Funding of Debts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Formation of definite plans for funding of debts of the various foreign nations to this country will wait enactment of the funding bill, it was said tonight at the Treasury.

When congressional authorization is received, it was said, negotiations probably would be begun with Great Britain, the largest individual creditor, and upon the completion of funding arrangements with that country the debts of the other nations would be considered.

Definite arrangements, such as the timng of maturities and other details, it was added, would be determined in accordance with the situation in the individual countries. In this connection it was declared that informal advices had been received from one European nation that it would be unable to meet the interest payments due in April, but it was the policy of the American Government to obtain from the nations an approximation of the date when they could begin payments in payments in order that ther might be no interruption to the general funding scheme when inaugurated.

It was indicated that a careful study would be made of conditions in the various countries as a means of guiding the Government in the negotiations as to the resources available for payment and the terms which might be fixed.

Commitee Approval

The Allied Debt refunding bill was approved today by the Senate finance committee after most of the provisions objected to by Secretary Mellon of the treasury department had been eliminated. Democratic members of the committee voted against the bill in its perfected form.

Provisions previously written in by the committee, which were stricken out, called for semi-annual interest payments and for interest at a rate of not less than five per cent. These were the provisions against which the treasury objected on the ground that they would handicap the administration in the refunding governments. Under these provisions interest payments would have fallen due within six months after the refund bonds had been negotiated, whereas, the treasury desired to have the authority to defer interest payments in the case of some countries not in a position to begin making those payments within possibly a year or two.

The provision limiting the life of the bonds to be accepted from the foreign governments to 25 years remained in the bill, but otherwise the measure practically is as approved by the House. It sets up a commission with authority subject to the approval of the president to refund or convert and to extend time of payment of the principal or the interest or both of any obligations of any foreign government now owing to the United States on account of the world war. The Secretary of the Treasury would be chairman of the commission and the other members would be appointed by the President subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Three Arrests in Black Hand Case

WINDSOR, Ont, Jan. 23—Persistence on the part of an Italian black hand gang, who attempted with threats of death, to extort $3,000 from Louisa and Paul Merlo, members of the contracting firm of Merlo, Merlo and Ray, Limited, of Windsor, resulted in the arrest of three men by detectives Lariviere and Blair, of Windsor police on Saturday night.

Police had been working on the case ever since the first threatening letter was received by the Merlo Bros. one year ago.

A second letter was sent to them two months ago, and the third on Friday. In this letter the "death sentence" was embodied, the gang giving instructions that $3,000 in currency was to be left in a vacant lot at the corner of Cataraqui street and Langlois avenue, at 8 p. m. Saturday. The option was death for both, the letter said.

Shortly before the appointed hour on Saturday Paul Merlo left the "money" package, containing nothing but cut up newspapers, in the vacant lot. Detectives were hiding and in about fifteen minutes a man came along. After hunting for several minutes he picked up the package and placed it under his coat.

After a chase, in which revolver shots figured, he was finally arrested. Two roommates were later taken into custody. The men gave their names as Scandella Battista, Davide Girarduzzi and Amario Girarduzzi.

Aroostook Potato Crop 37,000,000 Bushels

HOULTON ME. Jan. 23- During the fall of 1921 the Bangor and Aroostook railroad hauled more potatoes out of Aroostook county than ever before in a similar period, with the exception of one season eight or ten years ago.

Last year's potato crop in Aroostook aggregated about 37,000,000 bushels, the general quality of which was much higher than the yield in any other section of the country. Department of agriculture reports showed a condition of ninety-eight per cent. in Aroostook, while in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and New York, the other big potato raising districts, the crop was much shorter than usual. There still remains a large quantity of seed potatoes in northern Maine.

The Bangor and Aroostook and C. P. railroads handled the bulk of the crop.

TORONTO DOCTORS MAD AT LICENSE BOARD

TRONTO, Jan. 23- Replying to the storm of protest raised by the suspension of over 300 doctors from the privilege of issuing liquor prescriptions, Chairman James Halls, K.C., of the Ontario License Board, says in part:

"No member of this board would willingly prevent any sick person from obtaining liquor in any case of real medicinal need. It is well known to the board, however, that in many cases the prescriptions given by some physicians are given at the urgent solicitation of those who desire the liquor for beverage purposes.

