

This is Better Than Laxatives

One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week Corrects Constipation and Keeps Bowels Regular Without Unnecessary. Try It

Poor digestion and assimilation mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putrefaction and the formation of poisonous gases which are absorbed by the blood, and carried through the body.

The result is weakness, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver, bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished blood, sallow complexion, pimples, skin disease, and often times serious illness.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—sals, oils, calomel and the like—may relieve for a few hours, but their lasting benefit can only come through use of medicine that tones up and strengthens the digestive as well as the eliminative organs.

Get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow the very first dose, but a few days will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get straightened out and feel just right again you need not take medicine every day—an occasional NR Tablet will then keep your system in top condition and you will always feel your best.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are sold, bottled and recommended by your druggist.

Hints for the Motorist

LET NO ONE DECEIVE HIMSELF into thinking that the present agitation for saving gasoline is a "scare" or idle talk, for it is, in fact, a movement that should be taken in deadly earnest and entered into with the utmost seriousness. Nobody is "crying wolf," but rather a solemn warning is being uttered. Carburetors adjusted for overrich mixture are the greatest preventable cause of fuel waste in the motor world and investigation tends to show that nine-tenths of the carburetors are habitually kept set in this condition.

REVIVING EXHAUSTED DRY CELLS NOISY CLUTCH

V. E. C. asks: Will you be good enough to explain how exhausted dry-cells can be made useful again? This occurs only when the clutch is in engagement and ceases when it is released. What is the cause and remedy? Answer: We doubt if this noise comes from the clutch at all; for the reason that during engagement there is no relative motion between clutch parts—the whole mechanism rotating as a unit. The fact that there is no noise when the clutch is released indicates that the clutch parts themselves operate together quietly.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR The Car for the Salesman THE experience of salesmen with motor cars shows a marked increase in number of calls made and extra business secured. The percentage of expense to business done is lower than by train. The Motor Car is regarded as indispensable. Investigators in thirty-five territories reported not only the above facts but that the great majority of cars used are Fords.

The Story of a Girl Who Didn't Want to Marry

By ETHEL LLOYD PATT.

Chapter XL

From that time on instinctively, I tried to put the thought of Hugh Trotter out of my mind. I suppose although I would not have admitted it, subconsciously I realized that I was attracted to him. Here was a young man who might make my determination never to marry in any way.

I SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

FINALLY WAS RESTORED TO HEALTH BY LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Paris (Ont.)—"For five years I suffered from pains caused by displacement of my organs and in my back. All of this time I was unfit for work and was taking different medicines that I thought were good. I saw the advertisement in the newspapers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it faithfully. I am now in perfect health and do all my own work. I recommend it to others, and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers as a testimonial."—Mrs. D. Cassidy, Box 461, Paris, Ont.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MEETING OF GUARANTORS OF CHAUTAUQUA

A meeting of the guarantors of Chautauqua was held Friday night for the sale of tickets and for the holding of Chautauqua beginning July 26th. The tent will be pitched as usual on the Prince of Wales College grounds. Quite a number of tickets have already been disposed of. Those who wish to procure tickets should get them without delay. They may be bought from any of the undersigned gentlemen who comprise the selling teams:

- Marcus Calder. T. W. L. Prowse. J. A. Clarke. Murdoch MacLeod, Fight Office C. H. Black. S. Kennedy. Isaac Carter. L. B. Smith, (Carvell Bros.) John MacLeod, (John MacLeod and Co.) James Paton. Lloyd Wellner. Murdoch Ross.

"I don't see what you've got to say about it. Anyhow you haven't heard the full proposition. I'll pay you for the day just the same, and early in the morning I'll come up and call for you in the car and I'll take your mother too! We'll have a picnic somewhere in the country."

"Take mother?" I queried, momentarily thrown off my guard. "You mean you'll take mother for a picnic and a motor ride for the whole day?"

"Why not?" replied Mr. Dayton. "Good heavens, child! I don't eat little girls, you know."

A vision of the expression of mother's face at such a treat came before me. She had not been in an automobile more than once or twice in her life. A whole day of fresh air and a picnic with me would be an unprecedented treat to her. Something whispered to me that I was playing with fire. But I tried to reassure myself. I told myself that certainly this man could mean only kindness, since he included my mother in his invitation and so

"I'd like to go," I said quietly. "Hurrah!" said Mr. Dayton, and added cryptically to himself, "The first trench taken."

MEDICAL STUDENT CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

MONTREAL, July 14.—Alfred Leger, fourth year medical student at Universite de Montreal, appeared today in the Enquiry Court on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Alice Lavallee, of Sorel, who died from the effects of an illegal operation on June 24th.

