WANT POTATOES FOR POOR PEOPLE

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, MAN., Oct. 27.—Mayor Webb, of Winnipeg, appealing to local market gardeners to permit needy families to dig the potatoes they were leaving in the ground because of low prices, said:

"I understand there are lots of farmers and market gardeners in the vicinity of the city, who, owing to the low price of potatoes, are leaving them in the ground. Winter will soon be here and then the potatoes would be frozen in the ground. There are lots of families who would go out and dig them for themselves if owners would give this permission."

The Mayor said he would welcome information as to farmers or market gardeners willing to adopt his suggestion.

the way of actual achievement." The Tribune says:

"Urban planning is a prominent part of the activities carried on, and the report lists 14 Alberta cities and towns which now have town-planning commissions. These and other centres are given every assistance from the director. Plans have been made and valuable advice given on various phases of urban development.

"The efforts of the advisory board reach out into all phases of planning and beautifying in the province. One useful piece of legislation which has resulted from the establishment of the board is a set of regulations aimed at maintaining the scenic advantages of Alberta highways. An interesting section of the report deals with 'farm planning.' On invitation, the Alberta town-planning department inspects farmsteads, advises on their treatment, and even makes plans. A service has also been inaugurated to give information on tree planting on farmsteads.

"It will thus be seen that in a very real way town-planning practice and town-planning principles are penetrating into all corners of Alberta. The province is setting a splendid example which other provinces might follow to advantage."

far exceeds their expectations in thoroughly and efficiently heating the whole house.

The outstanding advantage of the Pease Pipeless furnace is the simplicity of installation. This furnace requires no long leads—no piping at all except the smoke pipe. It delivers great volumes of heat through a centrally located register and from this source floods every room in the house with clean, healthful warm air.

The Pease Pipeless furnace incorporates many fuel and labor saving features. Ask us to outline these features for you.

"THE GOLDEN FUTURE" IS IN GREAT DEMAND. A merchant bought one copy yesterday and immediately sent for an additional 100. Another merchant visited the office saw a copy, and took 50 with him. 10-18-tf

HERE FROM ONTARIO.—Mr. J. Wilfrid Davison, Belleville, Ont., and Mr. Harold G. Davison, Orillia, Ont. arrived on Saturday accompanying the remains of their mother, Mrs. J. Milton Davison who passed away there after a short illness.

COMMUNITY WORK—The regular monthly meeting of the Auburn Women's Institute was held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 14th at the home of Mrs. Jos. McEntee, the President Mrs. J. Simpson presiding. The meeting opened with the singing of Institute Ode by all the members, thirteen in number. Roll call was answered by "the best methods of fumigating." It was decided to hold a lottery, proceeds to be decided upon at next meeting, which will be the annual meeting and a small collection to be taken up for different needs. Meeting closed by the song of "My Old Kentucky Home," after which a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. McEntree, assisted by her friend, Mrs. J. Callaghan. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Ambrose Callaghan.

INSTITUTE WORK—The October meeting of the Mt. Mellick Women's Institute was held at the home of Msr. Ilett Richards. Twelve members and seven visitors were present. The meeting opened by the singing of "My Old Kentucky Home," followed by the repeating of the Creed in unison. Sing, say, play or pay was the roll call response. The minutes of the last meeting were read, approved and signed. The concert and sick committee each gave their reports. The Treasurer reported that $40 05 had been made at a concert in Pownal Hall, and that $20 had been paid towards re-painting the interior of the school. It was decided that a drinking fountain be purchased for the school at once. A bill for advertising was presented and paid. Mrs. John MacRae and Miss Sarah MacDonald each paid $1.00 towards the painting fund. A letter from Elliott Robertson was read, thanking the members for fruit sent to him. Miss Sarah MacDonald invited the November meeting to her home, roll call to be answered by Hints for Christmas presents. Lunch was served by the hostess, and a programme consisting of readings by Miss Elizabeth MacRae, and Mrs. Clapp, and singing by Mrs. W. J. Mutch, Mrs. W. J. MacEachern, and Mr. Ilett Richards, was enjoyed by all. The meeting then adjourned.

Church Services

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. A. C. Vincent spoke with much power and appeal on the theme Religion in the home, at Sunday morning's service. His text was Deut. 6, 7, "And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shall talk of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up."

