

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN'S POPULAR HOME CIRCLE

High Necked Evening Gowns.

BY DOROTHY DALE.

The illustrations show two charming models for dressy gowns. The models of both these gowns were in silk material, the one with the deep square yoke shown among the sketches being made of light hydrangea blue material.

The skirt of this gown was tucked in closely below the waist. The bottom of the skirt was finished with three very wide tucks. The skirt was made princess, the corsege hanging over the top of this princess skirt. It was plaited from the shoulder both in the back and front and was filled about the lower part from under bands of heavy lace. The front of the corsege was trimmed with a shaped band of the silk. A band of the heavy lace was used down each side of the front, with a strip across, forming a square yoke.

This yoke was of thin lace and was trimmed with tiny folds of silver blue gauze. The sleeves were tucked on the inside of the arm and were shirred below the elbow with a band of the heavy lace ruffles of four lace, which were used as a finish.

The second drawing was sketched from a model in dove grey satin, the bodice being trimmed with chiffon velvet bands and tiny buttons. It was held in fine tucks from the shoulders, both back and front. The yoke was of cream-colored tulle, the leaves being of the same lace threaded through with velvet ribbon. The skirt was of silk tulle, stitched over a strip of the velvet.

The skirt was made in panels, the satin being tucked between them. The lower part of the skirt was of the soft satin, which graduated tucks.

The season almost any of the light shades were suitable.

The entire effect is seen on a great many of the model gowns, and is at its best in clinging materials.

"Hanging Furniture" and Furnishings.

BY BEATRICE CAREY.

The artistic possibilities of having furniture of certain kinds suspended from the ceiling or side wall is little appreciated, as for interior decoration the idea is rather a new one; but in certain apartments the effect is really charming if the pieces are properly placed and appropriately used.

The little sketch shown on this page offers suggestion for the use of "suspended" furniture. The sketch was drawn of the corner of a billiard room. The swinging table was hung from rods across the ceiling by heavy wire chains, and was in black oak. The cushions on the seats of the benches were of dark red leather, several silk-colored pillows being added. Under each of these tables, which were exactly alike, was a shelf, on which could be placed books, tobacco jars or the like. The walls of this charming room showed one of the new marine frises.

The lower part of the wall was hung with dark red hangings, the fringe itself showing a sunset sky, with the barges on lined cushions.

Shelves for books or flowers look very well suspended from the picture molding, and a bookshelf hung over a desk or chest of drawers are of decided decorative value.

The swinging seat such as is used on the summer porch can often be put up with very good results in the city house, and is very decorative when comfortably cushioned and piled with gaily colored pillows.

Toothsome Breakfast Dishes.

BY SARA CRANFORD.

Fruit is the first course of a well-prepared breakfast, as it is very refreshing after sleepings. It may be difficult to have much variety in this course in some parts of the country, as oranges and bananas alone seem available. But there are still good apples and the apple is a fruit of which one never tires.

There is nothing better for breakfast than crisp bacon, and it is also very healthful. Bacon requires attention whatever the method of cooking. It is like broiling steak; it should not be cooked until all else is prepared and the cook can give it her whole attention.

With bacon many different things may be served, as eggs in every form, fresh fish or potatoes.

Meat Hash.—This breakfast dish is made with bread crumbs, browned and rolled, as a substitute for potatoes. Mix half a cup of bread crumbs with a chopped onion in it; add the meat and bread mixture, a piece of butter the size of an egg and sufficient rich milk to moisten well, seasoning with salt and pepper. Cook slowly, letting a brown crust form at the last.

Carried Eggs in a Rice Nest.—Boil six eggs hard and keep them hot in warm water, after removing the shells. Mold some freshly cooked, well-seasoned rice in the shape of a nest on a serving plate. To a thick white cream sauce add a fourth of a teaspoonful of curry powder. Wipe the eggs dry, arrange in the nest and pour the sauce over them.

Homemade Lamp Shades.

BY BEATRICE CAREY.

In the finer house-decorating establishments the majority of the fine lamp shades seen are either of glass or some silk or cotton fabric, mounted in a wire foundation.

These shades are especially effective on the large lamps, and may be of material and design suitable to the apartment for which they are intended.

Some of the frames seen are of brocade or some of the thinner tapestry materials, finished with silk guttups and a fall of fringe about the edge, while others are of cretonne or cotton and silk material.

finned about the edge with a flat gilt tapestry braid or a cord.

