The Other Half

Half the children in the world actually need Scott's Emulsion. The other half would be benefitted by it. A goodly portion of the latter half have already been helped by Scott's Emulsion. They have been made comfortable and well. They have been supplied with the element of fat that their bodies are constantly in need of. Scott's Emulsion has done even more for them; it has furnished nourishment which their ordinary food has not supplied.

The lack of proper nourishment in a child's food is responsible for its failure to thrive and grow as it should. So long as the important elements of nourishment are not contained in the child's food it will remain thin and lack the plumpness and glow of youth that marks the properly fed child.

What can be done for such children? Give them Scott's Emulsion. It is so palatable and acceptable that children like it. Cream of cod liver oil it could be called, for it resembles cream very closely. Moreover, being predigested, Scott's Emulsion enters the system quickly and with least tax upon the stomach. The delicate digestive organs of a backward child accept and retain Scott's Emulsion when other forms of nourishment are repulsive. It makes up the short-comings of a child's ordinary food and furnishes nourishment and fat in proper proportions and in the proper way.

So-called wines, cordials and extracts of cod liver oil should always be avoided. No matter what the claims may be, they do not contain the value of the whole oil, and hence are worthless in cases where a reliable cod liver oil preparation is necessary. Their sole purpose is to taste nice, and the use of alcohol and strong extracts makes them really harmful in many cases. Scott's Emulsion contains the whole oil carefully prepared, palatably presented, and is a safe and reliable preparation.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

THE POCKET TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENT

For Wireless Messages Will Soon be Ready

SO MARCONI PROMISES

Can Receive Messages From a Distance of Thirty Miles—The Weight is Only Obstacle

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Signor Marconi has brought to this city a pocket instrument for receiving wireless messages, and hopes to perfect a sending instrument small enough to carry in the pocket. He has in mind a central station for radiating news all over the American continent.

Signor Marconi was asked whether it would ever be possible to have sets of pocket instruments for telegraphing by the wireless system. Marconi smiled, but Capt. George Stevens Kemp, one of his personal staff, who sat beside him said: "The time has come and is here." Marconi still smiled and looked at Capt. Kempt indulgently.

"I asked the question in a joking way," said the reporter. "Now, are you joking when you say the time has come and is here?"

Marconi's expression changed instantly. Becoming grave and serious, he answered: "Capt. Kempt is right, but the time is not quite ripe."

"I have a receiver," put in Capt. Kemp, earnestly, "that I have carried in my coat pocket and have received messages miles away."

"How many miles?"

"As high as thirty miles," returned the captain, positively.

"I said the time was not ripe," interrupted Marconi, "because while it is possible for a man to carry about a receiver in his pocket and be able to take messages, the other end of it, that of sending, is yet to be overcome."

"You mean the difficulty of carrying about a battery of sufficient power to produce Hertzian waves?"

"Precisely. The weight is the obstacle. Perhaps as we progress we may overcome that difficulty. Such a condition would be invaluable, for instance, in time of war."

"Wireless telegraphy will be invaluable to newspapers. I have thought out this end of it, and the possibilities are that a station may be erected at some central point in America, where news can be radiated to every part of the country simultaneously. This result can be reached by attuning the receivers in each city to a similar pitch, so that all can catch the waves as they are radiated. With a station in England and another in America the news of the world can be quickly disseminated."

"Could receivers be installed in private houses with ticket attachment, so that persons could read the news of the day as it happens?"

Marconi only smiled. He does not indulge in dreams, but he has shown that perhaps this might be possible.

"Will it be possible to bring wireless telegraphy into general use in large cities like New York, for instance?"

"That is a matter to which I have not given much thought as yet. It will require considerable thought," he added, reflectively. "I will turn my attention to that problem just as soon as I have perfected the transatlantic service."

AN OBSTINATE CASE OF ECZEMA

Mr. W. D. Johnson, Tilsonburg, Ont., writes that his father was entirely cured of a long standing and obstinate case of Eczema by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. His leg and foot were a mass of sores that refused to heal and he suffered terribly from the itching and stinging. Though he used a great many remedies and was treated by first-class doctors no permanent relief was obtained until he used Dr. Chase's Ointment.

IT CURES CATARRH.

The Ozonated Air Cure, Catarrhozone, is a sure cure that is sold under guarantee. Money back if it fails.

Catarrhozone relieves even the most distressing symptoms of catarrh in short time. It can be used right at home or even at work, without making it necessary for the patient to seek a warm climate or run up long doctor's bills.

Headache, hawking, dropping in the throat, and deafness disappear. The blood is purified and strengthened by an additional supply of oxygen which comes from the use of Catarrhozone.

Catarrh can be driven so completely from the system by breathing Catarrhozone that it never returns. Kindred diseases such as bronchitis, asthma, impared hearing and winter ills are also very successfully treated by Catarrhozone. Permament cures are always effected.

Mrs. M. J. Whitney, Clay St. Topeka, was cured of Nasal Catarrh of the most disagreeable kind by Catarrhozone. She had suffered for twenty years and says, "I owe Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of the most disagreeable Catarrh after many doctoos had pronounced my case incurable. I do not cough any more. My breath is sweet, and my respiration regular since using Catarrhozone."

Mrs. James Tweedle of Jay Bridge says: "For years my daughter doctored for Catarrh. She had dropping in the throat, hawking, nausea and could not sleep at night. The first day's use of Catarrhozone benefited, and it cured so the Catarrh never returned."

Catarrhozone will cure any case not beyond the reach of medicine and is deserving of a trial from every sufferer because it is guaranteed. Complete outfit consisting of two months treatment costs one dollar. Sample size 25 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail from N. C. Polson & Co. Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.
