South America Seen As Possible Market For Seed Potatoes

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 12 —The countries of South America are definite possibilities as markets for New Brunswick seed potatoes, according to M. J. Vechsler, Canadian Trade Commissioner with headquarters at Lima, Peru, who arrived in Fredericton last night.

Chila, Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia, to which Mr. Vechsler is accredited as trade commissioner, are all tuber producing countries and all, especially Chile, are potential consumers of certified seed potatoes.

Tomorrow he will confer with G. C. Cunningham, potato marketing expert of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, concerning the market for New Brunswick seed in the Andean countries.

YOUNG CHILD

not notice the truck until he heard the brakes grinding.

Benjamin Arsenault, the father, gave evidence that his little girl had been with him just a few minutes before the accident ahppened. She came to meet him on his way home and asked if she could stay out a little while. She asked for her shoes and he gave them to her to put on. He then went in the house and a few minutes after her mother told him she was hurt and he went out and picked her up and carried her in the house.

Chief of Police White and Officer Schurman gave evidence of investigating the accident. That Jerrior had come to them and told them he had run over and killed a child. They notified the coroner, Dr. Howatt.

Mr. Robert Dewar, motor mechanic, tesitfied that he had tested the brakes and found them to be in excellent condition, better in fact than the average truck of that kind.

Mr. Harold Schurman testified that Jerrior had worked for his firm for about 12 years and had driven the truck for six years. He was a very careful driver and had never had any serious accidents. A few minor ones over a long period of years. He was a man of excellent character.

Dr. Howatt, who had examined the body, told the jury that it had a badly lacerated scalp wound and very bad fracture. It would only be possible for the child to live a few minutes after the accident.

After considering the evidence the jury returned the verdict given above. The inquest was held in Compton's undertaking parlor, Dr. W. B. Howatt presiding. The jury were, J. F. Arnett, foreman; Councillor D. F. MacNeill; W. W. Muttart; W. A. Tower; James Cairns; George Williams; Louis Wedge. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved parents and their five remaining children in their sad loss. The funeral is taking place this morning at nine o'clock from the home to St. Paul's Church.

The Kirk In Assembly

(By Rev. John McNab, M. A., in the Globe and Mail)

Presbyterianism has decided to erect a cairn on the site of the home of the Gordon brothers, who were martyred in the South Seas. This cairn will serve to perpetuate one of the most thrilling stories in the annals of missions.

The first of these brothers, George N. Gordon, sailed to the South Seas with his wife in 1857. They were appointed as the first missionaries to Erromanga, an island of bloodthirsty cannibals. Here they did a wonderful piece of work for some years until an epidemic broke out, and the superstitious natives murdered them.

Another younger brother, James, was at the plow, when news came to their home near Alberton, on Prince Edward Island. And James, leaving the plow, volunteered to prepare to take up the torch dashed from his brother's hands. He arrived in Erromanga, and after a few years' service he also suffered martyrdom. Prince Edward Island Presbytery and the Synod of the Maritimes have been entrusted with this act of commemoration.

Some outsiders think that Commissioners to an Assembly have a joy ride. It was hoped that the Assembly might conclude on Wednesday evening, but when the hour of adjournment, 10 p.m., was reached, a Commissioner said that some of them could not continue much longer, as their committee had sat right through the supper hour, and were now anxious for a cup of tea. A heavy responsibility rests on the shoulders of those carrying the work of the major committees at these meetings.

The report of the committee on church life and work had several recommendations on gambling, temperance and Sunday observance. The convener stated that the questionnaires submitted throughout the church revealed the deep concern of many ministers regarding the present state of religion.

Appreciation of the sacrificial labors of Dr. W. M. Kannawin, secretary of the Sabbath School Board, received approval. Dr. Kannawin has worked in the years since his appointment, often without vacation, and it was now felt necessary to give him further assistance in his department to do necessary work among young men.

Mass Migration Of Nuns From Germany

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, June 12—Migration of 500 Roman Catholic nuns from Germany to the United States has been planned by religious orders and probably will be carried out in the next six months, it was reported today following the arrival of nine Dominican Sisters from the Reich. The little group arrived as penniless refugees Friday.

Lengthy Debate On The Budget Is Forecast

OTTAWA, June 12—(C.P.)—With the budget coming down Thursday and the report on penitentiaries expected to be tabled Tuesday, Parliament is setting itself for a final rush to prorogue by the end of June. The allegations of political corruption which rocked the House of Commons Friday, however, may delay the end of the session.

On April 5 Pensions Minister Power introduced two bills dealing with elections into the House. One provided for an entirely new election act and the other was designed to curb corruption in elections to an extent not before attempted by parliament.

The two bills were referred to the Commons Election Committee. The bill rewriting the election laws was urgent because those who have given the matter great study are convinced that at present Canada has no laws in force under which a federal general election could be held. Even if the government has no present intention of bringing on an election before next session, it would not desire to allow the present session to end without facilities for calling an election should developments after prorogation cause it to change its mind.

