BERLIN IN

Called iron curtain. The tension from this latest development in the cold war exploded late in the day when hundreds of political demonstrators swarmed into the city hall in the Russian sector. The 2,000 or 3,000 demonstrators invaded the council chamber and for 90 minutes prevented a special council debate on the currency situation. The American-controlled radio said the shouting crowd was made up of followers of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity Party.

Later tonight the council adopted a resolution declaring both east and west currency should be valid in the city. Social Democrats, Liberal Democrats and Christian Democrats supported the resolution. The Socialist Unity Party opposed it. As the councilmen left the hall, German reporters said, a crowd shouted threats and assaulted three of the councilmen, including a woman.

Charging that the Russians were attempting to "usurp" life and death economic power over the 2,000,000 Germans in the Western sector, the three powers promptly made the new deutsche mark legal tender in their sectors. They closed all banks and all except grocery and drug stores. They ordered a temporary moratorium on debts pending actual issuance of the new currency which was made legal tender for the three western zones last Friday. Stocks of the new mark already were on hand for distribution.

It was the first time one occupation power had openly countermanded the order of another. The Western powers did not void the new Russian currency in their sectors, however. Financial authorities said they believed the two currencies, Russian and Western could circulate side by side "if given Russian co-operation".

The Russians, however, already had announced that the new deutsche mark is outlawed in all Berlin and have threatened the arrest of any person using it. The Russians said they would carry out "economic and administrative sanctions" to enforce circulation of their money in all Berlin—possibly a threat to strangle the population by shortages of food and supplies until it is compelled to revolt against the Western occupiers.

Germans in Eastern Berlin were asking if they would have to give up their jobs in Western Berlin. Or if they will have to pay two fares when they travel by the city's transport system across the currency line. The Russians already have announced they will not accept deutsch marks on the elevated system.

The value of the new Western deutsche mark has not yet been announced. But it has been strongly indicated one new deutsche mark would be exchanged for 10 old reichsmarks and would be worth about 30 cents.

DETROIT, June 23 — (AP) — Two United States navy planes, flying in a seven-ship formation, crashed and burned today after colliding over the heavily-populated east side area of Detroit. The flaming wreckage set fire to four houses and a tool shop. Scores of residents fled to safety. The two pilots of the single-seater planes died in the crash. One tool shop employee was slightly injured when struck by flaming debris.

Pitcher Recalled

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 23 — (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that they had recalled pitcher Hank Behrman from their Montreal International League farm club. Behrman, a right-hander, had been recalled early in the month by Brooklyn but he was shipped back to the Royals because of "legal involvements." Behrman said he preferred to stay in Montreal at the time.

Believe Pyle, Greco Fight May Develop

MONTREAL, June 22—Anything can happen when the boys in the backroom sit down to match box-fighters but heretofore today indications were that a match between K.O. Joe Pyle of New Waterford, N.S., and welter champion Johnny Greco of Montreal might come to pass. At this stage "might come to pass" is the proper phrase because as it stands now there is nothing concrete in the way of a Greco-Pyle bout than a formal challenge from Pyle for a title fight over the 12-round route.

Greco was in Baltimore and could not be reached for comment. Even in Montreal he is hard to reach now that his clouting fists have gained him such prominence that he hides behind an unlisted telephone number. Neither could his manager, Frankie Doyle (pronounced Derl in the better fight circles) be reached. He was somewhere in New York.

And in Montreal Pyle's challenge, filed formally by his co-managers Russ Leighton and Sylvain Mireault, lay awaiting action. Leighton and Mireault also filed the necessary papers and deposit with Elmer Ferguson, secretary of the Canadian Boxing Federation which some time ago named Pyle the no. 2 challenger.

The co-managers, plugging their fighter, pointed to his two recent wins over Phil Palmer, crack Vancouver welterweight boxer "who has been meeting and defeating the best American welterweights during the past three years."

At least one of the better known experts in the Canadian box-fight business, Jack (Stolkin) Rogers, saw considerable merit in a Pyle-Greco fight. He figured Pyle is one of the best in the world. Informed that "some joker" from the Maritimes had challenged Greco, Rogers said, "what's his name?"

"What! Pyle ain't no joker, let me tell ya." It was explained the term was meant affectionately, not derogatively.

