"What shall I buy?"

The question is paramount at the present time. With so many sound stocks selling at bargain levels you are probably wondering how you can profit by such a situation.

But wouldn't your investment offer greater safety and greater opportunities for profit if you should invest, not in one, but in 275 of the soundest banks, public utilities, railroads and industrial companies both in Canada and the United States?

Federated Capital Corporation automatically gives you just such a broad interest in the continent's leading securities. You actually get all the bargains with one investment.

May we send you particulars?

A. E. TOOMBS "The Progressive Music Store" 167 QUEEN ST. CHARLOTTETOWN

There has been considerable switching in the industrial stocks in the New York list the past week. This accounted for the inability of some 29 stocks to rally in proportion with many of the standard stocks which were leaders during all advances. A number of large commission houses have been strongly advising customers, who insisted on maintaining their long position, to sell the second and third grade issues and purchase the standard dividend paying issues. This advice has been followed in many instances and accounted for the periods of irregularity at 75 times. The short interest in New York is not especially extensive at the moment although selling by some of the day-to-day traders was noted in advances late last week because these operators held to the view that the technical position of the market made a reaction for corrective purposes a logical development. A short interest always acts as a cushion when the market is receding and is therefore welcome in normal times. The weakness in the copper stocks in New York is finding reflection in International Nickel, New York being a heavy seller of the security. The opinion prevails in mining circles across the border that a decline in the price of copper will take place before long and as International Nickel will, in due time, become an important producer of the red metal, many nervous traders are getting out. Directors of National Breweries meet tomorrow and if "street" predictions are borne out, a split-up of the common shares will take place. Should a three-for-one division take place with the new shares placed on a $2 basis, it would give the new stock an approximate value of $40, at which figure the yield would be 5%.

FLASH NEW YORK, Nov. 27—Yesterday's weakness in New York attributed to long holiday and month end clean up was continued when the market resumed today with opening below Tuesday's close. Steel off down 2 1/2, later recovering slight.
