for the early diagnosis of cancer, but it is our job to locate the cases for treatment, and if our people can be educated to the need of early diagnosis and treatment, then many, many cures can be effected, and untold hours, months and years of horrible pain and suffering can be avoided. Therefore, it becomes necessary to spend money on this education, and gentlemen, an organization such as ours, The Canadian Cancer Society on Prince Edward Island, has to function, and work has to be done by someone.

"You are all busy men and none have the time to spend travelling Prince Edward Island from East to West lecturing, and constructing and preparing the advertising and publicity material necessary for our purpose, and this makes the employment of a whole time director imperative. We are fortunate in having a man, Mr. James MacInnis, who is fully qualified as an organizer, having extensive newspaper and advertising experience. Mr. MacInnis has been employed by us now for three years and if you will examine the facts as published in the pamphlets distributed, I am sure you will agree our efforts have been encouraging.

"When the T. B. League was first organized, this dread disease was so feared to mention, and the mere thought of it was distasteful, but today through education, the death rate from T.B. has declined from 116 per 100,000 to 36.5 per 100,000 deaths in twenty years.

"Tuberculosis has been conquered or will be conquered, and full credit should go to those untiring workers who have and are continuing to educate the people and influence the Government to assist in the cost of education and treatment of T. B. cases.

"This then is our job: to do our utmost to accomplish for cancer victims what has been accomplished for tuberculosis patients. Money is necessary, and I feel certain that if our needs are presented properly to the public, the small objective of $10,000 for Prince Edward Island will be cheerfully reached. Any individual who has watched an advanced case of cancer suffer, and very few on Prince Edward Island have not experienced this ordeal, should be most ready to contribute to a cause which will induce early diagnosis, thus saving their or other people's loved ones such useless and unnecessary pain and suffering.

"Again I give you these four words: 'Give To Conquer Cancer'."

The meeting was held at the Charlottetown Hotel and was presided over by Mr. F. M. Troop, chairman of Special Names, and

Round Dozen Fined Under Fisheries Act

A case under the Fisheries Act was heard before Stipendiary Magistrate Joseph W. MacDonald in the Court House on Friday last. Members of the Fisheries Department present were Mr. Peter MacLennan and Mr. Johnson of Souris and Mr. P. Sinclair of Montague. The case arose from an information laid by a resident of Lower Montague against eleven fishermen from Georgetown, Lower Montague Sturgeon and Panmure Island. The information alleged that the men mentioned were on the fishing grounds with fishing gear in their boats before five o'clock on the morning of April 30th, in violation to regulations under the Fisheries Act. Convictions were obtained against the eleven men and a fine of $25 and costs of $120 was imposed. The seriousness of the offence was emphasized by Magistrate MacDonald when it was shown that under the Act the maximum fine was $1,000 and in some instances the boat and lobster gear would also be confiscated. An unusual situation, novel in court history here then took place, when the eleven men defendants in this case swore out an information alleging a similar offence by their informant and this man was thereupon fined a like amount of $25.00 and $120 costs.

Supreme Court At Georgetown

Three cases were on the docket at an adjourned February sitting of the Supreme Court held yesterday morning at Georgetown, with Mr. Justice Tweedy presiding.

MacPhee, K.C., representing the respondent.

Two civil jury cases, J. P. Porter & Co. Ltd. being the defendant in both, were settled out of court by a signed agreement filed in the Port Authority's office in Charlottetown. Kenneth Beck is the plaintiff in the first one, Alexander Acorn in the second. Beck was represented by Mr. J. B. Johnston, with Mr. MacKinnon as counsel for Acorn. R. B. Bell, K. C. was defence counsel in both instances for the
