LA GRIPPE RAVAGES

The Trouble Sweeping Over Canada is Epidemic.

Weakened and Broken Constitutions Left Behind—How to Regain New Health and Strength.

La grippe is one of the most dangerous diseases that annually sweeps over Canada. It starts with a sneeze and ends with a complication of trouble on the strong man on his back; it tortures him with fevers and chills, with headaches and backaches. Its victims are left low-spirited and depressed, and an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, rheumatism, and often that most deadly of all diseases—consumption. You can avoid it entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The trouble takes as its victims those whose blood is in a poor condition, and its after-effects are more dangerous and more lasting than the trouble itself. For the after-effects of la grippe there is absolutely no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to make the blood that drives disease "on the system, and makes weak, despondent men and women bright, cheerful and strong. If you have suffered in any way from the epidemic of la grippe that has been sweeping over Canada, give this great health-restoring medicine a trial, and it will not disappoint you. Here is proof of the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over the after-effects of this disease. Mr. F. E. Paulin, collector of customs at Caraquet, N. B., says: "A few winters ago I had a severe attack of la grippe, which completely broke me down. I had to take to my bed for several weeks, and although during that time I employed a doctor I did not seem to recover from the trouble. I was left terribly weak, did not sleep well, had night sweats and little or no appetite. I was really a physical wreck. On a former occasion I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for general debility with such great success that I decided to try them again. I sent for a half dozen boxes and began to take the pills at once. When taking the second box I began to feel quite a change in my condition. I was able to walk about the house and my appetite was improving. From that on I gained strength every day and before the sixth boxes were done I was able to return to the office and attend to my work. I have since enjoyed the best of health, and think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine for trouble of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only promptly cure the serious after-effects of la grippe, but they make well and strong all persons suffering from any form of debility or general weakness. These pills have no laxative or purgative action; their mission is to make new, rich, red blood, and thus fortify and strengthen every organ and every part of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A New Brunswick exchange has the following regarding a reception to Rev Edwin Smith, formerly of Kingston, and now newly inducted pastor of the Presbyterian Church there: The Chipman House was the scene of one of the most pleasant gatherings that ever assembled in this village when upwards of 300 persons met on Friday evening, Feb. 3, to greet the recently inducted Presbyterian minister Rev. Edwin Smith, and to present him with an address of welcome. The spacious hotel was thrown open to all and the different rooms were beautifully decorated with potted plants for the occasion, which brought so much delight to all. Charles Baird read an address of welcome, to which Rev Mr Smith replied in a suitable manner and thanked the visitors for the kindness he had already received and for the kind words of welcome. Soon after the addresses were made all present were treated to dainty refreshment which was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. It was about midnight when the party dispersed to their homes.

While working yesterday morning chopping in his father's woods at East Royalty, Jack L. Connolly of the place met with a very painful accident. The axe catching in a limb above his head turned over and caught him on the back of the left hand, severing the artery behind the fore finger. By means of a bandage which he had on a bruise on the right wrist he managed to tie it on his left hand in such a fashion to stop the bleeding. He managed to work until noon when he went home and had his hand dressed. His hand and arm are both stiff and very painful and he will not be able to do much work for a time.

Nervous Prostration Makes You Weak, Helpless and Miserable.

Wherever there are sickly people who are troubled with deranged nerves they will find that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will restore the equilibrium of these deranged centres, and bring back the shattered nervous system to a perfect condition. They do this by their restorative influence on every organ and tissue of the body, and their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken.

Mrs. G. D. Ward, Huntville, Ont., writes: "I take pleasure in sending you my testimonial in praise of your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I suffered terribly with nervous prostration, and became so bad I was not able to attend to my household duties, and now I can truthfully say that I owe my life to them. Three boxes stopped my trouble."

The only living stallion whose daughters have produced six or more 2.10 performers is Nutwood Wilkes, 2.16. The veteran trainer, Ed Geers, celebrated his sixtieth birthday at Memphis, Tenn., January 27th. All of his horses in his stable were treated to extra rations, including carrots, sugar beets and other dainties.

