Interesting Correspondence

In referring to Junior Red Cross in his annual report the Chief Superintendent of Education says: "The organization of Junior Red Cross Branches among the pupils of the schools not only promotes health habits among the members, but in the making of portfolios for exchange with the pupils in other countries, a new interest is created in all the subjects of the course, and the assistance and co-operation of the home is enlisted to a greater extent in the work of the school. During the year sixteen portfolios were sent from Island groups and twenty received in exchange. In this way the Junior Red Cross pupils have come in direct contact with their fellow members in Australia, Austria, Belgium, Hungary, Japan, etc., and the geography of these countries has been given a reality that no text-book can produce."

These portfolios, to which the Superintendent refers are compiled by the pupils and are descriptive of the locality from which they come. They usually contain a letter of greetings such as the following one which was received by Baltic School from Ecole Mayenne de l'Etat pour Garçons, Rue du Progress, 2, Lessines, Belgium.

Lessines, April 5, 1932.
Dear Unknown Friends:
May we introduce ourselves? We are all about sixteen years old and we attend the secondary school of the lower degree of Lessines. We are in the third form and there we learn four languages, French, Flemish, English and German, and many other courses.

One of our professors having told us that many schools send an album to an unknown country we came to the idea to do the same.

We held meetings to choose the subject we should treat and the country to which the album would be sent; it was a very difficult matter to settle the discussion.

Dear unknown Friends, as Canada was not completely unknown to us, we decided to send the album to your native land. Most of us have admired Canada's stand at the World's Fair of Antwerp and by our lessons of geography we know it is famous for its fruit, its wheat, its forests and its hunting and last but not least we do not forget what your fathers have done for us, during the war of 1914-18 when they came to Belgium's rescue.

We intend, dear unknown Friends, to give you an idea of our land, of our province and of our town in particular. We are all very impatient to see the album you will send us.

Trusting to unite the youth of Belgium and of Canada by a faster link of fraternity, we send you our sincerest salutations.

Your unknown Friends,
Third form of the Secondary School of Lessines.

Corrects Statement

OTTAWA, May 19.—"I did not in any way impute wrong-doing to any member of the Cabinet, and I did not intend to," C. B. Howard, (Lb. Sherbrooke) told the House of Commons this afternoon, referring to the point raised by E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, today.

Mr. Howard had said on April 13 that "insiders in the Government had not converted their loan" in 1931, while farmers in his constituency had done so, in good faith. Mr. Rhodes protested against the implications of this statement, and Mr. Howard's brief observation this afternoon was the result.

Dietrich Plays Glamorous Part In New Picture

"Shanghai Express," Marlene Dietrich's first starring picture since she returned from Europe, is now the feature attraction of the Prince Edward. This thrilling story of adventure and romance was originally written by the well-known novelist and traveller, Harry Hervey, and dramatized for the screen by Jules Furthman, who also wrote the screen play of "Morocco," Miss Dietrich's first starring picture made in America.

Joseph von Sternberg, maker of "Morocco" and "Dishonored," also directed "Shanghai Express." The supporting cast is headed by Clive Brook, who recently played the leading role in "24 Hours," and Anna May Wong, Oriental heroine of the picture "Daughter of the Dragon."

Miss Dietrich plays the part of a notorious and glamorous woman of the world, while Brook portrays a British officer who meets her, after years of separation, aboard the Shanghai Express, which is held up by a Chinese bandit general, played by Warner Oland.

"Shanghai Express" is a stirring, melodramatic picture with a large cast of celebrities. More than a thousand Orientals of various races were used as extras for atmospheric effect.

The bill then was given third and final reading without division.

Many Thrills In New McCoy Capitol Feature

Tim McCoy is a flash in his latest fast-action western for Columbia, "The Fighting Marshal," which opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. Thrill piles upon thrill as he passes from one perilous situation to another. McCoy has been provided with an excellent story that is built up on suspense. Everything that the daredevil western star puts into it is that much gain for a film that is already exciting enough in its bare story outline. And anyone, who has ever seen Tim McCoy perform, knows what to expect from this rarin', tearin', hard-ridin' cowboy. He's right up to scratch in this new one.

A spirited performance is given by the superb action star Tim McCoy. He kicks up plenty of dust as he gallops through this exciting film. Pretty Dorothy Gulliver makes an appealing heroine. Mary Carr, Matthew Betz and Pat O'Malley are others who contribute capable and interesting performances. A crack western that shouldn't be missed.

Resolution: Without the resolution in your hearts to do good work so long as your right hands have motion in them; and to do it whether the issue be that you die or live, no life worthy the name will ever be possible to you, while, in once forming the resolution that your work is to be well done, life is really won, here and forever. And to make your children capable of such resolutions, is the beginning of all true education.
