Rev. Hugh Miller was the speaker at Rotary yesterday when he addressed the club on "Salmon Fishing". Mr. Miller was thoroughly familiar with his subject having been stationed at Campbellton for several years.

The speaker stated that the finest salmon fly fishing in the world was to be had in the two hundred mile stretch of the Miramichi. The word "Miramichi" is Indian for "five fingers" and refers to the main river and its tributaries totalling five.

For more than one hundred years salmon fishing has been carried on with original headquarters at Dalhousie. Here commercial fishing was engaged in by the

The Grand Old man At Churchill

Mr. Malcolm MacDonald an aged and respected citizen, celebrated on May 6th, his 85th birthday at the home of his nephew Percy MacDonald, Churchill, P. E. I.

Mr. MacDonald's grand-father and namesake, the late Malcolm MacDonald, landing first at Port Hawkesbury on Cape Breton Island with the intention of going on to the Canadas. The opportunity of doing this was afforded by the company of 64 souls came by vessel in 1833 to Charlottetown. This company included the MacDonalds, Lamons and MacKinnons.

The said Mr. MacDonald, possessed a herring fishing boat, and was engaged in herring fishing in Clyde River, moving with his family (12) to the West River Hill (now Churchill) in 1838. Here his son Donald married Flora Lemon and were likewise blessed with a family of 12, and here they spent all but five years of their life, spending five years in the U.S.

The Malcom, of whom you read, was the son of a herring fisherman in 1857 knew what carving a home out of the wilderness meant; knew also the hardships of clearing land and building log cabins, providing food by growing crops, and crude implements as sickle, hoe, axe, scythe, cradle, reaper, pin harrow and plow.

At this time there existed a narrow road between Charlottetown and Truro which we today call the "Old Shore Road" or "The Truro Road". In these days it was maintained by "Statute Labour", that is to say, the men of the district were obliged to contribute their services as early as 1899 to enjoy the luxury of the telegraph which was supplemented a good deal later by the telephone.

Mr. MacDonald now in perfect health and with all his faculties, has a sharp memory. He speaks and can write fluently the native Gaelic. He is considered to be one of the best Scottish historians and can trace the reigns of the Celtic tribes of the British Isles and Europe back over a period of 2000 years.

The author adds here that many a time during long winter evenings his stirring tales of the "Boarder", and his toasts of "Burns" and "Scott" do much to supplement the regos of the elements beyond the four walls.

During his early manhood, Mr. MacDonald, true to his nationality played, ceremoniously the bagpipes and was a constant benefactor at "Clubs" and Scotch gatherings. It is only of late years that age has swept his pastime away "Time" is his ceaseless course.

The knowledge or wisdom which comes to those who have been spared to share the joys of six British Monarchs and to suffer the aftermath of four centuries' wars, in unwritten philosophy, and to all who have occasion to know the kindly Mr. MacDonald, will agree he is certainly "The Grand Old Man" of his village, and to all opportunity to wish him many more years of enjoyable life and health.

Ladies Auxiliary P. E. I. Hospital Annual report

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 14, 1941.

Madam President and Ladies: I beg to submit the Secretary's report of the activities of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Prince Edward Island Hospital for the year 1940-1941.

Beginning under the lengthening shadows of the present great conflict, the need for our year's activities seemed at first discouraging, but fortunately we work in a community which realizes that whatever world conditions may be, the health and well-being of our citizens is of primary importance and every undertaking of our organization was given the wholehearted support of, not only the members, but the whole community.

During the year ten regular meetings and one special meeting were held with Executive meetings from time to time as was required. A most gratifying feature of the meetings was the marked increase in attendance as the war progressed, an average attendance of about twenty-five being maintained. We feel that this increase was partially due to a new method we have been using in notifying members of the time and place of meetings. This consists of mailing each member a card so that it will be delivered the day before the meeting. We have also revised a membership list and it is now an authentic record of active workers.

Old and Valued Members

We regret the loss by death of some old and valued members and the retirement from active membership of others who have carried on the work so successfully in the past. We hope that we may be able to maintain the high standard of service they have set for us.

We have been glad to welcome new members, a number of whom came to us from the Junior Ladies' Aid. The hearty cooperation of this young society has contributed largely to the success of our year's activities.

The League of Mercy Exhibition was held in the Cundill Home in May, under the capable management of Mrs. H. J. Gordon. In spite of the disagreeable day a large number of people saw the splendid display of gifts and enjoyed the tea provided by the ladies' Aid.

In view of the fact that activities at the exhibition grounds were greatly curtailed last summer, we tried a cafeteria lunch service, a venture that proved profitable very much beyond our first expectations.

The Hospital were held in October and our members gave their assistance as usual to this work.

Having noted the ready sale of bottled and canned goods at sales in previous years, we decided to hold a jam, jelly and pickle auction in the fall. Through the kindness of the Trustees of Zion Church this was held in Zion Hall and thanks to the many friends of the hospital in spite of a very rainy evening, it was most successful as the Treasurer's report will show.

