Ray McIntyre Wins Decision But Not Title

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

TORONTO, April 11—Young Ray McIntyre, up-and-coming boxer from Woodstock, N. B., thought for a while tonight he had won the middleweight championship of Canada when he gained a unanimous decision over Len Wadsworth of Hamilton, who is champion, in a six-round bout.

But it was all a mistake. After McIntyre had knocked Wadsworth down for a count of nine in the fourth round with a right-hand smash to the jaw and won easily five of the six rounds, it was announced the New Brunswick fighter was the new champion. "It's great to be champ," was all McIntyre could say.

McIntyre wasn't "champion" long. After conferring with officials of the Ontario Athletic Commission at the rinkside, Jack Corcoran, promoter of the show in Maple Leaf Gardens, climbed into the ring to tell a crowded house a wrong announcement had been made.

Corcoran said it had been stipulated in the fighters' contracts under the title would not change hands if McIntyre defeated the titleholder. Before Corcoran's announcement some confusion had arisen when ringiders argued a title bout could not be less than 10 rounds.

McIntyre made good use of a jolting right hook throughout the fight. He outboxed his more experienced opponent in all but one on points. The fight was McIntyre's round and early pulled up a big sixth since he turned professional last September. Three were won by knockouts and two by decisions.

Both weighed 158 pounds. In a semi-final bout, Indian Quintana of New York outpointed Mog Mason of Wales. Quintana landed 123 pounds; Mason 120 1-2. The Welshman was floored for a count of five in the seventh round when Quintana hammered him repeatedly about the body and Mason right to the ninth under a no count.

Jimmy Chapman, Vancouver, objected to the 12th round verdict over Eddie Ashton, Toronto, in a four-round bout. Chapman weighed 125; Ashton, 121.

Letty Gwynn, 116, Toronto, knocked out Bob Docherty, 121, Toronto, in the third round of a scheduled six-round bout.

FIXED EVENTS ON THE TROTTING TURF

By ROGER DUNCAN

Early closing classes are fixed events around which programs of trotting horse races are built and the entry received each year are a barometer by which is judged the degree of success which the race meetings may expect to enjoy.

The number of entries to these classes has been gradually rising for the past three years and this year the lists received for the events which have already closed indicate that 1938 will be the most brilliant season in the past decade.

Not only have the early closers drawn a new record entry in point of numbers but the class of the horses entered proves that a most scintillating series of races will be seen starting May 29 at Langhorne, Pa., and concluding with a brilliant climax at the trots at Lexington, Ky., on October 1, and at the falls in the Carolinas later in the same month.

In the east the season will be inaugurated by the Penn-Jersey Circuit comprised of six tracks in those two strongholds of the trot. Twenty-three colts and fillies have been named to start in each of the two and three year old pacing classes while the three year old trot drew twenty and the two year old trot twenty-seven.

Maine with twenty consecutive weeks of racing, topped by the Centennial Fair at Skowhegan with a $16,000 race program, swings into action at Lewiston early in July and continues through Cornish, Gorham, Exeter, Skowhegan, Bangor, Presque Isle, Old Orchard, Blue Hill, Acton, Damariscotta, South Paris, West Cumberland, Farmington, and Topsham, winding up at Lewiston on October 22.

All the tracks are offering increased purses and the fixed events have met with a splendid response. The ever popular Green Mountain Circuit at Barton, Vt., Aug. 18 to 20; Malone, N.Y., Aug. 22 to 25; Essex Junction, Vt., Aug. 30 to Sept. 2, and Rutland, Vt., Sept. 5 to 9, has received a bumper entry. Fourteen of the world's fastest pacers with records from 1:58 to 2:02 have been named in the free for all while thirty are entered in the 2:12 pace. The other classes received a correspondingly large entry.

New York with early closers offered at Chatham, Lockport, Batavia, Hamburg, Dunkirk, Bath, Cortland, Riverhead, Gouverneur, Middletown and several other points, as well as its three Grand Circuit meetings, will be the scene of many a hard fought contest from July until October.

In Pennsylvania racing starts in May and continues until late in the fall, series of races being conducted by the Pennsylvania Association of Fair and Amusement Operators. half-mile track meeting and the trot track meeting at Goshen, the New York State Fair meeting at Syracuse, and the meeting at the beautiful Agawam track in Massachusetts are little short of record breaking.

At Syracuse the three year old trot for a purse of $10,000 drew forty entries, the $5,000 two year old trot sixty-five, the $5,000 purse for 2:06 pacers twenty-two, and twenty-six trotters were entered in the 2:03 trot also for a purse of $5,000.

Another offering of events has been opened to close on April 21 and there is no doubt but that the response will be in line with the events already closed.

