MOTHER AND BABY DAUGHTER LEAVE ARCTIC FOR YEAR

(By The Canadian Press)

EDMONTON, Sept. 2—The chill winds and low temperatures of the Arctic won't mean a thing this winter to Mrs. E. Paisley and her two year old daughter June who arrived in Edmonton recently to start a year's vacation with their home at Cambridge Bay on the southeast end of Victoria off the Beaufort Sea

It took them nearly two months to reach Edmonton from their northern home. They walked 10 miles along the rocky coast of Victoria Island with Eskimos carrying their luggage before they reached water sufficiently open to allow them to use an open boat with a kicker engine. Then they travelled for two days to where the Niglik, trading ship of Captain Paisley, had been frozen in when caught in the ice last fall.

A storm was blowing as they sighted the vessel and they had to lay to until the winds abated. 'We were out of food and had to sleep on the rock in the storm," said Mrs. Paisley. "When we did board the ship we were held ten days in the ice pack before we could get away to Coppermine to take the "place to Edmonton", they left their home on June 18, and arrived in Edmonton Aug. 16.

Little June was born at Cambridge Bay in the Arctic circle on Feb. 23, 1932. Her father has charge of the Canalaska Trading company's Arctic post there and skippers the trading ship Niglok, meaning Wild Goose in Eskimo.

The nearest doctor and the nearest white woman to the Paisley's home are at Aklavik, 1,000 miles away. June plays with the Eskimo children and consequently speaks more of their language than she does English.

Mrs. Paisley came from England to Canada when she was 16 years old. She met Captain Paisley, then a non-commissioned officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Edmonton and married him in 1930 at Vancouver. He accepted the post of arctic manager for the trading company and with his bride sailed from San Francisco to their new home, a journey of four months.

"Coal is $180 a ton at home," said Mrs. Paisley, "and in winter we wear Eskimo clothes made of sealskin with the fur next to our bodies."

All lumber, building supplies and fuel must be brought 1,000 miles to Cambridge Bay from Alaska. Mail arrives once a year by the R. C. M. P. dog teams and the only other white people at Cambridge Bay besides the Paisleys are two R. C. M. P. constables and two

The car loadings report showed an increase about in line with expectations but smaller than normal on a seasonal basis. Aussies Vote For Senate And House

(By The Canadian Press)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 2—The general elections to be held Sept. 15 are the ninth in Australia since 1918. Parliament is elected here for a term of three years, unlike in Canada, but even so the election is being called earlier than usual in order that political turmoil will not be raging during the visit of the Duke of Gloucester, third son of the King, for th egreat Victorian state centenary celebrations starting in October.

Australians vote for both the senate and the house of representatives. The senate has 36 seats, and members are elected for a six year term, approximately half the house being elected every three years. The house of representatives has 75 seats.

Premier Joseph A. Lyons' party did not gain a clear majority in either house in the 1931 elections. The results were:

Senate: United Australia Party 19, Country Party (government) 6; Independent 1; Labor 7; Extreme Labor 3. Combined government majority 16.

House of Representatives: United Australia Party 37; Country Party 16; Labor 14; Extreme Labor 5; Independent 3. Combined government majority 22.

The downfall of Labor in the federal field three years ago was followed by the ousting of Labor in state strongho'ds, notably in New South Wales whose Labor leader, J. W. Lang, has long been the stormy petrel of Australian politics. More recent votes however have clearly indicated a recovery in Labor strength, and expert observers decline to forecast an outright majority for the Lyons government in the forthcoming elections. A consensus would indicate the balance of power may be held either by the Country Party, as in the last house, or in the case of a Labor swing, by the extreme wing of the Labor party.

Voting is on the proportional representation system, with universal suffrage. This system naturally enables extremely close cooperation, the United Australia Party and the Country Party having concluded arrangements in virtually every constituency for instance where supporters of their candidates will be asked to mark their second-preference votes for the candidate of the other ally. In the case of senate elections, "teams" combined of the two parties have been selected.

ENDEAVOUR CHOICE OVER AMERICAN CONTENDER IN INTERNATIONAL YACHT CUP RACES

Persistency of Sopwith entry and crew in practice runs, over American course, arouse great English enthusiasm and confidence.

