HEAVY RAINFALL—Clouds burst yesterday to give Prince Edward Island farmers a welcome rainfall. The rain was the heaviest in the district in several years. The meteorological station at Charlottetown reported a fall of 58 inches since 10 o'clock yesterday morning—the heaviest recorded thus far this season. Officials of the agricultural experimental station stated that farmers in most sections of the province had already planted their grain and the belated moisture was worth thousands of dollars to them.

B. I. S. TOURNAMENT—The B. I. S. mid-weekly attraction last night consisted of 12 games of auction forty-fives and an old time dance. Last night was the first night of the tournament to be contested in the evening. The games were keenly contested there being but few points separating the winners from the other players. This gives promise of keen competition next week. The prize winners were: Ladies, first, Mrs. Joseph Malone; second, Mrs. James Brown; Gentlemen, first, Mr. P. Howard; second, Mr. William LeClair. Lucky table, Mrs. LeMond. The music for the evening was furnished by Bros. Arthur McQuaid and Jack McInnis.

Roosevelt adviser, accompanied the former Blue Eagle chief, Scheme Advanced Johnson's idea, as described in a well-informed quarter, was that Congress should give the federal trade commission authority to suspend provisions of the anti-trust laws, permitting industry and labor to join voluntarily in codes of fair practice.

This apparently was a variation or perfection of a plan already advocated by Chairman Pat Harrison of the Senate finance committee calling for a revival of the codes with the compulsory and intrastate features, to which the supreme court objected, eliminated.

Brudenell Farmers Ask For Bonus

REV. DR. LOWRY ADDRESSES ST. JAMES W.M.S.

The farmers of Brudenell School district held a meeting in the schoolhouse on Wednesday, May 15, at 8 o'clock. It was attended by a large number of the farmers. The meeting was called to order by appointing Tom Cameron as chairman and E. McIntyre as secretary.

A lively discussion followed participated in by most of those present and the following committee was appointed: Vernon Shaw, Simon Nicholson and E. McIntyre, to draft a resolution which in the following words, presented to the meeting and adopted:

Whereas the price of potatoes for the 1934 crop has been so low, and so many still unsold in the cellars, and the market so unfavorable that we have been unable to realize sufficient cash to pay for cost of production of said crop.

And whereas the farmers are so situated that unless the Government comes to their relief, in a great many cases they will be unable to obtain any kind of seed.

Therefore resolved that we petition the Federal Government to grant us a bonus of $10 acre on our 1934 acreage of potatoes up to a limit of six acres.

Also resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Hon. the Federal Minister of Agriculture and to our federal representative, the Hon. J. A. MacDonald; also to Senators Hon. J. J. Hughes and Hon. John McLean and that a copy be sent to the press.

Signed,
T. K. CAMERON, Chairman,
EDISON MCINTYRE, Secy.

Canadian Club In New York Elects Officers

NEW YORK, May 29.—Concluding one of the most successful years in his history, the Canadian Club of New York last night re-elected Ernest W. Appleby, President for a second term.

Mr. Appleby, a former newspaperman in Saint John, N.B., and for years connected with a New York firm which handles business matters for a number of Canadian newspapers including the Mail and Empire, Border Cities Star, Edmonton Bulletin, Calgary Albertan, Regina Star, Quebec l'Evenement and Halifax Chronicle, has so successfully guided the destinies of the club during the past 12 months the membership has increased by 130.

The first vice-presidency always goes to a non-resident Canadian and this year Mr. D. B. Hanna of Toronto, takes that office.

Other officers elected were: Vice-presidents, Mr. Ernest B. Kierstead and Mr. E. Victor Donaldson; Treasurer, Mr. Reynolds Pomeroy; and Honorary Secretary, Mr. Douglas R. Henderson.

would be difficult if not impossible to secure convictions under them.

Sam Jacobs (Lib. Cartier-Montreal) said the minister should not introduce a bill and give it a black eye at the same time. He had never heard of such a thing in parliamentary proceedings before.

The minister should withdraw the sections as they had been discussed.

If the opinion had been definite he would not have presented them, said Mr. Guthrie. But as it was merely that their validity was doubtful he felt it his duty to present the recommendations of the commission to the House. He refused to withdraw them. It might be the House would consider the sections should stand until they were challenged in the courts.

"I never saw such a miserable exhibition as we have had this afternoon," said Hon. Ian MacKenzie (Lib. Vancouver Centre). He added if the government had called in legal opinion on some of its other reform bills the result would have been the same. It was an insult to the intelligence of Parliament.

BILL VOTED

against devaluation, although the committee refrained from taking an outright stand on the issue, because the chairman explained, currency stabilization negotiations with Britain and the United States might thereby be hindered.

