For hours they had been together on her front porch. The moon cast its tender gleams down on the young and handsome couple who sat strangely far apart. He sighed. She sighed. Finally: "I wish I had money, dear," he said. "I'd travel."

Impulsively, she slipped her hand into his; then, rising swiftly, sped into the house.

Aghast, he looked at his hand. In his palm lay seven cents.

WASHINGTON NEWS HITS HYPOCRISY

WASHINGTON, May 7. — The Washington Daily News announced editorially today that it proposed henceforth "to publish as news the appearance on duty of any so-called dry member of the House or Senate in an obviously intoxicated condition."

The decision was made to "put an end to such hypocrisy", the News said.

"The spectacle of a Senator or representative, under the influence of liquor, undertaking publicity to discuss affairs of state, is always disgusting," the editorial said. "When such a Senator or representative is one who consistently votes for prohibition the hypocrisy and rank abuse of special privilege make the spectacle intolerable."

IN MEMORIAM

MR. WILLIAM PROFITT

William Profitt died at Long River on Tuesday, April 26th, 1928. During his whole life he had enjoyed robust health and was always able to supervise the most particular work that must be planned and executed on a large and well ordained homestead.

But about a year ago, health began to fail, and although he took every precaution to restore weakening energies, his constitution seemed to be seriously affected and would not respond to the effects of the tenderest care and the most skillful medical treatment.

During the final days of closing life he was visited by his clergyman, Dr. G. T. Spriggs, who aided materially in preparing his spirit to meet the All-wise Judge. This was essentially consistent with the whole life of the deceased, for his daily actions were offered up in a spirit that saw in this life the attainment of the fuller life in the realms of his beloved Redeemer. He breathed out his life, confident in the hope that he would enter into the realms of eternal bliss.

He was the son of the late William Profitt and Margaret Berthwick, his wife. He was a member of a family of eight, five brothers and three sisters. The brothers are: David, Margate, George, Burlington, James B., Kensington, and John R., deceased; and sisters, Mrs. Andrew McLeod, Burlington; Mrs. Chester Tuplin, New Annan; and Mrs. H. D. Thompson, Margate, deceased.

In 1901 he was married to Mary Elizabeth Millman. The issue of the union was a family of eleven, the surviving members being, sons: William J.; Oliver E.; Holsey B.; Herbert McLeod; Arthur R.; and Ernest R. The daughters:—Ruby, Kathleen and Gladys, all at home.

He was an ardent member of his Church and, in the most effective manner, fostered every cause that appeared to him as good. He was a loyal supporter of education, stimulating the elements that enter into successful educational work, and bestowing commendation on the work performed that bore evidence of merit. He was also, for the space of twenty-five years, warden of St. Stephen's Church. In this connection he proved that his works were most consistent with his faith and his professions. He exemplified to the fullest extent the true realization of his spiritual ideals. Many years will pass before his works will be forgotten.

The funeral was held on Thursday, April 26th., and was one of the largest seen in that parish for years.

The service was conducted by Rev. G. T. Spriggs, a beautiful solo being sung by Mr. Roy Phillips.

The wreaths placed upon the coffin were most beautiful, and testified, with emphatic expression, to the respect in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were: William D. Profitt, Horace Thompson, Ellis Profitt and Heath McLeod, nephews of the deceased, and Elbert and Herbert Millman, brothers-in-law.

The funeral service was performed in St. Stephen's Church, Irishtown, and many were the expressions of deep respect in which the departed was held by his admiring friends. Y.

ELMIRA AND VICINITY

The lobster packers of North Lake and vicinity report fishing very good, but bait scarce.

On Tuesday last, two young fishermen from Campbell's Cove, namely, Messrs. McIntyre and O'Hanley, were reported missing, and last seen in about fourteen fathoms, setting rope, as all the nearby factories were soon notified, and luckily the missing parties were picked up about twelve miles northeast of East Point.

Jack Miner Well Received At Halifax

The first game law ever written was found in the Bible, Jack Miner is reported to have told a large audience at Halifax last week, "Let the mother go, that it may be well with thee, and that their days may be prolonged." To kill the mother was to close the account, a thing that hunters must remember, and this was the keynote of his address.

Miners' audience in Halifax fell instantly under the sway of the man, who although he himself reiterated had no "grammatical education" has been received by large and enthusiastic audiences in the largest halls in Canada. Whitehaired and keen-eyed, with the upright, wholesome bearing of the man who knows Nature and the out of doors, it is easy to understand why he is loved and trusted by the shyest of all creatures.

