PERSONALS

Mrs. L. E. Wellner returned last evening after a short visit to Sackville, N. B.

Mr. Fred Micklewright, who has been in the city during the past week, will be a passenger this morning to Tignish.

Captain Milton Chapman, of Murray Harbour, brought his schooner "Leo" into Charlottetown on Sunday night with a load of coal for Pickard's. The schooner will discharge to-day and return to Murray River for a load of produce for Halifax.

Miss Katie McCabe, daughter of Mr. James McCabe, Stanhope, who is undergoing treatment in the Charlottetown Hospital, is now doing nicely. She has not been operated upon for appendicitis as was inadvertently stated.

Mr. John Nichol, farmer of Guernsey Cove, was in the city yesterday on return from a trip to Summerside. Mr. Nichol was enjoying a few days' well-earned rest after having completed the harvesting of this year's crop, which he reports to have been abundant.

Miss Nan Lea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lea, left today for Annapolis, where shortly after her arrival she will be married to Dr. Harold Steeves, a native of Albert County, but now of Sydney, B. C. She was accompanied by her father—Moncton Transcript. Mr. Lea is a native of Prince Edward Island.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carragher are glad to know that they arrived safely to their future home in Green Bay, New Brunswick, about a week ago from the Northwest, where they had spent almost two years. Mr. and Mrs. Carragher had good success in making a large sum of money and their employers, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lavie, of the Northwest wish them many happy days at their home on P. E. I.—Com.

Mr. Gordon Prowse, who had been suffering considerably from the effects of poison, which he inadvertently drank, is much improved and hopes soon to resume his studies. Mr. Prowse, it may be explained, was taking medicine from a bottle identical with the same as another which contained a poisonous embrocation similar in colour to the medicine. The bottles became interchanged and he swallowed a good deal of the poison before he knew of his mistake. His friends will be glad to learn that he is now fairly on the road to recovery.

FOX NOTES.

The Silver Black Fox says: Mr. David Schurman, secretary of the Sampson Black Fox Co., Ltd., in 1910 put $500 into a pair of foxes, and in the fall of 1911 he sold his interest in the young from said pair for $5,000, still retaining his original interest in the old pair. He did the same in 1912, and in the fall of 1913, he received $5,000 for his interest in the pups, and sold his interest in the old pair for $5,000, and all this in the face of giving the third of the increase each year for the keep of the old pair. The same party in 1911 put $900 into a fox proposition and in 1912 he took out $4,500 and the same amount in both 1913 and 1914, still retaining his original interest—this also after paying one-third of the cost of rearing the young for each year for the keep of the old pair for $5,000.

Miss ... stenographer, put $500 into a fox proposition in 1912 and in 1913 drew out $1,600 and still retains her original investment.

Mr. ... clerk in a company in store, put $1,500 into a company in store, and drew out in 1913 $2,250 and in 1914 his dividends will be $5,000.

AN IRISH TRAGEDY

DUBLIN, Oct. 22.—A shocking tragedy occurred in Cork on the night of the 17th, or in the early hours of the morning. A shoemaker, named William Mulaney, living in Mayor street, shot dead his wife; his son, aged nine; a daughter, aged eighteen; and another daughter, aged nineteen was wounded. He then turned the revolver on himself and committed suicide. It appears that for some time the members of the family had been afraid of their father. Jealousy is said to have been the motive for the awful crime. Only the previous week the man was bound to the peace for threatening his wife.

Had Nervous Dyspepsia

With Frequent Sick Headaches and Much Pain After Eating—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured.

This letter is from a lady who gained 14 pounds by using the great food cure. It did wonders for her in improving her general health. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and refers to her neighbors as witnesses of the splendid results obtained.

Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill Mines, N. S., writes:—"It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with dyspepsia, and could not eat without suffering much pain; also had my nerves were in bad condition. About ten years ago I took a thorough treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, using altogether 21 boxes, and since then can eat anything have been freed from headaches, and my health has been greatly improved in every way. I gained 14 pounds in weight, and feel sure I owe everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may use this letter, and my neighbors can tell you of my condition before using this treatment."

GRAVE ANXIETY IN GERMANY OVER THE WAR SITUATION

Official Press Hints That Decision is Likely to Come "Like a Lion in the Night." Chancellor Von Hollweg is Being Held Responsible

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 21.—Via London, Oct. 21.—The military correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, hints that there is a certain amount of anxiety about the situation in Germany. He explains that a decision is likely to come "like a lion in the night" and that it will more probably be on the East frontier rather than in the West.

"While fresh masses of troops can be brought without hindrance overseas," he says, "they constitute an awkward adversary. If they invaded Germany, which is to be doubted, Germany has still a somewhat hard task, which must not be forgotten in waiting for the decision."

Chancellor Von Hollweg, according to the Tageblatt is being attacked in certain influential circles, as responsible for the war.

The Bordeaux correspondent of the Star sends the following: "On Tuesday the Germans made another great effort to burst the narrowing circle of steel that is hemming them in. They tried vainly at no fewer than six points to discover a weak spot on the Allied front. The main effort being made at Labassee."

