Special Service

After the usual bright and inspiring service of song at the Baptist Church last evening a deeply inspiring sermon was delivered on "What have we gained, or lost?" by Rev. E. P. Calder. It is fitting as we approach the close of such a series of services as these, that we should ask ourselves "What have we gained or lost. What have we gained in knowledge of the Truth of God? If we have gained vital knowledge of the truth our time has been well spent. What have we gained in the life of prayer? If we have gained in reverence to God through intercession for ourselves and others, we have gained a wonderful thing. Have we grown into fellowship of God? The best and greatest thing for a Christian is to grow into fellowship with God our Father and our King—and Christ our Saviour.

Have we grown in zeal? If we have acquired a deeper—more vital passion for the advancement of God's kingdom our time has been well spent. Have we gained more power for service? Are we conscious that God has used us? Can we know that we have helped the small or great, we have helped the Great Harvester gather the sheaves. Looking at the reverse of the shield, have we lost anything? We are either stronger or weaker—we can't stand still. Yeh who have hesitated in your decision—what have you lost? Are you nearer to God—or are you farther away than when these services began? The Kingdom of God will never be nearer you, than it is at this moment. The Christ asks you to put your trembling hand into this hand of omnipotent love and trust Him utterly—now.

The final meeting of this deeply interesting services will be held tonight. A warm invitation is extended to all.

Ice Breaking Up

St. John River Promises to Clear Very Early

FREDICTON, N.B., March 30.—The ice in the St. John river both above and below Fredericton is commencing to break up.

This action is generally followed by the ice moving out within a few days, and it was said by river men today that even if cold nights continue, it would probably be not more than a week before the river was free of ice.

Last night the ice broke up opposite the high water wharf at Maugeville, Sunbury county between ten and twelve miles below Fredericton at several places where there is fast water between here and Woodstock the ice has already broken up and run out. The water in the river here was just exactly six feet above summer level this morning, and the opinion was hazarded at the St John River Log Driving Co's office that as soon as the water came up another two or three feet the ice would run out.

If the ice should run out this year before the commencement of the month of April, it will be the first time it has done so in nine teen years. (The last time the run took place in March was in 1902, although it has since run out on two occasions on April 1, once in 1913, and the other occasion ten years previously. Last year it was April 15.

Telephone Amendment Bill Now Under Fire

have not the money to improve their lines. They need anywhere from $100,000 to $150,000. They cannot go into the market and borrow money on the strength of an exclusive franchise for five years. And they must have this money if their service is to be improved. You can talk today from Summerside to Halifax better than you can talk from Summerside to Charlotte town. Why? Because in the former case you have modern wire circuit—the copper wiring. The Company cannot get this modern system unless it has the means of floating the Government proposal to help them out by taxing them and withdrawing the subsidy! We cannot look at this problem in so small a way. Let us have broader vision of it. Even if, instead of taking $15,000 from the company struggling under difficulties, the Government were to exempt the subsidy to $2,000 for the purpose of getting better service, I for one would applaud the act. The Company has done well under existing circumstances, but it cannot do well under this act.

PREMIER BELL did not think the Company was in any worse position than it was before. They were being exempted from provincial taxes.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT—"They were exempted before!"

PREMIER BELL—"That makes no difference. The Company is perfectly satisfied that this proposition is a reasonable one. Referring to the five years' franchise—Premier Bell said that it was sufficient to give the Company a sound standing. It could certainly not be increased. The people were opposed to the principle of exclusive franchise at all."

MR. M. KENNEDY—"Well, what are you giving it for?"