The sermon of the morning was suggested by an editorial in one of Canada's well known weeklies, where in was discussed some phases of the education of our young people. During the past two months thousands of young folk have returned to school, from kindergarten to high school they are seeking knowledge. Yearly we have more learners. Yearly we pay more educational taxes and no tax is better justified than that which pays for the training of our children. But it is sometimes to be wondered, whether our young folk are more cultured, whether good books are more popular, whether a better sense of values is being developed, whether ethical standards are higher. The writer of the editorial was of the opinion that ethical standards had not improved, that moral standards are looser, that amusement is supplanting serious thinking. Education should be an equippment for the battle of life, is an improved equipment being developed?

If the editor is right, are these results the fault of our educational methods or are they largely the fault of modern family life? An old lady mentioned to the speaker that in her home district, in her youth practically every family reverently observed family devotion, and that today in the same district, there were only two families where an altar was raised to Almighty God!

The preservation of our civilization depends to the largest degree on the teaching received from the fathers and mothers of this generation. Sunday School, Day School and Church can only supplement, they cannot supplant the ministry of the devoted religious family life. Poor indeed are the chances of the boys and girls in a family where the card table is used three times as often as the bible, where the father fills an ash tray oftener than he leads his family in prayer.

Nothing so indicates a feeling of being at home with God as the altar reverently raised in every home. No influence makes for the preservation of righteousness, moral and social virtue, of purity, honesty, generosity and all the gracious fruits of the spirit as the example and teaching of Christian fathers and mothers in a Christian home.

At the evening service "Oh Saviour of the World" was sung and Mrs. Arthur Roper was heard in an understanding interpretation of "Unto the hills," the fine hymn of joyful confident trust by John, Duke of Argylle, in the setting by Charles H. Purday.

At the evening service, Dr. Vincent preached a moving, eloquent sermon on "The Merciful" the fifth of a series on the beatitudes.

Despite unfavorable weather, a very encouraging attendance and interest at the Sunday School was evident. An increased attendance at the mid week prayer meeting formed an encouraging feature of the Church activity.

The music of the day was well sustained. The morning anthem "No Shadows Yonder" was rendered expressively with Mr. Quigley taking the tenor solo.

Education of our adults is needed now as never before, for in this machine, mass-production age, the life of the worker must be enriched or, in many cases, his spirit will die. We probably can hold the place we now have by schooling children only, but to make real progress we must educate adults.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. E. Wright, Summerside, and Mr. Egerton S. Norton and family, Brudennel, motored to the city on Sunday for the funeral of Mrs. J. Milton Davison.

Eggs Were Shied At Suffragette

MEETING BROKE UP IN DISORDER AND LEADER GIVEN POLICE PROTECTION

NEWCASTLE, N. S. W., Oct. 25—Eggs were shied at Mrs. Tom Walsh—formerly Miss Adela Pankhurst, daughter of the suffragette leader, Mrs. Pankhurst—today during a political meeting, but the missiles all missed their target.

The meeting broke up in disorder and Mrs. Walsh was given police protection. She has been campaigning on behalf of the Nationalists during the state's election campaign.

Liberia Grants Slaves Freedom

GENEVA, Oct. 25—A presidential decree freeing all domestic slaves in Liberia, the negro republic on the west coast of Africa, was announced to the League of Nations today by Antoine Sottile, permanent Liberian delegate.

The decree also abolished the system of "pawning" members of native families as security and abolished the forced embarkation of nations in connection with labor contracts.

Narrow Escape

(Special to the Guardian)

KINGSTON, Oct. 25—A boy and the driver of a horse and wagon narrowly escaped serious injuries, when the horse ran away here today, and fell a distance of 26 feet into a quarry. Jumping instantly, when he saw that his bolting horse was headed for the quarry, A. McGregor, Russell Street, carter, leaped from the wagon, suffering no injury. A moment later horse and wagon tumbled into the quarry. It was soon discovered that a youngster who had been riding in the wagon with McGregor, had clung to the vehicle, but with the exception of minor bruises had escaped injury in the fall.

IN MEMORIAM

THOMAS J. GORMAN

Thomas J. Gorman, Kensington, died on October 12th, after an illness that extended through a period of ten days. The cause of death was a paralytic stroke. He was attended by Dr. Jardine, and for consultation, Dr. W. P. McBride and Dr. McPhee, Summerside, were called. The nurse in attendance was Miss Margaret Deighan. He was visited in his last days by his Pastor, Rev. Reginald McDonald, Indian River, who administered to him the consoling rites of the Holy Catholic Church.

