The church was filled with worshippers who partook of Holy Communion after the celebration of the Midnight Mass. The male choir, under the efficient leadership of Hon. A. F. J. MacDonald officiated at the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice and preached a very appropriate and impressive sermon. He also highly complimented the choir on the way they rendered the special music. At the High Mass on Christmas morning, Rev. Urban Gillis officiated and the Chorus of Mary gave a beautiful rendition of Christmas hymns.—S.

—DEATH OF MR. M. L. CROSSMAN.—Mr. M. L. Crossman, of Springfield, passed away in the Prince County Hospital on Monday at the age of 69 years. The deceased, who was well known throughout the west of the province, where many relatives reside, was a popular contractor for the O'Leary Cemetery, on Monday afternoon of last week, whilst engaged on his route, was loading cups of cream to haul to the factory, when he was suddenly stricken with violent abdominal pains. A doctor was summoned from O'Leary and as his condition grew serious throughout the night he was brought down early the next morning to the Prince County Hospital. There an immediate operation was deemed necessary, and it was found that a gastric ulcer had perforated the stomach. The operation was skillfully performed and it was confidently hoped that it had saved his life; but, unfortunately, pneumonia set in, and it was from this and not the abdominal trouble, that he passed away on Monday. His death is deeply regretted by a host of friends in Springfield, O'Leary and the neighboring communities, and much sympathy is expressed for his sorrowing widow and family. The remains were conveyed to his late home at Springfield, on Monday night for burial there.—S.

Reduce Feed Costs and gather more Eggs

FEEDING non-productive hens a whole winter long is unprofitable, costly—and unnecessary.

Monarch Laying Mash provides a sure way to make profit by keeping up egg production when prices hit the peak.

Monarch Laying Mash contains a great deal of protein of the proper kind for making hens lay more eggs and of better quality and flavor. It also contains the necessary ingredients for body building and conditioning.

Don't keep hens this winter—make your hens "keep you" by feeding this well-balanced ration. Recommended and used exclusively by many of the biggest poultrymen in the country. Ask for prices on your winter's supply.