It is with feelings of sincere regret and a real sense of loss to the province that The Guardian records the death of William Laird, New Glasgow. The deceased passed away at his 76th year, in the early morning of the 14th inst. For the past two months he had been suffering from a severe illness which developed into gangrene, his condition gradually became worse until the end came. The late William Laird was a son of the late Hon. Alexander Laird, a native of Renfrewshire, Scotland, who emigrated to this province in 1819 with his wife Janet Orr, also deceased. He was born on June 5, 1835, and received his education in the public schools of the province and devoted himself closely to farming in which he became highly successful. He married in early life but was left a widower some years later by the decease of his wife. He took an active interest in military matters in early life and rose to the rank of a Captain in a company since disbanded. He was ever deeply interested in political matters and was a staunch Liberal.

He first ventured to contest the general election of 1871, and was elected in 1882 but he was defeated by one vote. He did not again try for an election, although frequently offered the nomination, until in 1908 when he was elected by 126 of a majority. As a politician he made many friends and his integrity and earnestness in his work were characteristic in him which made his services the more valuable to his district and the province. He was a strong debater and a representative whom his constituents honored and respected. Another phase of his life was his christian bearing. A consistent adherent of the Presbyterian faith, he was for many years an elder in his church. In his business and social relations with the community the deceased always impressed those with whom he had to do of the earnestness of his Christian belief and to this may be attributed his popularity with all who were his acquaintances. His funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon.

ECZEMA AND WHAT IS DONE TO CURE IT

Desperate Efforts, Disheartening Failures and Final Success. Eczema is a skin affliction to which men and women alike are subject, from the first to the last day of their existence. It may occur as a single tiny spot, appearing and disappearing with each change in general health or present only at certain seasons; at other extreme, the whole body may be involved in a torrid eruption. The latter condition may gradually arise through the neglect or improper treatment of lesser troubles or an apparently healthy skin may, in a single day, become a mass of eczema.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held in the Council Chamber last evening with His Worship the Mayor in the chair. His Honor, the Recorder, the Health Officer and Couns. Macdonald, Campbell, McKenna, Johnson, Lane and Riley, were present. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read, and, on motion adopted.

Every mother of young children should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. No other medicine has relieved so many little ones of the ailments that afflict them as have Baby's Own Tablets—no other medicine can be given baby with that absolute sureness of safety as can these Tablets. The mother has the guarantee of a Government analyst that they do not contain a particle of those harmful drugs that make those so-called "soothing" stuffs so dangerous to the life of the little one. The Tablets never fail to be of benefit. Concerning them Mrs. Jno. A. Albert, Caraquet, N. B., writes:—"I am happy to state that I have used Baby's Own Tablets for consolation for my two children with great satisfaction." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ginal motion was carried. Sergeant Bradley was re-appointed Sanitary Officer. The assessors were requested to send all returns omitted since last statement. Carried. Coun. Riley offered the suggestion that in place of the three assessors now employed by the city one man should be given a salary and do the work alone. This, he said, would obviate many difficulties at present encountered and would provide a better service at the same, or perhaps, less cost.

Coun. Campbell did not agree with this. Thought it would be less satisfactory and more expensive. Coun. Campbell gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would introduce a by-law respecting the leasing or sale of poultry, meats, etc., in the city market.

His Worship drew the attention of the Council to the fact that a new and expensive surveying instrument had been secured for the City Surveyor for the purpose of making proper plans of the City to ascertain the exact location of street lines. This was necessary to prevent encroachments as the plan would be ratified by the Legislature. He emphasized the importance of the matter.

Coun. McKenna thought the idea a good one and referred to the ownership or supervision the city should have over the water front, especially at the west end of Water Street and the front of Queen St. Recorder said the matter must be taken up as there were no legal marks setting out street lines. He spoke of an unratified survey made some years ago which was not registered in the proper office, in fact not even signed. He went pretty fully into the legal aspect of general cases of encroachments and explained the City's position respecting encroachments in a clear manner to the council board.