One very attractive shade seen in a newly furnished country house was of cretonne showing a design of red-coated riders galloping over a hunting field.

These imported cretonnes are to be had in fascinating designs and colorings and for living rooms, libraries and such apartments; those showing hunting or sporting scenes are especially attractive.

Glass bead fringe is very beautiful on such shades, as is also gilt, red or green silk fringe.

Womanly Troubles

SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO UNDERMINE HEALTH.

It is impossible to go into details on this subject, but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others.

When the first stages of womanly troubles appear in a young girl, a great deal depends on whether she over this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop green sickness or constipation.

When the complaints of flushed face, headache bearing down feelings, give her a course of Ferronone which will remove the cause of her troubles.

In the adult woman if any irregularities occur, Ferronone will be found a remedy of remarkable potency and power.

Ferronone is the ideal regulator and causes all organs of the body to perform their work properly.

It purifies the blood, tones up the nerves and vital energies. The stomach is strengthened, and digestive and assimilative processes are improved by the good work of Ferronone. It regulates the bowels, cures constipation, and piles, and replaces disease and decay by health and strength.

There is nothing better for the complexion than Ferronone. It removes the dark circles from under the eyes, removes and cures all manner of skin eruptions, gives brightness and brilliancy to the eyes, rosy lips, the cheeks, whitens the teeth and develops a well rounded, plump and handsome form.

Ferronone is the ladies' favorite, and should find a place in every household. It is prepared in the form of a chocolate coated tablet, convenient and pleasant to take. Price per box, 50c, or three boxes for $1.25. Sold by all druggists.

Miscellaneous Recipes.

Beefed Shad Roe.—Wash and dry the roe; then broil them very slowly and keep them moistened with butter to prevent the skin from breaking. They may also be cooked by steaming them in butter; or they may be baked in the oven with a little stock or water in the pan to baste them with. Cook them brown. Over the top with butter, pepper and salt and a little lemon juice, and sprinkle them with chopped parsley. Garnish with lemon and watercress and serve some of the watercress with each portion. Serve them with maitre d'hotel butter.

Spinach with Eggs.—Cook the spinach as usual; drain, chop fine and season to taste. Moisten with a thick white sauce made in the proportion of one tablespoonful each of flour and butter to one cupful of milk. Spread on small squares of buttered toast, making a slight depression in the center; squeeze over a few drops of lemon juice and place a nicely poached egg in the center of each. Serve all very hot.

Out of School Because of Colds

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN WILL ACQUIRE LUNG TROUBLES, WHICH COULD BE AVOIDED BY USING

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

The records of attendance at the Toronto Public Schools show that ten thousand children were absent on account of colds during a single month.

"The worst enemy of all to the child so far as keeping him from school is concerned, apparently is the common, everyday cold," says Dr. Goodchild in his report to the Ontario School Association.

"Not only does the cold prove an enemy in this way," he continued, "but it is well known that many of the more serious diseases follow from the simple cold. As a result of the patient becoming weakened down in his resistance against disease, the germs of various infectious diseases may easily find a place to multiply somewhere in the organism."

Parents who make a practice of keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house have at hand the most certain means of curing coughs, croup and bronchitis, and positively preventing more serious diseases. It is sometimes forgotten that few ailments possess more possibilities of danger than a common cold.

Miss EUGENIE LARK, King Street, Toronto, writes: "My son, a child of five, has been troubled with bronchitis, and the least cold would aggravate the trouble. We would not get anything to help him and were often greatly alarmed. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a treatment for bronchitis we used it and are glad to state that it effected a complete cure. If any of the children take a cold or cough I give this medicine, and have never known it to fail to bring relief."

Not only is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine a positive cure for coughs, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma and every class of colds, but it is also a preventive of all diseases of the lungs.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanston Bates & Co. Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every bottle.

The Dunlop Creed

WE believe that the trade mark, the two hands, is the most valuable asset in our business, and we shall aim to keep it always in good repute by fair and square dealing.

WE believe it is in the fullest sense injurious to our prospects to allow the Dunlop trade mark to be placed on any goods not made of a superior quality of rubber.

WE believe in quality. We know that the satisfaction quality gives is lasting, while the satisfaction a purchaser has in buying cheaply is short lived. When he does not find quality he forgets the price paid and begins to think he has been fooled.

AS we hope to last in this business we affirm it is our unalterable determination never to compromise the Dunlop standard of quality in rubber.