Unconfirmed rumors circulated here tonight that Germany was preparing to devalue the mark and that the Bank of France was preparing to raise its discount rate again, from 6 to 7 per cent.

Financial quarters read in the latter report another warning to speculators while devaluation of the mark, they said, would help bring fleeing capital back to Paris.

The Acquitania sailed from Cherbourg today with $78,000,000 francs (about $11,000,000) worth of gold aboard. Another $29,700,000 worth was in the holds of the Normandie, which sailed from Le Havre on her maiden cruise to New York.

Even should France's hoards suddenly present their billions, it was pointed out, the bank would be able to redeem them since it would be technically impossible for enough francs to be gathered to exhaust the reserves, constituting 97 per cent coverage of currency in circulation.

The devaluation issue remained, however, because—should Flaminin be defeated in the Chamber of Deputies—an empty treasury might induce his successor to devalue the franc as the only way out.

MRS. JANET CAMPBELL

The passing of Mrs. Janet McPherson Campbell, widow of the late Donald E. Campbell, at her home at Spring Park, Charlottetown, on Wednesday the 15th May, instant, will be learned of with sorrow and sincere sympathy by her many friends both at home and abroad.

Of a beautiful christian character, the late Mrs. Campbell will long be remembered, not only as "mother" and "grandmother" but also, outside her own family circle, as a tried and true friend, for her kind and amiable disposition and her keen interest she at all times manifested in the welfare of others.

The late Donald E. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell lived the greater part of their lives at Darlington, near North Wiltshire Station, where Mr. Campbell was a large and successful farmer until they removed to Charlottetown about 14 years ago. Their home was always proverbial for real Scottish hospitality. The late Mr. Campbell passed away about five years ago.

In the immediate household there are left to mourn a daughter, Mrs. Annie Florence Dewar, widow of the late Harding Dewar, and two grand-daughters, Misses Alexandra MacPeden and Janette McPeden. Besides these there are left behind a sister, Mrs. Joseph McPherson of Darlington, Donald McPherson of Broderick, Sask., and Mrs. Catherine McMillan of Hunter River, to whom sympathy will also be extended.

Although the deceased was ever buoyant of spirit and remained bright and cheerful even to the end, she too had known sorrow. Several of her family died in early life. A son, the late Norman Alexander Campbell, a brilliant young barrister of this City, passed away at the early age of 39 years. Two daughters, Mrs. John McPeden and Mrs. John T. Deacon died in the prime of their womanhood a number of years ago.

The funeral which was largely attended was held from the home, known as "Argyle Cottage," Spring Park, to the Brookfield Cemetery, on Friday the 17th May, instant, at 2:30 in the afternoon. The services both at the home and the grave were performed by Reverend G. Carlyle Webster, pastor of Zion Presbyterian Church of which deceased was a member.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Peter Dewar, George W. MacLeod, Murdoch Ross, A. A. McDonald, Hattie Bowness and D. Edgar Shaw, K. C., all of Charlottetown. (Patrol Please Copy)

ment to ask it to pass legislation which the Minister of Justice with all his experience could not say was sound. The government was trying to deceive the public because of pressure in its own party.

Parliament made it a crime to steal from a store and it should be able to make it a crime for an employer to steal from an employee, said Mr. Kennedy. The offence set out in the clause dealing with employers and employees all dealt with one matter, a deliberate cheating of the employee.

Mr. Kennedy said the commission had heard incontrovertible evidence of a superintendent of a factory with the knowledge of the owner punching the time clock for the employees at quitting time and forcing them to work several hours longer.

It was a criminal offence for a working girl to go into a store and steal a loaf of bread or a pair of stockings. Parliament had jurisdiction to punish it but the opposition claimed it had no jurisdiction to punish a man in authority who deliberately stole money and labor from senseless workers.

If there was any "miserable exhibition," the Winnipeg member went on, it was that presented by Mr. MacKenzie when he sought to raise every device of the law and the constitution to prevent the enactment of reform legislation. He pleaded with the House to remember the plight of those the measure was intended to benefit, to the member that the "letter of the constitution killeth but the spirit giveth life" and to allow the amendment to pass.

There was no opposition to the weights bill but several members, including W. W. Kennedy (Cons. Winnipeg South-Centre), chairman of the Mass. Buying Commission, did not believe the disputes bill went far enough. There was no division, however, on either bill.

The main change in the disputes bill would enable the Labor Minister to mediate in the strike or lockout on a complaint of intimidation or discrimination. The whole bill, however, was limited to industries "subject to the legislative jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada" and this led to the protests.

The bill as originally drafted, Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie said, contained all recommendations of the commission but it was considered beyond Parliament's power and infringing on the rights of the provinces to mediate in disputes. The qualifying phrase was inserted to limit it.

Mr. Kennedy, who was joined by J. L. Haley, (Lib. Hants-King),