The matter of the preparation and submitting to the council of the proposed by-law respecting the ballot, etc., now being drafted by the Recorder, was broached by Coun. McMahon in an enquiry. He was informed that they would be ready to submit at any time the council should ask to see same and it was decided to meet on Monday night next to consider these by-laws in an informal way before submitting them to the council regularly.

Coun. Taylor enquired regarding steps taken to remove a certain objectionable bank of snow in the market square. It appeared that this duty devolved upon the street committee and the matter was abruptly concluded by the motion to adjourn.

REBELLION, Feb. 8.—One of the strangest disappearance cases with which the German police have had to deal in many years has them completely baffled today. It is that involving the disappearance of Miss Margaret Damm, a young musical student from Omaha, Neb., who has been mysteriously missing since Jan. 24. Some of her friends believe that she has committed suicide, but as her body has not been found, the authorities are inclined to doubt this.

nant in a mortgage for $300—Judgment for defendant. Wheatley vs McWilliams & Bowman—tried this term—Judgment for plaintiff for $77.90. Re application Mary J. McMillan for certiorari to set aside conviction for 4th offence against Prohibition Act. The Court set aside the conviction for 4th offence, but convicted her of 1st offence, without costs to the application.

The following is the full text of the judgment delivered in this case by His Lordship: I granted the Rule Nisi in this matter on the two grounds now upheld by the Court, refusing it on two other grounds, which I struck out of the rule nisi presented to me. One of these was, "that there was no evidence before the said Stipendiary Magistrate upon which to find said conviction."

I mention this fact that it may be clearly known why this particular conviction is set aside, fully recognizing that whenever an offender against the provisions of the Prohibition Act is acquitted by reason of improper rejection of evidence, or is relieved from punishment on due conviction by reason of some technicality, the effort of those who honestly seek to enforce the law is greatly hampered.

Eight years ago—November 1902—this Court in Re Patrick Doherty, following the decisions of the Privy Council and the Supreme Court of Canada held that when the Legislature enacted that no conviction should be removed on certiorari, or appeal allowed, no objection that the Magistrate erred on the facts, or that the evidence did not justify the conclusion arrived at by him, can be considered by the Superior Tribunals, for to do so would be to assume the functions of a Court of Appeal, and this the Legislature has purposely taken away from them. And the Court further held that only when there is a manifest defect in, or want of, jurisdiction, or manifest fraud in its exercise, has the superior Court power to quash judgments of inferior Tribunals where certiorari is taken away.

In this case therefore, I refused the rule on the ground of want of sufficient evidence, for this Court is deprived by the Legislature of all power to review the Magistrate's findings, however erroneous, if there is any evidence at all. This conviction can now therefore only be quashed because of a manifest want of jurisdiction, and has only been so quashed; it being not arguable that any court can convict as for a third offence when the offence committed was not an offence at the time of previous convictions, or that the Magistrate here could permit an enquiry as to the previous convictions at a time expressly forbidden by the Statute.

It is, I think, well for those concerned in the enforcement of the Prohibition law of this Province to understand clearly the absolute power of the Magistrate to determine upon the sufficiency of all evidence given before him. It is also well for them to bear in mind the Statute passed in 1898, known as The Certiorari Act, puts an end for all time to that unfortunate condition of affairs which required this court to set aside convictions and commitments on account of technical errors. Its provisions enable this Court notwithstanding any defect in form or substance, or any irregularity, informality or insufficiency to give judgment on the merits and to revise and amend all such defects or informalities.

Under its provisions it is enabled in this case to amend this conviction for a third offence, and make it a conviction as for a first offence. In Haszard vs Sterns—tried last Trinity Term when verdict was given for plaintiff. Rule for new trial argued Michaelmas term. The rule was dismissed with costs. Hodgson vs McKie—tried at last term in Georgetown—Application for new trial. Mr. Mathieson showed cause why rule for rehearing should be granted and court then adjourned at five o'clock to meet this morning at eleven when Mr. Haszard will be heard in reply.
