

PRINCE TODAY AND EDWARD SATURDAY SHOWS 3.15-7.00-8.45 SAT. MAT. AT 2.30

SHE'S THE TOAST OF PARIS! HARLOW-AS YOU LIKE HER-SINGING-DANCING-ROMANCING.

ALSO NEW OUR GANG COMEDY "THREE SMART BOYS"

COMING MONDAY

KAY FRANCIS, charming beautiful, as fashionable as ever in a delightful hit. "STOLEN HOLIDAY"

COMING WEDNESDAY

CORONATION SPECIAL: A colourful season brings a colourful picture. "WINGS OF THE MORNING" Technicolor - Thrillingly Beautiful. ANNABELLA - HENRY FONDA JOHN McCORMACK

"Suzy" an Outstanding Hit!

Audiences are registering their enthusiasm for the spectacular, "Suzy" showing at the Prince Edward Theatre until Saturday with Jean Harlow in the title role. Franchot Tone and Cary Grant appear in support. The picture was directed by George Fitzmaurice. It has been acclaimed as the most remarkable triumph in Miss Harlow's colourful career as a star. The story places her in London just before the war as a stranded American show girl who marries a young aviator, only to lose him through the intrigue of spies. Their love is restored after a tremendous adventure that prevents the Europe of the World War period as a backdrop.

"Stolen Holiday" starring the fashionable Kay Francis, opens Monday at the Prince for two days only. Unquestionably, the picture is worthy of the regular three day run but must be squeezed down to the two, as it were, in order to leave room for the four day special attraction, "Wings of the Morning," which starts on Coronation Day, Wednesday. Coronation Day a colorful occasion, seems to demand a colorful picture which undoubtedly is provided in "Wings of the Morning," in that it presents a new and infinitely superior Technicolor for the screen developed in England. The picture stars Annabella (you'll want to see much more of her), Henry Fonda, and features John McCormack. If any proof were needed of the merits of this attraction, it is only necessary to mention something of its record so far this season: 11 weeks in Montreal, 2 weeks in Halifax, a week in Saint John, and city crowds everywhere, and will be in Charlottetown for four days.

SAT. MATINEE 2.30 CAPITOL Today & Sat.

HIT THE THRILL TRAIL IN A STIRRING MUSICAL SAGA OF THE OLD WEST!

Chap. 2 DICK TRACY Sport Reel and Musical

Ladies and Gentlemen: FLORENCE DORSEY, ETHEL M. DUFFY, MARGARET H. COTTON, ELEANOR B. LYONS, FRED A. HARRIS, ELLEN J. JENKINS, MARY L. JOHNSTONE, JOHN MCKENNA, AMY C. EARLE, Members of Executive Committee.

REPORT OF THE FREE DISPENSARY

The following was the report submitted by Miss Amy C. Earle, district nurse, at last night's meeting. Ladies and Gentlemen: "Again I come before you with the annual report of the Free Dispensary and again I feel my utter helplessness as I try to bring before you some idea of the work of this institution. It is very touching to note the gratitude of those who have been helped and the faith they have that their needs will be supplied as far as possible through your generous gifts for the support of the Dispensary. I think if you knew how carefully the funds are expended, and how systematically every appeal is investigated you would be satisfied that no help is given that is not most sorely needed, and no individual or class receives more than the proper share. "The past year has been one that has made insistent calls on energy and finances. 683 visits were made to homes during the year. 8 deaths occurred in these homes: 2 from tuberculosis, 1 from cancer, 4 from pneumonia, and 1 accidental death. 76 Protestant and 89 Roman Catholic families received assistance of some kind during the past twelve months. The visiting is done in the mornings, from two to five calls being made each day. "In the afternoon your worker may be found in the office to attend to those who come for medicine, advice, or help of any kind. A great deal of cod liver oil is given out to undernourished children, to patients on the waiting list for the Sanatorium, as well as those leaving it—people who have been ordered to use this medicine continually, but cannot afford to buy it. "We often supply oils, salve, and other drugs to those sent to us by the Red Cross for these things, and medicine and treatment advised by the Public Health nurse in her report forms are given out by the Dispensary to the children whose parents cannot afford to buy the same. We sometimes wonder if the Dispensary receives full credit from the different organizations for the help it gives them in their work, as well as the aid given these families who cannot buy what has been ordered for them.