FARMERS MEETING AT TRACADIE ENJOYABLE RECITAL BY PROF. SOUTHWICK

Tracadie Cross meeting opened last evening, at 7.45 o'clock, John Court, Esq., of Donaldson, in the chair. In his opening words the chairman outlined the purpose of the meeting, and called on Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams first distinguished between powdery and common scab. It lives on the potato and derives all its nourishment from it, so that the scab is plentiful enough it makes the tuber much less valuable for food. An excess of lime in the soil makes the disease much worse, so that makes it easier for you to get rid of the disease. It only attacks the tubers. The spores or seed of the powdery scab can live in the soil for three years, but not for ten. If animals are fed raw potatoes, the spores will infect the manure, and all infected potatoes should be boiled. The disease is generally spread by planting infected seed. It is distributed fairly evenly over the whole province.

Every farmer should have a copy of this in his pocket, and to assist him in this, he should get copies of Farmer's Bulletin Nos. 4 and 5 from the Dominion Botanist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. These can be had free, not costing even for postage. Up to 1912 potatoes could be freely imported into Europe, but on the 8th of that year the importation of all potatoes from Europe was forbidden on account of canker.

The United States placed an embargo on potatoes, until such a time as the Secretary of Agriculture should be satisfied that the powdery scab has been killed out of any country or district which is known to be free. The word "district" was afterwards defined to be a province or a well-defined geographical area, so that so long as one farm on Prince Edward Island has powdery scab, it will not be possible to ship potatoes from Prince Edward Island into the United States. Last July the Dominion Botanist went up to Washington and made recommendations which have been accepted by the Horticultural Board but are now hung up on account of the war. As far as I know, these regulations will permit any farmer to send his potatoes, who can get a certificate that his potatoes have no powdery scab and have been grown on land free from powdery scab, but one case of potatoes certified free from scab would lead to the embargo being again placed on.

The next speaker was Mr. Holmhen. He said that Dakota Red potatoes seem to be a disease resistant variety. The same is true of the cross-bred potatoes, a cross between the Dakota Red and McIntyre. In my inspection I have come across four men using a digger cooperatively. They lived at a considerable distance apart. They all had the disease, but their neighbours living between them had not the disease. I have no doubt that the disease was carried from one farm to another by the digger. The soil and the seed will carry the infection, but men who follow the control measures can get clear of the disease. Cellars should be disinfected by sprinkling with formalin 1 to 300 of water.

I have found some extra cases this year, three only yesterday, and I am satisfied that it is distributed nearly all over the island. If you wish the services of an inspector of all you need to do is to drop a card to me at Box 182, Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

Specimens of potatoes affected with common and with powdery scab were then passed around and everyone had the opportunity of examining them.

Mr. John Court said that if potatoes are planted near the barn, where ashes or lime is plentiful, it is a plenty of scab. If I plant these scabby potatoes at the back of the farm, I will have clean potatoes.

Mr. Holmhen.—That is correct for common scab, but not for powdery scab.

Q.—Does it go deeper into the potato than the common scab? A.—It is hard to say, sometimes the common scab may be worse, sometimes the powdery scab may be the worst.

The next speaker was Prof. Ross, who urged the farmers to co-operate in getting clear of this disease. He also suggested that if the American market was closed to us we should grow fewer potatoes and grow more turnips.

Father McIntyre was the next speaker. He urged the farmers to try to get rid of it, and asked that his name be taken and bulletins be sent to him. He moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Adams and Mr. Holmhen, which was seconded by Mr. Smith and supported by Messrs Angus McAulay and John Court, and carried unanimously.

The attendance was not large, but appreciative, and everyone went home satisfied that they could see the difference in the two kinds of scab.

BEEF SALAD. One quart each of raw cabbage and boiled beets chopped rather fine, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup grated horse radish, a little pepper and mustard, and vinegar to cover. Not cooked.

Chancellor Von Hollweg, according to the Tageblatt is being attacked in certain influential circles, as responsible for the war.

The Bordeaux correspondent of the Star sends the following: "On Tuesday the Germans made another great effort to burst the narrowing circle of steel that is hemming them in. They tried vainly at no fewer than six points to discover a weak spot on the Allied front. The main effort being made at Labassee."

A large and representative audience filled the Prince of Wales College Hall last evening when a highly interesting and entertaining dramatic recital, under the direction of Miss Bertha Gorman, was given in aid of the Belgian Relief Fund.

The principal figure was Mr. Henry Lawrence Southwick, president of the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, Mass., who entertained his audience for nearly two hours, during the whole of which time there was not a single dull moment. Mr. Southwick is unquestionably a master of oratory, and his performances last evening were brilliant examples of art. The first hour and a half was occupied by the recital of a condensation of Shakespeare's "Richard III." Mr. Southwick gave an historical introduction, showing the relations of the principal characters, and summarising the events of the closing years of the Wars of the Roses. In his presentation he gave the first, third and fifth acts, with a synopsis of the connecting events of acts 2 and 4. The characters involved were Richard, Buckingham, Stanley, Catesby, Henry Tudor of Richmond, Anne Neville, daughter of the Earl of Warwick and Duchess of York; Lord Norfolk and Rastcliffe, Richard, in spite of his physical defects, is made by Shakespeare a strong and gripping character; and in the masterly presentation of the part by last night's orator the audience had before them the conversion of inanimate pages into a living, striking personage. The modulation of his voice is remarkable, and he invests the various speeches of his characters with perceptible distinctiveness. Richard's nightmare and the visions of his murdered victims was admirably portrayed and evoked the spontaneous applause of the house.

