THE men of the 82nd Regiment and the A. M. C. arrived home from Sussex, New Brunswick Saturday night by the express, all looking hale and hearty and expressing themselves as highly pleased with their trip and pardonably proud of their successes, while there in that several contests they demonstrated the pluck and prowess of the "Spud Islanders" as they were jocularly called by their friends across the Strait. On Thursday the 18th, they received a challenge to play a football game with a team selected from the New Brunswick Regiment. Although nothing of the kind had been expected Sergeant W. Jones hurriedly mustered a team and defeated the N. B. team with a score of 6 to 0.

The Islanders who played were: Sergeant Walter Jones, Captain, Lieut. J. A. B. M. H. H., full-back, E. Cook and A. W. H. H., half-backs, E. Shaw and J. Blake, quarter-backs, J. Walker, R. Nicholson, W. Merchant,

J. Ballam, W. Murphy, J. Egan and D. McLeod, forwards.

Our boys, no doubt elated by the success of Thursday evening, on the following day sent a challenge to the New Brunswick corps for a tug-of-war contest which was promptly accepted by the New Brunswickers. After the teams were selected they repaired to the arena where two successes out of three trials would decide the issue. In the first trial, the Islanders, after putting forth their best effort, succeeded in pulling their opponents beyond the mark, but in the second they suffered a reverse consequently the third trial was made under the most exciting circumstances and when the 82nd sounded the cry of "Go in Spuds" it seemed as if nothing could withstand the strength of the Islanders as they slowly but surely pulled their opponent beyond the mark and a second time stood victorious upon the field. The P. E. Island team was as follows: Captain Goodwill (Captain), Sergeants McMullan, McCall, Blue, McCallum, Duck, Eaman and Moore and Corporals Murphy, Lamphier and McLeod, from the 82nd Battalion, Sergeant Walker (Anchor-man) and Privates Campbell and Carver from the A. M. C. At drill and on parade the 82nd Regiment proved itself up to the mark and several of the companies received special commendation from the Inspector at Review. The A. M. C. were also complimented upon the efficient manner in which they performed their duties. The men say that at Sussex they have an ideal camping ground and they also appreciate the kindness and courtesy shown to them by the people of Sussex and by their comrades from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.
