Whithead of Clinton, a valued member of the above lodge, the sympathy of the brethren in the loss he has sustained in the death of his son Major, which occurred recently. The following letter of condolence has been forwarded: "To you, dear Brother Orangerman, on behalf of Goldwell L. O. L. No. 1207, we would tender heartfelt sympathy in the great bereavement which has come to you in the death of your only son. You have seen him called away from a manhood, a manhood which made itself felt in the home, in the Church, and in the community. Now you have seen him called away from a world which calls loudly for men of his stamp, and we, as Brother Orangerman, pray that to you faith may be vouchsafed to enable you to trust, where, perhaps, you cannot trace. We would lead you to the precious promises of One who not willingly afflicts the children of men, and whose mission is to bind up the broken-hearted. The Sun of your life has for a time been hid, and the dark clouds of grief are present with you, but we hope and pray that your Faith may extend beyond, to the glorious reunion in that Heavenly Home, where in very reality, you have treasure. Signed, B. W. Taylor, Allan Cole.—K.

INVESTIGATION URGED

Remember that since the introduction of oxygenating machines in our Island more wonderful cures have been accomplished than were ever known to have taken place by any other means. This is no exaggeration; for investigation will prove the assertion to be absolutely true. Here are a few examples out of a great many which can easily be verified.

A lady who suffered a long time from dropsy, heart trouble, bronchitis and other ailments, who was considered beyond all hope of recovery, has for more than a year been able to attend to her household duties and may be seen walking to Church most any Sunday.

Another woman has been cured, whose case was very similar to the above. She may frequently be seen at the services of St. Dunstan's Cathedral. This woman, like the above mentioned, is quite positive that the oxygenator saved her life.

A Charlottetown man, for several years a hopeless victim of anæmia, rheumatism and bleeding piles, has been entirely cured and is strong and robust.

Another man, living at DeSable, a hopeless victim of anæmia, now enjoys excellent health and has gained 60 pounds in weight. A gentleman for years afflicted with asthma, almost to spend the winter abroad because of the severity of our climate, is now enjoying the best of health and may be seen any day on the streets of Charlottetown.

It is not necessary that names should always be mentioned, but many readers of The Guardian will readily recognize who the persons referred to are, and the names of these and dozens of others will be given for the ask n<sup>o</sup>.

The improved oxygenator called the Farador can be visibly tested previous to use. The other machine—the Oxypator may be purchased at a very liberal discount from the salesman, W. E. Enman, 154 Prince street, Charlottetown.
