PREVENTION OF CANCER

(By Dominion News Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Dr. Josiah Oldfield, the eminent physician, in a recent interview, gave the conclusions he had come to, as the result of his studies, observations, and experiments during the last 30 or 40 years, as to the relations between diet and cancer.

"Foods which tend to cause physiological irritation of the alimentary canal or its related absorptive organs, tend to cause cancer of the digestive system," he said. "The habitual use of unhealthy flesh food is, therefore an important factor in the setting up of the cancers of the stomach, liver, intestines, and kidneys.

"By 'unhealthy' flesh foods I mean either the flesh of animals deprived of exercise in order to fatten them, or flesh foods in which the toxic longes are masked by preservatives or cold storage for a long time.

"Insufficient use of growing vegetables and vegetable juices, the inordinate use of breads and flours, tends to alter the ratio of the potasium and calcium salts, and in the reduction of potassium salts in the system, there is a probable opportunity provided for the growth of malignant cells.

Virtues of Fruit and Oil.

"The best dietic method of combating a cancerous hereditary tendency, is to give up flesh foods entirely, to reduce the amount of starchy foods and cereals, and to increase to a large extent the use of salads, fresh vegetables, fruits and oil."

COLLECTING EGGS FOR INCUBATION

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 12, (Canadian Press.)—During the autumn season of 1923 over 890,756,000 eggs of the most valuable and important species of fish were collectod for incubation in the Dominion Government hatcheries. This is exclusive of the spring and summer operations.

Atlantic salmon eggs to the number of 23,261,000 were obtained as far as possible, from fish that were purchased from the commercial fishermen, and after they were stripped, were released again into the streams from which they were taken.

Over 400,000,000 whitefish eggs were obtained from the catch of the commercial fishermen, or from fish caught in the Great Lakes which were ultimately placed on the market. In the Lake of the Woods and westward, fish were caught in pound nets operated for the purpose and were liberated after they were stripped.

Speckled trout have been handled in small numbers by the Government hatcheries, as a side line to Atlantic salmon propagation. Motoring having brought the trout streams within reach of a larger proportion of people than ever before, there has been a heavy toll taken of fish from fast streams. Various trout streams which were self-sustaining, now require assistance. With this end in view, some members of the hatchery staffs gave their full time during the autumn season to the collection of speckled trout eggs, and a larger number than ever before was obtained.

Salmon trout eggs are taken from fish captured by commercial fishermen for the market, and are a direct saving to the fisheries. Otherwise they would be a total loss so far as reproduction is concerned. Cisco or lake herring eggs were obtaned from the commercial fishermen; 3,720,000 at Port Arthur and 19,100,000 in the Bay of Quinte. These eggs will be used to introduce the species into some lakes in the prairies, which are unsuited for whitefish or are unsuited for whitefish or pickerel.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY

To the beloved wife and family of the late Alfred Higginbotham, Cambridge Road:

On behalf of the congregation of Murray Harbor North and Peters Road, we the undersigned committee, desire to extend to you our deepest sympathy in your recent sad bereavement, in the death of a beloved husband and father. In so doing we realize our inability to express any feeling adequate to materially lighten the gloom which must necessarily hover over the home upon the sudden removal of one so active, and participating in the every-day duties of life.

In the church we shall sorely miss his splendid tact and judgment, where as a manager in financial work, he discharged his onerous duties with marked competency and promptitude. Verily "In the midst of life we are in death", and one consoling thought is: that having performed his part here, there remaineth a rest from labor where loved ones may enjoy a happy re-union and where parting and sorrow is unknown.

In conclusion we would recommend to you and your family the never failing promise and support of Him who for our sakes has endured all things.

Sincerely yours—Cartney D. McLure, Thos. A. Miller, W. L. McLean.

(Canadian Press)

BANGOR, Feb. 12.—It is not often that lightning shoots its bolts from a snowy sky, but this happened on Wednesday near East Corinth village, and as a result the farm buildings of Calvin Mitchell were burned flat, with most of their contents, one horse being killed in its stall.

Mrs. Mitchell, who was in the barn when the bolt struck, escaped uninjured.

In the midst of a furious squall, a heavy rumble of thunder was heard, and then came one vivid flash of lightning, setting fire to the barn, which was quickly destroyed, together with two horses, two cows, 10 young pigs and a flock of hens. Flames soon reached the adjoining house, which also was burned flat, with most of the contents. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

The old wearing method of rubbing soap on the clothes and then rubbing the clothes is done away with. There is no need of it with Rinso.

Only the dirtiest places—where dirt was actually ground in—will need just a light rubbing. Where this is necessary, use a little dry Rinso.

Rinso is made by the makers of LUX—the largest soap makers in the world. It does the family wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things.
