

Catarrh Conquered

You know the loathsome offensiveness of a bad case of catarrh. You know that catarrh very often works its way down to the lungs, ending, perhaps, in consumption. You know that, even before it becomes severe or chronic, catarrh is most disagreeable.

Why, then, let it run on, gradually getting worse? Possibly, like hundreds of others, you have been unable to find a cure that really cures. Then you haven't tried

Father Morrissey No. 26

This remarkably effective remedy, prescribed by the famous priest-physician, combines the advantages of both external and internal treatment. It includes tablets to purify the blood and a healing, strongly antiseptic salve to be applied inside the nostrils, directly to the affected parts.

Even chronic catarrh soon yields to this combined treatment. The discharge is stopped, the diseased membrane healed, and colds no longer follow one another with monotonous regularity. Don't let that catarrh run on—get Father Morrissey's No. 26 and cure it.

AMUSEMENT IS A DAILY NECESSITY

In a vigorous address recently before the Women's Canadian Club, of St. John, Rev. Dr. Magill of Halifax, defended the necessity of amusements under the modern conditions of life. He said that a man who worked hard all day required his relaxation in the evening and if he could not get it clean he would take it dirty. He urged that it was the duty of the ladies of that city to see that the Nickel and other show houses were well ventilated. Conditions physically and morally should be up to a high standard. Dr. Magill also touched upon the questions of the milk and water supply and the slum quarters.

Dr. Magill said that the problems of the cities we live in are more important to us than dominion politics. This was because they touched us upon all sides and were intimately connected with our daily lives, and the problems of the cities were the real problems of the nation. The most important question was that of health and under this head Dr. Magill spoke of the water and milk supplies and the necessity of guarding them from contamination.

England last year, the speaker said, boasted the lowest mortality of any modern nation as well as the lowest in her history. This result was not brought about by mere chance but by untiring watchfulness on the part of those who were entrusted with the task of looking after the sanitation of the cities and towns. Another problem of the city was found in the housing of the people. The finding of better tenements for the poor and the weeding out of cramped and crowded quarters.

Passing on to speak of amusements of the people, Dr. Magill said it was fashionable nowadays to denounce these. It was important, however, to remember that everything was legitimate so long as it was not abused and was under proper supervision. The features that had to be guarded against in amusement were impure air and immorality. The reason why the respectable part of the community so seldom visit amusement halls was because the management too often catered to the tastes of the lowest section of the people. Amusement, he contended, is an essential part of modern life and the best thing the ladies of St. John could do was to see that the Nickel and other shows were up to a proper physical and moral standard. "You can't preach puritanism today," continued Dr. Magill. "It is sheer tommyrot to attempt to do so." Amusements are necessary and had better be so from the first. The man who works all day requires to spend his evening in relaxation and if he can't find his amusement clean he will take it dirty.

Dr. Magill next touched upon the cost of living. The reason the cost had gone up, he said, was that the people were demanding more. "The standard of living and of taste has advanced. The worker today lives in the style of the merchant of 100 years ago. The merchant of today as the aristocracy of 100 years ago, while the aristocracy of today live in a state of luxury which even the Great Hercules never dreamed of. Taxes represent a higher civilization. We can't have electric lighting and water systems with all the comforts of modern life everywhere are finding it hard to pay bills. In England co-operative stores had been established until in a few years time the whole retail business of the country will be in their hands. Many municipalities own their own lighting plant, supplying the service at the mere cost of production. Gas costs, in most parts of England, half a crown or about 60 cents per 1,000 feet. It costs more in St. John. Many towns in England also control their systems of street railways and efforts are being made to lighten the burdens of the workman all along the line. The lecturer is appealing to America and is being taken up by many of the cities here.

When the Giants finished second in 1894 and then won the Temple cup from the champion Baltimore in the post season series Jonett Meekin and fans by their wonderful pitching. Meekin led with a percentage of 79.4 for forty-seven games, but Rusie was not far behind him. Rusie, for that matter, was generally regarded at that time as the best pitcher in the country, and he led the league in 1897 with percentage of 78.4 for thirty-seven games. Hoffer of the Baltimore topped the pitchers in 1895 and 1896. In the former season he pitched thirty seven games for 78.1 and in the latter he took part in thirty-five games for 82.3.
Lewis of the Boston led in 1898 with 34 games and 75.7, and Jimmie Hughes, a Californian dug up by Ned Hanlon, helped the Brooklyn to win the pennant in 1899 with a record of thirty-four games and a percentage of 82.3. It was in the following year that from Man McMinnity attracted much attention by pitching forty-one games for 76.9 for the Brooklyn, who won the pennant again. Then Happy Jack Chesbro led the league in 1901 and 1902 while a member of the Pittsburghs, his records being thirty games and 70.0, and thirty-three games and 81.8 respectively. Led when a number of the Highlanders Chesbro hung up a record of fourteen consecutive victories, which was equalled by Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs last year. Clark Griffith, led the American League twirlers with thirty-one games and a percentage of 77.4.
Sam Lever of the Pittsburghs was the National League's star pitcher in 1903 with thirty-six games and a percentage of 78.1. Llever was with the Pirates last year, but his days appeared to be nearly over. McMinnity pitched fifty-one games for the Giants in 1904 and won 81.4 per cent of them. Mathewson the same year worked in forty-eight games for 73.3 and the Giants won the pennant with 106 victories, forty-seven defeats and 63.3 per cent. Llever of Pittsburgh led in 1905 with thirty-three games and 80.0...
The Chicago Cubs won three pennants in succession after that, and each year with thirty-three games and 82.8, twenty-seven games and 81.0 for thirty-one games and 77.4. Last year Mathewson and H. Cannitz, the Pittsburgh slab man, were tied for first honors in the National League with thirty-seven and forty-one games respectively and a percentage of 39.6. Mullin of the Detroit Tigers was the leading American League pitcher with 75.4 for thirty seven games.

ments of the people, Dr. Magill said it was fashionable nowadays to denounce these. It was important, however, to remember that everything was legitimate so long as it was not abused and was under proper supervision. The lecturer is appealing to America and is being taken up by many of the cities here.