"Yah," countered Stolkin who has slashed a good bit of King's English to pieces at one time or another. "Now, chum, say it in English." "Whatcha mean 'deroga'—whatcha callit? Anyway, it would be a good fight. Pyle was named no. 2 challenger and shoulda got a shot at the title a long time ago. Instead that Harry Hurst gets two fights with Greco and he loses each time."

UNIQUE RECORD. THE CURRAGH, County Kildare, Eire, June 23 —(Reuters)—An Australian-born jockey, Rae (Togo) Johnstone, achieved a unique record here today when he won the Irish Derby, run over 1 1/2 miles and valued at almost £10,000 ($40,000) on the Aga Khan's colt Nathoo.

Johnstone won the English Derby on My Love and the French Derby on Bey. Starting second favorite at 7 to 2 against Nathoo beat the Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda's Star of Gujrat, a 5 to 1 chance, by five lengths.

K. of C. Juniors In Win Over Kinsmen

Playing smart ball behind the five-hit hurling of their ace right-hander Merl McKenzie, Knights of Columbus ball team last night advanced to within one game of top standing in the Junior Baseball League by whipping the Kinsmen team 10-3. Kinsmen and Recce are at present deadlocked in a two-way tie.

Matching Kinsmen's top of the first tally with one in the last half of the same frame the winners with two run bursts in the second and third, on the strength of timely hitting and damaging errors by their opponents took over a 5-1 lead and from there on were never headed. They added three additional runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth to make victory surer while McKenzie was limiting the Kinsmen to single counters in the fifth and seventh as he pitched himself out of several bad spots and left ten runners stranded on the basepaths during the six and a half inning struggle.

Kinsmen used two hurlers in an attempt to stop the mounting score. Garth Crockett started on the mound but after giving up five hits and as many runs was replaced by Cairns with one down in the third. The latter went the remainder of the way giving up a like number of runs and hits in his three and two-thirds inning pitching chore.

St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday School Picnic

The St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday School picnic, which was held at Lewis' Point yesterday afternoon, went over with much success with a very large number of Sunday school pupils and members of the congregation present. The program, which was presided over by Rev. Canon E. M. Malone, commenced with bathing, followed by many games and sports including a treasure hunt for which many prizes were awarded to the winners, and young and old alike participated in the fun.

Following the completion of the games and sports, a delightful lunch was served by members of the congregation, with the children also receiving special treats of ice cream, chocolate bars and fruit. The fine program of entertainment, which was carried out so successfully, was accompanied by one of the warmest, sunniest days so far this summer, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was had by all present.

Following the conclusion of the afternoon's festivities, all the picnic food which had not been consumed was packed up and taken to the Infirmary at Beach Grove Inn to be distributed among the patients.

NEW YORK, June 20—(AP)—New York Giants Saturday released outright veteran pitcher Bobo Newsom, and Thornton Lee and announced the recall from Minneapolis of southpaw Monte Kennedy, who had been sent down to the American Association for more seasoning, hurled a no-hitter for the Millers recently.

Still winless after three starts, Irv McKinnon's Millionaires baseball squad will make another attempt to get into the win column tonight when they tackle the league-leading Anchors in a City baseball league tilt.

A glance at the present standing of the league will show that Millionaires face a stiff test when they meet the high flying west end crew of Freddie McCabe's who have yet to taste defeat but at the same time the Millionaires are a much better squad than their present standing indicates.

There is nothing wrong with the club that pitching won't cure and this should be forthcoming when a couple of their freshman hurlers gain the necessary experience and the sore arm of Ed Elmer Larter, just as good a hurler as can be found in the league, responds to treatment. There is plenty of batting punch dotted throughout the lineup being of the slim variety during week games. But there is one matter that the teams can improve on immediately and that is a display of more hustle. On a couple of occasions this season games have been played in a lackadaisical manner that has not gone over any too well with the fans. It is one sure way of causing followers of the game to lose interest but it is not too late to amend this ailment we would say the quicker it is done the better.

Popularity of night racing here was proven conclusively on Tuesday night when a big sized crowd of fans braved chilly weather to watch the opening meet of the season. And the fans were not disappointed at what they saw at the magnificent racing plant.