Commission brokers in America are handling large sums of money, to be wagered on outcome of American Yacht Cup races, to be held off Newport, Rhode Island, prevailing odds at 6 to 5, with England's entry as favorite.

Darnell Co., commission brokers, at 8 East 41st Street, New York City are keeping a close watch on activities on English entry in practice runs over proposed race course.

From present indications of crew handling and the race time, so far established, English followers are confident that this year "the late Tom Lipton's long sought effort to carry cup to England, will be accomplished this year by English syndicate, at prevailing odds, with Endeavour on long end.

UNEMPLOYED MEN MAKE PRESERVES

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1—Unemployed married men, temporarily ceasing their search for work, have applied their energies toward preparing supplies for the winter. In a community kitchen here, 24 men have been canning fruits and vegetables. Their wives were busy too, but they kept away from the community kitchen and instead, applied their skill in the making of winter garments at the Women's Community Centre.

More than 300 quarts of canned foods, including 15 jars of jelly were "put down" by the men. At first they received instructions from Miss G. Dutton, graduate in home economics of the Manitoba Agricultural College, but now they know the art of cooking tasty foods themselves.

HUDSON BAY TRIP THRILLS H. B. C. GOVERNOR' WIFE

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1—Wife of the first Hudson's Bay Company governor ever to sail into Churchill Manitoba's northern seaport on Hudson Bay, Mrs. Ashley Cooper who made the journey with her husband on the trading ship S. S. Nascopie, was more than thrilled by her sub-Arctic experiences.

She came to Winnipeg from Churchill by train. Being fogbound in the northern waters and locked in the crunching ice-floes for nine days were all part of Mrs. Cooper's trip. She was the only woman aboard the vessel when ti docked at Churchill, having lost her feminine company when two nurses disembarked at the Grenfell mission on the north Labrador coast.

The ship stopped at 14 posts on the way to Churchill from Montreal. On each occasion the little landing boat took off from the Nascopie with the governor's white flag flying at its stern and the governor's piper, a sergeant from the Royal Highlanders of Canada, skirling in the bow.

Mrs. Cooper was entertained with native games and dances at the various posts but her most vivid impression was of Eskimo kyak races. She said the the native managed to navigate their slim craft at a high rate of speed.

In the most northerly parts of the trip Mrs. Cooper was glad to wear her white doe skin boots and blanket coat, provided at one of the posts, but her going-ashore costume consisted of high leather boots, leather gloves and a mask of mosquite netting.

"I love it all," she said, "even the ice".

Anglicans Hope To Select Head As Snyod Meets

(By H. H. Gordon)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
(By The Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Sept. 2—Momentous questions affecting the life of the church at home and in its missionary dioceses abroad will come before the 13th session of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada when it meets here Sept 12.

Shadowed by the death of the venerable Primate, Most Rev. Clarendon L. Worrell, delegates to the assembly will again be faced with the necessity of selecting another head of the church. Archbishop Worrell was appointed to succeed Most Rev. S. P. Matheson of Winnipeg, at the last General Synod held in 1931. Dr. Matheson retired some years ago.

The question of the appointment of a successor to Rt. Rev. W. C. White as Bishop of Honan, China, will undoubtedly result in protracted discussion in view of the desire in the missionary diocese for the appointment of a native priest. In the diocese of mid-Japan the election of a Canadian to succeed Rt. Rev. H. J. Hamilton is probable.

Great interest will be taken in the report of the Anglican National Commission regarding the implementation of recommendations passed at the last general synod. These recommendations followed a survey of church work in Canada conducted by Rt. Rev. D. T. Owen, Bishop of Toronto, Rev. Canon S. Gould, General Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church in Canada, and F. H. Gisborne, K. C., Chancellor of the Diocese of Ottawa, acting as field commissioners.

Canon Gould will also present the report of the Restoration Fund showing that approximately $850,000 has been subscribed of which nearly $550,000 has been paid in cash and invested.

Sessions will be held in Royal Victoria College and will be preceded by a service of Holy Communion in Christ Church Cathedral at which the synod sermon will be preached by Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, Bishop of New York.