His funeral was held on October 14, to St. Mary's, Indian River. The pall bearers were William Higgins, James Pendergast, Sydney Webster, James B. Profitt, James Braham and Parnell McMahon. High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by the pastor, and the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery.

To mourn are left his widow, nee Amy L. Mullin, two sisters, Mary Eliza, Mrs. Barnaby Croken, Freetown; and Margaret Ann at home; also one daughter, Miss Inez, nurse in training and six sons, Daniel J., George, Gerald, Lewis, David and C. Barrett. One brother David, lives in New York.

A testimony of the high esteem in which he was held is evident in the cortege of seventy-five carriages that followed his remains to the cemetery. Mass Cards were kindly offered by Mrs. Thomas J. Gorman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barnaby Croken, Freetown; Mrs. Thomas Smith and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McCabe, Kinkora.

The deceased was a practical, industrious farmer, having succeeded to the property owned by his father, and having kept it intact to be inherited by future generations, a sincere for his large and industrious family. He was social in his intercourse, yet he never let excessive sociability interfere with his regular duties. He made no pretense to being an authority on matters political or social, yet he was versed in the important events of the day. Spiritual offerings were laid upon the casket by the bereaved widow, Mrs. Thomas J. Gorman and family; Mr. and Mrs. Barnaby Croken, Miss Annie Gorman, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Johnston, Kinkora; Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCabe, Earl and John Roberts, Kinkora; Linus and Lucy Gorman, Kensington; Mrs. John Haley, Miss Katie and Frances Haley, Pictou, N.S.; Mr. and Mrs. James Braham, Kensington; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cash, Graham's Road; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McNeill and family, Summerside; Sacred Heart members, Indian River; Mr. and Mrs. Parnell McMahon, Kensington; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bradley, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Driscoll, Clermont; Mr. W. T. Payne, Druggist, Charlottetown; Mr. Robert Dunphy and family, Kensington; Misses Kathleen and Nan McKenna, Halifax, N.S.

Wreaths:—Falconwood Hospital.

Letters of Sympathy:—Mr. John Haley, Pictou; Mrs. Desmond Gractor, N.S.; Miss Lena McKenna, Misses Katie and Frances Haley, Pictou, N. S.; Mr. Thomas Johnston, St. Dunstan's University; Mr. Harold Croken, St. Dunstan's University; Mr. N. W. Lowther, Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McRae, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs Annie Mullin, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mr. Archibald McKenna, St. John; Mr. and Mrs. Newman, Halifax; Mrs. Mae McAulay, St. Peters, and Miss Caroline McKinnon, Souris; Mr. Michael and Miss Maud MacMillan, Bloomfield, P. MR. WM. DYMENT

In the death at Springfield, Lot 8, on Sept. 10th, of Mr. Wm. Dyment, the community has lost a resident who was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The deceased had attained the age of eighty-one years at the time of his death. For several months previous to his death he had been a great sufferer, being afflicted with cancer of the mouth. This long and painful illness he bore with commendable patience and christian fortitude.

Mr. Dyment was a plasterer by trade and in following this vocation met many people to all of whom he endeared himself by his kind and genial disposition.

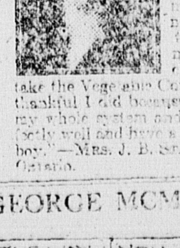
There are left to mourn their loss, the following sons and daughters: Mrs. John Waite, Springfield; Mrs. George Fisher, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Frank McGillicuddy, Lewiston, Maine; Clifford and Scott at home; Curtis, in Lot 7; Jarvis, in Dalhousie, N.B.; Bordon, Harry and Shelton, in Maine.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. G. Peacock of the Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. W. S. Loring, of the West Cape United charge. After a short service at the house, a lengthy concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives followed the remains to the Springfield Baptist Church, where an impressive service was carried out. Interment was made in the family plot in the cemetery adjoining the church. The pall bearers were Messrs. Stanley McDonald, ... McDonald, W. E. McDonald, G. ... McIsaac, Amos Gorrill and Earl Betts.

Many beautiful floral tributes were placed on the casket by friends of the deceased.—O.

YOUNG WIFE STRENGTHENED

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



Bancroft, Ontario—"When I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I had been married about a year and my strength was leaving me on account of my condition. I was only 19 and it was my first child. My mother told me I needed something to steady my nerves and a chum told me to take the Vegetable Compound. I am so thankful I did because it strengthened my whole system and now I feel perfectly well and have a sweet little Baby boy."—Mrs. J. B. Stalker, Bancroft, Ontario.