As is usually the case with all Island racing programs, finishes Tuesday, were of the kind that brought the fans to their feet in mad excitement as the trotters and pacers battled it out right to the wire, a matter which showed how expertly the horses had been classified in the different events.

It was the type of racing that will bring many more fans out to succeeding programs and from here to the end of the season, with the usual day racing programs already lined up for the various Island tracks, it appears that followers of the "sport of kings" will have their busiest season ever as they follow the cream of Island standard bred horses in action.

Fight fans will have to wait at least another night to find out the winner of the Joe Louis-Joe Walcott heavyweight scrap. Rain which came down in torrents yesterday forced a one-day cancellation and probabilities in New York last night predicted more rain for today. The postponement however will not detract one bit from the interest which has been shown in the scrap ever since the two boxers were re-matched.

Interest is particularly keen locally. Not since the halcyon days of Jack Dempsey has so much fight talk been going the rounds here and last night debates upon the outcome were still raging furiously among the followers of the cauliflower game.

What reaction the postponement will have upon the two participants will not be known until they meet tonight. Both are at razor's edge and both are predicting victory. The latter of course is nothing new and should the delay happen to affect either one adversely it might cause an altogether different outcome of a scrap that is expected to attract a record attendance.

Should Louis 29th defence of the title be won just a day more than 2 years ago be delayed again tomorrow, the participants will have to weigh-in once again. Yankee stadium is available for the fight until Saturday night.

Louis returned to his Pompton lakes, N.J., training camp right after the Jacobs' announcement. He was to participate in a light weight title evening in hopes of keeping his weight as steady as possible. Walcott stayed in New York and planned some road work in Central Park about dusk.

Chairman Eddie Eagan of the New York State Boxing Commission warned both fighters that there must be no external use of grease on the arms or body. The Louis camp has announced it would protest against such use by Walcott.

Louis is favored by 11 to 5 in the current odds—which change so quickly it is hard to keep up with them. He is a choice by 7-1 to 2-5 to score a knockout while the boys will live 7 to 2 against Walcott leaving the champ.

TORONTO, June 23 —(CP)—The Royal Canadian Gold Association today announced re-instatement as an amateur of James H. Mountfield of the Edmonton Golf Club at Edmonton. He acted as a professional at the Edmonton Club prior to 1939.

Millionaires And Anchors This Evening. Millionaires and Anchors are the competing teams in tonight's City League baseball encounter and if the game is another nip and tuck affair like the last time the two squads clashed, fans should witness a tight struggle all the way. The score on the above-mentioned occasion was 2-1 as Lefty McAleer shaded Elmer Larter in a great hurling duel and should the same two mountsmen be selected tonight, breaks are very likely to decide the issue.

Game time is scheduled for 5:30 with the game being slated for the Memorial Field diamond.

Joe Louis Still Big Favorite To Retain Heavyweight Crown

NEW YORK, June 23 — (CP) — Skies were clear tonight at 10 P.M., original scheduled starting time of the Joe Louis - Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight championship fight at Yankee Stadium. The bout was postponed until tomorrow night after an early afternoon shower. It cleared up later in the day.

NEW YORK, June 23 —(CP)—To date the weatherman is the only expert who has called the Louis-Walcott heavyweight title fight correctly. He said it would be rained out tonight—and it was. So the two boys went back to a little light training to keep in trim for their meeting now set for Thursday night. Today's downpour didn't help last-minute ticket sales, either. There are still tens of thousands of seats to be sold and hopes of a $1,000,000-gate are fast vanishing.

Louis weighed in at 213 1-2 pounds and Joe the challenger tipped the commission's scales at 194 3/4. Both serious-faced, neither said a word during the weigh-in and they hardly looked at each other.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, commission physician, found Louis "physically and mentally better than in December" for his first fight with Jersey Joe. Walcott's condition was labeled "excellent."

At that time neither was certain whether the fight was to go on tonight and it was only shortly before 2 p.m. that promoter Mike Jacobs took head of a cloudburst and said Thursday was the night. The forecast for tomorrow is "mostly cloudy becoming partly cloudy."

It was the first time that a heavyweight title fight had been postponed because of weather conditions since Louis made his initial defence of the title against Welsh Tommy Farr in 1937. That time it was postponed four days.