A service of witness will be held in The Forum on the night of Sept. 12 when the Earl of Bessborough, the Governor-General, will read the Lessons and Bishop Manning, and Rt. Rev. L. R. Sherman, Bishop of Calgary will be speakers. A choir of 1,000 voices will lead the singing. They will be accompanied by the band of the Canadian Grenadier Guards. Plans are being made to accommodate some 15,000 people.

Pending the selection of a Primate, the assembly meetings will be presided over by Most Rev. A. U. De Pencier, Archbishop of New Westminster and Metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of British Columbia. There is a possibility the new Primate may not be chosen from the four metropolitans of the church. While this has been the custom in the past the view is held in many quarters that the church would be better served by a younger man. Under a new canon introduced at the general synod three years ago all diocesan bishops in Canada would be eligible for the honor but this did not meet with unanimous approval and the canon will come before the forthcoming synod again for ratification.

At the last synod a committee was appointed to deal with the matter of a fixed primatial see. In the report of the committee presented by Rt. Rev. J. O. Farthing, Bishop of Montreal, it is stated present economic conditions in the country and the appeals for the Restoration Fund make it advisable to take any action at the present time. "To carry out the scheme necessitates a considerable sum of money to endow the See, to provide an official residence for the Primate and the expenses of his office," the report states.

The General Synod will be called upon to settle the question of the future of the Council for Social Service. Since the death of Rev. Canon C. W. Vernon early this year the pasition of general secretary has been vacant. The Montreal synod suggests the work of the council be undertaken by the missionary society of the church for the time being but in other quarters it is thought a successor to Canon Vernon should be appointed.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

In the olden times the people would greet their king with the joyous salutation, "Hail to the King", and it is with the same joyous spirit of expectancy, hope and optimism that our congregation greet our new ministers who come to us this week. All the activities of the church will soon be set in motion and the announcement was made that commencing next Sunday the different classes in the Sunday School will resume regular sessions, the School starting at 2.30 p. m. A cordial invitation is given to all United students who come to our city this week to attend our Sunday School.

Rev. Dr. Ryan completed his special engagement on Sunday and took occasion to speak of his love for this Church and its congregation. He declared that the richest and most blessed years of his life were those of his ministry here and recalled the enthusiasm and the happy experience on the formation of this United Church, and bespoke for our new Ministers, the sympathetic co-operation and support of all our people. Rev. Mr. Barbour arrived on Saturday and Rev. Hugh Miller and wife came by motor last evening. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller were received and welcomed at the parsonage by a number of members of the church. The Presbytery of P. E. I. convenes here on Wednesday forenoon and on that evening will induct the ministers to their pastorate. Rev. Jas. Christie will preside and a large congregation is expected to attend. Thus we enter upon a new era in our Church life and may we "reach forth unto those things which are before."

Professor Kendall, having returned from his holidays, presided at the organ with his usual ability and the soloists for the day were Prof. A. W. Trueman of Mount Allison in the morning and Mrs. W. A. Jenkins at night. The flowers were presented in loving memory of Mrs. Harvey Sterns.

It will be freely admitted that Rev. Dr. Ryan preached two of the most helpful and appreciative sermons on Sunday of the whole series of excellent sermons during his seven week's stay. In the morning service his text was 1 Peter 4-8: "Above all things have fervent charity among yourselves for charity shall cover a multitude of sins." At the close of a delightful sermon on the elements and definition of love and how St. Paul, St. Peter and St. John had exalted it to the supreme place in the Christian life, he referred to an incident in the life of Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, who was called to the pulpit of the City Temple in London, Eng., and on his first Sunday before entering the pulpit he noticed a beautiful bouquet on the vestry table with a note on which was written, "We have not come to criticize you, but to sympathize and pray for you", and said Dr. Ryan "If you greet your new ministers in that spirit, they cannot fail, they must succeed."

At night, Dr. Ryan's text was from Rev. 22-17: "The Spirit and the bride say, come and let him that heareth say come, and let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will let him take of the water of life freely." The day's service closed with the singing of "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love."

Belfast Christian Endeavor Society

The following verses were written specially for a recent Y. P. S. Concert in Belfast Hall.

