Colds Leave Impurities in the Blood

That is one reason why you are often tired, listless and weak after a cold. To dispense these impurities, take a bottle or two of Fellows' Syrup Compound of Hypophosphites. Fellows' Syrup contains the "Vital 3" (calcium, phosphorus, iron) and other blood purifiers. This science has proved to be effective in helping to reduce blood impurities. It aids in enriching the blood corpuscles with new energy and vitality.

The restorative effect of the "Vital 3" on blood, nerves, muscles and bones is so vigorous that you'll surprise yourself with your quick "pick-up" after taking a bottle or two of Fellows' Syrup. 28c

Conviction Is Quashed In Supreme Court

The appeal case of Jerry Redmond and William Millman, appellants and George W. Oliver, police officer of the town of Alberton, respondent, occupied the attention of the Supreme Court all day Monday at Summerside, Mr. Justice Saunders presiding.

The two boys were convicted by the Magistrate of Alberton, Edmund L. Thompson, under a town by-law for that they did on the 5th day of Sept. A. D. 1934 at Alberton unlawfully appear in a public place within the town after 11 o'clock P. M. and were unable or refused to give a satisfactory account of themselves when questioned by the police officer George W. Oliver and were fined $15.00 each or in default of payment to be imprisoned forty days in the County Jail. From this judgment the two boys appealed to the Supreme Court.

They had been residents of Alberton all their lives and several witnesses testified as to their general good character. There were two witnesses examined for the respondent and six witnesses on the part of the appellants. His Lordship after hearing all the evidence held that their arrest and conviction was not justified and quashed the conviction appealed from with costs.

Health strong, K.C. and Wilfred Tanton for the appellants and Thang Campbell, K.C. for the respondent. The court adjourned until this morning.

Surprise Party At Borden

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Nov. 20th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. MacDonald, Borden, when a surprise party was given by her classmates in honor of Miss Myrtle Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Murray who are leaving Borden shortly to take up their residence in Summerside. An address was read by Miss Jean McAleer and a lovely toilet set was presented by Miss Margaret MacDonald. The young ladies spent the evening by playing auction, the prizes being won by Myrtle Murray also games and dancing. A delicious lunch was served by a number of young ladies. The party ended by the singing of "For she's a Jolly Good Fellow." All departed wishing Myrtle every happiness in her new home.

To Miss Myrtle Murray, Dear Myrtle, Borden. We are gathered here tonight your friends and schoolmates to express our sincere regret at your departure from Borden, and also to wish you happiness in your new home.

But while wishing you God speed on your way we hope that amid new friends and pleasures you will not forget old friends and schoolmates of Borden.

Your future be bright and happy and we tender you this little gift as a token of our esteem. May good luck and happy days attend you forever and we hope to have the pleasure of your presence among us again. This is the heartfelt wish of one and all your old friends.

Signed on behalf of your schoolmates.—8

FINDING VOTE USELESS TOOL

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Dec. 3—A survey of European countries from the feminist point of view was made by Mrs. H. Skeffington, noted Irish writer and political worker, who addressed a meeting of the Canadian Alliance for Women's Vote in Quebec.

In many countries where women fought for and obtained the vote, Mrs. Skeffington said, they now found themselves with a useless tool. Democratic institutions having proved unable to cure the world of its ills, several nations had voluntarily abandoned universal suffrage or else had reduced it to a farce, she said in the report.

Women of Germany, Austria and Italy, as a result of dictatorships, had lost the political freedom gained after the Great War.

Spanish women, admitted overnight to complete equality at least theoretically, had, in Mrs. Skeffington's opinion, demonstrated that too sudden victory might defeat its purpose. In Belgium, although not allowed to vote, women might be candidates for election. Mrs. Skeffington declared that in this country, as in France, women's enfranchisement had been retarded by fear on the part of the Socialists that their vote might be influenced by the Church. The Scandinavian countries had always been generous to their women, who had long been on an equal footing.

Woman had made herself a place in business, industry and the professions. She had always had a place in arts, literature and the theatre. "But," Mrs. Skeffington concluded, "the industrial system exploits women. If man is a 'wage slave' woman is the slave of a slave."

Kellogg's Achieve Scoop With Historic Picture

London, Ontario (Special From London, England) November 30th, 1964.

The Kellogg's Company of Great Britain, Ltd., in conjunction with the London, England, Daily Mail, has secured special permission to feature an exclusive photograph of the actual wedding ceremony of Prince George and Princess Marina, taken inside Westminster Abbey.