Not the least part of Jack Miner's charm was his sincerity and simplicity, coupled with a lively humor. He related the story of his life from the time his father left the home in Ohio with his ten children to make a new home in the woods of Essex county, Ontario, until he found himself on the platform of Massey Hall, Toronto, where he was expected to address an audience of 4,000 people. Here he was so well received, as he himself put it, that "his geese have been fed ever since, and they cost $3,000 in the last three months."

Jack Miner speaks in Charlottetown at the Strand Theatre, Wednesday evening, May 9th.

Eastern Notes

Mr. James Jay, Agent, was a visitor here last week taking orders for Fertilizer Spreaders.

Mr. Percy Bourke who is in charge of one of the road machines, is as present working in Souris on the Main street.

The rain Saturday increased the bad condition of said place, and the farmers of the vicinity were kept busy Saturday and Sunday pulling out cars.

The large boat from Pictou which is at present calling at all the factories along the Eastern coast for the purpose fo purchasing over-size live lobsters, was in port at Fortune Saturday evening. She is equipped with a one hundred and forty H. P. engine.

Says Quebec Lady of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Miss K. Doyle Used Dodd's Kidney Pills to Purify the Blood and Strengthen the Kidneys

St. Romuald, P. Q., May 7.—(Special)—Among the many friends Dodd's Kidney Pills have made in this part of Quebec is Miss Kathleen Doyle, who is well known here. She writes: "Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best medicine I have ever taken to purify the blood especially in the Springtime. The first time I ever used Dodd's Kidney Pills was after I had had the measules which left my kidneys very weak. I began using your medicine and was soon back to normal health."

Dodd's Kidney Pills hold their popularity not because of the promises they make, but because of the good they do.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a Kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys so they can do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood.

Pure blood coursing through the body carries to the different organs the nourishment they need to keep them sound and healthy.

UNITED STATES FARMERS WILL INCREASE CROP

The annual "intentions to plant" report of the United States Department of Agriculture shows that farmers to the south of us are planning a big year. If they carry out their plans they will sow 3 per cent. more corn, 14 per cent more durum wheat, 23 per cent. more barley, almost 12 per cent more potatoes and 16 per cent. more tobacco. Oats, spring wheat and hay are the only major crops to show a decreased acreage in prospect.

There's many a slip 'twixt cup and lip, and furthermore many shrewd farmers wait until the "intentions to plant" report before finally deciding upon the spring program, so that such figures are of course only approximations.

CAPONIZING.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

In an endeavour to determine the practicability of caponizing both Barred Rock and Leghorn cockerels and carrying them over until the Christmas market, an experiment was carried on at the Poultry Division of the Central Experimental Farm.

In this experiment one pen of forty Barred Rocks and one of forty White Leghorns, caponized at ten weeks of age were contrasted with pens of cockerels of the same age and carried under similar conditions. It was found that the value of the Leghorns as broilers (11 weeks) was 22 cents and of the Barred Rocks 49 cents. The cost of feed was roughly 15 cents per bird leaving a profit over cost of 7 cents and 34 cents respectively, an amount not sufficient in the case of the Leghorn cockerels, to offset the cost of labor, depreciation, equipment, etc. The prices allowed were 15 cents and 25 cents per pound for the light and heavy breeds respectively, these being the ruling prices paid in Ontario during the past season.

On the other hand, the value of these same birds as capons at twenty-seven weeks of age was $1.48 and $2.73 per bird respectively. The feed cost per bird was 55 cents for Leghorns and 78 cents for Barred Rocks, leaving a profit over cost of feed of 93 cents and $1.95 per bird respectively. The values allowed for capons were 35 cents per pound for Leghorns and 40 cents per pound for Barred Rocks, being the actual quoted prices of a large Montreal produce firm. By deducting the profit over cost of feed as broilers the total profit over feed and over the amount obtainable by selling as broilers are found to be 8 cents for the Leghorns and $1.61 for Barred Rocks.

In view of the above figures it is for the individual poultry keeper to decide whether it would be profitable to caponize or to cater to the broiler market. It is a matter of choosing between a profit over cost of feed of 7 cents per bird as broilers, or 86 cents per bird as capons in the case of the Leghorns and between 34 cents and $1.61 in the case of the Barred Rocks, taking into consideration the amount of land required, the labor expended, the depreciation on buildings and equipment and any other costs incidental to carrying the birds over to be marketed as capons. While one may not pay the commercial poultryman with high priced land and limited space and time, it might on the other hand be very profitable for the farmer to caponize since the birds would probably have free range and require very little attention. The factor of proximity to market sufficiently large to cause demand for high class poultry is also of great importance.

Complete instructions on "How to Caponize" are embodied in a bulletin of that name, obtainable free upon written request from the Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

"Really!" cried the lady, whose delight knew no bounds. "What can you do?"