What means this eager anxious throng—that moves with busy haste along
Where are they going tell me pray —Is this the "End of a perfect day?".
Yes where are they going one and all? Oh yes, its to the Belfast Hall.
But what please tell me is going on there?
I've a great mind to follow with the old yaller mare.
A Christian Endeavor Concert—Oh boy I'm glad I came
For those Y. P. S. concerts are winning great fame.

So young folks, old folks, everybody come and make yourself at home in Belfast Hall
Listen to the speeches., the dialogues and the song
Bring your friends—be friendly and join this throng
The readers and the singers are in a happy mood
Just sit down and listen—you'll find that it it good.

This Society was started nine years ago
And every one resolved to co-operate you know
We've had some splendid leaders—from the time it did begin
The work of a society determined to win

Now Sam Buchanans' President—And he's not behind an inch
In regards to ambition, he has got it—that's a cinch.
He is a genial person, from every point of view
There is nothing that is possible, but what he'll try to do.

As Vice President—Mabel MacEachern is the one
To try to get new members—and to help the work along
When we wanted a Treasurer, sensible and sane
There was none that could be better than Perceival MacLean.
Miss Marion Gillis got the office of Secretary by vote
You can see she has the business of the Society by note.

We never lack for Organists—'tis an important part
All join in Prayer and praise—it comes right from the heart
We're well supplied with leaders—each turn about have led
Miss Marion jots the doings down —they stand approved as read.

We read the good old Bible—and have our topics too
And always can depend upon the "Always Faithful few".
The Belfast Y. P. S.—yes everyone —do their very best to boost the work along
Come lend a helping hand—our friends we love to meet.

Our Pastor says our Society is And whether good or whether bad —depends on how we take it!
Now here's your chance to help the Y. P. S. C. E.,
For a better staff of young folk—you never yet did see
You can see they are efficient by the work that's carried on
Mover forward is their watchword —but they have to have the mon.
We hope you'll enjoy yourselves—and all give thanks to Him
Who gives us health and food and care—Let not our faith grow dim.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A wedding anniversary of interest to a wide circle of friends took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Artemas Cook, Mount Stewart, on the evening of August fifteenth. Fifty years ago, at her home in Clarktown, Miss Almira Clark was married to Mr. Artemas Cook, York, Rev. D. Lodge officiating. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Cook went to live at their home, Pisquid West, where the following children were born: Blanche (Mrs. Corliss) Boston; Jennie (Mrs. George Jay) Fanning Brook; Hamilton, Saskatchewan; Hilda (Mrs. Enman) Edmonton; Pearl (Mrs. Edwin Craig) Toronto; Etta (Mrs. W. H. Lane) Montague; Haviland and Elsie (Mrs. Clarence Coffin).

Sorrow entered the home, when death came and claimed the last two named children. They have also thirty-two grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Cook was dressed in pearl grey crepe de chine and radium lace, and with her husband received the guests, who came from York, Covehead, Charlottetown, Savage Harbor, Vernon, Montague and Mount Stewart.

After receiving the congratulations and good wishes of those present, Mr. and Mrs. Clark led their guests to the dining room, where tables were beautifully and bountifully furnished.

After singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," Dr. A. B. Martin made a speech, and proposed a toast to the health of Mr. and Mrs. Cook, to which Mr. Cook made a fitting reply. It is worthy of note that the bridesmaid, Mrs. D. Stewart, and the groomsman, Mr. Gorham Cook, were present.

The home was decorated with yellow and gold, also a profusion of cut flowers.

Miss Agnes Annear furnished instrumental music, Miss Margaret Coffin sang two solos, which was followed by a general sing-song. Many valuable presents were received, cheques, silverware, also a lovely china cabinet from Mr. and Mrs. Cook's family, of whom only two were able to be present, Mrs Jay, Fanning Brook, and Mrs. Lane wife of the Mayor of Montague.

Supper was served to one hundred and forty guests and before leaving they were served with ice cream and a piece of the bride's and of the groom's cake, after which they departed wisihng Mr and Mrs. Cook, who are enjoying the best of health, many more years of wedded happiness.