"No member of the board would be willing to cast undeserved reflection upon any physician but all the members conceive it to be their duty to refuse to allow the dispensaries to be used, whether through physicians' prescriptions or otherwise, for the purpose of supplying liquor for beverage purposes.

Imposing Burial Service For Late Pope Benedict

Ceremonies Will Extend Over Ten Days. Body Viewed by Thousands as it Lay in State in Sacrament Chapel. Seals and Ring Formally Broken.

(Special to The Guardian.)

ROME, Jan. 23- The burial services of Pope Benedict XV., with solemn ceremony which will extend over a period of ten days began this eve. The body of the late Pontiff which lay in State in the Sacrament Chapel for a brief while today, was to be placed in the first of three coffins in which it will finally be interred and tonight will rest in the vault of St. Peters. Thousands had passed the grilled doors of the Sacrament Chapel and kissed the foot of the dead Pontiff. Since nine o'clock when the body was brought with ceremony from the throne room of the Vatican late this afternoon the doors of St. Peters were closed to permit the actual burial service to begin. Two days mourning with flags throughout Italy at half mast and all amusement places closed for the first time in the history of the Federated Italian government began today. Thousands who might have taken part in the customary ceremony of kissing the Pope's feet were disappointed, although other thousands were enabled to make their obeisance as the dead Pontiff lay for a while in the Sacrament Chapel. The actual interment of the Pope's body customarily takes place within 24 hours. It is first exposed to public view, but today this was hastened because of decomposition. Mgr. Respighi Prefect of Ceremonies, approached the Dean and received from him the Fishermen's Ring, which had been taken from Pope Benedict's hand, following the official pronouncement of death. At the same time a Datary from the Vatican State Chancellory brought the seals with which Pope Benedict had authenticated Papal Bulls and Briefs. The seals and ring were then broken with a heavy hammer and fragments shown to the Cardinals as evidence that Benedict's reign was at an end.

Pope Benedict's will designates his nephew the Marquis Guiseyppe Della Chiesa as the sole heir of his personal property. It states that other property of Benedict XV was only held temporarily and returned to the Church. Cardinal Gasparri as Cardinal Camerlengo, acts as temporary custodian until a new Pope is elected. For the first time in Italian history the Official Gazette, this evening, carries official news of the Pope's death in a black lined announcement.

Some Impression Of Great Education Meeting, Toronto.

(By Inspector Lloyd W. Shaw)

Inspector Lloyd W. Shaw, reply represented the Teachers' Union at the great educational meetings held at Toronto last summer. At the request of the executive of the Union he furnishes the following impressions of the meetings:

The following is not intended as a report of the two splendid educational conferences which I had the privilege of attending in Toronto last August. It is my desire simply to pass on some of the impressions which I received in the hope that our teachers and our people in general may be led to think and plan for improvement in this great work, the education of our young people.

The first of the two conferences was the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, an organization but recently formed and having as its purpose the binding together of all the provincial organizations for the betterment of educational conditions throughout the Dominion. The first great fact which impressed me was the vast difference between the "East" and the "West" in the attitude which the teachers take to what I shall term a professional spirit and to organization. It is quite apparent to all that the "West" has gone ahead by leaps and bounds in the matter of providing good schools to meet present day demands. Two factors have worked and are still working to bring about this happy condition of affairs. First the people are for the most port intensively interested, placing the education of their children before all else, and secondly the work of instructing the young is in the hands of a strong well-organized body of persons having a splendid professional spirit. The teacher in the West is proud to be called a teacher, and he is not ashamed to state the salary paid him for his services. The respect with which the Western teacher is treated is owing largely to the two facts which I have already mentioned, the placing of first things first, on the part of the people, and organization on the part of the teacher. Teachers of Prince Edward Island! We can renew hope to better our conditions, and the cause of education until we become a thoroughly organized professional body, commanding the respect of those for whom we labor.