Three hundred and seven entries were received to the Goshen "historic" track's twelve classes, forty-two being entered in the two year old trot, twelve in the 2:12 pace, twenty-six in the 2:15 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:24 trot, twenty-eight in the three year old trot, nineteen in the 2:15 pace, fourteen in the 2:12 trot, twenty-four in the 2:15 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:07 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:20 pace, and ten in the free for all pace, while the peak was reached in the Village Farm two year old pace with forty-four entries.

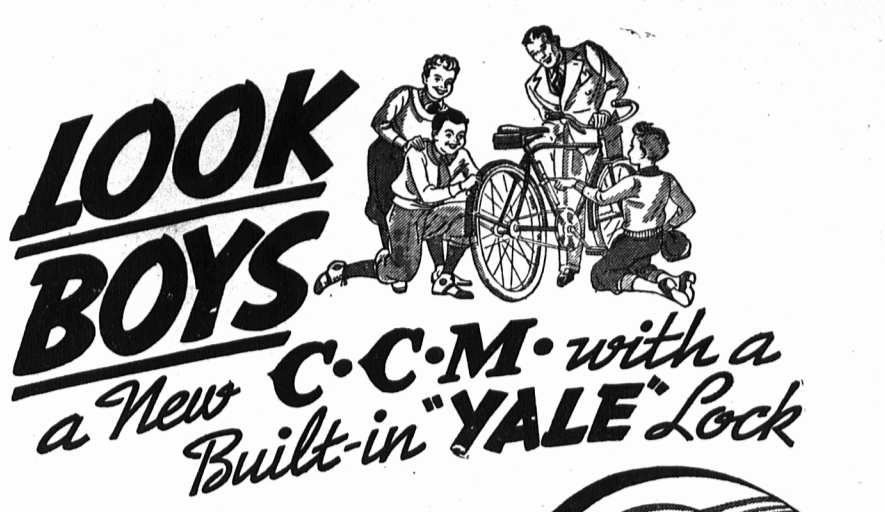

At Good Time Park in Goshen four hundred and four horses were named not including the Hambletonian old trot and thirty-nine in the 2:07 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:20 pace, and ten in the free for all pace. This makes a total of four hundred and fifty-nine entries in the 2:07 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:20 pace, twenty-eight in the 2:15 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:12 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:07 trot, twenty-eight in the 2:20 pace, and ten in the free for all pace.

Agawam reports that a fine list has been received for the National and American Stakes which will be raced there have a larger than usual list of eligibles. Thirty-eight are paid up in the National three year old trot and thirty-seven in the American. In the pacing divisions of the same stakes there are thirteen in the National and eleven in the American.

The all aged divisions of these stakes as well as the Trotting Derby, the Championship Stallion, and the Matron present the names of the best bred and fastest of the breed. In the pacing divisions of the same stakes there are thirteen in the National and eleven in the American.

At all the meetings record breaking performances will be recorded as more than a dozen trotters and pacers with records of two minutes or faster will battle it out in the series of fast events which will be the feature of the season.

25 Named On Walker Cup Trial Squad

BY SCOTTY RESTON Associated Press Sports Writer

LONDON, April 11—(AP)—The Royal and Ancient Golf Club today named an Irish bartender, a St. Andrews cigar store clerk and a Welsh soldier among those selected to represent the British Walker cup trial squad.

The squad of 25 will play May 5-6 for places on the team which will meet the United States at St. Andrews, June 3-4. British amateurs never have beaten Americans in the International competition.

The bartender is J. Fitzsimons, present Irish amateur title holder who serves drinks at the Portrush Golf Club in County Antrim. Andy Dowie is the clerk and St. Andrews Amateur champion the past three years. A. J. Dunlop, a member of the Welsh Guards, holds the British Army title and is rated one of the best putters in the game.

To make the selection as democratic as possible, the committee even chose a left-hander. He is Ivor Somerville Thomas of Liverpool who reached the sixth round of the British Amateur championship in 1933.

Other additions, made after protest by London sports writers who accused the selection committee of ignoring some of the country's best prospects, were Harry Bentley, D. H. P. Martin, James Lindsay, W. R. S. McLeod and Eric McRuvie.

Bentley, German amateur champion, won the English championship in 1936 and played in the Walker cup matches of '32 and '34. Lindsay and McLeod both have played on Scottish international teams.

Simmerings Around The Sports Front

(By Alan Randal, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, April 11—Polls among jockeys and horsemen favor War Admiral or Seabiscuit in the $100,000 matched race. But not Nick Wall, Canadian jockey who beat out Seabiscuit in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap while about Staghound. He thinks Seabiscuit is "the greatest horse in training." Bill Terry, Jr., son of the New York Giant manager, is a regular on the University of Virginia team. He pitches and plays second base.