Special Dinners

At Christmas time we supplied the special dinners at the hospital as usual.

In a winter of many storms the night of our annual skate was outstanding in the increasing popularity of the sport and the co-operation of our members, there was a record sale of tickets in advance. As a result the Forum was crowded and a very enjoyable and profitable evening was spent.

The annual car sales were held in February and March and through the co-operation of the ladies of the various churches with their representatives in our society, were, as usual, a great help with the year's finances.

In the sale of tickets for our sponsored picture in February, a system of zoning was used which insured a thorough canvass of the town with no overlapping. This proved the satisfactory and the sale of tickets was exceptionally good.

The work of convening a committee to arrange for Flag Day was undertaken by the president of the Junior Aid. To her and to all who so willingly assisted with the work may be given the credit for one of our most successful activities of the year.

The Nurses' Graduation exercises were held in St. Paul's Parish Hall on Monday evening, May 12th, when eight nurses received their diplomas. Our society presented Miss Bennett, the Assistant Superintendent, and each graduate with a bouquet of roses and also provided

Death of Former Islander Dr. J.J. MacPhee

(Oakland Maple Leaf)

Dr. John J. MacPhee, former president of the Canadian Society of New York, and the Robert Burns Society of New York, died Monday, February 17, 1941, at his residence, 146 East 49th street, New York City, after a brief illness of pneumonia, at the age of 80.

Dr. MacPhee was the son of Ronald Archie MacPhee of St. Margaret's, Prince Edward Island, and as a boy attended the Bear River school. The school master at that time was Archie Joe MacPhee, now retired and living with his son, Wallace F. MacPhee, in Santa Rosa, California. Archie is a first cousin of Dr. MacPhee. He is also survived by one sister, Katherine Wing, of Boston, Mass. The Rev. Hugh John MacPhee, S. J., of Montreal, and the Rev. John A. MacPhee of Blessed Sacrament Parish, Brooklyn, N. Y., are cousins of the deceased.

Wallace F. MacPhee, of Santa Rosa, had the pleasure of spending several hours in the doctor's office in New York City on February 5 last. Dr. MacPhee then talked of a proposed visit to California this summer.

A specialist in neurology, he taught that branch of medicine for many years at the medical schools of the Polytechnic and Post Graduate Hospitals, where he was formerly director of the neurological departments. For his work in promoting good relations among the English-speaking peoples, Dr. MacPhee was made an honorary member of the Canadian and St. Andrew's Societies. In the World War he served in the Army Medical Corps in this country. He leaves a widow, Louise Wells MacPhee, and a daughter.

One of the most intimate friends of the deceased doctor, also for many years a practicing physician in New York City, Dr. Donald T. McPhail, in a letter to the editor of The Maple Leaf, says: "No greater friend of the homeland or anything Canadian or British ever lived than Dr. MacPhee. He was always a loyal friend of The Maple Leaf and on many occasions when we met at different functions he would refer to some article he had read in The Maple Leaf."

"Only a few months ago the Canadian Society and its friends and members provided a Hospital Ambulance for Britain, called in his honor 'The Dr. J. J. MacPhee Hospital Ambulance.'"

"He was a true blue Scot, and it always gave him pleasure to fight for the cause of Britain. He gave liberally of purse and speech for the cause and never feared to oppose the enemy."

"He in many cases of expert mental testimony stood side by side in famous murder trials with Drs. Graham Hammond, Carlos F. McDonald, Pierce and others and his opinion carried great weight with the jury. As a teacher, lecturer and professor in the various New York hospitals, his classes were always crowded with medical students to hear his experiences and recommendations. A great man has passed on."

Prince Edward Island, by the death of Dr. MacPhee, has lost another famous son, and the city of New York a leading member of the medical profession.

R. C. MacPhee of St. Margaret's is a nephew of the late Dr. J. J. MacPhee.

Dominion Steel, Coal plant to Be extended

OTTAWA, May 18 (CP)—Minister of Mines today announced a contract has been entered into with the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation whereby that Company will "very substantially" extend its facilities at Sydney, N. S.

Exact figures were not given but a statement from the minister's office said, "It is understood that the total costs involved in the expansion at Sydney run to several million dollars."

"The looked-for increased capacity will be available within 12 months according to expectations here."

"Work begins immediately on the construction of a new open hearth furnace at Sydney which will increase the melting capacity of the plant to 670,000 gross tons of ingots per year," the statement said.

"In addition work begins immediately on the rehabilitation of the company's 110-inch plate mill which when completed will expand the capacity of the Sydney plants to 600,000 gross tons of rolled steel products per year."

"The extensions are being undertaken to meet the increased demand for steel in the Canadian munitions program, and more especially to meet the greatly enlarged shipbuilding program of the munitions and supply department."