The last problem touched upon was that presented by the slum. The city had attracted, and would continue to attract, many thousands of the population. From one cause or another a proportion of these, both men and women, find their way into the slums. The lecturer asked those present if they had ever thought of conditions in the slums of such cities as Toronto, Montreal, Halifax and St. John, of pain and poison to be found there. The hell of Dante was cruel, said the speaker, but it was not half so cruel as the slum. He asked what was being done here to better these conditions and spoke of the probable condition of the city if all the forces that make for righteousness were taken out of it.

At the conclusion a vote of thanks to the lecturer was proposed and seconded.

Editor Guardian—
A short time ago a bill was placed before our Local Parliament and, later, passed, vesting certain church properties in Prince County in the Church of Scotland. Among the properties described is a acre of land at Wilmot Creek, known as the Wilmot Cemetery, held in peaceable possession by the people of that locality for over sixty years, and used by various denominations as a burial place for their departed dead; also half an acre of land located at St. John with a church building thereon. The owners of both these properties were never at any time under government or jurisdiction of the Church of Scotland and were not consulted in the matter of transferring the properties. The parties whose names appear as trustees, headed by a minister of the Church of Scotland, never had at any time any right, title or interest in these properties. The transaction appears to have been concocted in a mysterious manner and got through Parliament without the knowledge or consent of the real owners of the properties who, if they had known it, would have taken steps to oppose it. Doubtless they will now, that their attention has been called to it, take the first opportunity of having the matter rectified.

Yours,
JOHN DICKIESON,
Summerside.

A MIRACLE IN MANITOBA

CAPTAIN BANISTER STRICKEN WHILE IN CAMP

HAD TO BE CARRIED TO TRAIN, HELPLESS IN BED FOR SIX WEEKS

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" COMPLETELY CURED HIM AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Captain Banister's letter reads like a page from the History of Miracles. It is one of the strongest endorsements ever given to any medicine in the world.
Captain Nelson Banister of Oak Lake is known from one end of Manitoba to the other—in fact, throughout Western Canada. Naturally, the letter of such a prominent citizen and officer is bound to carry convincing weight with all thinking people.
"Fully appreciating the great benefits that I have derived from using your wonderful remedy, I feel it is my duty to write you a little history of my case and ask you to publish it, for the good of some others that may be today suffering from the complaint that I am happy to say, 'Fruit-a-tives' completely cured me of."
About two years ago, while in Camp at Brandon with "A" Squadron, 12th Manitoba Dragoons, I was stricken with Sciatica and Neuralgia of the muscles of the heart. I was so bad that I had to be carried to the train and sent home, and after being again carried from the train to my bed on arrival at Oak Lake, I was forced to stay there six weeks. Doctoring and nursing in time enabled me to get on my feet, but I could do no work, and was almost as helpless as when confined to bed. A sample of "Fruit-a-tives" came to our house about that time and I tried them. Believe me—that from the first dose I experienced great relief and continued taking them until I was as well and strong as ever. This satisfactory change and restoration to health, I attribute wholly to "Fruit-a-tives", and I never miss a chance to recommend them to my friends and neighbors.
Previous to taking "Fruit-a-tives", my heart was examined by doctors and found to be so weak that it was considered unsafe for me to take chloroform, or any anæsthetic, but since taking "Fruit-a-tives", the heart has become so strong that I was able to have a minor operation on one of my hands and took chloroform without any ill effects. Today the whole family uses "Fruit-a-tives", we purchase them from Mr. Graham, our local druggist, keep them in the house all the time, and just simply could not get along without them. They are the best medicine in the world."
NIELSON BANISTER, (Capt. "A" Squadron, 12th Manitoba Dragoons.)

Truly, the days of the miracle have not passed away. When these small fruit tablets can do what physicians, with all their skill, cannot do, it does seem almost miraculous. Yet nothing is more logical and scientific than the medicinal action of "Fruit-a-tives".
Sciatica, Rheumatism and Neuralgia in any form are caused by poisoned blood.
It is the duty of the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin to rid the system of waste matter, or uræa. If any of these organs are weak, the waste matter stays in the system and is converted into uric acid.
It is uric acid which poisons the blood and inflames the delicate nerves, membranes and muscles, causing what is known as Rheumatism, Sciatica or Neuralgia.

"Fruit-a-tives" promptly cures these troubles because "Fruit-a-tives" cures the Bowels, Kidneys and Skin. "Fruit-a-tives" makes these three great eliminating organs well and strong. And when the waste of the body is regularly disposed of, there can be no excess of uric acid.
"Fruit-a-tives", as Captain Banister says, "is the best medicine in the world." It is made of fruit juices and valuable nerve and heart tonics, and is pleasant to take.

Sir:

If the "happy-go-lucky-slap-it-on-a-press-and-let-er-go" kind of advertising you are using is doing you some good doesn't it seem reasonable to suppose that "something different"—bright, convincing, thought-out and mailed regularly "direct" to your list will prove of much greater value?