For the first time in the history of the Daily Mail this front page will be devoted to news purposes. The photograph will occupy almost the entire front page, and an offer will be made of a beautiful photograph reproduction of the wedding scene in size 18" x 12". This will be sent free to anyone in Great Britain who sends in two packages tops from any of the Kellogg's cereals.

The Daily Mail will rush pictures direct from the wedding scene back to their offices for Kellogg's approval, and will then rush prints by aeroplane to Manchester, England, for their northern edition.

The Kellogg's Company's unique offer will reach the breakfast tables of over two million British families—the daily circulation of the Daily Mail. Kellogg plants are located in London, Ontario, Sydney, Australia, and Battle Creek, Michigan.

Peace in Europe may hinge on efforts of Pierre Laval, French minister of foreign affairs, to establish a workable understanding between the governments of France, Italy and Yugoslavia. Here he is shown surrounded by newspaper reporters as he emerged from a conference with President Leburin, in which he refused to form a cabinet in the place of the one which had resigned with Premier Doumergue. He said that he considered the ministry of foreign affairs more important at the moment than the post of premier.

Faces Gallows For "Mercy Murder" Of Imbecile Son

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) LEEDS, England, Dec. 2—Mrs. Mary Brownhill—62 years old, grey-haired and frail—today faced the gallows for the "mercy death" of her imbecile son.

A jury which needed only five minutes to find her guilty yesterday recommended that she be shown mercy.

The woman, after 30 years spent nursing her imbecile son Denis gave him 100 sedative tablets and Perfect attendance—Mary MacLean, Leona MacKay, Janet Stewart, John Livingstone, Catherine MacKay, Lester Livingstone.

She feared that Denis, left alone, would suffer what a physician called a "veritable living death." It was testified.

Norman Birkett, K. C., one of the ablest pleaders at the bar, represented the tiny mother.

She showed no hate, Birkett argued, only undying devotion and therefore he asked the jury "to arrest the law a little, do a little wrong in order to do a greater good."

Mr. Justice Goddard, in charging the jury, commented that the time may come "when there will be a law in this country that an imbecile may be sent to a merciful death."

The jury's verdict of guilty, with recommendation of mercy, was returned in five minutes. Mrs. Brownhill heard it stoically, head erect. Asked if she wished to address the court, she said "I did it in mercy." Many in the courtroom wept.

It was testified that the woman had been told she could live only six months unless she underwent an extremely dangerous operation. She put her son to death painlessly, and the next day told her family doctor "I've just put Denis to sleep."

That was the answer she gave toa, when police charged her with malicious and wilful murder.

Grounding Of Freighter Not Due To Tides

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Dec. 3—No abnormal tidal conditions were involved in the grounding of the Danish tramp steamship Slesvig on Quaco Ledge two weeks ago, an inquiry presided over by J. C. Chesley, marine agent, found here today.

Sitting with Mr. Chesley were Captain A. J. Mulcahy, Captain M. J. McLean, of C. G. S. Laurentian and Captain H. P. Morrissey, resident engineer of the Marine Department, was present in an advisory capacity.

The following statement was made by Mr. Chesley at the conclusion of the inquiry:

"Proper allowance was not made for the set of the tides, in consequence of which the ship was set 11 miles northward of her course. No abnormal tidal conditions were involved in this case. Allowance must be made for tides everywhere in the world. The strength and direction of the tides in the Bay of Fundy are given in Canadian and admiralty charts and in the book of tidal survey, of the Bay of Fundy, which are available at all Canadian ports."

Evidence was taken from only two witnesses, the Slesvig's first officer, Peter Nielsen, and her second officer, Peter Harbo, who was on the bridge when the 1,420-ton freighter ran aground at 12.40 a.m. November 18. The ship was damaged to the extent of approximately $40,000.

British Citizenship Is Questioned

(C. P. Cable by Guardian's Special Wire)

DERBY, England, Dec. 3—Differences of opinion were evidence today between the secretary for the Dominions J. H. Thomas and President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State over the status of citizenship within the Empire.

Mr. Thomas said in a speech here Saturday that with few exceptions anyone born within the Dominions was a British subject. It was a status based on allegiance to the crown. The citizenship bill now before the Dail in Dublin could not deprive anyone of that status, he added.

(President de Valera told the Dail last week in debate that after the Free State's new citizenship bill becomes law "nobody in the Free State will be a British subject.")

Nobody questioned the right of the Free State to define "Free State citizens," said Mr. Thomas but that was quite different, he maintained, from taking away the status of a British subject from anyone who possessed it. When de Valera said it would be an "impertinence" if the British claimed as citizens of their country persons who obviously were citizens of another country he must have misunderstood our position, the Dominions' Secretary continued.