I was much surprised upon first looking over the agenda of this meeting to note that so little time was given for discussion of the salary question. I found later that this has become largely a thing of the past. The teachers in the other provinces are for the most part receiving a living wage and are thus enabled to devote their time and thought to the problem of improving their work. Is it not high time that we on P.E. Island place our teachers in this position. Not only the teachers but also our children are suffering because of our failure to do so. As I listened to the teachers from the West speaking of their minimum salary of $1200 or $1500 and in contrast to this I thought of our minimum I wondered how in the world we are managing to keep things moving at all. The matter of thorough professional training was ably discussed by many of the teachers present. The attitude of the meeting towards this most important question can be best expressed by quoting a resolution passed unanimously by the meeting. "That in the interest of the children of the Dominion of Canada it is desirable that a minimum requirement of four years' High School training and two years' professional trailng be demanded of all candidates for permanent professional licenses, provided that all outstanding permanent professional certificates be continued in full force and effect."

The day following the close of the C.T.F., Conference the great Imperial Conference, comprising teachers from all parts of the British Empire, met in Convocation Hall of Toronto University. It was an inspiring sight to see those teachers, mature men and women coming to that wonderful meeting from all parts of the Empire, coming that they might talk over and discuss ways and means of giving better and more adequate training to the boys and girls who are in a short time to be the men and women of our Empire. A few of the headings under which papers were presented and discussed will serve to show the nature of the programme. Civics and Education, Imperial Co-operation in Education, Canadian Education, Vocational Training, Health and Education, Further Training of Teachers already certified. The main keynote struck throughout all the discussions was the welfare of the child. Oh, that our teachers, our educational leaders, yea, our parents, might have the privilege of frequently attending such meetings as that of those days in Toronto, one fact especially thrusts itself upon us. It is this: The world is making rapid strides in the matters of educations. We must be up and doing. Our children are worth as much as those from any other part of the Empire. We must see to it that they receive the very best training-that is in our power to give, in order that they may be prepared to meet the advancing conditions of the world of which they are to form a part.

B. C. SHIPPING FROZEN FISH TO NEW YORK

VANCOUVER, Jan. 23.—An experimental shipment of two hundred tons of frozen fish, the first to go from British Columbia to the Atlantic Coast by water, left here yesterday on the tseamer Nepouset for New York via the Panama Canal.

If the shipment arrives in good condition, it is probable that much of the all rail fish traffic from British Columbia to the east will be diverted to this route.

SALMON PACK IN B.C.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 23- British Columbia 603,548 cases of salmon were packed in 1921, and six million dollars was realized. There remain to be sold 120,000 cases of "pinks." France absorbed a large proportion of the 192,906 cases of pinks, and Great Britain took more than half of the sockeye pack of 163,914 cases, leaving about 75,000 cases for Canadian consumption.

Fighting Montreal Fire Under Difficulties

(Special to The Guardian.)

MONTREAL, Jan. 23- Two firemen manning the nozzle of a hose in a temperature of five degrees below zero last night became so solidly frozen together that a hammer had to be employed before they could be separated in the Vimy and Harvard apartment house fire. Many of the tenants had narrow escapes. One, Adam Smith, had to jump over an area of flame three feet wide with his old mother in his arms before he could reach the stairway.

Irish Free State Raises Boycott Against Ulster

(Special to The Guardian.)

BELFAST, Jan. 23- News of the raising of the boycott by the Irish Free State against Ulster caused a rush of commercial travellers today to various railway stations en route to various points in the South. Ireland is anxious to resume the business which the boycott had checked.

Unemployment Work

OTTAWA, Jan. 23- Owing to the comparatively small benefits that it is believed would be derived, it is not the city's intention to avail itself of federal and provincial legislation whereby the two governments agreed to hear one-third of the difference between normal cost of civic works and the cost of such work it undertaken at present prices. It is felt by city officials that this legislation, while sounding quite generous, does not work out as liberally as it sounds.