Large Drug Bill "Our drug bill this year was $729.04—$123.48 more than last year. The bill for drugs is our largest one, as you can readily understand, but every dollar of it is, we feel, well spent, and it is a great joy to be able to co-operate with our splendid doctors who give so generously of their time and skill, by supplying the medicine they order. "A frequent visitor to the Dispensary is one who is an active church worker among the poor. Watching the people come and go with their calls answered and their wants supplied, he asked me sometimes wonder ourselves how it is done, and think what joy it must be to have plenty of money at the disposal of an organization such as ours. As it is we have to count our pennies, worry over our bills, and rejoice beyond measure when at the end of the year our books show a trifling balance on the right side.

Generous Gifts "It has been the policy of the Free Dispensary to care for needy families at Christmas, and this year was no exception. We sent out numerous well-filled baskets and worked in conjunction with other Societies, so that no one was forgotten. The citizens of Charlottetown, the Rotary Club, and the Male Chorus, made possible by their generous gifts a joyous Christmas treat for many happy kiddies, and if you want to experience for yourselves the real pleasure of seeing others made happy, come with me to the next Christmas tree. "An out of town friend sent us $2.00, asking if we could use it to bring Santa Claus to some little girl, in memory of their own little Joyce, who had left them shortly after last Christmas. Strangely enough we found a little girl named Joyce, exactly the same age as the one who had passed away, and rejoiced her heart with Christmas cheer. "One applying for help for the

"Dodge City Trail" Excellent Western Set To Grand Music

Columbia's answer to the admitted demand for important outdoor pictures, which might have been expected from a studio which is becoming world-famous for the artistry of its cinematic products. It is titled "Dodge City Trail." It opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre to enthusiastic crowds that applauded the red-blooded drama and went away whistling or humming the tuneful songs.

With Charles Starrett, the star and Donald Grayson, a screen newcomer, as the featured singer, "Dodge City Trail" is a grand musical western. The story tells of Starrett, a Texas ranch foreman, en-route by trail with a huge herd of cattle for the railroad point at Dodge City in the historic days when the west was covered for pioneer migration. With him, breaking in as a young puncher, is the ranch owner's son, the singing Donald Grayson. Charles Starrett, the lovely little Marion Weldon, enters the plot—and Starrett's heart—when he rescues her from kidnapping bandits. The plot is a nature story. Keen on eye on that lad Miss Weldon, by her first leading role, is charming. The rest of the cast all do first-class work.

The "Dodge City Trail" it breathes the spirit of the outdoors, has a story of high drama and is, altogether, grand entertainment for the whole family. The picture program also includes a screen song, short reel, and the second chapter of the new serial "Dick Tracy."

"The Dr. Jenkins Coal Fund has unfortunately grown less—no doubt on account of City relief. This year we had only $90.00 of this fund to expend and could only use it for very needy cases. "Flu was found in many homes, and each day unusually large numbers of people came seeking advice and medicine. Insulin is still supplied all the year round to an old lady and two women who suffer from diabetes and receive tablets for its treatment every week. "Let me give a few stories from the year's records:—We had a T.B. patient—an advanced case—a man too far gone to be admitted to the Sanatorium. His home was visited daily for several weeks, medicine given and such dainties as he fancied, your worker did her best to procure for him. Sometimes the poor fellow asked for oysters, clam chowder, and still again he would ask for a piece of cake. Trifles maybe, but to him, to have his wants supplied means much to the invalid who has so little appetite. He was profuse in thanks on all occasions and just before his sudden passing, he asked for your worker, and left touching messages of gratitude for her.

Appeal For Aid "Some months ago we had considerable correspondence about a woman over eighty years of age. Though originally from Charlottetown, she had lived many years in the United States with an old friend. This friend had died, and the poor old lady, for her natural support, was unemployed and on relief. Mrs. — tried to get relief too, but not being a naturalized American citizen, was advised to return to her native land. She got in touch with the Dispensary. We appealed for aid from all the different sources we knew, but without result so we wrote her that she could not expect aid from P. E. I. since she had lived elsewhere so long. She thought such treatment to be quite cruel, and taking matters in her own hands, arrived in Charlottetown. We had to take her case up all over again, and once more worry those who had refused aid. Our opportunity has its effect, and the old lady is now comfortably settled and deeply grateful.