The reason for the unique position is that the election act passed before the 1935 elections and still in force, provided that permanent voters' lists should be built up. The present government took the view this had not worked out satisfactorily and decided to return to the previous system of making new lists before each election. Accordingly permanent lists were discontinued and therefore it is contended an election could not be held as the law now stands.

The elections committee, driven by Chairman C. E. Bothwell (Lib. Swift Current,) has struggled throughout the session with the huge elections bill with its 109 clauses, many of which were contentious, and election forms making altogether a book of 158 printed pages. Week after week the committee has sat and will present its conclusions to the House next week.

Frequently in the committee the improbability of doing anything with the political expenditures bill this session was expressed and the general feeling semed to be that it would be allowed to die as far as this session was concerned.

Now the question of political corruption has become the subject of so bitter a debate, the committee will have to consider what the reaction in the country would be if the measure designed to do something about corruption was shelved. It may decide to buckle down and handle the political expenditures bill right away.

In addition to the election bill, the government will insist on the Housing Bill going through and it will require much time. As far as is known Justice Minister LaPointe intends going ahead with his amendment to the criminal code. There are more than 50 of them so even if no particular opposition develops the mere routine of putting them all through parliament ordinarily would require several days.

The bill to buy the publicly-owned shares of the Bank of Canada, the bill affecting salaries of judges and the one to regulate the small loan business have yet to be dealt with. In former sessions the estimates often delayed prorogation but this year they are particularly well advanced.

Observers figure on a budget debate lasting at least four weeks. However it is believed the Washington negotiations for a new Canada-United tates trade agreement have not sufficiently advanced to have any of its provisions included in the tax changes and consequently the changes may be few. Under such circumstances the debate may be over in a week.

In the Senate the main concern is the railway committee's investigation of unification proposals. Canadian National officials start their reply Tuesday to suggestions from the Canadian Pacific and the hearings may be completed this week. It is not known what action the committee will take after that.

Canada Bank Capital Cut To $5,000,000

OTTAWA, June 12 — Finance Minister Dunning gave notice in the House votes and proceedings a resolution preliminary to a bill to nationalize the Bank of Canada.

The government's intention to make the bank a wholly publicly owned institution was announced originally two weeks ago by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. The government will acquire complete ownership of the bank and take over the 100,000 shares now in the hands of the public.

The resolution reads: "That it is expedient to introduce a measure to amend the Bank of Canada Act inter alia to provide for the redemption by the Bank of Canada of the 100,000 Class 'A' shares of the Bank of Canada at the par value of $5 each at a price of $59.20 per share and accrued dividends;

"To reduce the capital of the Bank of Canada from $10,100,000 to $5,000,000 divided into 100,000 shares of $50 each; and to authorize the Minister of Finance for purposes of such redemption and reduction of capital to surrender to the Bank of Canada 102,000 Class 'B' shares of the Bank of Canada of the par value of $50 each, of which 2,000 shares shall be cancelled and 100,000 shares shall be exchanged for 100,000 new shares of $50 each to be issued by the Bank of Canada to the Minister of Finance and to pay to the Bank of Canada the additional amount necessary to pay the difference between the purchase price of the shares to be reduced (excluding any amount paid by way of dividend) and their par value.)

The bank was established by the Conservative government of Right Hon. R. B. Bennett in 1935 with a capital of $5,000,000 in 100,000 shares valued at $50 each. These were offered to the public and taken up at their par value. Dividends on the shares were limited to 4 1-2 per cent a year and any excess profits were to become the property of the government.

The first session the present Liberal government was in office following the 1935 election, the Bank of Canada Act was amended to give the government ownership of a majority of shares and a majority representation on the directorate.

Tuberculosis Association In Annual Session

LONDON, Ont., June 12—(CP)—Hope the Government would extend further aid to tuberculosis sufferers was expressed Saturday by Dr. R. J. Collings of Saint John, N. B., incoming president, at a banquet ending the annual convention of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association.

Freedom from financial worry might well be extended to tuberculosis sufferers as a means of lengthening life expectancy, Dr. R. E. Wodehouse, federal deputy minister of pensions and health, told the banquet.

Tests have shown that assurance of income and extension of social services by the department of health help men over 52 years of age to live longer, Dr. Wodehouse said.

"I believe this plan is worthy of deeper investigation and it may be shown that it may be extended to such patients as are suffering from tuberculosis," he continued. "It might be better to provide these special services for them than to make large grants for providing more beds and treatment; if pensions or grants were available for those coming out of Sanatoria it would help."

Officers elected were: President-elect, John McEachern, Winnipeg; executive members, Hon. Albiny Paquette, Quebec; Hon. Harold Kirby, Toronto; Dr. B. C. Keeping Charlottetown; Dr. E. L. Ross, Ninette, Man.