PREMIER BELL maintained that the Government had to consider or carefully ways and means. In order to have efficient service we must have the copper system, which would probably cost $100,000. The Government was not able to give an increased subsidy as suggested by the Leader of the Opposition.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT—"The Premier has always one way of trying to get his issues—that is by avoiding them. He started out by saying that the Telephone Company is perfectly satisfied. I wonder if that is right, or if the Company was not rather sick and tired of trying to make arrangements and that in the end they were obliged to take what they could get. My view of this matter, I am not asking the Government to make a present of this subsidy to the telephone Company. They are subsidizing other public utilities—ferries, packets, exhibitions, etc. Are you doing out charity in these cases or are you doing it in order to get efficient service? The Telephone Company is a public utility, operating for the benefit of people in every section of the province. Why subsidize the rural lines? There is just as much reason for turning round and taxing them as there is in this case. There is another reason for granting the subsidy to the company, and it is this: that you have a lever by which to hold them. Without the subsidy you have no control over the company. You say that you can refer any grievance which arises (by the terms of this act) to a Judge of the Supreme Court. You might just as well refer the cases to any layman for the judge, in dealing with a technical matter, will be of no more assistance to you than any one else. So far as I can see we are doomed to endure the present system for some time yet,—until some man with broader vision comes in to re-looked just as far as his nose in this matter, and no further. He is only playing at statesmanship, he will not see, or he wears glasses to he can only see matters immediately before him. He cannot see or he prevent him seeing."

PREMIER BELL—"I don't wear glasses."

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT—"Figuratively speaking, he does. His mental vision is clouded. We should have been given full time to consider this matter, and full information to go on with it. A commission of experts should have been brought to look into the whole situation and tell us what was necessary to do in order to provide efficient service."

Further discussion was taken part by the Premier, Messrs. Arsenault, Higgs, Stewart, Dewar, Saunders, Dennis, Le Page, Hessian, McDonald and A. E. McLean. The clauses were carried with the exception of the first, and twelfth, which were allowed to stand over. Remarks were made by some of the members that the schedule service submitted by the Company was exorbitant. Hon. A. E. Arsenault maintained that as the bill was introduced by the Leader of the Government, it was therefore a Government bill and the Government must have fixed the rates. If these were exorbitant the Government was to blame. Premier Bell argued that the rates were not proved to be exorbitant—they were submitted to the people before that can be decided. "We must find out if the people are ready for the new rates," he said.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT—"Did you find out whether the people were ready for the increased taxes before you put them on?"

PREMIER BELL—"The Government has no right to force the rates on the people against their will. To my mind the proposition is a reasonable one, but at the present time the people are not clamoring for a change."

Prince Edward Theatre

The "Veiled Mystery" is the title of another big serial of thrills and action, which opens at the Prince Edward Theatre today. Antonio Loscosco, is the vigorous star of this strange chaptered story, a serial whose countless surprises and thrills will be followed with keen interest. The story is told in fifteen episodes of mystery, magic and melodrama and those who follow it through to its denouement will find a rare assortment of odd adventures.

Another big thing at the Prince Edward today is "What's Your Hurry" with Wallace Reid the breezy auto racer taking the principal part as "Dusty Rhodes", a racing driver in love with Virginia, daughter of Pat MacMurran, manufacturer of Pakro trucks. In an effort to win favor from the irascible Pat, "Dusty" abandons racing and becomes publicity man for Pakro trucks. But his well meant efforts only land him deeply in the bad graces of Pat, whose bad temper has been further aggravated by his own failure to secure an expected order for trucks from the Cabrillo Irrigation Co. "Dusty's" opportunity comes when the Cabrillo company's dam starts to give way in a raging storm. He leads a fleet of Pakro trucks into the breach and not only saves the dam, but also rescues Pat and Virginia from possible death.

Lois Wilson supports Wallace Reid as leading woman in "What's Your Hurry?"

the contrary, that the time was ripe for improvements. Personally, he would be very glad to pay the new rates for improved service.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT asked for more time to go through information which he had received with reference to the subject under discussion, and which had only come into his hands fifteen minutes before the House met this morning. The committee reported progress on the reading of the bill and asked leave to sit again.

HON. C. W. CROSBY, Commissioner of Public Works, moved that the House go into committee for the second reading of an Act to amend the Road Act of 1920. The House went into committee with Mr. D. C. McDonald in the chair. The bill was agreed to and ordered to be read a third time tomorrow.

HON. A. E. ARSENAULT again asked the Premier for the outside Auditor's Report. The Premier replied that written copies would not be available until Monday, in reply to another inquiry he stated that the Budget would not be brought down before Tuesday next. The House adjourned until 11 a. m. tomorrow.