Reports Are Heard At Annual Meeting Of Free Dispensary

Following are the reports submitted at the annual meeting of the Charlottetown Free Dispensary last night.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The text of the address of retiring President W. F. Tidmarsh follows: "It is my privilege and pleasure to again preside at this meeting which is the 27th. Annual Meeting of the Free Dispensary Association. "I am pleased to be able to report that the Free Dispensary still carries on its useful philanthropic activities, successfully and efficiently. "Since the distribution of relief by Governments and the City, one of the principle functions of the Dispensary has been furnishing medicine to indigent persons suffering from illness. The medicine is furnished on prescriptions issued by medical doctors only. This forms only a part of Dispensary work. In addition to this, the Supervisor, Miss Earle, visits the sick, supervises the sanitary condition of the home, gives instructions in hygiene, supplies nourishing food to the sick and when government relief is suspended, supplies food to those without means of support. "Scientific research has revealed to us the knowledge that the most valuable asset the state can possess is strong, healthy, happy citizens. Any institution engaged in the promotion of health is therefore an important adjunct in reaching this desirable objective, and is worthy of financial support by governments. We claim that the Free Dispensary is well worthy of inclusion in this category. "The Provincial and City governments have, in recent years, given a yearly grant of $300.00 each to the Free Dispensary. It is expected that these grants will be renewed this year and increased if possible. "I would suggest that the incoming executive explore the possibility of arranging with the City Council to use the Dispensary to administer the City relief fund. The Dispensary could easily take on this work and administer the fund equitably, efficiently and economically. "The Annual Dispensary Collection will commence this week. Envelopes will be distributed on Friday and Saturday, and will be collected on the following Monday, May 10. We are hopeful the public will respond with its usual generosity. "I have been a member of the Executive of the Free Dispensary since its commencement, and for some years have had conferred on me the honor of presiding over its meetings. It is a privilege and a pleasure to have been entrusted with this honor, and I have endeavored to do my best for its generous financial support; the press for fully reporting our activities and assisting us in all our efforts. "In closing I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the service rendered by Miss Earle, for many years she has been the mainstay of the Dispensary. She has performed her duties faithfully and efficiently, and has been a true friend and comforter to many of the poor and afflicted in this City. "With the assurance that I shall take an interest in the institution I bid you an official farewell. "In sending the adoption of the annual report of Mr. W. F. Tidmarsh, retiring president, Major T. E. McNutt read the following address. Charlottetown, P. E. I. 6th May, 1937

W. F. Tidmarsh, Esq., President, Anti-Tuberculosis Society, Charlottetown, P. E. I. "Dear Mr. Tidmarsh:—It was with much regret that we, the members of the Executive Committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, heard your decision not to allow yourself to be nominated again as President of the Society, as we realize that you have taken a foremost position in its guidance for so many years. "On the organization of the Society in November 1909 you were elected its President, which office you held until 1914, when you were succeeded by the late Mr. Joseph McCarey, and then by the late Dr. S. R. Jenkins. On the death of the latter, in 1930, again you kindly consented to take over the duties of President, which position you have since so ably filled. "Not only during the years you guided the Society as its Chief Executive, but during its whole existence your wise counsel and active and ready assistance was always at its disposal. "It is evident, therefore, from the above that you have served well for over twenty-seven years of the poor, the needy and those suffering from illness in this City. In conveying our sincere thanks to you for a so long and faithful service, we do so, not only on behalf of ourselves as an Executive, but on behalf of the many who have received assistance from the Society. "Although you are now retiring as President, we are sure the Society will have your kindly interest and advice in the necessary work in which it is engaged. "We regret, Sir, your retirement, but we realize that after so long a service it is only right that you be released from the office you have filled to the entire satisfaction of those associated with you. "In closing we wish both you and Mrs. Tidmarsh years of health, happiness and prosperity. Faithfully,

Sgd. W. J. P. MACMILLAN, Vice-President. T. EDGAR MACNUTT, Vice-President. GERTRUDE COTTON, Secretary.

Continues Fight Against Extradition

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

OTTAWA, May 6—(CP)—Captain Freeman Hatfield's long fight against extradition to Canada of charges arising from the now famous "Gypsum Queen" reparations case has entered another stage, authorities of the Justice Department learned today. "Atorneys for the aged Nova Scotia skipper have applied to the Supreme Court of the United States for a re-hearing of the extradition action. "For several years Captain Hatfield has languished in a Manchester, N. H., jail fighting the action taken by Dominion authorities to bring him to Ottawa to face charges of theft in connection with his successful claim for $71,000 for the alleged torpedoing of his schooner during the war. "The action has pursued its slow course through the lower and high courts of the United States and an appeal to the Supreme Court of that country was turned down a few weeks ago. The present action