Several witnesses were heard who testified that Leger had never visited the girl at her home in Sorel and Leger's landlady stated that she had never seen the girl in his rooms. Owing to the absence of the Justice of the Peace who took the girl's dying depositions, the case was postponed until next Wednesday.

er now that often I snapped out some unkind and unwarranted comment upon him. However, for the present, I was preoccupied with my work at the Champion Film Company. As I was given greater opportunity to make good, my responsibility also became proportionately greater. I wanted very much to succeed, and really studied with might and main.

At night when I came home, I worked again, turning on the light in front of my dresser and almost making a nervous wreck of myself by trying to register various emotions in my mirror before me. Then a new worry came to make work harder.

Something crept into Mr. Dayton's manner toward me that made me ill at ease. He had a knack, which many men have, of saying things to me which I might understand in several ways. Were I to take offense at them, the president of the film company would look amazed at my having put an unpleasant construction upon his innocent words. If I did not take offence, he would say to me even more pointed things more markedly.

He was an experienced man of the world. I was a child. Yet, perhaps my greatest virtue was that I had a simple and direct method of thought. It is perhaps the only weapon with which a girl may parry this sort of attention. Nevertheless, often and often I felt I was not doing my best work because of the self consciousness which Mr. Dayton's presence in the studio engendered in me. He had begun to ask me personal questions. He would ask them with such an air of kindly interest that it would seem ungrateful and unpleasant for me not to answer.

One day Mr. Dayton said: "You haven't much color in your face these days Miss Birney, do you get enough fresh air? We don't want to work you to death, you know. What do you do when you go to some nights?" "Help mother clear away the dishes," I said, "and sometimes I go up in my room and read or work in front of the mirror."

"And Sundays?" pursued the president.

I could not help laughing as I remembered the thought of my "Days of Rest". There were the clothes and shoes of my younger brother and sisters to be put in order; the darning to be done; the heavy dinner to be prepared for my father in the middle of the day. As a matter of fact, on Sundays I worked harder than at any other time. So—

"Oh, I don't get out on Sunday," I told Mr. Dayton. "You see mother is not very strong and there is plenty of house work to do. On Sunday I try to help her with it."

"Do you really live on the pay you get here?" questioned the president curiously.

"Really live on it!" I repeated, amazed. "Before I got it, we had to live on much less. And we did, too! My father's wages are not much. Tom, my brother's earnings, just about clothe him, with a dollar or a dollar and a half over a week towards his board. What I can earn, Mr. Dayton, is what keeps the family going now, and I think saves mother's life. She couldn't have kept on much longer without some help."

"I declare," said Mr. Dayton. "You sound like a story book! You read about these goody-goody girls, or see them in the movies, but I didn't think they lived and breathed. I tell you what I'm going to do. I'm going to declare a holiday next Saturday and take you out for a good long motor ride."

"Thank you," I said, "I don't need it. I would rather—"

"Here!" interrupted the man, "I don't see what you've got to say about it. Anyhow you haven't heard the full proposition. I'll pay you for the day just the same, and early in the morning I'll come up and call for you in the car and I'll take your mother too! We'll have a picnic somewhere in the country."

terized as the equal of any ever seen in the Maritime provinces drew 2,500 people to the Truro track this afternoon. The feature of the day was the smashing of the track record by Corwin Hal, owned by J. P. Smith of Kinkora, and driven by the well known horseman Dannie Steele of Summerside. In the first heat of the free-for-all Corwin Hal lowered the record to 2.16. The last time the track record was broken was in August of last year when Belle McGregor, owned and driven by John T. Fraser, of Truro, negotiated the mile in 2.16 1/4. The track was in fine condition and there was very little dust as a water cart was at work all last night thoroughly sprinkling the course.

All the races were won by Prince Edward Island horses, Corwin Hal, owned by J. P. Smith of Kinkora, took the free-for-all, winning the first, second and fourth heats. Plucky Dillard, owned by Walter Moore, Kentville, took second money. The 2.28 was captured by Colonel Waltz, with Major McKinnon up. Second money went to Helen Constantine, owned by Hedley T. Fulton, Upper Stewiacke. The first heat of the three-minute class was negotiated in the fast time of 2.18 1/2. This was made by Miss Eldridge, with Dannie Steele driving. She was sixth in the second heat and third in the next, but captured the next two and the race.

Maurice Belle, owned by F. P. Mann, Moncton won second money. All the races were fast and many of the heats were exciting. Horsemen were unanimous in their praise of the meet and Major McKinnon spoke particularly of the fine treatment they received.