There then followed some dainty dances, Scotch and Irish, by a few of Miss Gorman's pupils, who gave an excellent account of themselves, and whose performances spoke volumes for the training they had received.

Lord Norfolk next gave three short humorous recitations which kept the audience in continuous laughter. The first was a selection from the works of Harriet Beecher Stowe, the popular American writer and the creator of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This was one of the scientific "Sam Lawson" stories and was entitled "The Minister's House-keeper." In this selection Mr. Southwick proved himself as good a humorist as a dramatist, and his interpretation of prim femininity was very effective. The next piece was a little farcical skit entitled "The Alphabetical Romance," which was amusing. The best of his lighter efforts, however, was a short poem, "The Camel's Lament—by Himself." It was a fantastic complaint supposed to be uttered by a sorely distressed and down-in-the-mouth camel.

Mr. Southwick visited St Dunstan's College yesterday morning and gave an address to the students on the principles of oratorical expression.

NOT ASHAMED OF OUR INDIAN TROOPS

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Press Bureau made public to-day, for first time, a speech by Lord Crewe, Secretary of State for India, delivered last Tuesday to the officers recently appointed for Government service in India.

"Indian forces," the Secretary said, "will very soon be taking their places in the firing line, beside their British comrades. The enemy, make it a matter of reproach that we are sending our Asiatic troops in Europe. To that I am prepared to reply, in the words of the famous sentence over the gateway of a university: 'They say, what they say, let them say.' But I will add this. It is not in our eyes a matter of pride, that our Indian fellow-subjects identify themselves with ourselves in the present quarrel, and I fully expect the enemy may, before the war ends, learn several not unneeded lessons from Indian troops, lessons of chivalry, humanity and respect for persons and homes of the poor and humble."

NEW BRUNSWICK MAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 22.—The trial of Thomas G. Cook, a prominent young business man of Wainwright, formerly of Fredericton, N.B., charged with the murder of William H. Crawford, another Wainwright business man, on May 14th, opened yesterday, and promises to be one of the most sensational cases in the history of the province.

The trial is expected to last until the middle of next week. Mr. and Mrs. Cook, father and mother of the accused, have arrived from Fredericton, and are attending the trial.

IN MEMORIAM

GEORGE CARR SR.

The death occurred in the P. E. Island Hospital, yesterday afternoon, after a lingering illness, of George Carr sr., aged 69 years.

The deceased had always enjoyed robust health up to about three years ago when he became suddenly stricken with Bright's disease from which he never recovered. Although all was done for him that loving care and medical skill could suggest his spirit took its flight into Him who gave it at 7.45 Thursday evening, Oct. 22nd.

The deceased formerly belonged to Rustico, but removed to Charlottetown about thirty-five years ago, where he has since resided.

He leaves to mourn, besides a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Hood, of West Quinny, Mass., who was called home on account of his illness, also seven sons, William, George T. Jr., Joseph, Albert Ernest and David all of this city, and Wallace residing in the United States; also five sisters, Mrs. J. K. McInnis, Regina, Sask.; Mrs. Joseph W. McEwen, Millinocket, Maine; Mrs. Albert Cudmore, Winsloe Road; Mrs. Andrew Cudmore and Mrs. William H. Cudmore both of this city; also two brothers, Edmund, residing in Rustico and Robert, in Medford, Mass. To the bereaved relatives the Guardian tenders sincere sympathy. (Island and American papers please copy.)

500 DEAD GERMANS IN ONE VILLAGE

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The correspondent of the "Times" at Boulogne under date of Wednesday describes the desperate fighting of the past week in which the Germans have been driven back from village to village to the outskirts of Lille. He says: "The destruction has been terrible. Some of the villages have been shelled both by the Allies and the Germans and many non-combatants have been killed. A whole family was found dead in one house. In one of the villages 500 dead Germans were found after the fighting. The cartridges in their possession, it was noted, were of the old Snider type, with a large lead bullet."

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" IS THE QUICKEST AND SUREST STOMACH RELIEF

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

THE VICTROLA AND THE FAMILY—No. 2

has many hours of leisure now. "The most pleasant of these," she says, "are those I spend in knitting while the Victrola sings for me, the old, old songs. I used to love.

"There's 'Love's Old Sweet Song,' 'Silver Threads Among the Gold,' and 'Sweet Genevieve,' sung by such splendid singers as Clarence Whitehill, Richard José and John McCormack. Those are my favorites, but there are so very many other splendid pieces all by such wonderful artists that it is a constant source of wonder and pleasure to me. The best of it is, the rest of the family are just as fond of it as I am. The Victrola surely has brought sunshine into our lives."