Advertisement for Aylmer Foods featuring a crown logo and text: "We join with the Makers of AYLMER Foods In Wishing Their Majesties a Long and Peaceful Reign. These Items On Sale Friday, Saturday, Monday"

Tomato Catsup AYLMER 12 oz. bottle 2 BOTTLES 25c

SOUPS AYLMER Vegetable or Tomato—10 1/2 oz. tins 3 for 23c

Peaches Sliced or Halves AYLMER No. 2 Squat tin, Each 17c

AYLMER JAMS, JELLIES, MARMALADES, 8 oz. jars, 8 varieties, 2 for 19c

AYLMER PURE ORANGE MARMALADE, 2 lb. jar 27c

AYLMER CHOICE SWEET CORN, No. 2 tin, 4 tins 39c

Tomato Juice Aylmer Fancy, Tall family size tin, 2 1/2 oz. (Limited quantity) 4 tins 39c

CHOICE MEATS CHUCK ROAST BEEF 16c, BONELESS VEAL ROLLS 14c, LAMB LEGS 23c, CALVES LIVER 29c, BOLOGONA, Sliced, Lb. 14c, HEAD CHEESE, Sliced, Lb. 19c, COOKED TONGUE, Lb. 45c, CORNED BEEF, Lb. 19c

Coiman's MUSTARD 1-4 tin 28c, Aviator MATCHES, 3 boxes 25c, McCready's Sweet Mustard 20 oz. Bottle 20c, Jewel SHORTENING 1 lb. pkg. 17c, Slicing SUGAR 1 lb. pkg. 2 for 19c, FRESH HALIBUTE, Lb. 17c, SALMON Fresh Frozen Lb. 28c

FRUITS and VEGETABLES Sunkist ORANGES, doz. 39c, GRAPEFRUIT 4 for 25c, Firm Ripe BANANAS, 2 lbs. 19c, Fresh SPINACH, 2 lbs. 39c, New CABBAGE, 2 lbs. 17c, New RADISH, Bunch 10c, TOMATOES, Lb. 20c

THE CANADIAN STORES LTD

first time wrote "I never knew before what it meant to be real poor. Can you send me a Christmas dinner?" We got a Christmas dinner for her from a member of her church who had not heard of her distress, and the Dispensary provided a New Year's meal.

My tribute to our retiring President, Mr. Tidmarsh, for many years has been a tower of strength to the Dispensary, always ready with advice and help, and unfailing courtesy and patience.

We are pleased to report Prof. J. Connelly is convalescing.

"Aces" Becoming His Hobby

Soft ball the cry of the P. W. C. students these days. Two games recently between the first and second years ended in favor of the juniors.

Resolved that state control of medicine should be put into practice," was the debate of section B on April 27th. Pro. T. Arsenault, B. Prund and Y. Galant. Con: N. Burnett, L. Thompson, and D. Nicholson. Con won.

News Briefs From P.W.C. By CHARLES E. MACARTHUR

Resolved that women would do better in business life than men would in domestic life, section B's debate. Pro. L. MacLeod, L. Macdonald and S. Ramsay. Con. A. Weils and A. Johnson. The vote 49-39 favored con.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that Greek civilization was greater than Roman civilization," Pro. L. Toombs, S. Ramsay, and A. Reynolds. Con. E. Hessian, C. Crockett and J. Denny. Critic, C. Milligan.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that women would do better in business life than men would in domestic life, section B's debate. Pro. L. MacLeod, L. Macdonald and S. Ramsay. Con. A. Weils and A. Johnson. The vote 49-39 favored con.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

Resolved that the fishing industry is superior to the potato industry on P. E. Island," was section A's debate last week. Pro. N. Harper, J. Hamill and T. MacKenna. Con. D. Myers, A. Nicholson, and T. Morrissey. Critic W. MacGuirk. Con won.

CREAM ROUTES BEGINNING WEDNESDAY, May 5th—Glen William, Glen Martin, Killmure, Valleyfield, Ulg. FRIDAY, MAY 7th—Murray Harbor, Gurnsey Cove, Murray River, Surrey, Iona, Fodhla, Lower Newton, Vernon. MONDAY, MAY 10th—White Sands, Belle River, Eidon, Pinette, Orwell Cove. Truck will leave Murray Harbor 6 A. M. each morning making one trip each week until further notice. JOHNNIE BLUE Hauler for CENTRAL CREAMERIES LTD. Charlottetown, P. E. I.