Women Honored In Plaque Unveiling

OTTAWA, June 12 —(C P)— Commemorating the action of five Alberta women who opened the doors of the Senate to Canadian women, Prime Minister MacKenzie King last night unveiled a bronze tablet on the wall at the entrance to the Senate Chamber last night. Three hundred guests including senators, cabinet ministers and members of national organizations attended the ceremony.

Bordered with maple leaves and topped by the gold and green crest of the Canadian Federation of business and professional women, the plaque, erected by the federation, bears the names of the five women—Mrs. Henrietta Muir Edwards of Macleod, Magistrate Emily F. Murphy of Edmonton, Mrs. Nellie L. McClung of Edmonton, Mrs. Louise C. McKinney of Claresholm, and Hon. Irene Parlby of Alix. Only Mrs. McClung and Mrs. Parlby are living.

in Memoriam

MR. ADAM BROWN

Friends far and near were saddened at the passing on May 24th. of the late Mr. Adam Brown of New Glasgow in his eighty-fourth year. Born of Scottish parents who emigrated to this country almost a century ago, Mr. Brown was an example of the noblest traditions of his race, the epitome of neighborly kindness and generous hospitality.

Possessed of an exceptionally strong physique, up to six months before his death he carried on the usual strenuous duties of the farm, and although his health had become somewhat impaired, his passing after a week's illness came as a severe shock to all.

A man highly respected and esteemed by all who knew him, the dearly loved head of his household, an earnest champion of truth and righteousness, a self-sacrificing worker in all enterprises for the good of the community, Mr. Brown leaves behind him an enduring memorial enshrined in the hearts of his loved ones.

Having lived a life of sublime faith in the merits of his Redeemer—the faith that looks beyond death—he could say, like Paul, "I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day," and the end was perfect peace.

The funeral which was held on May 31st., was attended by a large number of relatives and friends who assembled to do honor to the one who had departed, and to show sympathy to the bereaved family. Rev. Mr. Quigley read the scriptures, and Rev. W. J. MacLeod led in prayer. Rev. George Tilley spoke from the text: "For what is your life?" (James 4:14), paying tribute to the long, useful, Christian life of the deceased as one whose creed was exemplified in his daily intercourse with others, and whose devotion to high ideals was consistently shown in his wholehearted support of all worthy causes. His favorite hymns were sung, The Lord's My Shepherd, Safe in the Arms of Jesus, Forever with the Lord.

There are left to mourn the partner of his joys and sorrows for nearly sixty years, and the following sons and daughters, Edgar N. and Earle C. of Vancouver, Rev. Stirling H. of McConnell, Manitoba, Ira R. of New York City, Sidney W. at home, Ella, Mrs. B. C. Woolner of North Rustico, Pearle, Mrs. C. M. Howatt of New Glasgow, Margaret, Mrs. W. P. MacLeod of Central Royalty, and Verna, Mrs. Andrew Haggart of Vancouver, who arrived home in time to attend her father's funeral. A son who died in infancy, and a son, Stanley, who died at the age of twenty-four years, predeceased him. There are also twenty-three grandchildren who acknowledge with gratitude and reverence the inspiration they received from his personal influence, his kindly interest, and loving sympathy.

The floral tributes were: Pillow from the family: Wreath, Margaret, Will, Marion, and Irene MacLeod; Spray, Margaret Vivian, Harold, and Stirling Howatt; Spray, New Glasgow Women's Institute; Spray, Central Royalty Women's Institute; Wreath, Hunter River Shipping Club.

The following friends and neighbors acted as pall bearers: Messrs O. C. LePage, Donald Andrews, John Proctor, John Semple, Cecil Laird and Ernest Houston. He was laid to rest in New Glasgow Cemetery, and we bereft must await a reunion in another and a better world, and find comfort in memories of kindly deeds, and in the security that He keeps His loved ones nigh unto Him for all eternity.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

Headache is a source of great suffering and often leads to serious derangements of health.

Headache is nearly always symptomatic of some diseased condition, rather than a disease itself, but in most cases comes from a disordered stomach, or poor circulation of the blood, and the cause must be removed before relief can be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps remove the cause of headache by acting on different organs of the body to regulate, strengthen and purify the system.

MRS. ARTHUR J. WILLIAMS, Lac Ste. Anne, Alta., writes:—"I suffered for years with dizzy headaches, and sometimes they were so bad I could not get any sleep.

My neighbour told me about Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking several bottles my headaches had disappeared.

My husband was troubled with pimples on his face, causing him great discomfort when shaving, but after he had taken two bottles of B.B.B. he got rid of the pimples."

JOYS AND GLOOMS

MANY PEOPLE can safely drink tea and coffee. Many others—and all children—should never drink them. If you are one of these, try Postum's 30-day test. Buy Postum and drink it instead of tea and coffee for one month. Then, if you do not feel better, return the Postum container top to General Foods, Limited, Cobourg, Ontario, and we'll refund full purchase price, plus postage. Postum is delicious, economical, easy to prepare, and contains no caffeine.
