CAR GOES OVER EMBANKMENT—On Monday afternoon a car owned by a resident of the western part of the Province, went over the embankment at the east of Water street, Summerside. The owner started up his engine just outside the Globe Hotel and owing to the slippery state of the road the car shot forward towards the embankment; the brakes were applied a little too hard and the machine went over head first, breaking through the ice. The car was extracted with some difficulty, the driver escaping without serious injury to either himself or the car.—S.

FUNERAL SERVICE—The funeral services for Mrs. Charles Arsenault were held on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock in St. Paul's Church, Summerside. Rev. Bennett McDonald said the Requiem Mass. Rev. G. J. McLellan, D.D., performed the last rites at the grave. The pall bearers were Messrs. W. W. Muttart, Wm. McQuarrie, Joseph Peters, Maxime Peters, Henry Perry and Dr. Murdo. Interment was in the Roman Catholic Cemetery on Central Street. Owing to a typographical error, Mrs. Arsenault's age was given as eighty-four in the obituary notice, it should have read forty-eight.—S.

NOTED ISLANDER DIES IN OREGON—The death of Dr. Burpee L. Steeves of Salem, Oregon, is reported. Dr. Steeves was a native of Summerside, P. E. Island. Some years ago Dr. Steeves was Mayor of Salem, and of late years was interested in the banking business. He was a cultured gentleman and a credit to his native Island.—Oakland Maple Leaf.

SAD NEWS RECEIVED—Mr. Alban Gillis, Summerside, Grand Trustee of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association of Canada, and president of the local branch, No. 215, received a telegram on Tuesday morning from Judge F. J. Curran, Montreal, Grand Chancellor of the Association, that Mr. H. A. The late Mr. Fyland was quite a young man and his sudden death will be learned with regret by many friends in this Province. He addressed the Branch at Summerside on Oct. 27, 1930, at their anniversary banquet. Previous telegrams stated that Mr. Fyland's condition was improving, but in spite of the best attention he passed to his eternal reward, after receiving the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church. The funeral takes place on Thursday in Montreal.—S.

Mrs. Hardy, also shown in (2), told her husband that their son had gone "stark, staring mad" when he allegedly struck her with an automobile crank.

Eastern Guardian... Mr. Bowness was born in Kensington and after being educated at the village school went to Prince of Wales College; he left the Island as a young man and his career has been an interesting one, and he now holds the high office of Vice President of the Dominion Gas Company, Edmonton. Quoting from the clipping it says: "War veteran, school teachers and civil engineer, Ernest W. Bowness, recently appointed vice president of Dominion Gas Company, probably has more knowledge of Canada's great water powers than many so-called experts. His professional skill has been called in to play at various times in connection with the development of important utilities in Canada and the United States. Thirty years ago, Mr. Bowness attended the coronation of King Edward. He had served through the South African war and in 1903 was chosen as one of two men to represent his regiment, the 82nd Infantry, a Canadian Unit, at the coronation. Mr. Bowness was born in Prince Edward Island, and is a graduate of two colleges. In 1888 he graduated from Prince of Wales College, after which he took up school teaching. Then he joined the Royal Canadian regiment, won promotion to the rank of Lieutenant, and subsequently resigned his commission to serve in the South African War. Taking a course in engineering at McGill University, Montreal, after having completed his military service, Mr. Bowness graduated from that institution in 1905 with the Degree of Bachelor of Science. As early as 1907 Mr. Bowness reported on the Bow River water power development west of Calgary. Later development projects in Quebec required his attention. For some years he held responsible positions in Portland, Oregon. Mr. Bowness acted as efficiency engineer in the city of Edmonton in 1913; while for the next four years he was consulting engineer on several water power and steam development projects in Western Canada. Water power on the Saskatchewan river was reported upon by this engineer, while he also made reports on projects in Nova Scotia, and at Prince George, British Columbia. For some years past, Mr. Bowness has been manager of Canadian Utilities, a subsidiary of the Dominion Gas Company, with plants in various parts of the Western Provinces.—S.

Moore & McLeod Limited BUSY KNITTING AT 90 (Canada Press) LONDON, Nov 21—Who is the United Kingdom's oldest worker? One, Robert Harr son, of Calverton, Nottinghamshire, can lay strong claim to this title, for though in his 80th year he is still working at his job of turning out half-hose. Seventy-six years ago, when only 13, he began work in the little cottage industry in Calverton. He was then one of several hundred workers. Today he is one of a dozen or so who are keeping alive the ancient trade of hand-frame knitting in a machine-dominated world. He has been in the employ of one firm, Morley's, whose son or craftsman he is, the whole of his working life. Minard's Liniment removes stains.