DISCREDIT GOLD RUMOR

Scientific Germany is smiling at reports from England that German chemists have succeeded in making synthetic gold and that the Fatherland will try to pay its reparations, not from the national exchequer but from its scientists' laboratories.

Professor Nernst, Germany's greatest authority of chemistry, said he as certain the story was not true. If such a discovery had been made, he certainly would have heard about it.

The professor who has been awarded the Nobel Prize for chemistry, added he had doubts regarding the possibility of manufacturing gold chemically. There had been, he said, many reports that success had been achieved, but in no case were they correct.

Another professional authority on chemistry agreed with Professor Nernst.

"I won't go so far as to say synthetic gold will never be discovered," he declared, "but it certainly has not been found yet, and I don't think we are anywhere near the time when we shall be able to cry 'Sesame' and see the door of a wonderful golden cave open before us."

"I think any such discovery would be some thing akin to the case of the recent discovery of how to manufacture diamonds. I believe very small diamonds were produced, but at such a cost that it would be absurd to go on with the experiments.

"If we did discover how to make synthetic gold, what then? If the cost is greater than gold, what would be the use of it? If as Professor Fisher says, we would flood the world with cheap gold to such an extent as to make it worthless, what benefits should we derive?

"In some cases the experimenters have had results which encouraged them to go on, but if Professor Fisher is coming to Germany to find this synthetic gold, I can assure him he will be no more successful than if he went off to try to find the missing link."

At any rate, the discoverer, if he does exist, is lying low and saying nothing.

CHIEF OF GENERAL STAFF

OTTAWA, Jan. 23- The Earl of Cavan, who was in Ottawa recently, and addressed the last meeting of the Canadian Club, has just been appointed chief of the Imperial General Staff, in succession to Sir Henry Wilson, who vacates his post in February. Earl Cavan was military adviser to the British delegation at the Washington limitation of armament conference. He was one of the most distinguished leaders in the war and commanded the tenth British army on the Italian front, where he won renown.

Earl Cavan in his younger days-thirty years ago-was an aid-de camp at Government House, when Lord Stanley was governor general of Canada.

Anthrax Death Peculiar Case

NEW YORK, Jan. 23- A woman's death from anthrax in Brooklyn was traced yesterday to a shaving brush which she used to lather her husband's neck.

The victim was Mrs. Borghill Meland, 22, of 566 Fifty Second St., Brooklyn. She died in the Kingston Avenue Hospital after a sudden seizure with the mysterious ailment. Dr. Wm. Jacobson, of the Health Department, made an investigation.

It shows one of the most peculiar cases in medical annals. Singularly enough, the husband was not affected.

A tiny pimple of Mrs. Meland's left cheek had become infected on Christmas Day when she aided her husband to shave, the physician found.

Tells Execution of United States Soldier

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23- The shooting of a United States soldier by a firing squad in France was described to the senate committee investigating alleged illegal executions yesterday by George W. Yarbrough, of Roanoke, Ala., who said he was an eye-witness.

"During heavy shell fire near Chateau Thierry," said Yarbrough, "I was going up the road with other men, when we saw a soldier, his hands tied behind him, being marched towards the woods. There was an officer, I judged to be a major, in charge of the squad and when they started to shoot the soldier, a white boy about twenty years old, he asked that he be not blindfolded."

The witness said he was twenty steps away when the command was given to fire. He did not know whether there had been a trial but he heard the soldier was shot for neglect of duty.

Much testimony relating to alleged abuse of enlisted men cropped out again yesterday, along with further references to the conduct of "hard boiled Smith." Two former service men testified they had seen three public executions at Issur-Tille, at which station war department records show only two men were hanged.

Maniac Kills a Policeman

Motz, who had a wife and two children, died in less than an hour later. He had been shot with his own gun.

A second killing was averted when the gun missed fire. Patrolman Hagstrand was the second intended victim. In the room when Motz was shot, he leaped at the negro as he stood over his victim's body. The maniac wheeled about, pressed the weapon against Hagstrand's abdomen and pulled the trigger.

The negro, who later gave the name of Frank Whaley was subdued after a terrific fight in which half a score of policemen beat him down.
